Marshall-Burch Nuptials Unites Pioneer Families

The socially prominent Miss Mary Josephine Marshall became the bride of Bernard N. Burch on Sunday afternoon, July 14, in an impressive formal ceremony, held at Neighborhood church, with Rev. J. J. Hicks officiating.

Before a group composed of many out of town and local friends of the couple, vows were recited while beautiful strains of the old bridal hymn were quietly played by Edythe K. Owens at the organ.

The tranquil setting of white bridal flowers was complemented by the muted shades of peach, rose and blue marquisette gowns of the bride's attendants. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Rufus Marshall. She was a picture of beauty in a traditional white brocaded satin gown, featuring a full length veil, trimmed in lace many years ago by her grandmother. At her throat hung a gold necklace, worn by five generations in her family. Her bouquet was a profusion of bridal lilies and white orchids. The attendants were: Barbara Marshall, maid of honor; Florence Nukes, matron of honor; Hope Gist, Melonee Temple, Jean Moses and Clarice Armour.

Mr. John Nathan served as best man. Ushers were Harry O'Neil, James Pratt, Cedell Hearing and Rufus Marshall. Preceding the ceremony, Hazel Chatman rendered a solo, and another bridal hymn was sung by a trio composed of Gloria Moore, Barbara Scott and Lulu Moore.

GARDEN RECEPTION

At the home of the bride's parents, 556 North Westmoreland ave., the popular couple graciously received felicitations. Mrs. Rufus Marshall, the bride's mother, received in a blue gown, with a striking blue chapeau. Mrs. Zelee Isum, lifetime friend of the bride, directed the wedding. Assisting hostesses were Mmes. Gertrude Allen, Birdella Stewart, Josie Carper, Louise Taylor, Corrine Boykins, Sarah Kindred, Helen Bradley, Edgar Barker, Maxine Bryant and Dorothy Buckner. Misses Corine Jones and Clarice Hubert. Mmes. Wilma Greene, Izora Sanistiban, Millie Mack and Miss Joan Burch registered guests. Mmes. Orian Albright, Jamie Jones and Eliza Dunlap registered the many gifts.

"In regard to the requisition for 2000 WACs for overseas service, approximately 1200 of these have been requested as replacements for existing white units in the European theatre.

"Present strength of Negro WACs in the army is approximately 20 officers and 500 enlisted women. Of these, more than 250 enlisted women are employed in hospitals in continental United States and fill a very urgent need for this type of personnel.

"While there is no current or foreseeable requirement for Negro WACs in any overseas theatre, the question of future employment of Negro WAC units in the overseas service is under continuing study in the War Department."

At present there are no Negro WAC units overseas. During the war, there were no Negro WACs in the Pacific theatre.

Hardwick Speaks At Buddhist Services

Leon H. Hardwick, general manager of the Pacific Press Syndicate, was guest speaker at the Sunday morning services sponsored last week by the Los Angeles Young Buddhists association at the Nishi Hongwanji temple.

Using as his topic: "Minorities in a Democracy," Hardwick, who is executive secretary of the International Film and Radio Guild, emphasized ways in which the various media of entertainment ofttimes are used to promote prejudice among members of minority groups.

He stressed the necessity of Japanese Americans linking their fortunes with those of the Mexicans, Negroes, Jews and other racial and religious minorities in the common fight to achieve real democracy in this country.

To Seek Early Action On Anti-Poll Tax Bill

done about it. Enemies of the bill hope to kill it by inaction, and to block its passage by having other legislation debated instead of the anti-poll tax bill. The minority opposing it threaten another fillibuster when it comes to the floor for debate.

A bi-partisan steering committee, headed by Senators Claude Pepper (D) Florida; Homer Ferguson (R) Michigan; and James Mead (D) New York, and including 17 other senators, is organized to press for passage of the bill and to steer the fight on it.

The bill prohibits the levying of any tax on a voter in order that he may have the privilege of voting. A poll tax is in effect at present in eight of the Southern states. It is cumulative so that if the tax is not paid one year, the amount is added to the next year.

Mississippi has the highest rate, that of $2. It varies in other states, but in all the vicious effect is noticeable—that of preventing American citizens from exercising their constitutional right of suffrage. White voters suffer this injustice as well as Negroes, and the most vicious effect is noticeable upon the men elected to congress from these states.

About one-fifth of the total U.S. adult population lives in the 8 poll tax states, but less than one-fifteenth of the voters are cast in these states. The effect is that one-fifth of congress is elected by one-fifteenth of the voters. Bilbo and Rankin are among this number.

Baptist church where my wife and I go. I wonder if they pray for me up there? My wife says she went to church four times last week. But she's been acting kind 'a runny—I don't know what's the matter with her. If she lost faith in me there would be nothing left.

"When they picked the jury I looked at every face, I tried to look behind the face and see if the brain would believe me. I didn't care if they were black or white or anything—I just wanted them to be people who would think that my word was as good as anybody's."

And as Burke sat at the defendant's table and stared at the jury and the curious spectators which jammed the courtroom, he looked at his brown suit and green tie, which had been immaculately clean when the trial started, several days before.

"I want my wife to bring me a clean shirt—one of my army suntans, and my veteran button and American Legion button."

Then he looked at his wife again, and murmered:

"I sure would like to see Arzella, Stan and Joanne (his three children, aged 4 years, 3 years and 18 months). And I'm glad they made my wife stay here to testify about those lies they told about what I said to her and that lie detector test. That means she'll be here in L. A. I don't want her to go back to my mother's house in Ventura where she and the children are staying, I want her here."

And as Burke again listens to the witnesses as they take the stand, he looks out past the jury into the freedom outside the courtroom windows, and a tear rolls down his cheek.

Her third child, Elaine, 6, repeated the verses after her, and was not subjected to the ordeal.

Mrs. Diggs assertedly told Deputies L. A. Thorne and L. M. Dearing of Firestone Park substation that she obtained the oil Friday at a tent church meeting near her home. The oil, she said, was blessed by an Elder Taylor, who gave it to her to take home. When she reached home, she placed a small amount of the oil on the bodies and lips of the two younger children, then did the same to herself.

An autopsy, held yesterday, revealed that the two murdered children died of suffocation. A coroner's inquest will be held Monday morning.

Mrs. Diggs' husband told The EAGLE his wife long had been a religious fanatic, and once had been confined in the state asylum at Jackson, La. The family has lived in California one year.

'Drowned' Evidence; Found Guilty Anyway

Although most of the evidence lay at the bottom of the Pacific ocean, and the defendant himself had to be fished from the briny deeps, all of that didn't prevent federal judge Henry Beaumont from finding him guilty and sentencing him to four months in jail.

According to Martha Malone Williams, attorney for Emanuel Ebienber, federal agents found her client trying to smuggle a sack full of marihuana into the country. They cornered him abroad the USS Totece, but Ebienber tried to foil them by jumping overboard with the evidence.

The treasury men countered by leaping into the drink after him, and capturing him along with enough of the evidence to send him up to the federal lockup.

The credit of the government, the integrity of its currency and the inviolability of its obligations must be preserved.—William McKinley.

where consumer demonstrations were planned or already under way.

The demonstrations came as the U. S. senate passed another booby trap price control bill, worse than the one President Truman vetoed, and livestock prices at four midwestern stockyards continued an upward spiral to hit record prices. Hogs reached a record high at East St. Louis, and cattle prices hit record levels at Milwaukee, South St. Paul and Omaha.

Milk prices had risen 24 percent in Washington, D. C., the bureau of labor statistics reported, and more than 5 percent in Los Angeles, Chicago, Savannah, Boston, Denver, Detroit, Houston and Kansas City.

In some areas prices were established at the increased rates set during the first two weeks without price control while wholesalers and retailers waited to see if congress would give the green light for further increases.

Similar drives will be launched simultaneously in Boston, Bridgeport, Buffalo, New York City, Detroit and Toronto, Canada, under local labor direction but with funds and personnel supplied nationally by the Jewish Labor Committee of New York.

The program has received the united endorsement of the Negro Labor Committee, the Presbyterian Institute for Industrial Relations and the Catholic Interracial Council, all of whom serve with the Jewish Labor Committee as a clearing house on race relations among industrial workers.

The Los Angeles Civil Rights Congress this week undertook to help raise $10,000 to keep CIO unionists and sympathizers out of jail.

The 20 men and women involved, all of them victims of a tear-gas attack by police on the U. S. Motors picketline, were recently sentenced to 100 days in jail or payment of a $500 fine each following their conviction by an anti-labor jury from which Negroes were successfully excluded by the prosecution.

☆ Youth Activities Throughout The Nation ☆

Edited by Yvonne Shepherd

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum, John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

Dear Chum:

Well, just about two weeks have passed since a certain gentleman of the pulpit visited me at the office. Yes, I've had to allow that much time to elapse. A cooling-off period, you might say. But I'll be darned if I'm still not amazed at the nerve of the man.

You see, chum, this gentleman was a Rev. Ross Owens. At least, that's who he said he was. His mission? He wanted me to help him "put across Youth for Christ among the Negroes down here in the community." Gosh! My blood pressure still jumps a few points higher when I recall our conversation.

It might seem that he innocently came to the wrong person, but somehow I'm convinced that he knows how I feel about Youth for Christ. And I wouldn't be surprised to hear that he's the fellow who has been sending my YfC literature.

Or the daring soul who doesn't care to tell me his name, but who constantly calls, asking how I feel about Youth for Christ! You see, chum, Youth for Christ knows I've been exposing their organization. That's why I've received letters from them, and literature, telephone calls, tickets to some of their affairs, and now, a personal call. A sort of left-handed wooing, you might say.

I'm flattered. But by no means convinced.

The reverend sir and I had quite a conversation. It could hardly have been termed mild. Perhaps you would have laughed had you seen us, but really, it's too dangerous to joke about.

The more pressure they apply, the more convinced I become that I've got to oppose them, and continue to expose them. I see a grave, imminent danger in the fascist ideologies preached by Youth for Christ advocates. Ideologies which, stripped to their bare essentials, smack uncomfortably close to those of Der Fueher. A dangerous religious fanaticism which brands all unbelievers as "pagans," a term not unlike Hitler's "non-aryan" classification.

And you know, one of the significant things about that conversation with Rev. Owens is that he immediately asked me if I am a Christian. I guess he still believes all Negroes are heathens!

After quite a lot of investigation, I'm convinced that the rank and file members of YfC are, in truth, earnest, sincere Christians. But I'm equally convinced that their leaders are fascists of the most dangerous order. You see, through trickery, YfC has enticed thousands of American boys and girls to join. Boys and girls anxious to help a troubled world. Boys and girls who really believe religion is the answer to the world's problems.

Well, chum, perhaps religion or Christianity is the answer. But believe me when I say it's not the kind of religion or Christianity preached or practiced by Youth for Christ.

I'm not the only one who feels this way. Appropriately enough, condemnation of YfC first stemmed from a religious group. It was the highly-esteemed Rev. Claude Williams, director of the People's Institute of Applied Religion, who branded YfC as "another Hitler youth movement." Then there were 12 pastors in Chicago who issued a statement to the press turning thumbs down on YfC. And Bishop G. Ashton Oldham who charges that it (YfC) is "fascist in character, anti-Catholic, anti-Semitic and anti-Negro."

Eloquent evidence of these charges is apparent in YfC's presentation of outstanding fascists at their rallies. Persons such as Rev. Gleason L. Archer, Jr., Rev. J. Hager and Dan Gilbert—all of whom are rabidly anti-Catholic, anti-Semitic and anti-Negro.

Chum, when I challenged Rev. Owens about William Randolph Hearst's outstanding generosity to YfC, in the form of over a million dollars worth of publicity, he weakly countered: "Well, maybe Mr. Hearst likes YfC."

Maybe? I'll bet he does! Why shouldn't he, when YfC spreads the same dangerous fascist propaganda that "Willie" spews forth through his chain of newspapers blanketing the nation?

And although YfCers have deemed it advisable to denounce Gerald L. K. Smith, the "master" declares: "I am for Youth for Christ 100%."

I asked Rev. Owens why the powerful enemies of labor—the bankers, big business and corporation men—were subsidizing YfC. Again he answered that it's because they like YfC. When I meekly suggested that perhaps it was because of their love for christianity that big business supported YfC, the reverend sir flushed red. He changed the subject!

Honestly, chum, when I see the newspaper advertisement spreading from coast to coast—when I see their billboards and placards and expensive magazine—when I realize how much radio time is given them—when I read about special transportation sent to pick up youngsters from neighboring communities to attend a YfC rally—when I see and hear about these things I realize the growing menace. The imminent danger.

All this is bad enough in itself, chum, but the final feeling of despair came when the Rev. Owens informed me that a Negro ministers' alliance in the community has agreed to help him "put across" Youth for Christ among Negroes. And he said a local newspaper has agreed to help him!

Yea Gads! Can it be true, chum, or is it just some more YfC lies? More trickery. More deceit. Can it be that any Negro minister living in the United States of America does not know of this greatest of all threats to real Christianity? Or is it that they are willing to sell Negro youth down the river for a few stinking dollars!

We'll find out, chum, and when we do, the world will know.

Your chum, YVONNE.

Interpretation of Education's Problems Is Keynote of Meet

Interpretation of education's problems and policies was stressed as a neglected factor in the relationship between schools and the public, Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, declared in keynoting the eighth school executive's conference at UCLA this week.

"Public support—and we must have it—requires public understanding. And one of the greatest obstacles of today in our path of progress is the public's very inadequate and often misinformed understanding of what we do in education," Simpson said.

The program, attended by several hundred educators and civic leaders, heard panel discussions led by Dr. Ranklin Fearing, Dr. Frederick Woellner and other faculty members.

Techniques for "Interpreting Education for the Community" were discussed in a seminar prepared by Dr. Ernest Simpson.

Juvenile delinquency in Los Angeles is finally on the decline, Mayor Fletcher Bowron recently revealed, giving much of the credit for a 13 per cent reduction in juvenile arrests to the Deputy Auxiliary Police, an organization of boys and girls between the ages of 13 and 21.

Youth to Learn About Cultures Through Music

A unique experience in sharing the music of various cultures is offered by the new chorus recently organized and directed by Fred Warren, well-known choral director.

With the same principles as the "Peoples Chorus" of New York, this group is learning Mexican, Jewish, Russian songs; Earl Robinson's cantata "Tower of Babel" and original music written by Fred Warren.

The first appearance of this group will be in the musical revue "Harmony in A Flat," to be presented at Roosevelt high school, August 27, 28 and 29.

Young people interested in joining the chorus may call Letitia Innes, AN. 13118. Rehearsals are held at Second Street school, Second and State sts., from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

Report Upholds Charge of Bias

The Mayor's Committee on Unity, led by Charles Evans Hughes Jr., reported last week that there can no longer be any reasonable doubt that racial and religious discrimination is practiced by colleges and universities in New York and elsewhere, usually through some form of quota system. The discrimination is directed against Jewish, Negro, Catholic and Italian students, the committee's report stated, on the basis of studies it has made.

An investigation by the Board of Regents into racial practices of state schools, and the establishment of a state university to enlarge educational opportunities has been recommended.

"To do no more than set up a separate institution intended for those now discriminated against, would gravely compromise the issue of principle," the report stated.

Plan Speeds Up Vets' Education

SAN FRANCISCO—Thousands of California veterans of World War II, whose high school studies were interrupted for military service, may obtain high school diplomas without additional study, according to the provisions of a uniform State-wide plan adopted last week.

Under the plan, veterans must complete a test designed by the United States Armed Forces Institute, called the general education development examination; meet the State legal requirements for study in U. S. history and Constitution, and such local requirements as the governing boards of high school districts may direct.

Plans to Include Negro 4-H Members in Future Activities

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Following the expose of discrimination against colored 4-H workers, the Department of Agriculture announced last week that plans are under way to provide for the participation of Negro 4-H club workers in the annual 4-H Camp and the National 4-H Congress.

Up to this time, Negro 4-H club members have been barred from participation in either of these events.

Two field agents for the Department, Thomas M. Campbell of Tuskegee Institute and J. W. Mitchell of Hampton Institute, have been sent on a tour of 17 southern states to discuss with extension service leaders the wider participation of Negro 4-H'ers in the Extension Service program.

The Department of Agriculture has admitted that "we have not been as aggressive as we should have been in encouraging state directors to take positive steps to provide for fuller participation of all 4-H workers, white and Negro, in national events, but plans are under way to correct this.

COLUMBUS, Ohio—A Columbus domestic relations judge has proposed that pre-marital education courses be taught at the public schools as a cure for the growing divorce rate.

Students Slate Anti-War Play At Lincoln U.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—Saturday evening, July 20, at 8:15, "Bury the Dead," the brilliant anti-war play by Irwin Shaw, will be presented on the lower campus of Lincoln university by a cast of some forty students in the summer school. The scene of the play is a war-torn battlefield on which six newly-dead soldiers rise from their graves and refuse to be buried in protest against the destruction of war. Half realism and half fantasy, the time of "Bury the Dead" is projected to the war that is to take place in a near tomorrow.

The cast is made up of GI's who lend a great deal of realism to the drama, other men students, and eight women. Not only is the play a preachment against war, but it is a criticism against the perpetrators of war.

Catholic Youth Wins Scholarship

Very Reverend Edward Whalen, S.J., president of Loyola university in Los Angeles, has offered a four year scholarship as a boarding student to Gordon Walls of St. Mary's, Kansas. Young Walls, who has accepted the offer, recently won first place in the Rockhurst high school invitational speech tournament held in Kansas City, April 12-13. He was the only Negro contestant to enter the tournament from 18 schools represented in the contest.

Walls, who is 17 years old, is a student at the Immaculate Conception high school in St. Mary's. The subject of his prize-winning speech was "Don't Demobilize Your Mind." The Eastern Kansas Register described his speech as "a plain, matter of fact presentation of the unreasonableness of race prejudice of all kinds."

Prizes will be given at the Derby here for the best designed car, the best designed brakes, the best paint job, and the best upholstered car.

The local Derby is sponsored by the Los Angeles Daily News in cooperation with the local organization of the Chevrolet Motor division.

Colleges Preparing To Accommodate Vets

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Ten more Negro colleges, all among the smaller institutions, have notified the Veterans Administration that they will have student openings next fall for 1,036 colored veterans, it was learned this week.

This makes a total of 3,583 student openings for veterans this fall in 39 colleges reporting to the Veterans Administration in a survey of educational opportunities for veterans in approved institutions of higher learning.

Girls Make Trip To Shrine of FDR

NEW YORK CITY, N. Y.—Girls attending a local school, accompanied by their teachers and principal, made a pilgrimage by bus to the National Shrine of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt at Hyde Park.

As guests of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, they visited the Roosevelts' ancestral home, the library and the museum, where they were especially interested in the exhibit of old sleighs, carriages and ice boats.

A laurel wreath was placed on Franklin D. Roosevelt's grave before the visitors left the grounds.

LIRA OPERA CO. SHOWS PROMISE

☆ THEATRES—NIGHT SPOTS ☆

AT LINCOLN JULY 23—Joe Liggins and His Honeydrippers, who soared to fame by recording "The Honeydripper," a smash juke box hit, will make a personal appearance on the stage of the Lincoln theatre the week of July 23. Liggins is a great favorite with swing lovers and the Lincoln probably will be jammed during his week's engagement.

Lunceford Ork, Great Show On Lincoln Theatre Stage

Jimmie Lunceford, popular orchestra leader currently playing at the Lincoln Theatre, 2300 So. Central avenue, along with a splendid stage show, received his first muscial education under the instruction of James Wilburforce Whiteman, superintendent of music for the public schools in Denver, Colorado, and father of Paul Whiteman. Jimmie spent most of his boyhood in that city.

His parents later moved to Ohio, and Lunceford received his college degree at Fisk University. Later, Jimmie became professor of music at the Manassa High School in Memphis.

Three years before he received his sheepskin at Fisk, Jimmie became a professional saxophone player in a dance orchestra conducted by George Morrison at the Windsor Hotel in Denver. Behind the bass horn (this was before they began to slap the bass fiddle in jazz bands) was a chap named Andy Kirk, who since has won quite a name for himself as a band leader. The singer was Hattie McDaniel, whose rotund features are familiar to many movie fans.

In addition to the Lunceford orchestra the Lincoln has an outstanding array of talent to round out the stage offering.

The management of the popular eastside theatre announced that the first matinee now starts at 2 p.m. Make it a "must" to catch an early show avoid the night crowds.

Record News And Reviews

Louis Armstrong and Duke Ellington, generally regarded as the two foremost figures in jazz history, made their first joint appearance on wax, after more than twenty years of recording, as guest members of "Esquire's All American" Hot Jazz album released recently by RCA Victor.

"Long, Long Journey," a blues with a vocal by Armstrong, was the number on which the Duke sat in with the band. It was Louis' first hot jazz waxing in five years and his first for RCA Victor in more than a decade.

The all-star orchestra was assembled by jazz composer Leonard Feather and Don Byas, Jimmy Hamilton, Johnny Hodges, Chubby Jackson, Red Norvo, Romo Palmieri, Charles Shavers and Billy Strayhorn were among the others who took part. The four sides cut are released in an RCA Victor Showpiece Album of two 12-inch discs.

Recital July 28

Valdemar Banke, Polish opera impressario, can well be proud of his pupils and the entire State of California will soon acclaim the artistry of his group, the Lira Opera Company, formed of a talented array of excellent voices unearthed here in Los Angeles. The Lira Opera Company is the first Negro opera organization formed in this state and bids fair to attract the continued patronage of all races that love good music.

On Sunday afternoon, July 28, at 3:30 a recital will be given at Bowen Memorial Methodist church, 36th and Trinity, and you will be able to judge for yourselves the possibilities of the group.

Monday night this writer attended a rehearsal of the company and was amazed at the evidence of fine musical training that had been instilled into the individual singers by Mr. Banke, some with only a few months practice behind them. As for the ensemble I was unable to detect any flaw in the well-nigh perfect blending of their voices.

The rehearsal, in the opinion of Mr. Banke, was slightly marred by the absence of the regular accompanist. However, I found nothing wrong in their deliverances, being so impressed that I stayed until the last note died out and the rehearsal was terminated.

I heard William F. Gordon, president of the company, a magnificent tenor, sing duets with Mary Martin Young, lyric coloratura, and George Comfort, a young baritone with a tremendous range. Mr. Gordon possesses the greatest voice I've heard in some time. Mrs. Elberta Franklin, a dramatic soprano, also displayed fine training and clear tones in her delivery, and Mignon L. Cabell, a contralto, was splendid despite her modest declaration that she was one of the lesser lights. Others who drew rapt attention were Willard Bristol, tenor; Samuel Baldwin, also a tenor of promise, and the entire ensemble.

Pianists and organists who serve as accompanists are Mary Overstreet, Bernice Burns and Laura Salisbury.

Pleasant to observe was the poise and ease displayed by the soloists. This is no small accomplishment and many opera singers with fine voices have created bad impressions by the inability to maintain poise during their offerings.

Space does not permit a more detailed report at this time of the selections heard and the manner in which they were sung. Let it suffice to say that if you attend the recital of the Lira Opera Company you will feel a delightful surge of pride as you hear these members of the race in their pioneering of the opera field, more than vindicate the belief that we can do practically anything and do it well if we set our hearts and our minds to it. Every manifestation tells you that the collective hearts of the group embraces the work passionately.

Valdemar Banke, who has sung with the Chicago Opera Co., the Philadelphia Opera Co. and many others and appeared in every country in Europe on the concert stage, organized the Lira Opera Company with his own pupils of voice as the nucleus last October. He is quite enthusiastic over its progress and thinks that even now it is on par with the San Francisco Opera Company. After the recital on July 28 the company will concentrate upon a full opera to be staged with costumes and scenery at the Shrine Auditorium. The recital, however, will consist of excerpts from the famous operas.

LUCKY MILLINDER PRESENTED KEYS TO CITY

NO FOOLING

By Eddie Burbridge, Theatrical Editor

A LITTLE OF THIS AND THAT

Although Los Angeles' own Avanelle Harris can't get any decent movie roles after twenty years of trying, she does crash EBONY for August with her picture story "I Tried To Crash the Movies" . . . The Kraft Music Hall program has been extended to September thereby cutting off the vacations of the King Cole Trio. Nat Cole, however, just must get a look at his new $19,000 home which his wife has moved into and furnished while waiting for his return so he'll fly down here from N.Y. between shows for four days of solitude after the August 1 show . . . Kenneth Spencer has just completed a new record album of spirituals that will find favor with many music lovers . . . With "St. Louis Woman" now a memory the famous Nicholas Brothers, Harold and Fayard, are getting set to fill night club and movie dates . . . Our friend Caleb Peterson is now on a personal appearance tour. He has been playing the Club Bali in Washington, D. C., where he got a two week holdover until July 25. Peterson returns here soon to do a concert and appear in a new picture . . . We'll let Bill Bush take it from here concerning that Bowl benefit for West View Hospital.

"MAKE BELIEVE BALLROOM IN PERSON"

An imposing list of stars, bands, and acts have been lined up for the most terrific Variety show of the year. Next Monday night, July 22nd, at the Hollywood Bowl, Al Jarvis will present his "Make Believe Ballroom in Person," and all net proceeds will go to the West View Hospital to start building this much-needed hospital at 54th and Main Streets. West View, when completed, will be open to every race, color, and creed on a non-profit basis. This will help ease the drastic shortage of hospital space in Los Angeles and will give this section its only Class A hospital.

The list of stars to appear on this giant benefit is headed by Bob Hope and carries such names as Jarvis, himself, Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra, Larry Adler, Stan Kenton and his entire band, the Slim Gaillard Trio, Art Tatum, beautiful songstress Peggy Lee, Louie Prima and his orchestra, the Mello Larks, Eddie Heywood and his orchestra, Boyd Raeburn and his band, and Lecouana Cuban Boys— and offers are still coming in from stars, donating their services—so this list is liable to double by show time.

Tickets for this show of "stars under the stars" are on sale at the Hollywood Bowl Box Office, Southern California Music Co., all Mutual ticket agencies, and the Hospital office at 5334 South Main Street.

CRUISING DOWN GOSSIP LANE

Fine people in a bathing suit or ordinary wearing apparel, JOSEPHINE MITCHELL of So. Berendo street, who is representing a local business in a current bathing beauty contest. She might grab off the honors too with her fine brown frame, aided by a trip to the beach last Sunday . . . EDDIE DAUZAT says that he is sure that John Thomas will be the next world's lightweight champion . . . WILLIAM GRANT STILL is an honorary member of the California State Association of Negro Musicians. Incidentally a friend of his paid the composer a surprise visit recently. He was Sergent Johnson, famous artist, who is now teaching art in San Francisco to youngsters . . . Shattering plenty hearts on the westside, ROSEMARY LEE, announced that she will marry GARSON MARTIN in a few weeks. The wedding will probably take place in San Francisco, where the groom-to-be resides . . . .KAPPA ALPHA PSI's coming Summer Frolic at the Florentine Gardens on July 1 is exciting widespread attention among local entertainment seekers and current out-of-town visitors. All we can say is that if you can make it, do so by all means. It will be a night of fun you'll never forget and always treasure.

FROM ME TO YOU

The one and only DUKE ELLINGTON and orchestra will present a program of modern music at the Shrine Auditorium on August 7 . . . The week of July 30 will find the child piano progidy SUGAR CHILE ROBINSON on the stage of the Lincoln theatre for one week stand. JIMMIE LUNCEFORD and band currently playing the Lincoln . . . A double attraction now attracting patrons to the Million Dollar theatre downtown. Joe Liggins and His Honeydrippers and the all-girl band SWEETHEARTS OF RHYTHM with Anna Mae Winburn waving the baton in front of 17 cuties. MAURICE KING, arranger for the Sweethearts, in town looking sleek from good living . . . Announcement to the effect that the INK SPOTS broke all existing records for one week stands at downtown stage shows when they appeared at the Million Dollar. Conservative estimate is about $42,000. Their rendition of "THE GYPSY" might have provided the magnet that lured the patrons inside . . . CAB CALLOWAY's latest Columbia disc is "A Blue Serge Suit With A Belt In The Back" and "Afternoon Moon." Cab vocalizes both sides. FRANK SINATRA does "Five Minutes More" and "How Cute Can You Be" on the same label . . . ERROLL GARNER, piano stylist, flies east about Aug. 1 Will appear on "Night Of The Stars" program with Earl Hines, Billy Eckstine, Maxine Sullivan and others on Aug. 7 . . . In closing here's a note for you night clubbers who get mixed up in battles, sometimes innocently. JACK BUTLER has a private ambulance service which is as fast as light and on duty with a registered nurse 24 hours daily. In all seriousness Jack is a young fellow doing a great job but he needs your help. He's the only Negro owner of a licensed ambulance service in the county and state. Call him at JE. 5894 in the event of illness in your family. He'll be there before you can say "Puti-puti."

PHILADELPHIA—In an unprecedented gesture by the greatest tap dancer of the age, Bill Robinson, Cootie Williams and his bandsmen were showered with praise and given individual cash bonuses at the conclusion of their recent record breaking week on the boards of the Earle theatre here.

Just before the curtain went up on the final show of the week the ageless Bojongles requested that the men remain in their seats at the conclusion of the show. No one had any idea what he had in mind. At the conclusion of the show, which had just played a record breaking week Robinson stepped to the center of the stage and congratulated the men for playing a marvelous show. In addition he added that they were, in his estimation, the best show band with which he had worked in more than thirty years. Then came the real surprise. Robinson reached into his pocket and drew out individual envelopes, each of which contained a substantial cash bonus. This is the first time in the history of Negro show business that the principal on a vaudeville bill has made such a gesture to the members of an entire orchestra.

Ellabelle Davis To Sing 'Aida' In Mexico City

NEW YORK—Departing from Newark Airport last Thursday night, via Eastern Air Lines, Ellabelle Davis, the noted American Negro soprano, flew to Mexico City for an event of major news significance to the world of music and to her race—her grand opera debut in the title role of Verdi's "Aida" as the first American Negro ever to have been starred by Mexico's famed Opera Nacional, one of the major opera companies of the world.

Miss Davis, who will make two appearances as Verdi's captive Ethiopian princess at Mexico City's historic Palace of Fine Arts on July 23rd and 27th, was invited by the Opera Nacional to assume the role as a result of the spectacular success which she scored in concerts in the Mexican capital last summer, when she was obliged to give six recitals to SRO audiences at the Belles Artes within four weeks.

Fashion Parade Planned Soon By Berman's

"Who are the 10 best dressed men in sepia Los Angeles?" This is a question that will be answered soon when Berman's, famous "House of Style," with headquarters at 114 W. 9th St., stages the first annual city-wide men's fashion parade here.

"Because of the Hollywood influence, we feel Los Angeles men to be, generally speaking, among the finest dressers in the world," said popular Irving Berman this week. "We intend to use this annual fashion show to prove it."

Fete 20th Year Of Sound Films

Beginning this week and continuing through to August 6th, motion picture theatres will celebrate the 20th Anniversary of Talking Pictures, for it has been 20 years since Warner Brothers taught the screen to talk and sing.

Ella Fitzgerald Will Play Regal

CHICAGO — Plans have been completed for a gala welcome to Ella Fitzgerald when she arrives here next week to play an engagement at the Regal theatre. The bill headlining Miss Fitzgerald and presenting Dizzy Gillespie's new re-bop band for the first time promises to be a musical jazz highlight.

Bandleader Is Honored By Mayor in Little Rock, Ark.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—History was made in the Southwest last Thursday night when for the first time a Negro was presented with the keys to this city at official ceremonies. Mayor D. T. Sprick joined with officials of the local Chamber of Commerce to pay tribute to band leader Lucky Millinder for his recently introduced swing song hit "Take Me Back To Little Rock and Rock Me."

LUCKY MILLINDER

The ceremonies took place in the Mayor's chambers at City Hall with several civic officials as well as members of the Chamber of Commerce and Negro leaders on hand to witness the history making event. Mayor Sprick in presenting the keys of the city to the famous dynamaestro of swing pointed out that the song had focused national attention on Little Rock and that many people were now whistling and singing about the city who scarcely knew of its existence before.

Millinder in his acceptance remarks express his gratitude for the honor paid him and lauded the officials of the city for their democratic gesture.

GARSON'S HOBBY

Greer Garson is rated as an authority on chinaware. Collecting china has been her hobby for 13 years.

Finale Books Tina Dixon

The very popular Tina Dixon, composer of the song "E-Bob-A-Le-Bop," returns to the downtown early morning playhouse of the city, the Finale Club, Thursday night, July 18, for an indefinite engagement. Miss Dixon, who sings the blues as you like them, created such a furore in her last appearance at the club that the manager, Taylor Cooper, went to great expense to bring her back to the coast.

The Finale Club offers a fine supporting show cast and excellent food to round out your evening of pleasure.

Now Playing at United Artists

Producer Walter Wanger sets before the eye of man a feast of beauty, the like of which the Technicolor camera has not served up in all its years, in Universal's "Night in Paradise," now playing at the United Artists Theatre, 933 South Broadway, downtown Los Angeles. The second feature is "Dressed to Kill." Merle Oberon and Turhan Bey head the cast in "Night in Paradise."

LOUIS BATTLES MAURIELLO SEPTEMBER 18TH

TO WRESTLE O'TOOLE—Reginald Siki, who in two matches since arriving here, won handily over Hardy Kruskamp and Red Ryan, is carded to grapple with the well-known Tommy O'Toole at the Olympic on Wednesday night, July 24.

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

IT'S MAURIELLO AND JOE'S GOT HIM

Coming as a surprise to practically no one Promoter Mike Jacobs announced late last week that he had signed both parties and set the date at Sept. 18 for the next heavyweight title tussle featuring the world's champion, Joe Louis. Victim No. 2 for this year is Tami Mauriello, a pug who has been battling with varied success over a period of years and has a fair record to prove it. There were other "likely" opponents in sight but for some strange reason Mauriello was chosen. However, Joe probably would do the same thing to whatever other opponent was picked as he is going to do to Tami, so what the heck's the difference? Scene of the slaughter will be Yankee Stadium, the same spot where Billy Conn recently re-created the battle of "Bull Run."

THE KIDS WANT MORE SWIMMING POOLS

—We've been beating the gong in this column for ever so long on the crying need for more swimming pools for the children on this side of town and we'll keep on whaling it if it is necessary. However, there is much more to it than that. We admit that it is probably too late this summer but we honestly would like to see more pools on the eastside, or at least one more, by next summer. The recent war brought thousands of new residents to California. It is a known fact that the present facilities, which may have been adequate some years ago, are sadly lacking now. It is up to you, the public, the parents of eastside children, to get on the trail of the recreation officials and demand this pool. It is astonishing how delinquent grownups can be toward assuring their kids of the things they should have. They accept the fact that there is a pool at Central Playground but how did it get there? If there is eventually a pool put at Ross-Snyder Playground why not have a hand in it yourself? It will be a nice thing to be able to tell your children, "I helped get that pool for you." It will make you feel a lot better to know that you have done a c ic good.

NEGRO AMERICAN LEAGUE HOPE

The Kansas City Monarchs, first-half winners in the Negro American League, on July 21 start a long series with the Indianapolis Clowns at K. C., with the latter team casting greedy eyes on the second-half pennant. Sunday's tangle will be a double-header which will be followed by a third game Monday night at Kansas City Park. The teams then hit the road, playing July 23 at Council Bluffs, Iowa; July 24 at St. Paul, Minn.; July 26, Milwaukee, Wis.; July 27, Indianapolis, Ind.; July 28, Crosley Field, Cincinnati, Ohio (two games); July 29, Terre Haute, Ind.; July 30, Decatur, Ill.; July 31, Indianapolis again, and August 1, Richmond, Ind.

THAT HERB McKENLEY AGAIN!

Last Saturday afternoon under a balmy sky Hurryin' Herb McKenley, bronze flyer from the University of Illinois, streaked to a new field record in the 440-yard dash to feature the third annual Poughkeepsie Y.M.C.A. track and field games in that city. McKenley pounded home in 48.5s. to blot out the previous 50s. mark established in 1944 by Elmore Harris of the Shore A.C. So far in summer meets, with one exception, nothing has finished in front of Herb but the wind. The guy is great.

JUMPIN' JOE KEYS JUMPS

A scheduled 10-round non-title bout at Mexico City last Saturday between Jumpin' Joe Keys, Sepia leather-pusher of Los Angeles, and Kid Azteca, Mexican welterweight champ, was turned into a free-for-all battle with the fans uprooting the seats and throwing burning paper into the ring. The fight was terminated in the fourth heat with no winner being declared. The Mexican fans probably did not know Joe as we do, so when he made a bad showing in the first three stanzas, they began throwing burning paper in the ring. Joe uses the Henry Armstrong style to poor advantage, missing many more punches than the starving Europeans miss meals. At the start of the fourth session Joe complained to the referee that Azteca had ammonia on his gloves and had hit him on the eyes with them. A bedlam of whistles and yells greeted this complaint. Promoters put in a riot call and the police put every fan out of the arena but not before practically all equipment had been wrecked by the angry fans who demanded the return of their money. Outside the fans tried to mob the two fighters but police quickly quelled the riot. We suppose that Joe will hie himself back to L.A. for a rest after that hectic experience.

A BRACE OF SPORT HIGHBALLS

Rene and Martin Hewlett went fishing at Cabrillo Beach last Saturday. The day's catch—one halibut . . . Bob Feller, ace hurler of the Cleveland Indians, announced his plans for a post-season exhibition tour with an All-Star team gathered from both major leagues playing games against the finest Negro teams of the nation. Los Angeles will be included on the tour of 16 cities and the locals may see Jackie Robinson and Satchell Paige in the Negro line-up . . . Claude (Buddy) Young, Illinois football great, is pointing for an appointment to the Naval Academy at Annapolis. If he fails to get that he'll return to Illinois in August to resume his studies there . . . Manuel Ortiz, 122½, world's bantamweight champion, knocked out David Kui Kong Young, 123, Chinese-Hawaiian boxer, in the seventh round of a non-title bout last Saturday night. Receipts were $38,077, which set a record in Honolulu and probably gave Manuel the largest purse of his career . . . At Panama City, Baby Uribe, a Colombian boxer, died a few hours after being kayoed by Sammy Medina at Colon. Death was reported due to a cerebral hemorrhage . . . Satchell Paige is still doing some remarkable pitching at the age of 40. This raises the question as to how long a good athlete can carry on? Satchell is blazing the trail. Joe Louis is bringing up the rear in great style.

John Thomas in Kayo Win Over Arturo Barron

The Mexican battler was game and tried to rush Thomas off his feet in the first two rounds but the classy localite wasn't having any. In the fourth John opened up a terrific barrage that did not cease until Barron was stretched out on the canvas for the full count. A right cross turned the trick after 2m. 20s. of that round.

In two 4-rounders on the card Emery Jackson, 158, decisioned Johnny Meyers, 156, and Pee Wee Swingler, 122½, nodded Chico Gonzales, 130.

Johnny Haynes Fights Tuesday

Johnny Haynes, classy local heavyweight, will try to reverse a kayo win held over him by Walter Haefer, ex-marine, Tuesday night, July 23, in the 10-round main event at the Olympic Auditorium.

In his last ten fights Haynes has rung up a record of eight knockouts and he states that Haefer will be on his kayo list after Tuesday night's set-to.

Several fine prelims have also been lined up by Matchmaker Babe McCoy.

Speedy Cabanella Outscores Ramirez

The newest Filipino fistic hope, Speedy Cabanella, 123, made his ring debut at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night a successful one by pouding out a unanimous 10-round decision over Pedro Ramirez, 124½. This was the Manila boy's first appearance in the United States.

In two of the fours carded, Malcolm Smith, 152½, and Billy Mayfield, 152, drew, and Henry Rich, 163, scored a t.k.o. over Wilson Mackey, 157, in the third heat.

Fabella Chavez Versus Escobar At Legion Fri.

Currently considered one of the best ring prospects in California, Fabella Chavez, young featherweight, will meet Alfredo Escobar in the 10-round main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night. Chavez, recently stopped Freddy Taylor in the same ring.

Champion in 23rd Defense of Title

NEW YORK—Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion, will make the 23rd defense of his title against Tami Muariello of New York on Wednesday, Sept. 18, at Yankee Stadium, Promoter Mike Jacobs announced late last week. It will be Louis' second title defense of the year. On June 18 he kayoed Billy Conn at the same stadium, a bad omen for Muariello.

HAS GOOD RECORD

Mauriello, who is 23, has been fighting professionally since

JOE LOUIS

1939. Five years ago he twice attempted unsuccessfully to win the light-heavyweight title from Gus Lesnevich.

He has had 77 bouts, winning 69. His record shows 51 knockouts; he has lost seven decisions and has fought one draw. During the past 18 months he has run up a string of 12 straight victories, 11 by knockouts. His last bout was at Madison Square Garders in May, when he knocked out Bruce Woodcock, British Empire heavyweight champion, in five rounds.

TICKETS LOWER

Ticket prices will be scaled from $3 to $30, taxes included, Jacobs said. Although terms of the contracts were not announced, it was learned that Louis will receive his customary 40 per cent of the receipts and Mauriello 15 per cent.

Oxnard USO to Revert to City

OXNARD—The Seventh Street USO here will hold a special public program Sunday, marking the transfer of club operation back to the recreation department of the city.

Richard Abernethy, recreation director, said today that the USO and recreation department would work together during the transition period with the USO helping to finance programs for servicemen.

C. P. Johnson, director of the Seventh Street USO, plans to move to New York in August. Miss E. Marquita Crute, his assistant, will work with the Fifth Street USO after the transition period.

NEW YORK — Ray (Sugar) Robinson, No. 1 challenger for the world's welterweight crown, scored an unusual knockout over Joe Curcio, Newark southpaw, last Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

This ring oddity caused a free-for-all fist fight at the ringside and it was several minutes before quiet was restored.

Twelve thousand three hundred fifty-three fans paid $51,626 to watch the contest.

Riding and Hiking Trails for Los Angeles

An appropriation of $50,000 to purchase easements for riding and hiking trails in Los Angeles conty has been approved by the county supervisors.

Board action was taken on a motion by supervisor Roger Jessup to provide "feeder" trails that would connect with the state wide system between the Oregon and Mexican borders of California. It was recommended that the first trails to be acquired extend from Long Beach along the Los Angeles and Rio Hondo rivers to connect with Double Drive and Arcadia. From that point the trail will connect with the Altadena, Flintridge, and LaCanada network and the proposed state trail along the crest of the mountains. The state trail system is to be established under an appropriation of $300,000.

Acquits Alleged Bookie

Because Clem Warren likes to play the horses, he was in court this week charged with being a bookmaker.

A combination of fortunate circumstances, brilliantly exploited by defense attorney Charles Matthews, led to Warren's acquittal. Attorney Matthews, knowing that the real bookmaker had previously pleaded guilty, put the guilty man on the stand, demonstrated that Warren had nothing to do with bookmaking activities.

In view of the fact that Warren was charged with being a bookmaker and not with having made a bet, it was necessary for the court to adjudge him not guilty of the charge against him.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

HIPODROMO DE TIJUANA — Apprentice Jockey F. Novello stole the honors here last Sunday afternoon before a large crowd by scoring on five winners. He rode the last three in a row. Two mounts, Pomp in the ninth, and Wise Fox in the twelfth, paid $33.20 and $20.00, respectively. Novello was aboard Johnny X, winner of the Mariposa Handicap, feature of the day. Johnny X paid $6.60 for $2.

The daily double paid $37.40 with the combination of Valdina Eterno and Favor, and the Quiniela rewarded backers $103.40 with Wise Fox and Cleo Mic. A good thing was Big Town in the fourth, who paid $14.80 for $2.

General Manager Augustin Silveyra announced two feature races for Sunday, July 21, namely the "Independence" at five furlongs and the "Copacabana" at a mile and seventy yards. There will be ten other races carded.

At Hollywood Park Saturday, the Starlet Stakes for 2-year-olds at six furlongs will be featured with an added value of $25,000. My picks are U-Time, first; Stepfather, second, and Shim Malone, third. I will give my selections for the Gold Cup soon. Watch for them. So long, George.

Baha'i Lecture

The Balance for Progress is the subject to be discussed by Florence Mayberry at Los Angeles Baha'i headquarters, 331 South New Hampshire, at 3 p.m. Sunday, July 21.

The unity of the human race, as envisaged by Baha'u'llah, implies the establishment of a world commonwealth in which all nations, creeds, races and classes are closely and permanently united, and in which the autonomy of its state members and the personal freedom and initiative of the individuals that compose them are definitely and completely safeguarded.

Christian Science Lesson Topic 'Life'

"I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord. . . . God is the Lord, which hath shewed us light." These statements from the Psalms will be the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon, on "Life" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

The Lesson-Sermon includes this selection also from Psalms: "In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me. . . . For thou hast delivered my soul from death: wilt not thou deliver my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of the living?" A passage from Isaiah reads, "Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke? . . . Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall spring forth speedily."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "We are sometimes led to believe that darkness is as real as light; but Science affirms darkness to be only a mortal sense of the absence of light, at the coming of which darkness loses the appearance of reality. So sin and sorrow, disease and death, are the suppositional absence of Life, God, and flee as phantoms of error before truth and love."

Chief Warrant Officer Aaron R. Fisher, assistant professor of military science and tactics at Wilberforce university was cited for the army commendation ribbon in a communication received from Major Gen. Robert S. Beightler, commanding general of the fifth service command of the amry service forces.

Church Leader Defends Attacks On Polish Jews

WARSAW—In a prepared statement to the press, Cardinal Hlond, primate of Poland, this week had condoned anti-Semiism in Poland on the grounds of Jewish participataion in the government, which he asserted was tying to introduce a system of government which he said, the majority of the people did not desire.

He said he recently rejected a request by a group of Polish Jews for a statement condemning anti-Semitism because there was not sufficient evidence at the time to justify church action.

He made no comment on the government's action in executing nine of 12 defendants charged with inciting the recent bloody pogrom in Kielce, but claimed that a disproportionately larger number of Poles than of Jews "were killed in daily political fighting."

Christianity Becoming Less Effective, Says Rev. Russell

Christianity is being challenged today by Communism, according to the Rev. Clayton D. Russell, pastor of the Independent Church of Christ, who preached a powerful sermon to a congregation which jammed the auditorium of the church last Sunday.

Rev. Russell chose as his text the Lord's Prayer, and dwelt upon the first two words, "Our Father," to show the brotherhood of man. He described graphically a world conference in Europe which he and Mrs. Russell attended two years ago, and which was opened by this prayer. Representatives from 72 nations attended that conference, bound together by this ideal of universal brotherhood.

But, says Rev. Russell, the church as an institution is not practicing this great ideal. It is promising much, but not living up to its promises. Just as in Jesus's day, when He and His followers were reviled as radicals, so today those who are striving to obey the commands of Jesus in truth, are being called radicals and Communists.

Jesus dignified labor. He was a carpenter. His sympathies were with the working man. Yet because He refused to submit to the rules of the religious organizations of that day, He was reviled by the "higher-ups" as a friend of publicans and sinners.

The church today, like the religious institutions of Jesus' day, has become congealed along certain lines and forms. It has lost the sympathy for human beings which Jesus breathed into it.

Communism, on the other hand, or what the Pharisees of today choose to call Communism, has that warm human sympathy for mankind and for the ills of mankind. And Communism is doing what the church has been promising to do for centuries.

And unless the church wakes up, Rev. Russell, concluded, and begins doing instead of merely promising, it will find itself cast out as those ancient Pharisees were.

Recreation, Outings Highlight Fun Program of Pilgrim House

Outings and recreation are the basis of the summer program at Pilgrim House. The Vacation School opened last week with an enrollment of 70 under the direction of Miss Helen Henry, assisted by Miss Catherine Stiefel and Miss Grace Shinoda.

A library party for 24 children was given last Saturday by the Delta Committee headed by Miss Ivy Washington. Thursday the Scouts and Amnity Club had an evening picnic at Lincoln Park. Friday Miss Shinoda took a party of grammar school girls to Lincoln Park.

A birthday party in the afternoon was given for the Nursery School children by the parents of Betty Lou Phillips, celebrating her fourth birthday, with 25 children in attendance.

Among the other activities of the boys are swimming groups at the YMCA led by John Haynes and an outing Saturday of the Cub Scouts at Lincoln Park with Arthur J. Bacon Jr., scoutmaster.

In each succeeding year it more clearly appears that our democratic principle needs no apology.—Grover Cleveland.

This country, wih its institutions, belongs to the people who inhabit it.—Abraham Lincoln.

No man can always do just as he chooses until he always chooses to do God's will; and that is heaven. There is no liberty in wrongdoing. — Joseph Cook.

Obedience is the offspring of love; and love is the principle of unity, the basis of all right thinking and acting; it fulfills the law.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Wild Celebration Of Fourth Lands R. R. Waiter in Jail

Allen Brown, dining car waiter of 1472 Griffith ave. got too enthusiastic in his celebration of Independence Day and landed in the hoosegow as a result, on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Brown was arrested when a bullet from a revolver he was firing in his celebration struck a 5-year-old boy in the leg as the child was crossing the street. The child was rushed to General hospital for treatment.

Brown gained his release upon a writ of habeas corpus filed by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor. Hearing on the writ will be held July 23 in Dept. 44 of Superior court, before Judge William R. McKay. Taylor indicated his line of defense would be that the shooting of the child was purely accidental, that Brown had no intention of causing injuries when the shot was fired.

Abolish Segregation In Trenton Movies

TRENTON, N. J.—Segregation in the theaters of Trenton has been abolished as the result of community action, according to a report made by the Urban Colored Population Commission of the State of New Jersey.

The action followed an incident in which three women asked for refunds on their tickets when management attempted to give them segregated seating at a local motion picture house. The UCPC interviewed the manager and was able to win elimination of the segregation policy at that theater. Subsequently, the legal redress committee of the local NAACP met with the owners and managers of Trenton theaters and received assurances that discriminatory restrictions of seating would cease.

A new theater opened, however, with a discriminatory policy which encouraged a return to the old policy by the other theaters. Two suits were filed under the civil rights law of New Jersey but were withdrawn when a new agreement was reached with owners and managers after the judge threatened he would allow the full legal amount if discrimination continued.

Powell, White Pay Tribute To Late Sidney Hillman as Minority Groups' Champion

NEW YORK—Negro spokesmen this week joined with labor and other progressive forces in mourning the death of Sidney Hillman, chairman of the CIO Political Action Committee and president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union, CIO. Hillman, the center of bitter controversy during the 1944 presidential election, was buried Friday afternoon following funeral rites at which Rabbi Stephen S. Wise officiated and Pilip Murray, CIO president, delivered the eulogy.

Statements from Negro labor officials, civic leaders and associated hailed Hillman as a great American who, despite discriminatory attacks, was a valiant champion of minority rights.

He will long be remembered, declared Willard S. Townsend, president UTSEA-CIO, "for his sterling role in the founding of the CIO, in the fight for FEPC and in the leadership of PAC. The United Transport Service Employes of America shares with all trade unionists and other progressive the deep loss sustained by the death of Sidney Hillman."

In a telegram to Hillman's widow, Walter White, national secretary, NAACP, declared, in part: "America is a richer place because he refused to be daunted. We mourn his passing not only for you but for all of America."

Said Rep. Adam C. Powell Jr.: "The passing of Hillman must take its place as a national tragedy by the side of the passing of Roosevelt. Both were people's leaders. The loss is irreparable. Just as we who believed in Roosevelt dedicated ourselves to keeping alive his spirit so now, must we rededicate ourselves to keeping alive the spirit of Hillman."

Henry Lee Moon, assistant to the chairman, CIO-PAC, revealed that one of Hillman's last acts as chairman of CIO-PAC was to send telegrams to President Truman and to Atty. Gen. Tom Clark urging federal action against Senator Bilbo for his hate-morning and riot-inciting campaign. "Such a man, said Moon, "will be solely missed in this time when reaction is striving to regain a stranglehold on American life."

Ted Poston, reporter, New York Post, and former information specialist in the Office of Production Management, of which Hillman was co-director, disclosed that even before President Roosevelt established FEPC, Hillman had taken steps to obtain full utilization of Negro labor in the defense program. "A stalwart labor leader, a great citizen and an international figure, he will long be mourned by all those to whom he gave leadership and guidance in the long, hard struggle to attain that more abundant life which he believed was the rightful heritage of all mankind."

Unions Spark Drive to Register Negroes for Louisiana Sept. Primary

NEW ORLEANS—The People's Defense League, sponsored by local CIO and AFL unions, has launched an intensive drive to register 50,000 New Orleans Negroes for the Louisiana primaries in September.

According to Ernest J. Wright, league director, already 2000 are on the rolls. The League is maintaining ten "voter schools" to instruct Negroes on how to surmount the barriers erected in their path by many local registrars.

The most troublesome requirement encountered thus far, Wright said, has been the demand that a voter be accompanied by two registered voters from his own ward and precinct.

He said that many registrars, by invoking technicalities, hope that the applicant will give up. If a Negro fails to fill out a questionnaire to the precise satisfaction of the registrar, Wright said, he is rejected.

As an example, he pointed out that the questionnaire contains the statement: "My color is ——," The correct answer is "Col." If the applicant fills in "Negro," "or "black" or "brown," Wright charged, he is disqualified.

Bus Co. Pays Victim Of Jimcrowism $200

Anderson got off the bus at Reno, rather than submit to jimcrowism. When he got to San Francisco he went to the Burlington office, which already had a report of the incident. Burlington offered him $100, which he refused.

"We are enjoying our visit in South America," states Dr. Brandon A. T. Bowlin in a letter which reached the EAGLE office this week.

Dr. Bowlin, well-known in medical, civic and social circles of Pasadena and Los Angeles, left California early this month, accompanied by his 12-year-old son, Brandon T. Their seven week trip will include stopovers in Cuba, Haiti, Santo Domingo, Puerto Rico, Antigua, Trinidad and British Guiana.

Suit Hits Jimcrowism On Southern Railroad

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—A complaint was filed here this week against the Louisville-Nashville railroad charging violation of the Interstate Commerce Act be refusing dining car service to two Negroes which would be equal to the service offered white passengers.

The two complainants asked that the railroad be made to discontinue "the humiliating practice of using curtains around tables reserved for Negro passengers." They also charged that on March 17, they were denied service because the curtained table in the diner was occupied.

Filipinos Given 'Independence'

WASHINGTON — The Philippines now are independent, as of July 4, but it is an independence filled with question marks and internal uneasiness.

Internationally the islands are still pretty hog-tied by U. S. treaties and financial control. There is a measure of military control, too, since the U. S. will have many bases in the islands, manned by American troops.

Moreover, President Manuel Roxas is regarded by many Filipinos as an American puppet. Roxas, a notorious collaborationist during the Japanese occupation of the Philippines, was supported by the U. S. in his successful campaing for the Presidency. He represents the old-line conservative ruling classes of the islands—the Spanish and Filipino landlords, the Spanish and U. S. financiers and industrialists.

Under legislation enacted by the U. S. Congress, the economy of the islands continues geared to that of the U. S., which means that the old evils of cash crops and control by big American corporations still remain.

Civil war continues in the islands, with the remnants of the Filipino peasant resistance fighters contesting the rule of Roxas and his American friends.

Welcomed Here

Mrs. Gertrude Crisman of 1220 Westchester place welcomed to the city early Wednesday morning, her cousins, the prominent Professor and Mrs. Samuel D. Milton of Washington, D.C.

Professor Milton is a well known educator of the District of Columbia, retired after 30 years service in the public school system. Professor and Mrs. Milton are the proud parents of Dr. Byron Milton of Detroit, Michigan, Dr. Boyington Milton, head of the health Commission in another part of Michigan and two daughters, now teaching school in Washington, D.C., Mrs. Muriel Alexander and Mrs. Alta Sumby.

While in the city, the Miltons will be house guests of Mrs. Gertrude Crisman. They will remain in the city for the balance of the month.

Back James Roosevelt To Head State Demos

SACRAMENTO — The Sacramento county Democratic central committee this week announced it will support James Roosevelt for election as state party chairman at a meeting of the State Central Committee here this weekend.

The Sacramento endorsement of the eldest son of the late president followed similar action by the Los Angeles county central committee last week.

Mrs. Staupers Retires as Head Of Nurses Assn.

NEW YORK—Appointment of Miss Alma Vessells, R. N., B. S., as the new executive secretary of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses was made officially this week at the headquarters of the Association, 1790 Broadway. Miss Vessells succeeds Mrs. Mabel Keaton Staupers, R. N., who has resigned to take a rest after 12 years service with the organization.

Miss Vessells, born in Philadelphia, Pa., is a graduate of the Harlem Hospital School of Nursing and holds her degree from the New York University School of Education. Since 1944 she has been Assistant Consultant for the National Nursing Council for War Services.

Miss Vessells holds membership in the American Nurses Association, the New York State Nurses Association, the National Council of Negro Women and the National Negro Congress. She is the wife of G. I. John, founder of the St. Vincent Benevolent Association.

L. A. Sees First Helicopter Mail Delivery Test

With the landing of a Sikorsky helicopter on the roof of the Terminal Annex Monday, a new milestone in the history of airmail was chalked up.

Helicopters picked up and delivered interurban airmail in the Los Angeles area as the postoffice, together with the army air forces and its "Twirly Birds," began a 30-day test of this service for large cities and their suburbs.

In charge of the survey and test is M. H. Ackerman, veteran airmail pilot, who is assisted by a team of postal inspectors.

Two routes and a shuttle service are covered twice a day Monday through Saturday by the helicopters.

The costal run covers the beach cities on a tour from Lockheed air terminal, while the inland run leaves Lockheed and makes one minute stopovers at outlying cities within a 35-mile radius of Los Angeles.

The Shuttle service operates hourly between the air terminal and the rooftop of the terminal annex postoffice in Los Angeles.

While landings can be controlled to within an area 75 feet by 100 feet, spokesmen said, this was true only so long as wind drafts are not twisted and distooted by high building, hilly terrain or closely massed trees.

Ky. Delegation Visit in L. A.

A delegation of about 28 persons on a sight seeing trip from Louisville, Ky., is expected in Los Angeles Sunday, July 14 and will be guests of the New Union Hotel of this city. They plan to worship at the Second Baptist church, 24th and Griffith.

Rev. W. Augustus Jones, former pastor of Second Baptist church of Santa Monica, will head the delegation.

Among them will be:

Mrs. McDora McField, Mrs. Henrietta Payne, Mrs. Emma Brown, Miss Alberta E. Barry, Mrs. Aljulia Smith, Mrs. Pauline Brown, Mrs. Pauline Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Mrs. Annie Mae (Provette) Hayden, Mrs. Ella Simpson, Mrs. Addie Duff, Mrs. Maxie Maye, Mrs. Frances Wheatley, Mrs. Ethel Redd, Mrs. Georgia Cambell, Mrs. Fannie Johnson, Mr. Richard Johnson, Mrs. Georgia Jetton, Mrs. Mattie Hicks, Mr. William Hicks, Mrs. Elsie Fields, all of Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Jane Edelen, Mr. Alphonso Eddeler, Miss Elizabeth Grundly, Miss Willie Sutton, Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. Lucretia Woods, Mrs. Emma Humes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimes of Detroit, Michigan, Mrs. Hazel Logan, Seymour, Indiana, Mrs. G. Ames, Columbia, Ohio.

Court Rules Changes In Teachers Group

Some 3500 Los Angeles teachers this week were affected by a court decision holding that their group health insurance, started in 1937, remains unchanged as to benefits, despite purported amendments to their master policy.

Superior Judge Joseph Vickers ruled in favor of the contention of one of the teachers, Kathryn Blair Simmons, that officers of a teachers' association, known as the "Insurance Group of Los Angeles City Teachers," had no authority to modify the benefits.

Miss Simmons in her suit against the Occidental Life Insurance Co., said that the original benefits included $100 a month payments if the teacher were forced to be absent from work because of illness. Last year, this guarantee was modified to "illness which confines the beneficiary strictly to her home."

All teachers insurance groups were expected to study the decision since some 90 percent of the city's teaching staff was said to have some type of group insurance.

Thomas Jefferson was the first president of the United States to advocate federal aid for education, roads, rivers and other internal improvements.

FEPC Listed Eleventh on State Ballot

SACRAMENTO — Announcement by Secretary of State Jordan of the order in which constitutional amendments and initiative measures will appear on the Nov. 5 general election ballot shows FEPC in eleventh position.

The measure on teachers' salaries is in third position, small business loans for veterans, fourth; tuition cost per pupil, thirteenth; repeal of educational poll tax, sixteenth. Seventeenth measures in all are listd.

Restrictive Covenants Lead to Fascism, Says Lavery, Rapping Klan

The sudden rise of the Ku Klux Klan across the notion with its local display of fiery crosses and defacement of property, is the danger signal of Fascism in America, Emmet Lavery warned this week.

"These lawless attacks on minorities must be stamped out," Lavery asserted. "It is disgraceful that American families which suffered the loss of husbands, brothers and sons in the war to defeat Fascism, must witness this new exhibition of intolerance here at home. Restrictive covenants open the door to the KKK," he said.

Wilberforce U. Has Big Vet Attendance

Wilberforce University Summer School which began June 17 and ends July 27, reports an enrollment of 324 students. This is the largest enrollment for a summer session since the revival of the summer school in 1943.

For the first time in many years the male enrollment exceeds that of women with 190 men enrolled compared to 134 women students. The great increase in the number of men is due to the ever growing number of World War II veterans entering the university of which 140 are registered in the current quarter.

A well rounded recreation program, under the direction of the personnel deans and the department of physical education, has been integrated with the academic routine of the summer school.

Farm Families Need More Milk

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. — Surveys show that "farmers as a rule do not use much of the milk or milk products they produce," Prof. J. H. Frandsen of Amherst, Mass., head of the dairy industry department, Massachusetts State college, declared in a radio address here.

"There is evidence that some of the poor health of farm families can be traced to improper diet, and, more specifically, to lack of sufficient milk or milk products in the diet," Professor Frandsen pointed out.

With milk recognized as our most nearly perfect food, distributors of dairy products spend thousands of dollars in promoting its more extensive use, Professor Frandsen said. "Isn't it likely that much of this effort will be lost if and when city folk notice that those who produce milk themselves use it rather sparingly?" he asked.

"Recent medical statistics seem to indicate that 56 percent of farmers examined by the armed forces medical division were rejected on physical grounds," Professor Frandsen said.

Soviet Paper Blasts British

LONDON — Responsibility for the current "bloody events in Palestine" was placed squarely on Britain this week by the Soviet newspaper Izvestia.

British policy in other nations of the Near and Middle East "also has clearly defined characteristics of efforts to dominate other peoples" and "ignores the legitimate national liberation aspirations of the people of the Arab East," the paper said.

"Greece is groaning under the yoke of Fascist rulers, who are keeping it down with the help of British authorities," Izvestia continued. "In Transjordan, a despotic puppet state is being converted before the eyes of the world into a military base of the British empire. Egypt is conducting a prolonged struggle for evacuation of foreign troops.

"Iraq is demanding revision of a one-sided agreement which makes that country a colony. The brazen imperial behavior of the British oil company in Iran is an example of disrespect for the sovereignty of a small country."

Bowles, Foe of Bias, Bows Out As Head of OES

WASHINGTON — Minority group members lost one of their staunchest friends in the federal government set-up yesterday when Chester A. Bowles bowed out as the nation's economic stabilization boss.

Bowles resigned last week when it became evident that Congress would pass the crippled OPA bill, which President Truman subsequently vetoed. Before leaving, Bowles had a final plea for OPA in a nation-wide broadcast.

As head of the OPA, before his recent appointment as economic stabilization director, Bowles energetically championed fair employment practices in the OPA, severely criticized its absence in other government agencies, and repeatedly went to bat for minority group employes who had to be laid off by OPA, demanding they be placed by other agencies.

UCLA Reports Peak Summer Enrollment

The last all - high was achieved in the summer of 1941 when 3,177 students were enrolled, he said.

Nearly 150 instructors, half of whom are visiting educators from other institutions, are teaching more than 500 courses of study in the session, which will run until August 2. Applications for the second summer session, which commences on August 5 and ends on September 13, are being accepted now.

Gala Picnic to Inaugurate Vast Membership Drive of CIO Union

Southern Bar-B-Q will be served in the original tempting style that made it a famous delicacy, at the first annual picnic sponsored by the United Public Workers, Local 246, CIO, on August 11, at Griffith Park, according to E. W. Fisher, picnic chairman. Sinclair Woods, who helped make it famous throughout the southland with his own special formula for Louisiana sauce, will be there to personally direct its preparation.

The affair, to mark the beginning of an intensive drive by the union, formed recently through a national merger of State, County and Municipal Workers with United Federal Workers to organize and gain 20,000 members for southern California, will be highlighted by the appearance of famous entertainment stars and celebrities, stated L. S. Wilson, chairman of entertainment.

H. H. Farnsworth, president of the local, said that success of the celebration is further guaranteed by a program that includes dancing, games, valuable prizes, free beer and soft drinks.

Tickets are $1.50 (75 cents for children under 12 years), and can be obtained at union headquarters, CIO building, 5851 S. Avalon, room 305, or by phone, CEntury 2-9123, according to James C. R. Cotton, ticket chairman.

PROF. HERMAN The Astrologer

TO ASSIST YOU IN MAKING WISE DECISIONS

FREE: Your question will be answered in this column only when a clipping of this feature is enclosed with your question, your full name, birthdate and correct address. For private reply, send 25 cents in coin and stamped envelope for my Astrology Reading and receive by return mail my free opinions on any three questions. Address all communications to Prof. Herman, the Astrologer, care of The California EAGLE.

USEFULNESS

Did you ever stop to consider that if you have some special talent or ability to do a certain thing, and don't ever put it to a use, it will soon become dormant?

The same applies to habits and daily experiences. If you break your arm the result is that you must keep it in a sling for a period of time. However you can only do this so long, for you must try using that arm or it will lose its strength and become entirely useless.

If you have the ability to do something, do that something and you will be abe with each succeeding day to do it better. But, if you do not do it, you will perhaps attempt to do it sometime, and find it impossible.

F. E. Dear Prof. Herman: It has been sometime since I wrote you because I have been on my vacation and just as you said, it certainly helped me. The rest is just what I needed and I met very interesting people; thanks again for your splendid advice.

E. H.—Will I get married soon?

Ans. Probing into the matter I find that you are destined to meet the man of your dreams in the very near future and this friendship will result in your marriage.

B. D. What should I do?

Ans.—It seems to me that you should stop worrying about this matter and try to put it out of your mind. You will only make yourself ill if you don't. You will be surprised how quickly the whole matter will blow over if you dismiss it from your mind.

S. C.—How soon will I be able to work?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your question I find that you haven't much longer to wait for you are rapidly gaining strength and will soon be able to assume your various obligations.

Dear Sir:—I read your column each week and find it quite helpful. I have just received my book With God All Things Are Possible and am so pleased that I just had to let you know at once. Sincerely, H. T.

R. R.—What does the Crescent symbolize?

Ans.—The crescent was a symbol of the various nature goddesses of Asia Minor, and when Greek Artemis and Latin Diana became identified with these Asiatic divinities, the crescent was shown on the head of the goddess in her statues. The crescent moon and similarly shaped objects, such as horseshoes, have long been considered lucky.

M. E. R.—Will I ever find happiness again?

Ans.—Your Lucky stars and Guiding Planet indicate many interesting events in the future that will bring you much happiness and good fortune. I would be glad to help you further if you will write in for a private reply.

B. E. C.—Will this man keep his word?

Ans.—My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals the promise that this man has made, that of marrying you after he gets his bills paid. And it seems to be his chief objective. Don't lose confidence in him, give him time to prove that he means what he says.

Mrs. E.H.T. Dear Friend and Adviser: You are certainly number one on my list when it comes to friends, and since I ask you so many questions all of the time, I feel that the salutation of this little note is quite adequate. Would you please answer this question. Will we spend our vacation where we have been spending it for quite some time?

Answer: Concentrating upon your question, I find that you have been contemplating on changing your destination this year and I am of the opinion that you would enjoy going to a new place. I suggest you reconsider, and tr ythe new location.

L.Z.—Will I have another baby? If so, when?

Answer: The nature of your question requires a private reply. I suggest you write in at your earliest convenience.

K.C.M.—What shall I do?

Answer: Probing into the matter I find that you have been upset because your financial condition is not going along as you had expected and you are wondering if you will be able to keep your home. Your Lucky Star and Guiding Planet indicate a change in your luck for the better and your being able to survive this period without any great loss.

T.J.—Dear Prof. Herman: I am a firm believer in prayer and the teachings of the Bible and so I found your book, With God All Things Are Possible a very fine piece of literature. I have read it through once, and have started it again. Thanks for recommending this splendid book.

Mrs. V.L.H.—Who spread the quilt on the floor in my back room?

Answer: One of the members of your family put the quilt on the floor to lie down upon, thinking it would be cooler than on the bed. No harm was meant by this, and you should simply forget the matter.

D.U. and C.G.—We are two girls 15 and 16 years of age, and would like to know how we can solve our problem?

Answer: My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals the fact that because of the neighborhood you live in, your parents will not let you enter into many of the sports, entertainments, etc., that you would enjoy. You want them to move so that you can attend the schools that your friends attend and socialize with them. But you must take into consideration the fact that it is very hard to find living quarters just where you want them and you must be patient and try to understand that as soon as they can make the proper changes they will do so. In the meantime be kind and considerate to those you come in contact with in your present neighborhood, for they cannot help their misfortunes and you CAN help them.

Landlord Jailed In Robbery of Tenant's $700

Charged with suspicion of grand theft, James W. Robinson, elderly landlord at 1591 E. 42nd st., was jailed by Officer McGruder of Newton st. detective bureau this week. The arrest followed a complaint by Hammond Phillips, a roomer at the same address, that he had been robbed of the sum of $700.

Claiming innocence, Robinson immediately engaged the services of Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, who filed a writ of habeas corpus and secured the release of his client on $2000 bail. Hearing on the writ is slated in Dept. 44 of the Superior court this week.

Phillips claims that he left his room last Sunday, leaving his keys on a dresser and the $700 in his trunk and that when he returned the keys were intact but the money was gone. Both Robinson and his wife, July, deny knowledge of the theft.

Monopolies Power Behind Poll Tax-Ickes

WASHINGTON—Absentee ownership and financial control of the South by the North are mainly responsible for forcing the poll tax on ten million voteless Southerners, Harold L. Ickes, former cabinet member, charged at a Southern Conference for Human Welfare dinner here.

"Big business in the South, controlled from the North, likes the poll tax—and little wonder," Ickes said, "so much of the profit from Southern industries is siphoned off to nonresident financiers and absentee owners that the state has had to pile its tax burden on the backs of those least able to pay."

Describing the poll tax legislators as "five percent congressmen," Ickes went into detail on the small percentage of votes earned by "Rankin, Bilbo and Reece," whom he acidly called a "euphonic study in fractional democracy."

The United States has gone on record as favoring a free vote throughout the world, and has been particularly insistent on that score in Bulgaria, Rumania and Italy, Ickes noted.

"In our diligent righteousness we sent observers to distant Greece to insure that that ancient cradle and fountainhead of human liberties might have a 'free election.' When," he demanded, "will observers be dispatched to Nashville, or Raleigh, or New Orleans?"

Harlem Businessmen To Aid African Group

NEW YORK—Harlem businessmen pledged to support the campaign of the African Academy of Arts and Research to raise $25,000 for its 1946-47 program, at a dinner tendered them by the Academy at the Hotel Theresa.

Rev. Sandy F. Ray, pastor of the Cornerstone Baptist church, and chairman of the campaign, stressed the need for closer relationship with Africa.

"Africa," he said, "has always been presented to the American people in an unfavorable light. The good neighbor policy holds true for Africa. We should know the Africans as they are, rather than through the misconceptions of the past."

State Negro Year Book In Preparation

The pictorial who's who will deal with Negro achievement in California and will show in interesting manner the record the group has made throughout the state in business, labor, agriculture, education, law, medicine, movies, music, press, radio, religion, science and sports.

"The work will be an historical document of the Negro's varied contributions to the culture of California from the earliest beginnings up to the present day," explained Leon H. Hardwick, general manager of the press syndicate.

"We are covering the state thoroughly and our photographers and research workers are doing an exhaustive job in compiling this reference book. Current plans call for completion of the yearbook by October."

Chester Dudley, field representative of the PPS, is associate director of the enterprise; Earl J. Griffin, photographic department chief.

Dr. Robinson Heads Commerce Chamber

At its first annual election Tuesday night, the Westside Chamber of Commerce elected Dr. Cato G. Robinson, well-known young dentist, as its president for the ensuing year.

The newly formed group, whose jurisdiction extends over the area between Adams and Exposition and Vermont and Crenshaw, has as its main objectives the adjustment of commercial and civic problems and the stressing of interracial cooperation among the Westside's various business institutions.

Miss A. Evette, Vermont avenue business woman, was elected executive secretary and Mrs. Lorraine Armstrong, real estate broker, treasurer. Other officers elected were:

Earl J. Griffin and Mrs. Nellie Gilchrist, vice presidents; L. J. Brockenbury, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bessie A. Harper, recording secretary; James Sidney, sergeant-at-arms.

Members of the board of directors are: Leon H. Hardwick, Miss Odell Stubblefield, A. J. Slaughter, Mrs. Hu, Miss Frieda Shepherd, Dr. Benjamin Rose, Allen C. Woodard III, L'Tanya Griffin, Luther Beason, K. J. Takashima, Charles Black and Dr. Walter W. Davis.

BEAUTY IS SO ENCHANTING—Nothing is so charming and enchanting as a beatiful immaculately dressed woman. Modeling for this paper this week is Miss Ruby Hill, the Della Green of the recent Broadway hit, "St. Louis Woman." Miss Hill is credited with possessing the most enchanting and refreshing beauty of the current theatre season.

One hundred and fifty leaders of civic, labor, religious, veteran and youth groups who responded last Friday to Mayor Fletcher Bowron's invitation to an emergency conference on juvenile gang warfare in this city found the mayor only mildly interested, if at all, in getting at the root causes of the trouble.

Held in connection with the recent mass fracas in the vicinity of Manual Arts high school between Negro and white teenage gangs, the meeting characterized as false and provocative reports that a number of youths had been so seriously injured as to require hospitalization. The meeting warned all citizens against giving credence to these groundless rumors.

Time and again the city's chief executive showed his impatience with reports of police partiality and racial discrimination in dealing with juvenile outbreaks, suggestions that the

By C. A. B.

NOW that the OPA is on the auction block and Fascist organizations are springing up everywhere, it is important that those of us who are interested in a people's world bestir ourselves and push back these reactionary forces into the grave from which they come.

I feel that I am a part of that segment of America who believe in the truly American way of life. I do not, however, believe that the majority of the law makers are traveling in the right direction to either establish or preserve that much-talked of American way of life.

It seems to me that the two outstanding instances of subversive activities of recent date are the elections of Senator Bilbo in Mississippi and Talmadge in Georgia.

ON THE heels of a war in which we, all the people of this nation, united to win a world peace, Bilbo, a United States Senator, blasted to the world that one-tenth of the American people must live and act politically under the "white supremacy" rule, as he sees it.

Newly elected Gov. Talmadge in Georgia, of the same political faith as Bilbo, had himself elected, despite the fact that the majority of the electorate of Georgia did not approve.

Despite the large Negro vote, according to Mr. Hearst, Talmadge said: "Negroes won't be voting in Georgia's Democratic primary for the next four years."

TALMADGE also said: "I hope during my next four years as governor to inspire younger Georgians to follow the traditions of the old South and to keep the Caucasian race in the upper hand.

On the same date, Talmadge broadcasted his intentions towards Negroes, news crashed into the headlines that Harry Spector, Irving Spector, Abraham Kotelchevck, Phil Weiss and Rheabel Mendelsohn had been dismissed from the government plant at Aberdeen, Md., because of their subversive activities. However, [illegible] acts of a subversive nature against the government have been disclosed.

Open-minded individuals observe, in the dismissal of these men, the onward march of American fascism, under the careful guidance of the K.K.K.

It seems that as the Klan goes, so goes the nation. And on the local scene incidents are multiplying at an alarming rate.

Last Tuesday evening when a mixed group of young people—white, Negro and Japanese, went to the stadium Cafe at 3980 South Hoover street, they were refused service.

WHEN the group inquired courteously of the management why they were refused service, they were offered a very flimsy excuse as subterfuge to dodge the stipulations of the California Civil Code which provides that no person shall be refused service in a public place for reason of race, color or creed.

However, the management of a public place has the right to refuse service to any person if he is intoxicated. It was on this premise that this group of young people were told they could not be served. The proprietor claimed that they had staggered into the place, conducting themselves in a disorderly fashion.

THIS assertion on his part borders on the fantastic. These young people had been to a civic meeting where just such practices had been discussed and had not even had a drink of lemonade!

Because Jennie Wainsworth upheld this sort of fascist sniveling in her letter to me some weeks ago, I have received numerous and heartening communications from clean democratic minded Americans who not only object to Jennie Wainsworth and her ilk, but who object to the

Burke Must Face New Trial For 2nd Victim's Murder

Fate struck its cruellest blow at Joseph Burke this week when the convicted murderer of a 16-year-old mother, sentenced to spend the rest of his life in prison, was told he must again face a trial for murder—this time for the baby son of the first victim.

Chief trial deputy Daniel Beecher announced early Monday morning that Burke would be tried for the bludgeon death of 8 months old Roy James Woods, who was found dying beside his dead mother, Mrs. Jeannie Wright Woods, several months ago on East Santa Barbara st.

Last week an all-white jury of 10 women and 2 men decided that Burke had killed the mother in a sexual rage, and beaten her to death. The defendant steadfastly maintained he knew nothing of the crime.

Judge Charles Fricke set the second murder trial for August 19, at 9 a.m., in Department 43 of the superior court, the same court where Burke was just found guilty. Deputy district attorneys, who showed anger that Burke escaped the death penalty by the decision of the first jury, vowed that the second trial would send him to the San Quentin gas chamber.

Burke will await his second trial in the state prison at San Quentin, where he was immediately sent by Judge Fricke.

Anti-Poll Tax Rider Tabled by Senate

WASHINGTON — An Anti-poll tax bill, offered as a rider to the tidelands bill, was tabled this week, 54 to 23, on a motion by Majority Leader Barkley after Sen. George of Georgia threatened a filibuster after a hastily organized Senate filibuster instigated by Sen. George of Georgia.

The anti-poll tax amendment was offered by Sen. Morse of Oregon.

Consumers Start 'Meat Holiday' to Roll Back Prices

Los Angeles consumers were staging a one-week "meat holiday" this week in response to an appeal by the State-Wide Legislative Conference, headed by Atty. Gen. Robert W. Kenny, for a buyers' strike to roll back prices to June 30 levels.

Plans for the "meat holiday" were formulated at a recent meeting in the Friday Morning Club attended by 450 delegates from 175 trade unions, civic, church, Negro and Jewish groups.

The "meat holiday" started last Tuesday and will continue through Monday, July 29.

Fanning to Name 2 More Negroes As Supervisors

Two more Negro postal workers will be promoted within the next 30 days to supervisors, Los Angeles Postmaster Michael Fanning told the installation meeting of the Benjamin J. Bowie post of the American Legion last Friday night. The meeting, held in the auditorium of the Masonic Hall, was colorful and well attended.

Fanning described the conditions he found in the post office when appointed, present conditions and his plans for the future. He pointed out that of 180 supervisors only three are Negroes, although many Negro employes have 25 years or more of service and nine out of ten have good records, he said.

Following an emergency treatment, Connie Lee Charles, waitress, of 1157 East 46th st., was taken to the General Hospital for X-rays after she had swallowed a bunch of car keys in the excitement during a quarrel with her boy friend, Collins Turner, of 1398 West 30th st.

Sheriff and Supervisor Pledge to Do Bidding of Chamber of Commerce

A conspiracy to bar Negroes from Mohave County, Arizona, was hatched by the Mohave County Chamber of Commerce, Sheriff Frank Porter and other county officials at a recent meeting held in Kingman, Arizona. The meeting, specially called for the purpose, discussed the barring of Negroes as dispassionately as if Negroes were animals or pieces of furniture.

An attempt was made to steamroller through a motion bluntly stating the intention of prohibiting Negroes from entering the county. This was ruled out of order, however, by Howard Spencer, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Spencer suggested more subtle procedures.

"I do not believe there is any way in which Negroes can be stopped from using the highways passing through Kingman, but we are not forced to give them service."

A construction company that is building a dam near Bullhead on the Arizona side was censored for employing Negroes. Mrs. R. L. Pruitt, of Bullhead, who said she represented the Bullhead school board and a Bullhead civic group, said both groups were unanimous in their opposition to Negroes entering

State Senate Votes 15% Rent Boost

SACRAMENTO—The state senate yesterday overruled its governmental efficacy committee to pass, 120 to 17, a "stop-gap rent control" bill permitting California landlords to raise rents 15 percent above OPA ceilings.

The bill, as introduced, froze rents as of June 30, 1946. The committee defeated an attempt to permit the 15 percent boost. But on a floor vote, on a motion by Sen. Desmond of Sacramento, the 15 percent boost was amended into the bill.

Voting for it were six Democrats and 14 Republicans.

Ellabelle Davis Appears As 'Aida' in Mexico City Opera

MEXICO CITY—In one of the rare instances of musical history, a major opera company of the world presented an American Negro as its star when Mexico's famed Opera Nacional presented Verdi's "Aida" at the historic Bellas Artes in Mexico City Tuesday night with the Negro soprano Ellabelle Davis, a former seamstress from New Rochelle, New York, singing the title role. Miss Davis' co-star was Ramon Vinay, leading tenor of New York's own Metropolitan Opera, which has traditionally closed its doors to Negro singers, and the performance will be a highlight of a gala opera season for which Mexico City has called upon top-ranking stars from La Scala Milan, the Paris Opera, Covent Garden, the Metropolitan, and the other greatest centers of the lyric art throughout the world.

Tuesday's performance and its repetition on Saturday evening, July 27th, will mark the grand opera debut of Miss Davis, who has already established herself as an outstanding concert singer in the United States as well as in Latin America.

Second daughter of a small-town grocer, Miss Davis, entirely U. S.-trained, was hailed as "a new singing star of the first magnitude" when she made her New York concert debut at Town Hall a little over two years ago, and has since given numerous recitals in New York, Boston, Chi-

New Shopping Center in View For Watts Area

Establishment of a shopping center on the west side of Central ave. between 101st and 103rd sts. appeared today to be in prospect after the city council's planning committee had joined with the planning commission in recommending that the zoning of the area be changed from R-4 (multiple dwelling) to C-2 (commercial). The proposal next will go to the city council for final action.

Residents of the neighborhood are represented as supporting the change of zone on the grounds that there is a need for convenient neighborhood stores and shops. The shopping area also would serve a temporary housing center contemplated in the park area across the street.

If the zoning is changed, that would leave one block between Century blvd. and 101st st. separating the new commercial zone and another to the north. The planning commission has started a procedure for changing that block too, in order to link up the two commercial zones.

Negro Heads Civil Service Body In N. Y.

NEW YORK— (CNS) —For the first time in its history, the Municipal Civil Service Commission has a Negro president at its head. He is Ferdinand Q. Morton, who already has served the commission for 24 years.

Morton was elected at a special meeting held to determine the successor to Harry V. Marsh, whose term expired May 31. A Harvard man and a former assistant district attorney, Morton led the first all-Negro Democratic group—United Colored Democracy. He joined the American Labor Party in 1939.

Tenn. Klan Has Plan For Extermination of All Negroes and Jews

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — White vandals who roared lynch-bent through the Negro community in Columbia, Tenn., last February, leaving two dead and a huge KKK mark amid the wreckage, are today launched on a program of mass murder and extermination of Negroes and Jews, which, if carried out, would make Hitler's pogroms appear in comparison as minor skirmishes.

Some comfortable Americans may think this is a wild nightmare dreamed up by a writer of horror fiction. It is not. It is the publicly announced and published plan of the Ku Klux Klan of Tennessee.

Jesse B. Stoner, 22 year old Kleagle of the Tennessee Klan, broadcast the plan throughout the South on July 9. Hitler, he says, was too moderate. His men, he explains, plan to be "more modern about it."

The Tennessee Klan, Stoner announced, would use gas, electric chairs, hanging, shooting—"whatever way seems most appropriate."

Stoner's avowed program for his growing hooded order is elimination of all Semetic people except "Christian Jews" and extermination of Negroes.

He described one of the main planks of his platform as one "to make being a Jew punishable by death."

"We'll just take them out and kill them," Stoner is quoted as saying. "That may sound a little extreme but other countries have done it."

Negroes not exterminated by the hooded gangs, Stoner would resettle in Africa "where we can send them some Cadillacs and make them happy." He would take similar action against all persons he does not consider white.

Bares Campaign to Blanket Valley with Restrictive Covenants

A campaign to blanket the San Fernando valley with restrictive covenants was reported this week by the San Fernando Valley Council on Race Relations.

The council revealed that solicitors were visiting property owners with restrictive covenant petitions.

Acting to combat this racist campaign the council has held several anti-restrictive covenant meetings in the valley with representatives of labor unions, churches, schools and civic groups participating. More than 60 organizations have affiliated with the council. A legislative committee has been appointed to investigate cases of discrimination against minority group members.

An all-valley citizens meeting has been called for Saturday evening, July 27, to discuss plans to broaden the fight against the covenants.

HPA Meets Friday

The fight against inflation and for price control will be the main topic of discussion at the regular membership meeting of the Homeowners' Protective Association tomorrow night.

The meeting will be held in the editorial offices of The California EAGLE, 4071 South Central avenue.

practices of people as the manager of the Stadium Cafe.

One such letter follows:

An open letter to Jennie Wainsworth, Los Angeles, c/o Editor Charlotta A. Bass, California Eagle.

FOR one whose ancestors and family have fought and/or died in every war for independence and freedom in which our country has been engaged; to reply to your letter which seems hardly worthy of a reply, but which was published in the June 27 issue of the California EAGLE, can only be done with the attitude so nobly expressed by Volotaire who said, "I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

Approximately 1,000,000 colored men and women participated in various branches of the service in their country's last war; 701,678 in the army alone up to September 30, 1944, an estimated 200,000 of whom shall never return, and with more thousands confined in military hospitals; some of them for life, as a result of this great conflict.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." These people, who so courageously sacrificed life and limb, did so that even people like you, Bilbo and Perkins, in a country founded on democratic ideology and Christian principles, may openly express their distorted views. Thanks to the freedom of the press and the frank, fearless policy of progressive editors, your type of insidious propaganda gets into print.

YOUR missile further stated, "My final word of warning is that you respect the laws of your country." Do you? The highest court in this country is the United States Supreme Court, which has repeatedly (if not consistantly) upheld the 14th and 15th Amendments to our Constitution. May I recommend for your enlightenment on United States History; the book, "An American Dilemma" by Gunnar Myrdal, and that you read (and memorize) the preamble to our constitution.

If we, as a nation, have not yet achieved and fully realized the advantages of a wholesome democracy, we have certainly made gigantic strides toward the ultimate ideal upon which our constitution is based; in spite of such un-American organizations as the Ku Klux Klan and kindred sources of malicious lawlessness.

CONCERNING your paradoxical advice to editors to, "Write about obedience to the law—not contempt and disrespect" . . . your disrespectful letter places you in contempt of some of the most just laws and principles for which our country stands, and which enables every patriotic American to be proud to say, "I am an American!"

As a reader of numerous colored publications and newspapers, it has been gratifying to note their insistance upon obedience to law and order and their respect for the views of the general public, including their most severe critics.

In regard to your statements on religion and "right thinking Christians," is it not sacrelegious to misconstrue the teachings of the Bible and an Almighty God, and ignore the sacred precepts for which Jesus Christ died on the Cross? In the opening chapter of Genesis it is written that God created man in His own image, undoubtedly referring to spirit, soul and mind, but no place did He define the color of man whom He so created.

As for using violence to suppress and oppress the Negro or any other progressive minortiy, the ninth beatitude states, "Blessed are the peace makers: for they shall be called the children of God" . . . "For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace. . . ."

Blasts Employers Charge of 'Lazy Thousands;' Demands End to Job Discrimination

Its charge that "lazy thousands" were loafing on unemployment insurance blew up in the face of the California Manufacturers Assn. this week when it was pointed out that the "chisellers" were members of minority groups denied work by member firms of the CMA.

The CMA received a scathing rebuke from the Los Angeles Interracial committee, comprised of representatives of various organizations which lashed out at both the employers' group, for "disgraceful" discrimination against minorities, and at Raymond Krah, southland chief of the United States Employment Service, for "subservience and kowtowing to employers' prejudices."

Thousands now subsisting on unemployment compensation, the committee declared, include the "vast army of minorities, who are ready, able and willing to work if a reasonable job is offered."

"In all of the recent attacks on USES," the committee told Krah, "neither your office nor the California Manufacturers assn. mentioned this fact."

The committee further accused Krah of establishing an interim policy, pending an investigation from Washington demanded by the committee, which "formalizes" local USES practices under which "probably 95 percent of job oders are discriminatory."

The committee accused USES of "flagrant disregard of its obligation as a public and tax-supported agency" in "failing to give genuine service to the hundreds of thousands of Negroes, Mexicon, Jewish, Japanese and other minority workers in this area."

Signatories included representatives of the CIO, the NAACP, the American Jewish Congress, the Spanish Speaking Group of the American Veterans committee, the B'nai B'rith, Anti-Defamation League and the Los Angeles Urban League.

Half of U. S. Family Incomes Under $2000

WASHINGTON — With commodity prices soaring and landlords clamoring for rent increases, a government survey this week showed that almost half of America's families have incomes of less than $2000 a year, and two out of three take in less than $3000. The survey was conducted jointly by the Federal Reserve Board and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Minority Groups Expose Racist Line of N. Y. 'News' in Opposing Its Application for MF License

NEW YORK—The long smoldering resentment of many years duration of a large section of the population of New York City against the anti-Jewish and anti-Negro bias in the columns of the New York Daily News came to a dramatic head this week when the American Jewish Congress presented its case against The News at a hearing on the newspaper's application for an FM license.

Setting a new pattern in the fight against discrimination and bigotry in New York City, this was the first time that documentary and statistical evidence that The News helps to promote racial antagonisms was placed on the official records of a government body.

Startling and highly scientific statistics comparing the treatment of Jews and Negroes in the news columns of the Daily News to that in all New York City morning newspapers during two three-month periods, in 1945 and 1946, were submitted by Dr. Alexander H. Pekelis, chief consultant to the AJC, and Leila Sussman, New York sociologist.

The survey revealed that more than half of the space devoted by the Daily News to Jews and Negroes during this period was definitely unfavorable, while 93% of the space devoted to news about Jews and Negroes by the New York Times and Herald Tribune was favorable in character.

Taking the stories on Negroes alone the statistics are even more revealing of anti-minority bias on the part of The News. The survey revealed that more than three-quarters of the space devoted by the Daily News to Negroes during this period was unfavorable while 93% of the space devoted to news about Negroes by the Herald Tribune in the same period was favorable in character.

To show further The News' bias against Negroes, the AJC introduced a column by Jimmy Powers, sports writer defending the color line in baseball. Dan D. Dodson, executive director of the Mayor's Committee on Unity, testified that the Mayor's Committee on Baseball had issued a release denouncing the Powers column as stirring up racial strife and hindering interracial relations.

GI bill art students will enter their artistic creations in an exhibit to be held at the Los Angeles county museum, Exposition Park, from August 3 to September 9, a museum spokesman announced yesterday.

CRC Condemns Police Slaying Of Juvenile

A coroner's jury early this week found the deputy sheriff killing of a 13-year-old boy justifiable.

Eugene C. Montenegro Jr., 13, 1509 Elton st., was slain Saturday night when he allegedly fled from a ransacked home, ignored Dep. Sheriff H. H. Hodges' shouted command to halt.

Hodges excused his action in firing at the boy by claiming that Eugene had threatened him with a knife. The child was shot as he started to cross a vacant lot. He had no stolen property on his person.

The Civil Rights Congress yesterday condemned the killing as a "needless, criminal act of brutality."

"This horrible example of police brutality should arouse all the people of Los Angeles. The citizens of Los Angeles must see to it that the city council, the police department, and the mayor's office take prompt action to put a stop to these unconstitutional acts of violence.

"The increase in the incidents of 'shoot first, investigate later' type of police activity is something that concerns every citizen," the CRC added, drawing attention to the notorious Major Carter case in which an innocent man was shot by police before a single question had been asked.

Talmadge Made Deal With Klan, Columnist Says

ATLANTA, Ga. — Columnist Drew Pearson, speaking above a babble of mixed cheers and jeers, charged from the steps of the Georgia state capitol that Gov.-Nominate Eugene Talmadge had promised to place a Ku Klux Klan official in charge of the state bureau of investigation in exchange for Klan support in the recent Georgia primary.

Pearson further charged that Talmadge had promised a KKK grand cyclops that "all race problems will be left up to the klan."

The columnist was introduced by Gov. Ellis Arnall, Georgia's liberal chief executive, whose candidate for governor, James J. Carmichael, polled a popular vote majority in the primary but lost out to Talmadge under the state's unit system, under which the counties with the smallest population have two votes each, while those with the largest population, including Atlanta's Fulton county, have only six. For instance, three small counties, Echols, Lee and Quitman in south Georgia, with a registration of 1683, have a combined unit vote of six, as against an equal number for Fulton county, which has a registration of 120,000.

WASHINGTON—Dr. Francis J. Brown, national authority on veteran education, yesterday said some schools and employers are making a racket of the GI educational program in which $900,000,000 already has been spent.

Pope's Appeal For 'Hangman' Shocks Poles

The Vatican this week openly took sides with world reaction in an effort to block social reforms in France and to save the life of a convicted Nazi war criminal, charged with the murder of thousands of Poles.

In the first case, the Vatican intervehed in French domestic affairs to voice the Pope's opposition to French proposals to industrialize France's basic industries, curtail the exploitation of the French masses by private industry.

The Vatican's plea for the life of Arthur Gueiser, former German gauleiter of Poznan who earned the reputation of "hangman" during the Nazi occupation, was bluntly rejected by the Polish government, which proceeded to hang Greiser as scheduled.

The Vatican's appeal for Greiser shocked even predominantly Catholic Poland, where an estimated 6,000,000 persons were killed by the Germans. Typical of Polish press reaction was the following comment issued by the Polish Press Agency:

"No Pole will have compassion for the bloody hangman of the Polish nation. No Pole in his conscience will find the slightest shade of justification for a criminal who cold-bloodedly depressed and destroyed hundreds of thousands of human lives."

Wyatt Acts To Curb Bias in Homes Program

WASHINGTON — Establishment of a service to assist in housing minority groups was announced yesterday by Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt who also is administrator of the National Housing Agency. The new service operates under the direction of Frank S. Horne, as assistant to the administrator-expediter, and B. T. McGraw, as deputy assistant.

They will assist in the formulation and execution of the basic policies and operations of the National Housing Agency and its constituent units so as to assure equitable participation of minority groups in all programs of the agency, including the Veterans Emergency Housing Program.

The regional racial relations advisers of the Federal Public Housing Authority have been shifted to the staffs of the regional housing expediters to form the nucleus of the new field service.

Dr. Horne has been in the government service for the past decade; first, as assistant director of the division of Negro Affairs, National Youth Administration; and since 1938, with the U. S. Housing Authority and FPHA.

The unanimous election of Adjutant George Burleson of the Benjamin J. Bowie American Legion post to the office of first vice-commander of the twenty-third district, American Legion, set a precedent this week in that group's recognition of its Negro members.

Burleson was elected at a caucus Sunday afternoon in Patriotic Hall, Huntington Park, with over 30 posts giving their undivided approval of Burleson for the second highest office in the district. Jerome Hubert of the Bowie post previously had been elected as second vice-commander.

Mixed Burglar Gang Held in Hollyw'd Thefts

Four men, two of them white, were held to answer in municipal court this week on charges of burglarizing the homes of a trio of prominent Hollywood citizens, including Universal actor Philip Reed.

John C. McClelland, 23, (white) of 919 South Grand ave., was named as ringleader of the gang. He was involved in the looting of three homes. Victims were Reed, who lives at 1568 Sunset Plaza drive; opera singer Mario Charles, of 8118 Hollywood blvd., and F. Louis Friedman, 6681 Sunset blvd., publicity man.

The two Negroes held were L. C. Blunt, 25, and Nelson Trigg, 21. Both stated only that they lived in downtown hotels.

Mother Who Killed Kids To Oust 'Evil Spirit' Held on Murder Charge

Recommendation that Mrs. Easter L. Digas, 28, of 1761 East 119th street, be held to answer for murdering her two children last July 13, was made Monday by a coroner's jury after in inquest into the children's death.

Sheriff's Detective Sgt. Howard Achenbach testified Mrs. Diggs said she was very religious and attended church with her children, Wesley, Jr., 3, and Audrey, 2, once or twice a day, but the babies "wiggled" in their seats and she thought the "devil was trying to get out."

Mrs. Diggs told officers that on Saturday, July 13, she put a drop of "Holy Oil" on the tongues of herself and the children and, when they were unable to repeat passages from the Bible, she thought the "devil was holding their tongue."

She placed her hands over the children's noses and mouth, she assertedly told Achenbach, and, after about five minutes they both lost consciousness.

Walter Diggs, Sr., her estranged husband testified Mrs. Diggs had spent six months in an asylum in Jackson, Louisana, several years ago.

Mrs. Diggs stood on her constitutional rights and refused to testify. However, throughout the inquest her mood varied.

The jury called the deaths homicides and made their recommendation to hold Mrs. Diggs to answer.

Ticket sales mounted this week for a forum on "American Fascism" to be addressed by Carey McWilliams, author of the new book, Southern California Country, this Sunday at 8 p. m. at the Beverly Fairfax Jewish Community Center, at 8008 Beverly blvd.

Union Slaps Anti-Bias Suit On Atlantic City Restaurant

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—The United Public Workers of America, CIO, has filed suits against Hackney's Seafood restaurant of Atlantic City, N. J., for discrimination against two Negro delegates to the union's convention last April 26. The suits have been filed under the state civil rights law of New Jersey in the names of Miss Eleanor Goding, president of the union's board of public welfare, and Edward Quinier of New York City, recently returned from service in the Pacific and a member of the union's international executive board.

Announcement of the suits was made by Thomas Richard, international vice president of the union, in a speech before the convention of the New Jersey State Association of Colored Women at Atlantic City. Richardson also said the union had filed charges of false arrest against the Atlantic City police department, claiming that several members of the union had been illegally confined as a result of having set up a picket line to protest the restaurant's act of discrimination.

The union is also pressing for a jury trial for two of its regional directors of the union members, James V. King, in New York, and Mrs. Marion Baker of Flint, Mich., who were arrested during the picketing and charged with "disorderly conduct."

Richardson revealed that his organization had secured the support of the national CIO, the American Jewish Congress, the NAACP, the Civil Rights Congress, Paul Robeson, and other prominent organizations and persons interested in abolishing racial discrimination. Protests against the discriminatory policy of Hackney's restaurant have been directed to the governor of New Jersey, the mayor of Atlantic City, the Atlantic City Chamber of Commerce, and Hackney's.

Human Welfare Body Backs Drive Of CIO, AFL to Organize South

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—"An organized South is a prosperous South," declares the Southern Patriot, monthly publication of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, in a special issue discussing the South's stake in the current organizing drives of the CIO and AFL.

Strong union organization in the South will mean a better day for all the people of the South, says the Patroit. It will:

- Raise living, health and education standards more nearly in line with the nation;
- Keep money in the South, which is now drained off in profits to absentee owners;
- Make better and more active citizens and voters of millions, ending the careers of many Southern misrepresentatives who are holding back the nation's progress;
- Help to realize real democracy for our Negro citizens, helping to remove the barriers that keep the races in the South from working together for their common good.

These predictions are backed up with facts on the achievements of the now relatively weak union movement in the South. The Patroit points out, for example, that over the past five years, Southern textile wages in organized plants have risen from $13 a week to $26 a week. The recent wage increase won by the Textile Workers union will put more than five million dollars a year into the hands of the textile workers, which will go at once into the pockets of local farmers and merchants.

In one section, "What Every Southerner Should Know About Unions," the Patroit answers "No" in detail to some of the questions often asked about labor, such as:

- Will the organizing drives mean strikes all over the South? Aren't union officials racketeers? Don't union officials dictate to their members? Don't unions charge xecessive dues?

The Patroit quotes authorities such as the United States supreme court, which has said: "Long ago we stated the reason for labor organziations. We said that union was essential to give laborers opportunity to deal on equality with their employer."

From Franklin D. Roosevelt: "Trade unionism has helped to give to everyone who toils the position of dignity which is his due."

From the Methodist Church: "We stand for the right of employes and employers alike to organize for collective bargaining and social action."

Gene Henderson Of Theatrical Renown Passes

Funeral services for Eugene L. Henderson, 300-lb. entertainer, were held from Fisher & Son Mortuary on July 10. Gene, who was from a prominent Brooklyn, N. Y., family, created a sensation in 1938-39 when he sang the theme song for the local production of "Run, Little Chillun!" His first appearance in Los Angeles was in 1932 as soloist with the touring Hall Johnson choir. His singing for concert and recordings of the Hall Johnson arrangement of "St. James Infirmary Blues," with the Chopin Funeral March treatment, was considered a national classic.

In 1935 Richard Huey, currently appearing here in "Bloomer Girl," was in the Broadway production of "Three-Men-on-a-Horse." He suggested Gene Henderson for the road company. At the end of the tour Hall Johnson sent for Henderson to join the famed choir for picture assignments in Hollywood. Gene had made his home in California since.

A few years ago he married Clara Lewis, swing pianist, who has been touring Europe with Noble Sissle and the "Shuffle Along" company. Mr. Henderson's mother was with him during his final illness. He is also survived by a sister, prominent in the school system of Brooklyn. Former associates in the Hall Johnson choir participated in the funeral services. Rev. H. Mansfield Collins of the Neighborhood Church officiated.

W. Va. Educator Dies; Mourned By Many Here

The death of Frederick Randolph Ramer, principal of Sumner high school, Martinsburg, West Virginia, has saddened the hearts of his many friends here on the West Coast.

Dr. Ramer, a son of West Virginia, was born in Martinsburg, January 1, 1870. His entire life has been characterized by significant achievements in his field of labor as an educator. He has taught for 49 years, including 37 years as principal of Sumner high school, of which he was the founder. A graduate of Storer college, class of 1885, he later received the degree of bachelor of laws from Howard university, bachelor of arts in education from West Virginia state college and master of arts from Columbia university.

In his early career he served variously as an employe of the United States senate, clerk in the steam engineering department of the navy yard, and on the staff of the U. S. Fish Commission.

In 1938 he was voted the outstanding alumnus of Storer college and received the Alumni Medal. On June 3, 1946, a few days prior to his death, Storer proudly presented him the honorary degree of doctor of laws. In addition to his many activities he has served as grand master of West Virginia Odd Fellows, president of West Virginia Teachers Association, was a 32nd degree Mason, exalted ruler of West Virginia Elks and president of Martinsburg chapter NAACP.

He leaves to mourn their loss his widow, Mrs. Juanita Arter Ramer, and daughter Rosabel, of Martinsburg; a son, Fred H. Ramer, successful local business man, and daughter, Mrs. Ann R. Berry, proprietress of Los Angeles South Park hotel.

Phone Co. Pushing Work On New Unit

Installation work on a $260,000 unit of central office switching equipment in the Lafayette telephone building at 6822 Santa Fe avenue is moving along at a rapid pace, it was announced yesterday by C. D. Hutton, district manager of the Southern California Telephone Company.

Hutton pointed out that when the additional switching equipment, and attendant placing of cable, is completed the company will contact applicants to be served.

Despite a gain of 170,000 telephones during the war, and 124,000 since, there are still 114,000 held orders for telephones in the company's area, Hutton said, and 7000 in the Lafayette office.

Los Angeles is now served by 637,000 telephones, which is 149,000 more than in 1941.

City Rejects Carter's Suit; Police Threaten Reprisal if Contractor Brings New Action

The city's finance committee followed the advice of the city attorney and turned thumbs down on wealthy contractor Major Carter's $102,400 suit against the city.

Carter charged that he was shot by two metropolitan police oficers two months ago near his home, at 3705 Avalon blvd., as he attempted to get into his own car. He said the police, evidently because of his color, mistook him for the thief and shot him, wounding him seriously.

Police claim that Carter pulled a gun after they identified themselves, and when he refused to put it away, they shot him.

A peculiar angle was injected in the case by Newton St. officers who stated that if Carter persists in his efforts to collect damages from the city and attempts to bring a a superior court civil case against the city and the officers, they will prefer charges against him for carrying the gun without a permit.

The inference is that if Carter "behaves," the police will overlook the alleged offense of Carter's assertedly carrying a gun without a permit.

ESKIMO MOE

IS A HAPPY JOE!
SINCE HE FOUND OUT ABOUT THE GALLO WINE GLACIER

"Come be our star," said the talent scout to Eskimo Moe. So, Moe came out of the frozen North and joined the circus.

Then, sizzling heat waves hit Moe like a kick on the shins. "I quit," he said, dreaming of his pet iceberg. "You can't quit," said the manager. "Icebergs," said Moe and started to pack his parkas.

Then the manager mixed that new icy cold drink — the Gallo Wine "Glacier." "I stay," said Moe as he took a sip of its frosty goodness.

Now when it's hot, Moe just sips a Gallo Wine "Glacier" and forgets the heat. If you don't think it's the finest summer drink, just eskimo.

police attitude needed overhauling and correcting, that biased patterns in the city government itself, tolerance of Klan terrorism, together with restrictive covenants and job discrimination, all helped to developed race superiority ideas in white youth, resentment among minority youth.

Early in the meeting it became clear that the mayor, aided by some members of the defunct Mayor's Committee for Civic Unity, was seeking a blanket endorsement of police policies in dealing with the situation around Manual Arts high nchool.

Dr. Fifield Unmasked

Initial move for such an endorsement was made by Dr. J. W. Fifield who, however, retired in confusion and left to others the task of carrying the ball for the mayor after being unmasked as a race-baiter by William Cummings, publisher.

Cummings charged that Fifield has been conducting a race-baiting campaign in the community, helping to create just such incidents as the one under consideration, expressed sharp resentment at Fifield's participation in a meeting called to consider the problem of easing group tensions in the community. Fifield did not deny Cumming's charges.

George A. Beavers, Jr., William Bidner and other speakern cited incidents of police partiality, advised firm and impartial treatment of juvenile outbreaks urged as preventive measures teaching of mutual respect by the schools, improvement of its training methods by the police department to insure fair treatment of minority groups.

The meeting finally gave a conditional vote of confidence in the police department after Mayor Bowron and Acting Chief of Police Reid gave assurances that "there will be prompt and impartial enforcement of the law so that the civil liberties of every citizen will be fully protected."

Rep. Powell's Wife Gives Birth to Son

Born at 10 a.m., Tuesday, July 16, young Adam Powell wafted his way lustily into the world on a perfect summer's day, while his father, Congressman Adam Clayton Powell II, paced the halls in a typical father's reaction.

The baby's mother, Hazel Scott Powell, is the former Cafe Society pianist and MGM screen star who wedded the brilliant Negro statesman in June, 1945.

Two of the city's leading surgeons in the persons of Dr. Peter Murray and Dr. J. Jarchoe, attended Mrs. Powell, as she underwent a Caesarian delivery.

Scores of congratulatory messages, phone calls and gifts are showering the Scott-Powell household and both parents express deep pride and happiness over the birth of their son. At this writing Mrs. Powell was not receiving outside visitors.

Following her operatic appearances in Mexico City, Miss Davis will embark on an extensive concert tour of Central and South America, to include more than twenty recitals and appearances as symphony orchestra soloist in all of the principal Latin-American cities during August and September. A climax of this tour will be a series of recitals at the famed Teatro Colon in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

the county and to their hiring by employers.

"Let them take their Negroes," said Mrs. Bruitt, "and put them on the Nevada side."

Sheriff Porter put himself forward as the Man Friday of the Chamber of Commerce and other reactionary groups, assured them of his readiness to do their bidding.

"I have been employed on and have bossed labor gangs," he told the meeting, "and I tell you you just can't work niggers with whites. It won't work at all. Niggers are all right when they are working, but when they play, they play hard. For every nigger you have working on the dam, you will have several women in camp, and you will have a tough crowd. You will have painted ladies coming in here.

In fact I have already been informed by the Los Angeles FBI office that they are on their way here now."

The sheriff assured those present that they really did not need to talk or even to think; that he would do both for them.

"I know you don't want these people here, and I don't want them," he said. "I know exactly what you are thinking, and I know that even those who have not spoken at this meeting are glad to have me say we do not want any Negroes in Mohave county."

E. S. Stone, a member of the board of supervisors, assured the meeting that the board was ready to do everything possible "to see that Negroes are kept out of the county."

A sour note was sounded in the meeting by E. T. O'Toole, an AFL organizer, who said that white workers refused to take common labor jobs, that these jobs must be done, and that Negroes would be employed to do them no matter what action the Mohave county Chamber of Commerce might take.

"If Negro employment is made impossible," he said, "work on the job will be stopped."

The racists stood by their exclusion policy, however.

Clarence Hargrave's Father Dies in Philly

PHILADELPHIA—James Hargrave, Sr., died here this week at the age of 96. He is survived by a widow, 86, and six children, including Clarence Hargrave of Los Angeles, and 30-odd grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

As a young boy, he was a jockey and went with race horses from New York to North Carolina more than 70 years ago, where he met and married Matilda Austin-Turner. He was an early settler in the village of Halifax, N. C., original state capital and where much early history of the section was made.

He served the early community in several capacities, including official town disciplinarian and deputy sheriff. Although most of his family were reared and educated in northern cities, the elder Hargrave maintained a homestead at Halifax and his body has been taken there for burial.

The Hyacinths

Mrs. Emma Thierry was hostess to the Hyacinths at their last regular meeting, and the topic under discussion was the Cocktail Dance, soon to be given.

A tentative date was selected, with the hope of securing an outdoor spot for the affair. The Hyacinths number was swelled by one, with the addition of Mrs. Lillian Davenport, whom the Club feels will make a very charming member.

Mrs. Thierry brought the day's activities to a successful conclusion with the serving of delicious refreshments.

The next meeting will be held Sunday, August 4, at the home of Mrs. Alberta Thierry, 1279 E. 41st St.

Brother And Sister Clubs Meet Jointly

The July meeting of the Popular Matrons was held at the home of Mrs. Kitty Coleman.

Plans for the second annual barn dance, scheduled to be given next month, were discussed.

The Popular Matrons joined their brother club, the Boulevaidiers, last Wednesday night in a roundtable discussion, in which several ideas were presented for the bettering of the two clubs socially and financially.

In the social hour following the meeting, cocktails and a delicious repast were served by the host.

The PM's next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Thelma Floyd.

Dr. Ruth Benedict, Noted Scientist, To Speak on AKA Boule Panel

Bergeman, well-known in Southern California educational circles.

The meeting will be sponsored by the sorority's Non-Partisan Council on Public Affairs and will be presided over by Seror Norma Boyd, of Washington, D. C., founder and present head of the unit.

The council, founded in 1938, has developed into one of the country's most influential political advisory groups. It maintains an office staff in the nation's capital and employs a full time worker whose duty it is to help protect minorities' legislative rights through congressional lobbying efforts.

Jeanetta Welch was the first lobbyist employed by the council, followed by the dynamic Thomasina Johnson, who recently resigned the post in order to take a position in the minorities placement division of the Department of Labor.

The council has made great contributions during its comparatively brief existence. Members are on the advisory committee to the American delegate on the Inter-American Commission of Women; are members of the Women's Pan-American Liaison Committee which entertains all the outstanding women visitors from South America; carried the fight for the inclusion of Negro Waves on a non-discriminatory basis during World War II; fought for a nation-wide showing of "The Negro Soldier" film; and is in the forefront of the perpetual campaign for a national FEPC.

In this generation what every woman knows is the value of a smart, well-groomed appearance. The modern woman is demanding, she wants her clothes to fit well, she loves fine fabrics but she is resourceful and practical. The limitations of her budget are a challenge. Therefore, it is very important that every woman should know how she can best make her budget fit her household needs and include her personal needs.

AN IMPRESSIVE RECORD

★ Although tuberculosis is one of the oldest known diseases, its cause was first conclusively proved when Robert Koch isolated the tubercle bacillus a little over fifty years ago. The success resulting from vigorous public health measures, particularly in the last quarter century, is impressive. At the beginning of the century, tuberculosis led the list of diseases as the most frequent cause of death. Today it has dropped to seventh place. There is no reason why it should not drop completely from the list of important causes of death.

This splendid record has resulted from the combined efforts of many agencies. An enlightened public opinion with respect to the value of the physician's services has contributed immeasurably. Have that long-delayed physical examination today. We are prescription specialists.

A Chinese Lady Speaks

Madame Sun Yat-sen, widow of the founder of the Chinese republic, has stated emphatically that reactionaries in China and in the United States were actively working to promote a war between Russia and in the United States and were using China's internal affairs to help agitate for war.

The California EAGLE, together with other progressive and liberal newspapers, pointed out several months ago that if American and British troops were withdrawn from China, and from other foreign nations, and if the people in those countries were allowed full freedom to establish their own government, the unsettled situation could be cleared up within a few weeks.

Why have these forces been kept in China, against the wishes of the Chinese people?

Madame Sun states very definitely, "China is threatened by a civil war into which reactionaries hope to draw America —thus involving the whole world. The purpose of such a war would be to crush Communism."

Communism, in the dictionaries of reactionaries, means any attempt to alleviate the sufferings of mankind. It means any action on the part of our government of the people to grant to those people security, jobs for all regardless of race or color or creed, a decent wage, a home wherever a man may wish to build one for his family—all the things that human beings crave as their rights. They wish to destroy the efforts of our government and of all governments in the world to promote security and good will, that they themselves may rule as dictators and use the common people as serfs and slaves. As the great lords of the castles of the Middle Ages did.

In China, especially, those referred to as Communists are not necessarily members of the Communist Party. They are working people—farmers, peasants. And it is in attacking these farmer-troops that the United States is aiding!

Mme. Sun, one of the famous Soong sisters, attacked her brother-in-law, Chiang Kai-shek, as the leader of the reactionaries in China. She said the presence of American troops was not aiding the cause of peace.

"There would be no spreading of war in China," she said, "if the United States made it clear that munitions and supplies will not be sent to either army. Military assistance should be offered only to a government which will belong to the Chinese people."

"The American people who are allies and long friends of the Chinese people must be told clearly of this road to disaster," she continued. "They must be told that American reactionaries are teaming up with Chinese reactionaries, each encouraging the other. They must be warned that loans should be given only to a reorganized and truly representative government. I appeal to China's American friends to stop all military supplies, providing assistance only to a government which will belong to the Chinese people. I appeal to the major parties and all other parties to form a coalition government at once."

Madame Sun Yat-sen has said nothing for two years. She has kept silent. And watched. But when she did speak, her words were like apples of gold in pitchers of silver. Would that the governments of China and of America heeded her words!

Mayor Bowron, Act Now!

Mayor Bowron has professed a strong desire to lessen racial tensions and to find ways and means to prevent any further disgraceful outbreaks among school children as occurred recently at the Manual Arts High School, when Negro youths were pitted against whites in a free-for-all.

Well, Mayor Bowron should know that juvenile gangs do not operate in a vacuum. The youngsters take their cues from their parents at home and from adults they see all around them. The city's failure to do anything about the activities of the Ku Klux Klan, the fact that the courts have upheld restrictive covenants, have their reflection in the attitudes of juveniles.

If Mayor Bowron really wants to maintain community unity and ease group tensions, he need not hunt very far to find ways and means to do so. One of the most effective ways would be to appoint a Negro to the police commission and thus give notice that it is the city's intention to see that the law is enforced impartially. The commission is at present practically non-existent, and is awaiting the Mayor's appointments to reorganize. A Negro and a Mexican on the commission are needed badly.

In the second place, more Negroes should be appointed to the police force. There are a few, of course, but not enough according to the percentage of Negro population in Los Angeles.

Then white policemen should have the principles of democracy ground into them. They must be taught in no uncertain terms that "all men are created equal," and that there dare not be any partiality shown in the administration of justice.

No policeman believing even half-heartedly in the principles of liberty and justice for all could have shot little thirteen-year-old Eugene Montenegro in the back as he was running away. That act of cowardice is a disgrace to any city.

Appoint a Negro to the police commission, Mayor Bowron. In other ways show to the citizens of Los Angeles that what you say are not mere idle words, and watch how racial tensions lessen and finally vanish as the morning mist.

Run the Snakes Out Of U. S. A.

They ran the snakes out of Ireland. What's wrong with running them out of the U. S. A.?

A few months ago Gerald L. K. Smith crawled into California and belched his slimy religiously-flavored anti-Negro, anti-Jewish, anti-Catholic stuff all over the State, and paved the way for a Ku Klux Klan uprising, of such a nature as to attract the attention of the nation.

Smith's invasion of the Golden State was an invitation for others of his kind and thinking. This day in the year of our Lord, 1946, we pick up the papers and see sprawled across the front pages—pooh, pooh—it is nauseating—the name of Gene Talmadge, he who stole his way into the governorship of Georgia.

Put on the spot about the Ku Klux Klan, Talmadge says he has an open mind. He doesn't know whether he approves or disapproves.

From all appearances and speech this Governor Talmadge has few equals, white or Negroes, in illiteracy in the state of Georgia.

Puffing on his cigar, at a recent press interview, and gesticulating with his free hand, in referring to the recent primary, Talmadge said. "Eliminatin' the nigger votes, I received a majority over all the other candidates."

Talmadge's position on the Negro vote, which differs considerably from that of the United States Constitution, is that "I don't think that the Negroes are educated enough or their civilization old enough for them to assume the responsibility of government."

Pridefully he explained that "None of 'em voted for me, except maybe by mistake."

However, he did say that "the smartest Negro in the South voted for me." That was Dr. J. W. Halley, one-time director of the Albany Negro college, who had advised Georgia's colored people not to vote because they were being used as "tools of the Communists and Henry Wallace."

If there is any such Negro left we can only say that we, the other 12,999,999, hope that soon we shall be privileged to say peace to this Dr. Halley's ashes.

A Threat to Our Freedom

The Kingman Times, published in Kingman, Arizona, in its July 16 issue exposed what was planned as a hush-hush meeting.

The Times said the meeting called by Sheriff Frank Porter, a Justice of the Peace, and sponsored by the Mohave County Chamber of Commerce, was Ku Klux Klan inspired, and its chief aim was to keep Negroes out of Mohave County.

It seems that Sheriff Porter had heard that the A. F. of L. was bringing in Negro labor to work on the dam that is being constructed near Bullhead, Arizona. The meeting was called to light a match to the already smouldering anti-racial attitude in the community.

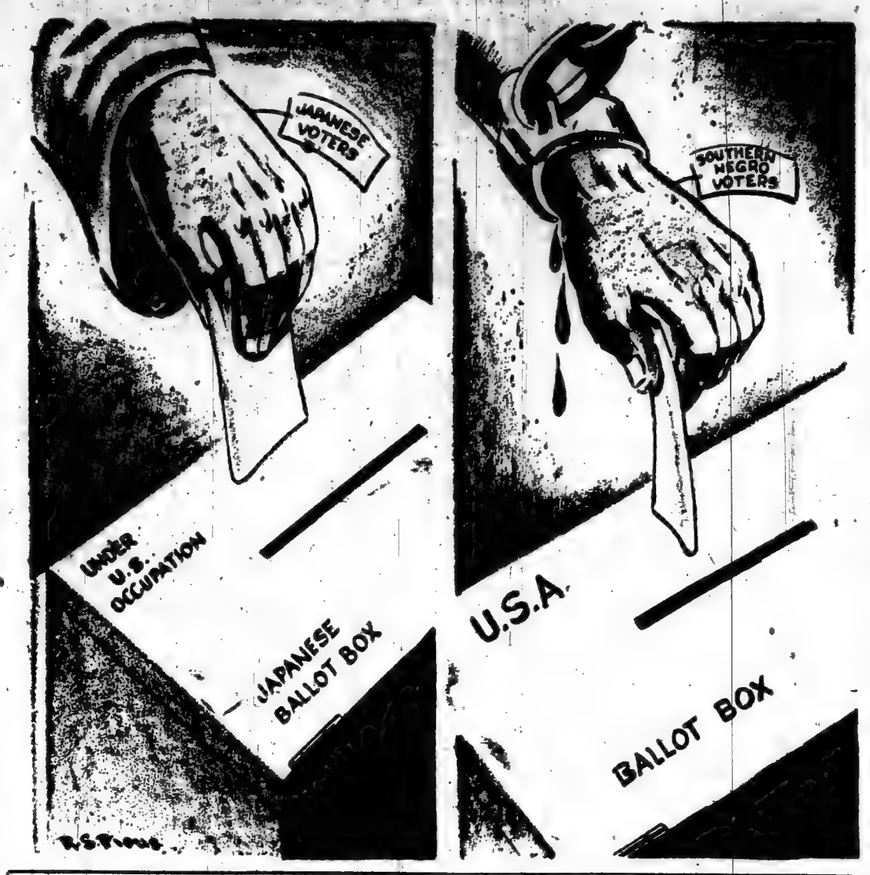
Sheriff Porter and his fellow Klansmen were sure of one thing. That was that they did not want their county invaded by Negroes. And this despite the fact that already Negroes are land owners in Mohave County, and have contributed to a $34,576 budget given Porter to carry on the business of the county for 1946.

As a relief in such cases The California EAGLE advises the Negro people to become strongly fortified in labor unions.

This Sheriff Porter in Arizona, our next-door neighbor, is of the same stripe as Bilbo, Rankin, and Talmadge. They are a disgrace to a civilized nation. In their benighted ignorance they feed their hungry souls on hate.

To allow this sort of feeling to spread across our nation, from Georgia to California, is a serious threat to our democracy. It threatens you and your home, me and mine. But most of all it threatens world unity and peace.

Democracy vs. Democracy!



From an Indian's Standpoint

THE NEW WORLD OF ISLAM

At the beginning of the 20th century European civilization ruled the world. The entire planet was practically controlled by the nations of Europe, and the continents of Asia and Africa, though boasting more ancient antiquity, endowed with greater resources of wealth and power, richer in all the natural resources which confer immense benefits in the race for life, were dominated by the youngest of the world's continents.

The affairs of the world were regulated and settled by the leading statesmen of Europe in conformity with the desires, inclinations, and interests of various European nations. The people of the world beyond Christendom were looked upon as mere beasts of burden placed upon this earth to toil and moil for the comfort, prosperity, and glory of the nations of Europe. The non-white races were declared by the Christian Pope to be beyond the pale of Christianity and civilization; and, therefore it was morally obligatory on the leaders of the Christian Church and European potentates to plunder pagan territories and civilizations without any pangs of humanitarian conscience, and to bring them into the folds of Christian dogma and theology.

The people who suffered most from Christian wrath and fanaticism were the Arabian and African Moslems, who had invaded outlying portions of Europe in the ninth and tenth centuries. They had settled in Spain in large numbers after the Saracens had overrun the Roman empire, bringing to Spain all the benefits and blessings of science and industry. But they were driven out with fire and sword by the energetic and heroic action of Isabella, the greatest female figure in European history.

The expulsion of the Moriscos, as the Moors were derisively called, led to the destruction of Moslem power and influence at the hands of Europe. In less than two centuries the Moslems were reduced to subjection, and their countries and homelands were brought under European control.

Today, part of the Moslem world, the Arab peoples, after a long period of eclipse and decline, are witnessing a phenomenal revival. The two world wars have awakened them to nationalistic fervor and patriotic frenzy, and there is every reason to believe that Moslem culture, which embraces vast sections of Africa and Asia, will again become a potent factor in the advancing tide of human civilization and progress.

• THINGS I SEE •

By Marian Inglewood

"Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned", is a truth being exemplified today in the aroused anger of the women of America at the booming prices for all household necessities. Especially food.

The price of food touches not only the pocket-books of the women of the nation. It touches the welfare and the very lives of their loved ones. No mother is going to sit idly by and watch her family go hungry, knowing full well that the pennies extorted from her are going to swell the coffers of the profiteers who make their money out of the necessities of human beings.

No, sir-ee. Not if she can help it.

And so the women—and the men who earn the money to buy the food at whatever price—and the children — and even the babies trundled along by their mothers in their baby-carriages and go-carts — staged demonstrations last Thursday, marched in price-protesting picket lines, and pledged themselves not to buy anything that wasn't absolutely necessary until the sky-rocketing prices came to earth once more.

Many merchants joined wholeheartedly in the protest. Some of them closed their shops last Thursday. The clerks, of course, as a unit, oppose the ridiculously profiteering prices.

"People aren't standing in line for butter any more, are they?" I inquired impishly at one grocery store, pointing to the pounds of butter in the refrigerator show case, begging for some one to buy them.

"No, and they shouldn't," answered the clerk emphatically. "No one ought to buy even a quarter pound until prices come down."

The price tag had already come down a peg or two. It was marked 78c, as compared with 88c, the starting point.

Then Thursday evening the demonstrations culminated in an enthusiastic mass meeting in the auditorium of the Friday Morning Club, 940 South Figueroa Street. Almost 200 different organizations were represented — 195 to be exact.

"This is one of the most heartening meetings I have ever attended," remarked Robert W. Kenny, chairman of the meeting. The man who should have been nominated for governor of California on both the Democratic and Republican tickets, instead of do-nothing Earl Warren.

"It marks the awakening of the consumer to his interests," said Attorney-General Kenny.

It really does take something like an earthquake to awaken the average American to what should interest him, if that interest is even remotely connected with his government. We had been warned hundreds of times, thousands of times, of inflation, of what would happen if price control were removed.

Yet at the primary elections, all over the country, we not only nominated, but in some cases even elected the candidates endorsed by the National Association of Manufacturers, the organization that has been consistently fighting price control and everything else that might benefit the common man.

Bilbo and Rankin in Mississippi, Gene Talmadge in Georgia, Earl Warren in California. We are not responsible for what the people in Mississippi and Georgia did, but we certainly are for Earl Warren. And this great non-partisan, after giving the landlords ample assurance that nothing would be done about rents for thirty days, during which time they could raise rents to any price they chose and, evict tenants they did not like, has at long last decided to call a meeting of the Legislature to consider what, if anything, should be done.

The notices for eviction and the raising of rents have already gone out. The thirty days' grace before action can be taken are almost gone. Then when those evictions and sky-high rents are being enforced, listen to the weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth.

But it's exactly what you asked for, chlidren!

Attorney General Kenny told of a friend of his who had spent several days at a noted summer resort. This friend said that about all anyone talked about there was to boast of the huge profits he had made during the war.

"And now," they all agreed," since OPA is dead we can go right ahead and make us a little more money."

Making money out of the lives of human beings! What a wonderful system of "free enterprise" is ours!

W. J. Wheaton Says

We have looked in vain for some favorable comment on the results of the election in Mississippi that foisted six more years of Bilboism on the forbearance of the decent citizens of this nation. Most of the commentators have condemned, with bitterness, the existence of such a state of affairs in one of his states of a nation which poses as a sponsor for world democracy, and espouses rights of peoples in Europe for self government.

According to the interpretation of Bilbo and his regime the State of Mississippi is not an integral part of the nation. He intends to have the legislative body of the state enact laws designed to circumvent the federal constitution and the decisions of the U. S. high court grauanteeing the right of franchise to all citizens irrespective of race or color. He would disfranchise by state law the vote which is now void through fear of the bullet; mob violence, and the rope and fagot.

A government that preaches democracy as the standard of world government, and practices, or allows to be practiced here at home, the theories of Nazism and fascism, cannot escape the label of hypocrite.

We believe that the Mississippi affair has aroused the national conscience as never before. It is being placed before the world as a glaring example of American duplicity. Bilbo's open call for violence, his defiance of the laws of the nation is being used to discredit of this nation's government.

Ilya Ehrenburg, Russian journalist, who recently toured the nation, when asked to write his impressions of the trip, among other things said, "American newspapers were roused to indignation at the fact that in Yugoslavia, people who had compromised themselves by collaboration were deprived of their right to vote. I have been in Mississippi where half of the population were deprived of that right to vote. What is better to deprive of the right to vote, a man who has a black conscience or one who has a black complexion?"

Ehrenburg is one of the greater journalists of the day, and his opinion has great weight. His observations and his comments on them, will have a great effect on what influence the government of the United States will have in formulating the peace of the world. Every adverse ruling of democracy will lessen the moral power of this nation to impress other peoples with the ideals of American democracy. So it is up the proponents of democratic ideals to work for and see that the objects of such adverse criticism, as promoted by the haters of true democracy and exemplified in the persons of such national representatives as Bilbo, are negated and their activities branded with the iron of national treason.

In a recent address Attorney General Tom Clark made some derogatory remarks concerning some of the disciples of Blackstone who advocate the right of minority groups. They were said to represent ideas other than those of a democratic government. In fact, liberal ideas were said to be communistic and subversive of good government. At the recent meeting of the Lawyers Guild, the Clark's statement was sharply criticized, and foremost among its critics was the attorney general of California; Robert W. Kenny. We are not surprised at that for, as we know, our Robert can ever be found in the forefront of the battle when ever the issue is, HUMAN RIGHTS. It is men like Kenny who will save the face of this nation from the disgrace of prejudiced perversion. Robert Kenny has become a figure in national, as well as international affairs. He never fails to pick up the bludgeon and wield it effectively, whenever and wherever the true meaning of democracy is questioned.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By Martinez Hewlett

This column, like many others, mourns the loss of Sidney Hillman.

It has been said by many that Sidney Hillman was a global citizen. But to us, he is more. He is our conscience.

His death wasn't just the passing of a great leader; it was a challenge, flung into the hearts of all workers.

For one man to have done so much in so short a time with so little help makes us all the more cognizant of what we can do if we apply our numbers effectively in the organizations which he worked so hard to perfect.

Sidney Hillman may have been a man inspired to do great things, destined to leave his mark on the timeless history of the world; but I prefer to think of him as just a fellow worker who tried to make a better world for those who worked as he did.

President Murray, in commenting on the loss of a close personal friend and colleague, remarked that "Sidney Hillman has provided us with a great reservoir of inspiration and courage, a holy and noble legacy of his estimable work."

And what was this work? In every facet of activity where a contribution could be made to better the lot of the great masses of working people, Sidney Hillman dedicated himself with the zeal and energy of an artist painting a great masterpiece.

We can justly say, however, that Sidney Hillman's work was a masterpiece. When a man, through his work, helps to contribute to the economic improvement of the great mass of people, to the advancement of their liberty and the strengthening of their security in a troubled world, he has truly left behind a masterpiece to be admired and revered by all who believe as he did.

As an example of the effectiveness with which he waged labor's struggle for the better things of life, the growth of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union can be cited. Formed after long, desperate strikes to rid the clothing industry of the sweatshop, Hillman led the Amalgamated to a place of power and dignity. It is now one of the world's great labor unions.

But as his own union grew, Hillman expanded his activities to help workers in other industries. The CIO owes much of its greatness to the unselfish genius of Sidney Hillman.

Shortly before the war, the late Franklin Roosevelt, long-time friend of Sidney Hillman, chose him to serve on the National Defense Advisory Council. And during the war, Hillman acted as co-chairman of the Office of Production Management. His mobilization of labor for total war was as magnificent an effort as his peace-time achievements.

Hillman was quick to see the necessity for labor to organize at the polls as it had organized at the shops and factories. When the Political Action Committee was started in 1943, Hillman was elected chairman.

Since that time, PAC has proven itself to be unusually effective. This effectiveness can be accurately gauged by the volume of reaction loosed upon it and upon Sidney Hillman, by fascist-minded writers and by rabid and reactionary congressmen.

But Sidney Hillman carried on undaunted until his untimely passing. I know that Sidney Hillman will never die. But in the months to come we will be called upon to pay tribute to him in another way.

He worked hard for a noble cause. We can pay tribute to his memory best by doing the things which he wanted done.

Rural Health Service Lags

"Competent authorities agree," Dr. Frederick D. Mott told the first annual meeting of the National Conference on Rural Health, "that $2 per capita is required to provide satisfactory public health services. Yet in rural counties the per capita expenditure for public health work is hardly 50 cents annually." Dr. Mott was a senior surgeon in the U. S. Public Health Service and formerly the chief medical officer of the Farm Security Administration.

"Total expenditures by local health agencies in our most rural states in 1942 were at only about half the rate of those in the most urban states. A study of Farm Security borrower families in 1940 showed that only 37 percent of children up to eight years of age had been vaccinated against smallpox either at public clinics or by private practitioners. In contrast, 89 percent of children in this age group had been vaccinated in 28 large cities studied in the National Health Survey. The same story holds true for tuberculosis control, venereal disease control, health education, or almost any other accepted function of a local health department."

HALF-TON AIR PILOTS

WASHINGTON.—The average airplane pilot when making a turn at 300 miles per hour on a 1000 foot radius weighs 1000 pounds. The change in the force of gravity on the pilot's body is so great that it has a pull that is six times that of the normal force acting on his body.

The law creating the Interstate Commerce Commission was approved by President Grover Cleveland on February 7, 1887.

Jimcrow Opression: The UN Presented Facts and Figures

Editor's Note: This is the third and final installment of the historic document presented to the United Nations by the National Negro Congress to back up its petition to the Economic and Social Council of the UN for investigation and action "for the elimination of political, economic and social discrimination against Negroes in the United States.

CIVIL LIBERTIES

There is unanimous agreement, by all observers and commentators, that fundamental legal rights, such as service on ordinary and grand juries, freedom from search and arrest except by warrant, and freedom from physical torture when in the hands of the law, are highly exceptional as concerns the vast majority of American's Negro citizens.

Nor is there any disagreement as to the fact that, in violation of all law, the majority of these citizens are deprived, by subterfuge and force, of the vital right of the suffrage. This fact is openly and proudly announced by the successful politicians foisted upon the South and the nation by such an undemocratic system. Thus, to cite but one example, the present senior United States senator from the State of Georgia, Walter F. George, wrote for publication, in 1938:

"Why apologize or evade? We have been very careful to obey the letter of the federal constitution—but we have been very diligent and astute in violating the spirit of such amendments and such statutes as would lead the Negro to believe himself the equal of the white man. And we shall continue to conduct ourselves in that way."

This disfranchisement affects, as it is meant to, the poor-Negro and white and its results are clear. To cite an outstanding example; in the last Presidential election (1944) only 27.9% of the entire potential electorate of the 13 southern states actaully voted, while 61.9% of the potential electorate of the other 35 states exercised their suffrage. The figures are even more arresting when one looks at the (then) eight poll-tax states for there (Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Arkansas, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina) only 19% of the potential voters did vote. And remember, these percentages include both Negro and white people.

PEONAGE AND VIOLENCE.

No survey of the oppression of the American Negro, unsavery though it be, bay neglect two other basic phenomena—peonage and violence. Neither of these is, as yet, subject to precise statistical presentation, but that both are widespread is unquestionable, and each deserves full, thorough investigation by groups independent of the dominant Southern cliques.

Reports of the existence of peonage have appeared and reappeared in the American press for 50 years, some of it creeps into recent government publication, occasional indictments and even convictions of individuals suspected or guilty of the practice recur (there were seven federal indictments and five convictions for peonage, all involving Negroes, during the late War), eye-witness accounts appear in authentic studies, and, in 1939, the Social Service Committee of the Georgia Baptist Convention, meeting in Augusta, declared that there were more people then held in debt-slavery or peonage than had ever been chattel-slaves in America.

Agreements exists, too, that violence against Negroes is so common, particularly in the South, as to be institutionalized. Most publicized, of course, is the tactic of lynching, and while organzied struggle against this bestial practice has undoubtedly reduced the frequency of its appearance, it still does occur and the threat of its use is very much alive.

Of greater importance, today, however, is the device of "dry lynching," the secret, unpublicized mutilation or destruction of an "undesirable" Negro by a small group of individuals (frequently, it is believed, officers of the law). From the nature of this defigures are not available, but it is significant that a study, in 1940, sponsored by four United States congressmen, including Senators Wagner and Capper, by a "native white Southerner who must remain anonymous" states "that countless Negroes are lynched yearly, but their disappearance is shrouded in mystery, for they are dispatched quietly and without general knowledge." Other recent works have offered substantiating remarks, and this is certainly a type of barbarism that should be thoroughly investigated and absolutely extirpated.

CONCLUSION

The effect upon the mental life of both the victims and the manipulators of this economic, social, political, and physical machine of oppression is only now beginning to be analyzed scientifically, but enough has already appeared to make clear the terrible urgency of the question.

The cancer of racism has spread its poison throughout the life of America. Its throttling and killing effect upon the people of the entire nation—North and South, Negro and white—grows more fearful and more anachronistic with the passing of each hour.

The Negro people, for themselves, and for the benefit of all other inhabitants of America, demand full freedom and absolute equality. Nothing short of this will satisfy them. Where one is enslaved, all are in chains.

The Negro Creater Of 'The Three Musketeers'

By NEIL SCOTT

Millions of whites throughout the world read and relish the books by Alexander Dumas, the distinguished French Negro novelist and dramatist, without knowing that they are reading the books and creations of a Negro. Even down in the heart of Dixie and in the homes of the most reactionary Negro-baiting southerners you are likely to find as part of their libraries some of the works of Alexander Dumas.

Dumas was born on July 24, 1802, nearly 144 years ago. It is fitting as a sort of commemoration of his birthday to analyze in brief Dumas, the man and his accomplishments.

Dumas wrote in the course of 40 years 67 plays published in 25 volumes, 92 novels published in 178 volumes, 18 books of travel published in 35 volumes and 14 miscellaneous works published in 26 volumes, a total of 213 books published in 300 volumes. The best of them still survive. Enough of them survive to justify those who have spoken of Alexander Dumas as being "the greatest amuser of the nineteenth century."

Dumas wrote The Borgias, The Comtesse de Saint, Geran, Joan of Naples, Nisida, The Marquis de Brinvilliers, The Cenci, The Marquis de Ganges, Karl Ludwig Sand, Vananka, and Urban Grandier. These are murder stories. Others among his best-known works are Les Trois, The Three Musketeers, Monte Christo, Le Reine Margot, and Companions of Jehu, which was recently made into a Columbia picture called "The Fighting Guardsman." Monte Cristo has been used in movies also as well as the famous The Three Musketeers. The movie industry is continually drawing on Dumas' works for high adventure stories and authentic interpretations of the French society of the period in which Dumas lived.

Millions of Americans who would identify the names Wright, Ottley and others as being Negro names think only in terms of Dumas as being one of the greatest writers in the world.

Dumas was the son of Alexandre, who was himself the son of the Marquis de la Pailleterie, and a Negro girl, Louisa Dumas of San Domingo. Dumas' mother was Marie de Bouret, an innkeeper's daughter, and it is a fact that some of the most tender and touching of his memoirs are those which refer to the boyhood days when she cared for him. He was a poor boy and about 1823 he entered Paris, where he was to do such marvelous literary work as would astonish the world.

At the age of 15 he was a clerk; at 18 he began writing. In 1826 when he was only 24 years, his fame as an author began with the Novelles. In 1829 he presented on the stage an historical play "Henry III", et sacour which met the sharpest shafts of the critics because he disregarded all of the stage proprieties of the times but the audience liked it, came to see his play and brought thousands of dollars into his pocket. Even the Duke of Orleans led the applause and was so interested in the play and Dumas that he appointed Dumas as his personal librarian. By 1846 Dumas was the literary colossus of France and he bestrode Paris like a cyclops or a Hercules. He was the legendary Titan whom strong literary men and lesser men—princes, barons, dukes and kings both feared and admired. Michelet called him "one of the vital forces of nature" having the equivalent meaning of a flood or an eruption of an earthquake.

Much of his literature has been classed immoral in America but he wrote of the things which make men and women human and happy. Of course in America, the very birth of Alexander Dumas would have been thought of as—mixed parents—immoral and certainly his working in high American society as he did in high French society would have been the scandal of the day but in France Dumas' works are not considered immoral but are thought of as being the true literature of France. And the 1200 works to which his name is attached are preserved as some of the most priceless possessions of the land.

Dumas left a challenge for all Negro writers. Not all of them can solve a race problem—not all of them can be social scientists and philosophers.

Job Survey Show Value of FEPC in Fight Against Bias

The effectiveness of FEPC in holding down job bias is demonstrated in studies by two organizations concerned with employment discrimination against Jews. One is a national survey of 15 cities by the National Community Relations Advisory Council, while the other is a survey of Chicago by the Bureau of Jewish Employment Broblems of that city.

According to the national survey, New York City, where an effective state FEP law is in operation, "reported 6 per cent fewer complaints in the postwar period, while six other cities reported an increase of 77 percent or more with an overall increase for the six cities, excluding New York, of 93 per cent." Further, the survey cites 'an overall increase of 195 percent in discriminatory (help-wanted newspaper) advertising" for the reporting cities.

Of 247 private employment agencies in 13 cities, 91 percent o fthe agencies, outside of New York and Newark, where state anti-discrimination laws are in effect, included questions about religion on their registration blanks.

Chicago Survey

The survey by the Chicago agency reports that job bias against Jews in Chicago, including Jewish war veterans, has increased sharply in the last four months.

"Rising unemployment, the abandonment of the FEPC functions, and increasing dissemination of propaganda through ultra-nationalistic and domestic fascist groups, together provide a social climate that, uncontrolled, encourages the development of such discriminatory attitudes and will inevitably lead to catastrophic religious and racial strife, and a nation divided against itself," the Chicago report states.

It charges that "even the USES, in competition for the job market, has reverted to the policy of accepting discriminatory job orders."

Minority Vets Will Not Take 'No' For Answer, Houston Tells Parley

NEW YORK—Minority groups, who found their services and sacrifices eagerly accepted during the war, see no reason why the opportunities they had during the conflict should be denied them now, Charles H. Houston, vice president American Council on Race Relations told the ACRR-sponsored National Action conference on minority veteran's problems this week.

The sooner the nation recognizes that minority group veterans, in particular, are not going to take "no" for an answer, the sooner will we be able to reach a plan for effective democratic action, Houston added.

The conference condemned "the numerous attacks on the civil liberties of the populace and of veterans, particularly in the South, as in the extreme case at Columbia, Tenn.," and called upon U. S. Atty-Gen. Tom Clark to reopen the Columbia case.

It condemned "in non-sectarian veterans' organizations the practice of discrimination against minority groups in their organizational setups," and recommended that all veterans' organizations take an active part in minority relations by setting up within each organization a special minority relations division on the local level.

The conference, representing 80 delegates from 50 national veterans and civic organizations, called on the U. S. congress to enact immediately the Wagner-Ellender-Taft housing bill, "as the major measure for adequate housing for veterans within their ability to pay."

A LAYMAN'S VIEW

By Leon W. Steward

OUR BIRTHDAY AND A QUAKER SENT MAN

Yes, "A Layman's View" is a year old this issue. This fact and a review of a busy visit by an interesting visitor are what this column is about on this anniversary.

Last July 26 we opened this column with a sort of apology or understanding: "These words and ideas are offered you by one who is not a journalist, not a politician, not a minister of religion, not a professional of any sort; nor is he any of the things that give others the right, the ability and the privilege to offer their views to the public through the columns of a great newspaper with a purpose, such as The California EAGLE."

Reading it a year later we might add: nor are we a rhetorician. Nevertheless, after a year we are more convinced than ever that we must pursue this pleasurable task with that very same understanding. Our policy has been and shall continue to be to stand in one spot, watch events go by and comment "as the spirit moves." We sincerely appreciate you who have been kind and thoughtful enough to express your approval of both this policy and of our efforts to make the subject matter interesting and somewhat informative.

G. JAMES FLEMMING

Having begun the first year's presentation with a study in the ideas, pattern and purposes of one Gerald L. K. Smith, we shall move into the second series with a thumb sketch of a young man whom the Quakers sent to L. A. and environs, in the person of G. James Flemming, whom many, having once heard or met, will remember for a long time. Having gotten his very early start in the Virgin Islands, his Phi Beta Kappa key in journalism at Wisconsin, his master of arts degree in economics at Pennsylvania U., some important education at Hampton and some thrilling experiences during four years north and south with FEPC, Flemming came to Southern California on an extensive trip for the American Friends Service Committee as secretary of its executive staff on race relations.

From July 3-13 he was on the lecture staff of "Institute of International Relations" at Whittier college. The Sunday following he spoke at Pasadena and at the local Friends' Fellowship House. Monday he spent an hour with the mayor, talked with officials of the Chamber of Commerce, met many important people and the Press Club and addressed Pacific Town Club and Los Angeles Kappa Alpha Psi men (he is editor of their national journal).

Tuesday he wound up a busy day with a stirring address to the NAACP campaign workers (he's on the Philadelphia NAACP board). Wednesday he was busy seeing people and groups but shared the platform with Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune before the NAACP board at Crystal Dining Room. He was impressed by what he saw in that building. (Have you seen those lovely shops?)

Thursday night he left after another busy day. What was his message in Los Angeles? "It's a town where, unlike any other city, everybody has a good word for it. Bilbo, Rankin, KKK nor the devil can keep you from giving all you have to getting that state FEPC on the California law books. Do everything you can to keep Georgia and Mississippi patterns from taking over this growing world metropolis."

He said all that he said with such earnestness that men were moved. In one meeting he was offered "the only vacant apartment in L. A. rent free to live in L. A." Many were impressed to do something about the things he pointed up. "We have gotten Negroes on many large university faculties. You can get whatever you want if you will work with all of those people in your city and state who are willing to work with you for them."

There is wisdom and power in those words. We doff our hats to those quiet Quakers for the kind of interracial work they are doing and for such a man as G. James Flemming in his special position. More power to them.

Note: Mayor Bowron said Friday that he is working on that city plan mentioned in this column a couple of weeks ago. Let's see.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

MIDSUMMER SOCIAL ACTIVITIES are in full swing, with special emphasis on outdoor gatherings, the influx of vacation wise visitors from all sectors of the country, and a gay round of dancing parties.

Getting an early start, a group of the younger set trekked to Lake Arrowhead around 6 o'clock Sunday morning, arrived on the beautiful scene before noon, and enjoyed a casual day of swimmin, lunching, etc. Wearing the latest in sports togs and keeping up the feminine end of the group were: Gloria Ford, Ruth Mars, Barbara Pullum of Kansas City; Catherine Randolph, who decided to postpone her Eastern trip for another week; Elenore Lee Elkins and many another lovely lass. Lucky escorts were: Arnold Reed, Lorenzo Morris, Bill Elkins, Vance Jones, Ted Schafer and several others from the "man about town" group, who set the pace of the day by driving to the lake via caravan.

Jessie Mae Brown

Les Femmes Aujourdhui, that newly organized group of young matrons, has decided to add a few new members to the list. The group breakfasted at Fern Dale Park early Sunday morning with prospective members and husbands invited as honored guests. Emma and Victor Manuel, Katherine and Ernest Ashford, the Bendys, Lula and Dynamite, were among those present.

"Symphony Under the Stars" is another outdoor drawing card. The past performances, with special emphasis on week-ends, have been well attended. In fact, the Hollywood Bowl took the spotlight with the Monday night benefit for Westview hospital sponsored by Al Jarvis. Missed out on this gala program, much to my regret, for the complete offering was star-studded, and the proceeds have given the Westview "drive" the push that has launched it on the road to success. Back to the regular Bowl series... received a little note from Vyvyian Mitchell, who glimpsed the Redd sisters, Ruth and Dorothy, escorted by the Hawkins twins, Guy and Vincent, at last Saturday night's performance. With the Ballet Russe De Monte Carlo listed for this Saturday night, am quite sure many another familiar face will be seen in the audience...

THE CALENDAR

Red lettered dates of the past week-end included the Sunday afternoon recital sponsored by Alpha fraternity with proceeds going into the revolving fund. Roy Andrews was business manager for the recital, which featured James Patton, who recently received his master's degree in music at USC, accompanied by Elizabeth Garrott at the piano. The 3 o'clock musical held sway at the Embassy auditorium and was attended by a representative group of music lovers throughout the city...

The Social Counts are still receiving compliments on the manner in which their semi-formal dance was carried out last Friday night. The Park Manor ballroom afforded a perfect setting for the affair that marked the initial return of the Social Counts to the position they held before the war...

On Friday night, July 26, from 9 to 1, the undergraduate chapters of AKA sorority are sponsoring their annual subscription dance at Alpha Bowling Club. The Lloyd Gibbins combo will be on the bandstand throughout the evening, and the local college set will be on hand to support the sorors, who are prepping for the big Boule next month. For the past week or so, the members have been circulating tickets and expect the affair to be a success...

The "1946" crop of debs who came out with the March Club, have organized into the Neophyte Club with Gloria Crouch as president. The debs will hostess a Spanish supper next Sunday afternoon at Rose Ector's South Los Angeles home. The guest list includes some 67 or more...

HERE AND THERE

Miss Wanda Jean Collins, of Kansas City, Mo., was honoree at a luncheon Saturday afternoon. Among those present at the affair were Marcela Monroe, Mary Coleman, Gloria Ford, Luvenia Prescott of Chicago, Ill., and several other local debs. Wanda has enjoyed many social courtesies since her arrival in the city, and plans to attend the Kappa Florentine Garden party before returning to K. C....

Yvonne Shepherd, Youth Editor of the EAGLE, flew to New York on her vacation last Friday afternoon. She plans to be out of the city for three weeks. Believe me, the Shepherds are for traveling by air. On Thursday, her brother Rudolph arrived at the Lockheed airport from N. Y., and plans to attend school here.

Mel Temple is a much feted bride-elect. Last Saturday afternoon Teena Parrish Robinson honored her with a closet shower. All the dainty gifts were in line with the green color scheme of the future Mrs. Ike Blocker's boudoir. On Friday night, the Turn About club will shower the popular bride-elect and on Sunday, Mrs. Carona Bowman has a shower tea planned.

Mel's wedding date is August 4, at six o'clock in the evening at the Arlington Avenue Christian church. While chatting with her, learned that Josephine Spearman will be maid of honor, Bernice Scott matron, and Josephine Burch, Vivian Johnetta Towns and Clyde Harrison will be attendants. Chuck Boswell will be best man, and ushers will include John McQueen, Ed Maddox of Atlanta, John Long and Arnold Towns...

The Loupes, Stanley and Ruth, plan to have their three month old son christened Sunday afternoon at St. Patricks church. Godparents to little Milton Paul will be Marion Martel and Jack Simon. Following the christening a reception will be held at the couple's home between the hours of 4 and 7... By the way, the Clifton Russels, "Sis" and Rip, are the proud parents of a son... Congratulations are in order...

WELL! WELL! WELL!

The Turn About club is very busy completing plans for the benefit cocktail party to be held at Alpha Bowling Club on August 31. The money will be used to send kiddies to late summer camp the week before school opens. The girls are expecting your support...

Joyce Steward is honoring Corine Jones with a lingerie shower on August 3. Corine and Bal's date is September 1... A card from Paulette Coleman, who is having the time of her life in N. Y.... Wini Smith birthday celebrated on last Thursday... Lowell Stewart should arrive in town tomorrow... Phil Carter, one of the leading fourth estaters, is back around town. Met the popular scribe for the first time t'other day... The Greens, Eddie and Norma, have been vacationing in N. Y. and will change the scene to Atlanta, Ga., before returning to the Angel City... The Elite Club will be hostesses at Music Town on August 2. The scheduled dance should be tops... Jean and June Hilyard are enjoying a brief vacation in San Francisco... Leon Rene of Exclusive Records has been attending the National Music Convention in Chicago...

Changing the entire tempo of this week's column, I meet the deadline extending deepest sympathies to Rev. J. Raymond Henderson and family during their hours of sadness.

You DON'T NEED A MIRROR!

No, you don't have to look in a mirror to learn of the itching, smarting soreness of the acne pimples, or bumps (blackheads) of external origin. They torment you and drive your frantic fingers to rubbing and scratching, increasing the danger of secondary infection.

Your fingers won't help, won't soothe the soreness, ease the itch and smart and burn—but Black and White Ointment will. It gives you prompt relief from discomforts of such skin irritations and it contains special antiseptic medication that aids healing. For over 25 years millions have found it brings similar relief from trade eczema, factory dermatitis, simple ringworm and externally caused salt rheum—tetter.

You can try Black and White Ointment without risk since your dealer will refund the retail price of the first package if you are not satisfied. Use only as directed. Black and White Ointment is sold everywhere in 10c, 25c, and 50c sizes. For cleansing such skin conditions, use mild Black and White Skin Soap. Sold in 10c and 35c sizes.

'DENA CHIT-CHAT

By

JOHNETTA ARMSTRONG

It seems as though everyone is getting bitten by that bug and getting married these days. Sunday, July 21, the members of the Friendship Baptist church were given another surprise treat. Esther B. Owens and Raymond Jones were united in holy wedlock. Esther wore a white eyelet street dress, matching gloves, a darling white horsehair chapeaux donned her head, and she carried red roses. The maid of honor, Zanisda Henry, wore a pink dress and a white hat. Raymond and his best man, George Guyton, wore grey suits. Members of her family and a host of their friends were there to see this couple married. They tell me that Esther has fixed up a darling apartment, where they will make their residence. The couple will honeymoon in San Francisco.

Yes indeed, the PCAC's dance really jumped and it was just like old times. Butter Ellis, Robert Farlice, Sammy Spikes and a few others formed the combo and they really blew their tops. Billy Edson and Mary Collins must have made up because they were together. Glad to see it. Jerrie Coe and her sister-in-law, Estelle Coe, here from Chicago, Phil Harrison and Edith, who have decided to stay a while longer, (I wonder). Snookie McAfee, Bobby and Eddie Lawson, Timothy Harrison, Ernie and Herriette Cunningham and oodles more had a wonderful time. You would have thought that the Earls had something to do with the admission, pay or free.

Did you know that after all these war years the All Nations Hospital, formerly the Grace's Sanitorium, is going to have its annual street festival? I hope that all the old citizens will remember this grand event and for all our new comers it will be a wonderful treat. . . Lots of kids are preparing to go to the third annual young people's summer conference sponsored by the Western Baptist State Convention at Thousand Pines. Hope you get a lot of inspiration and bring back some interesting ideas for young people. . . . Dick Irving has married again and he and his wife were at Leniel Montgomery's birthday.

Everyone had a wonderful time until the wee hours of the morning at Leneil's birthday party. Clarence Rudker was the bartender and was able to continue at that post all night. Some of those there were Preston and Margret Clipper, Gradie and Ruby Hickambottom, Lena and Horace White, Mr. and Mrs. George Browning, Bill and Lille Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fisher, Jessie Arnold, Harry Lester, Lucille Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fisher of Monrovia, Mr. and Mrs. John Montgomery and Dorothy Brooks from Monrovia. Over a hundred guests were present throughout the evening.

Gloria Stephen's birthday was celebrated with a beach party, given by her aunt, Mrs. Ruth Viser. A delicious lunch was prepared and the kids piled into the cars on their way for a wonderful outing. Some of those that played on the pier were Archie Durham, Leon Freeman, Jimmie McMickens, Don Williams, Grant McGruder, Marcelline Stewart, Delores Patterson and Alice Shaw. Some of the members of Gloria's family that went along for the day were Barbara and Sonny Parks, Mrs. Parks, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Louis, Mrs. O'Neil, Naomi Campbell, Mr. C. Viser, Howard Campbell and Don Johns.

Esther and Raymond Jones were guests to breakfast at Hannah Nash Roberts and her husband's before they were married, as were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Green, nee Libby Taylor. These same couples were in turn guests of Libby and Arthur Green at a cocktail party the same night.

Hasta Luego.

MISS LILLIE BALLANSAW, well-known gospel singer, was presented in a piano recital by Mrs. Marjorie Tucker Brown recently at St. Paul Baptist church. This marked Miss Ballansaw's first public appearance at the piano.

Proceeds From James Patton Recital to Augment Alpha Phi Alpha Revolving Fund

The tenor offerings of James Patton were well received by an appreciative audience Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. when the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity presented him in recital at the Embassy Auditorium.

GOOD SELECTIONS

Accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Garrott at the piano, the young singer, who holds a master's degree in music from University of Southern California, presented a repertoire of French, German, Italian and English numbers. Included were Schubert's "Du Bist Die Ruh," "Die Erl Konig," "Die Forelle"; Schumann's "Im Wundershonen Monat Mai"; "Where'er You Walk," from "Semelé" by Handel; "Go Down Moses," by Burleigh, and several other selections.

Mr. Patton's delivery was excellent and his selected program was well rounded.

REVOLVING FUND

The entire program was under the auspices of Alpha Delta Chapter of the fraternity. During the intermission, Mr. Roy Andrew II, business manager, explained the purpose of the highly cultural program as being a means of augmenting the Alpha Phi Alpha Revolving Fund locally. This fund will take care of loans to needy students, regardless of race, creed or color. Any student may make application, take his own time to pay the money back, without interest.

The idea of a revolving fund is fostered by Alpha throughout the country. All proceeds from the recital went into the $1000 needed to establish the fund.

Acting on the recital committee were Roy Andrew, Arthur Lewis, Don Barksdale and James Patton. President of the Alpha Delta Chapter is Mr. Herbert Simmons, vice president is Mr. Rodolph Henderson.

COUTURSTAT

By Grace Fisher Atkins

Costume design, at Jefferson adult evening school each Tuesday and Thursday evenings is a busy workshop. Most students are preparing to fit into the Couturstat Corporation within the near future. On Tuesday evenings the techniques of Couturstat are studied. Each class member is to do the same thing at the same time. The one garment that is to be completed during the summer session will look the same in style and design. The object is to achieve techniques of workmanship on an identical level for all who seek information.

The design chosen by the class is one that will flatter any figure. Mr. Herman Crouch is the designer for this costume. Herman is chairman of designing for the class. Students who wish advice and assistance in sketching will find Herman of much assistance.

August 13 is scheduled for the fashion show evening although the date may be changed to August 15, the last meeting of the class.

California is rapidly becoming the style center of the country. This affords much opportunity for those in the field here. The problem is to learn the trade and do it well. Use every opportunity to acquire information. Utilize every source of instruction. Trade classes are offered to adults in public schools free. Privately owned art schools are available. Then the local colleges and universities have good courses. UCLA now has a full four-year course in clothing. This was suggested as early as 1941 by the writer, when the home economics department presented couturstat process.

Another excellent source of information is the public library. Here in Los Angeles is one of the five complete libraries in the country. At the main branch at West Fifth street between Grand and Flower streets, the departments of art and industry contain various phases of the clothing field. The patent division in the industrial department has all patents "to date" on improvements in clothing processes.

Speed is a major factor in the manufacturing of clothing. Whether machinery or hand work is employed, time "runs" quality of work a close second. Two results of speed are valuable, first, superior workmanship, and second, financial return.

Some phases of manufacturing require speed for success. An outstanding one is edge stitching. It is impossible to stitch an even edge without speed. The natural ware of attention within the organism causes straight stitching to wiggle except when full speed is employed. In fact, nearly all machine stitching requires speed.

Skill is the avenue for speed. The greater the skill, the higher the speed. Practice is the incubator for skill. The same activity repeated frequently will result in skillful and rapid execution.

Hand rolling is an example of this. Three years of practice in hand rolling is the least amount of experience required to accomplish a "first-class" job. The same is usually required of hemming, overcasting, tubing and the like.

Muscle reaction and mental alertness are requirements for success. Most people consider clothing construction easy. If the individual expects to complete a job worth anything, the height of mental and muscular control are necessary. This is tiring to the nervous system. Lack of either factor results in errors and inadequate workmanship, which is costly.

Bridgers! your success as a bridge player depends on the use you make of the knowledge you gain in study and each rubber you play. Remembering, all the while, that it is human to err, but downright ignorance to pit your meager knowledge against proven facts; though it is true that one can improve upon any theory or system, but in order to do so one must first KNOW the fundamental principles of said system—PERIOD. Could you as a scientific player accuse a person who would advise his partner to do the following: North his partner held this hand S.10xx opened the bidding with 1S. East made a take-out Bbl., to bid 2D or could you recommend this lady to the select few who would lead the 2 holding the 92 only?

The above is just a few of the things that I have seen a few of the bridgers who think they are good commit. This column is and has been here for a long time designed to make the novice good, and the advanced better. Remember, until you stick a pin in your ego and admit to yourself at least that you do not know everything, your game or anything else that you attempt in life will not succeed.

The Quiz of The Week

5. Of what benefit is the rule of eleven?

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum, John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

By CARMEL HEWLETT, Pinchhitting for Yvonne Shepherd
(I dedicate this to the memory of a very dear friend, as I knew him)

Dear Friend:

I am tickled pink to be able to drop you a few lines—well, to pinch-hit for lovely Yvonne Shepherd, the very able editor of the Youth Section.

I can in no way come up to your expectation perhaps and I am not in reach of very many youth activities, but being in the young people's category myself, I know and understand what the youth of today are up against and the terrific fight they must wage cooperatively to insure a better world for them and all youths to come.

I feel ever so close to you because John Kinloch was a very dear pal of mine. My acquaintance with him, through his best pal, Martin, wasn't one of long years, but our friendship grew immensely. He and Martin and I would discuss for hours just what was up in the world. We very frequently attended meetings together in which John gave out fully what he thought. It was then I knew that John had great ideas for the young people. I could see what he was driving at. He hoped that every young person in his community could become a youth leader and be aware of any progressive activity in the world and help in various capacities.

I daresay that if John were here today he'd jump for joy at the way we young men and women have been rallying together through youth organizations like the Southern Negro Youth Congress, the American Youth for Democracy and many others. He did so much to attain this that his memory shall forever linger with such organizations, and young people all over are speaking up for their rights.

The war has done much to add to the success of Youth activities. The youth of a few years back who planned and mapped out the program that is being carried out today, are now a few years older in mind and body. The hard, bitter years at war have made us realize even more so the need for more cooperation of all young people regardless of race, creed or color—yes, even regardless to distance.

Now here is an idea. Why not get together a group of us, a committee to contact through writing some of the progressive youth organizations in other countries besides America; in Russia, in Italy, France, China—oh, in various other countries. Let's get together a world wide youth organization; we have much in common with young people of other places; we fight for some of the same things. We could sort of exchange ideas and viewpoints—something of a Young Peoples' United Nations. Think about it, won't you?

You know, in reading Kinloch's Korner last week, made me think of a little experience I had some weeks ago. A young Negro woman came to my door, and after only a few seconds I knew that she was making a desperate but vain attempt to convert me to one of Jehovah's Witnesses. After a very lengthy conversation she knew that I'd have no part of it and that I thought the whole organization was a direct attempt to make Anti-progressiyism a religion.

It seems that these Negroes who tread along from door to door and on the streets have been victims of a vicious bunch of men and women definitely for an antagonistic plan, preying upon the "love of religion" of the Negro. They firmly believe that fighting for FEPC, for job rights, fighting against segregation, race prejudice, restrictive covenants, bigotry, white supremacy, that combating these evils is an evil in itself. Believe me, friend, that is exactly what the young lady told me when I confronted her with these violences in the world. I tried hard to tell her that I thought she was making a great mistake taking part in such a dead to right sell-out of her own race. I can only hope that we can reach these misled people in our program for a decent America. It is doubtless that this so-called religious organization goes hand in hand with the Youth for Christ and has the "evil blessings" of Hearst, too.

It is relieving to know that not all of us believe in such viciousness and propaganda, which makes our fight more intense. So let's keep on fighting for what's right and just, to wipe out the real evils in the world—prejudice, discrimination, hate, the real threat to Christianity.

Your friend,
Carmel.

Boy Scouts Get Physical Exams

Teachers Attend Workshops to Learn New Instruction Devices

Six week's series of summer workshops, for approximately 200 elementary teachers, has been established by Dr. C. C. Trillingham, county superintendent of schools, as a mans of providing better instruction for Los Angeles County boys and girls.

During the first two workshop sessions, teachers were given instruction in the use of calcimine and clay, and in manuscript writing.

This week, primary teachers are building wood models under the direction of Mrs. Frances Daywalt. These models will be used to encourage pupil interest in trantportation, communication, business, industry, public service, and farming.

"One of the primary purposes of the workshop," according to Mrs. Daywalt, instructor, "is to help teachers improve their instruction in the fundamental skills."

The instructor pointed out that "when the pupils make models, they learn arithmetic through measurement; language skills through planning; reading through study about the objects which they make; and spelling through writing the names of materials used and objects made."

Complete information on all Southern California college and junior college openings is now available, reports Robert H. Craig, president of the Third and Broadway Center, a Community Chest agency.

Weary, foot-sore veterans are getting new confidence by the centralized listing of all openings that will save their "shopping around." An estimated 12,000 openings exist for the fall semester. Craig said, with indications that 1,200 housing accommodations might be found.

Butler Named Commander of Air Scout Activities Here

Butler is well qualified for the position as he is an associate aeronautical engineer for the United States Navy. He has a rich background of Scouting activities having served in several capacities in the Centinela Valley District.

The first official action of Air Scout Commander Butler was an announcement made early this week of an Air Scout encampment to be conducted at Mather Army Air Field, Sacramento, California, August 18th to 25th.

SNYG Issues Call to So. Youth Legislature

BIRMINGHAM, Alabama—At its 7th Conference which will be held in Columbia, S. C. on October 18, 19, 20, the Southern Negro Youth Congress will dramatize the militant determination of the youth of the South to win the right to vote and to use the ballot to obtain all the rights and opportunities of first-class citizenship. The Conference is being held in the form of a Southern Youth Legislature.

This week, thousands of copies of the call to the southern youth legislature were being sent out from the national offices of the SNYC in Birmingham, Alabama. The call in an attractive folder, with a cover by the noted young Negro artist Robert Blackburn, and a stirring two page challenge to Southern youth, summoning them to counsel and to action—"for jobs, votes, peace and education."

Hollenbeck Youth Theatre Group Plans Teen Age Musical Revue

The Hollenbeck Youth Theatre continues to take the lead in Los Angeles with its intercultural program carried out on a neighborhood basis. This year, it is putting on a Teen Age Musical Revue, "Harmony in A-Flat," which not only surpasses last summer's production, "Hello, Neighbor, Hello," in the number of young people participating, but also in quality, with the first showing of Earl Robinson's "The Tower of Babel," as one of the feature numbers.

Nearly 200 youths representing the 20 or more racial, national and religious groups in the neighborhood, are in the cast. This program, which is now becoming tradition on the Eastside, has brought a significant increase in friendship and understanding among these youths with such a variety of backgrounds. It is this kind of youth project that has proved to be one of the most effective means of bringing harmony and peace in multi-cultural neighborhoods in these troubled times.

In keeping with the spirit of the times, organizations representing the different national, racial and religious groups are sponsoring and supporting it. Such outstanding church and community leaders as Msgr. O'Dwyer, Councilman Christensen, Jack Y. Berman, and others are among the individual sponsors.

Letitia Innes, noted folk dance instructor, is the director and coordinator of the revue, which will be held at Roosevelt high school, August 27, 28, 29 at 8 p.m. Make ticket reservations by phoning AN. 13118.

Plans To Unearth Name Band Talent

TOPEKA, Kan.—Lucky Millinder, the dynamaestro of swing, has launched a plan, which, if permitted, by local musicians' unions throughout the country, will lead the way to an unearthing of promising musicians for name bands and will result in the discovery of stellar soloists and instrumentalists.

WILLIAM GILLESPIE, whose excellent radio program "Sunrise Salute" is heard over station KNX every morning at 6:15, told The California EAGLE this week that Frank Sinatra, famous crooner, snubbed him by refusing to sing "Ole Man River" if Gillespie also did the song at Hollywood Bowl on the Jerome Kern Memorial program last Saturday night. Both were to do the same song at different stages of the program. As a result, Gillespie said he wasn't allowed to sing. Sinatra could not be reached for a statement.

The plan inaugurated here recently permits any musician, who has attracted attention or is ambitious, to sit in with the Millinder band during the evening when they are playing a dance date. He will be given full opportunity to display not only his formal training and musicianship but also any creative ideas that he might have.

The new plan was evolved when Millinder in talking to a local musician had it pointed out that unless a musician has a great amount of initiative he is destined to go unnoticed in his home town without ever getting a chance to exhibit his wares before the important maestros. Lucky after evolving the plan, experimented with it here and found it was practical with untold potentialities. It is his hope that he can organize a clearing center among other "name" bands so that there will not only be a file of unusually talented musicians but also a backlog of replacements available to leaders who need a particular kind of replacement.

West View Hospital Benefit At Bowl Is A Great Success

By GERTRUDE GIPSON

We've covered assignments from the opening of a new breakfast club to a cold hit-and-run murder, but believe you me, this assignment, that of covering "The spectacular show at the Hollywood Bowl" is the toughest we've had to scribble, for truly, no show has offered such great entertainment at one time.

With Al (Make Believe Ballroom) Jarvis mastering the job as emcee for the evening, seven top bands and approximately 100 stars in the entertainment and musical world combined to supply three hours of downright solid entertainment.

Democracy was definitely in action with the rostrum of the huge Hollywood Bowl studded with mixed celebrities and a mass audience composed of mixed racial groups, was symbolic of this "thing" called democracy. Dr. D. A. Hawkins, president of the West View hospital foundation, with his beaming and glowing smile, stated, "This affair has put us over the hill. Such a contribution made to the city by such sponsors and artists is surely wonderful."

It was a fast moving show with such swing greats as Boyd Raeburn, Eddie Heywood, Stan Kenton, Tommy Dorsey, and vocalists Peggy Lee, whose rendition of "Come Rain, Come Shine" was great. Ginny Powell, The Mellow Larks, June Christy, and Stuart Foster, all dealt out with the top hit tunes of the day. Art Tatum "the master of the ivories was a natural and shapely and attractive Amalia Aguilar added the right amount of spice, causing those with binoculars to fit them close to the eyes.

The largest ovation, in our opinion, went to The Slim Gaillard trio. The harmonica of Harry Adler and those wild gags of Bob Hope all added to make one of the season's gratest and most entertaining jamborees.

We know that such an affair was surely a great aid and a big shove toward what promises to be one of the finest institutions constructed on a non-profit basis to serve the community regardless of race, color or creed. Much credit for the success of the affair can be given to Al Jarvis, the Daily News, K.L.A.C., musical director Al Sack and the producer Cal Kuhl.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

HOLLYWOOD PARK—A new queen of the turf was crowned here last Saturday when U Time, 2-year-old filly, swept to victory in the Starlet Stakes of 6 furlongs in 1:10 1/5. Jockey L. Balaski was up on the winner. Stepfather was second and Hemet Squaw, third. This writer picked the winner and runner-up one-two.

Saturday the Gold Cup with an added value of $100,000 will be run with the cream of the crop vieing over a mile and a quarter distance.

I pick Historian to win, the L. B. Mayer entry second and Texas Sandman, third. Historian arrived by plane early this week from Chicago and is now working out.

HIPODROMO DE TIJUANA—General Manager Augustin Silveyra offers the Jetumbe Handicap at a mile and a sixteenth with an added value of $1800 as the feature here Sunday. The "El Paisaje" will be the supporting feature at 5½ furlongs. Ten other races have been carded.

The daily double last Sunday paid $71.80 and the Quinicla $44.80. The feature was won by the favorite Leadman, who broke the record set by Ervest in 1930 of 58 3/5.

Keep smiling. I'll see you at Hollywood and Caliente this week-end.

So long, George.

Slim Gaillard Launches New Career As Spinner of Discs

Slim Gaillard, famous exponent of that weird slanguage known as "Voutology," has launched himself on a new career.

Today, Slim is a record spinner, a platter master, a disc jockey as it were.

Gaillard opened his unique sessions this week and can be heard every afternoon (except Sundays) from 3:15 to 3:30 o'clock over station KLAC, 570 kilocycles.

The broadcasts will emanate from Slim's brand new record shop in the heart of Voutville (described by Slim as that area bounded by Figueroa to LaBrea and Adams to Slauson).

The shop, located at 2122½ West Jefferson (upstairs) will be formally opened tomorrow (Friday) with an array of musical celebrities and other theatrical artists.

Slim has succeeded in getting franchises to handle all the top label records, including Victor, Decca, Columbia, Capitol and all the others.

The latest move of Gaillard's in launching an extensive business career marks something of a milestone in Negro theatrical enterprise in this city.

It definitely establishes Gaillard as one of the town's leading disc jockeys, in that Slim brings to the field a name already famous in the land of swing.

Jimmy Lunceford had the distinction of being the first guest artist to be featured on Slim's new radio swing sessions Monday afternoon, with an array of top talent slated for informal appearances during the next few weeks.

EUGENE GASH IN CONCERT HERE AUGUST 15

NO FOOLING

By Eddie Burbridge, Theatrical Editor

TRUE LOVE

They say that falling in love is wonderful,
They also say . . . and this is not a fake,
Some of the guys are inclined to show,
Strong passion for a sirloin steak!
—The Sepia Sage.

LIFE CAN ALSO BE BEAUTIFUL

Well, ye ole Sepia Sage has returned from his trip to the Alps where he tired of chasing St. Bernard dogs with kegs of grog around their necks. Glad to have you back, Keed, but can the corn, don't pass it around to us . . . A press party is planned for "Sugar Chile" Robinson, when the talented young boogie-woogie pianist goes into the Lincoln for a week's stand starting July 30. They do say that the kid's intelligence will knock anybody for a loop . . . COUNT BASIE starts his four weeks' engagement at New York's Aquarium Club tonight (Thursday) . . . JIMMIE ROGERS now playing the Cafe Society Downtown in N.Y.C. and tickling the funny bones of Manhattan night club addicts . . . "St. Louis Woman" may soon play London . . . Ruby Hill, who played in the "Woman," now at the Le Ruben Bleu in Gotham . . . Izler Solomon, guest conductor on Aug. 8 at the Hollywood Bowl Silver Jubilee series, will play WILLIAM GRANT STILL'S "Festive Overture," which won the $1000 war bond in the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra's recent nation-wide competition . . . RUDOLPH DUNBAR, celebrated Negro conductor, is being imported from Paris by Hollywood Bowl officials to conduct the symphony orchestra on August 22, same night Dorothy Maynor is to sing here. Mr. Dunbar will also conduct one of Mr. Still's symphonic works.

EUGENE GASH DATE HERE IS AUGUST 15

A long-awaited musical event by lovers of classical music here is the appearance of EUGENE GASH, young American Negro concert pianist, who, under the sponsorship of the COSMOS CLUB, will be heard in concert at the Independent Church of Christ on Thursday, August 15. Presently residing in San Francisco, Mr. Gash will be making his Los Angeles debut but music lovers here know that he has appeared a number of times at Town Hall in New York and has also been the guest pianist with the Denver Symphony Orchestra. For that reason they will flock to hear this great artist who is scheduled to appear at Carnegie Hall in N.Y. this Fall. Don Barksdale is heading the committee from the Cosmos Club which plans to make this a gala and successful summer music occasion. Leon W. Steward, a personal friend of the pianist, who hails from Denver, home of Mr. Gash, is also materially aiding in his presentation. There are 1200 seats at Independent Church and all are expected to be filled.

I THOUGHT YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

EARL BELTON, who left L.A. to enter a New York City designing school in preparation for returning here and opening his own clothing store, has been hired as wardrobe man and masseur by Alan Carney, famous Warner Brothers comedy star and character actor, in the Big Town. Thus his trip back here has been temporarily halted . . . LIL GREEN recently recorded four sides for Victor, her first since 1941. Lil sings four blues songs and is accompanied by a small unit under the baton of Howard Callender . . . THE BROWN DOTS, singing group, are starred on the Eugene Baird air show over ABC from coast-to-coast several times each week . . . BASIL SPEARS, piano wizard, has been signed as the first Negro performer to play at the Mardi Gras, a show place on New York's Broadway . . . ELLA FITZGERALD now doing her warbling at the Latin Quarter Club in Newport, Ky. . . . LOOK magazine in nine men chosen as standouts on the trumpet in an article called "Hot Trumpeters" picked six Negroes. They were Louis Armstrong, Cootie Williams, Roy Eldridge, Dizzy Gillespie, Rex Stewart, and Bunk Johnson . . . ERSKINE HAWKINS' recent request for a song title incorporating the name of a city, town or hamlet brought 3,256 pieces of mail from all over the U.S.

DOWN THE ROAD A PIECE

ERROL GARNER, the Negro pianist of whom Walter Winchell said, "Orchids to Errol Garner's piano magic," is currently doing his stuff at the Susie Q on Hollywood Blvd. Garner is the Esquire poll winner of 1946 . . . Remember "The Beauty and the Beast" which created a sensation on the eastside? They're at the Bal-Tabarin . . . The HOLLYWOOD FOUR BLAZES are at the Penthouse currently . . . EDDIE DAUZAT has sold his barbecue spot on Western avenue. Plans to rest awhile and then open another place . . . BILLY ECKSTINE is playing Denver tonight (Thursday). He's due in L.A. to play at the Elks Sunday. After playing engagements here, Twentieth Century-Fox may spot him in a new film musical . . . JIMMIE LUNCEFORD has been chosen to record a special series of programs under the direction of the Armed Forces Radio Service for members of the Armed Forces exclusively. Lunceford and ork just closed a date on the Lincoln stage this week . . . According to press releases, Buddy Johnson's original composition, "They All Say I'm the Biggest Fool," has been adopted as the theme song of the Lonely Hearts Club of America. Ye Gods, what next?

GOSSIP ABOUT THIS AND THAT

A trip to San Francisco last weekend found Gene Hilyard and wife June stranded with their car. Said uncooperative piece of machinery broke down while the EAGLE circulation manager was driving from L.A. up there to pick up son Gordon, who has been vacationing . . . Also in the Bay City found Katherine Broussard dated up . . . Eugene Gash practicing like mad for his concert here . . . Melba Thompson and Josephine Rodriguez attending school . . . Nat and Yvonne Burbridge looking up Duke Ellington records . . . Shriners having a heck of a time at their convention . . . L. A. news finds Yvonne Shepherd in N. Y. She planed out last Friday evening. Will be gone about two weeks or so . . . Curley Monroe, swim director of Central Plunge, visited our office Monday to reveal the info that a group of young women are forming an aquatic club and he expects this to greatly stimulate swimming activities at the pool. You'll see a story on the sports page about this if you're interested . . . We said it once and we'll say it again. The Kappas dance at the Florentine Gardens on Wednesday night, July 31, is going to be one of THE events of the season. You can mail my passes to the EAGLE office, fellows.

WONDER IF THEY ARE FRIGHTENED?

The Al (Stomp) Russell Trio recently waxed a record titled "Dig Mister K. Kay Kay" as a protest song against the Ku Klux Klan. Since its release the number has been noticeably absent on the programs aired by disc jockeys on local radio stations. Many persons would like to hear that record. We wonder if the headlines of the newspapers in Georgia and Mississippi quoting Talmadge and Bilbo scared the boys into a permanent state of "hands off"?

FINAL GOSSIP ADD

Seen at the Ringside Club after the fights Tuesday night was the winner JOHNNY HAYNES and a big party . . . Looking chic and sweet as molasses candy at the Olympic the other night—ELSIE DeVILLE . . . Also saw ZUTTY SINGLETON, the drummer man, at the fights . . . Still getting plenty votes in the local bathing beauty contest—JO MITCHELL . . . And now I'll knock you down to a sweet one . . . honey brown with eyes that do things to you—JULIETTE BALL, who does quite a bit of film work. Saw her at Friend Creswell's Cresbar Tuesday night.

Cosmos Club Will Sponsor Brilliant Concert Pianist

EUGENE GASH

. . . To Debut Here

Preparations are rapidly nearing completion for the Los Angeles debut of Eugene Gash, brilliant young Negro concert pianist of Denver and San Francisco, who will be presented in concert under the sponsorship of the Cosmos Club, for the benefit of their scholarship fund, on Thursday night, August 15, at the Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma streets.

The club's program committee composed of Chairman Don Barksdale, Leroy Beavers, Eugene Williams and Wallace DeCuir are enthusiastic over the fine cooperation being given by leading citizens and persons high in musical circles. On the advisory committee are such names as William Grant Still, foremost American composer of classics, George Garner, excellent singer of international repute, Mabel Massengill, noted singer, Leon W. Steward, prominent in church and civic circles, and many others.

Joe Oliver, president of the Cosmos Club, has often laid stress upon the fact that this club composed mostly of young college and fraternity men of the city, intends to continue worthwhile projects for the advancement of the youth of Los Angeles. The concert of Mr. Gash is one of their most ambitious efforts and will add to their fund to provide scholarships for worthwhile students ,who are not able to continue their education otherwise.

Eugene Gash is generally hailed as a modern Negro Paderewski. After his debut in Town Hall in 1940 the "New Yorker" said . . . "A born pianist." Other expression of enthusiasm came from the leading New York City dailies. The New York Herald Tribune said, "His playing gave a first impression of marked technical talent and confidence; his fingers are agile and assured. He possesses ample energy manifested not at the expense of dynamic control, and, for the most part, his music was presented with clarity of outline and detail." The critic from the New York Sun said, "Though the race that has produced such sterling vocalists as Marian Anderson, Dorothy Maynor, Paul Robeson and Roland Hayes does not have an instrumentalist to place besides them, there is more promise of one today than in recent years. That promise was given last night by Eugene Gash who demonstrated substantial pianistic talent, and, what is more, a number of the intangibles that are the essentials of artistry . . . excellent fingers, a true sense of style and musical discrimination."

On his program here Mr. Gash will include two choral preludes by Bach-Busoni, Sonata, Opus 101, by Beethoven, three selections by Chopin and four by Debussy. He is presently in the finals of a national contest featuring Debussy's music which more than likely will bring him to Carnegie Hall in the Fall. Therefore Angelenos will indeed be fortunate to hear him at this time.

Tickets will soon be on sale. You are urged not to miss this musical treat of the year.

Eckstine Plays Oakland Aug. 17

OAKLAND—Billy Eckstine, former singer with Earl Hines and starred on the Philco "Hall of Fame" program, comes to the Oakland auditorium, August 17 for the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Annual ball.

Eckstine, praised by Walter Winchell and stamped "the most promising young song sensation," brings his own 20-piece orchestra. He will be supported by nationally known acts, including Billy Hughes and The Talking Crow, The Skating Millers, Chita and Carlos and the shapely Hollywood Debutante chorus line.

The dance is sponsored by ILWU local 6, which has a large membership of all races, creeds and colors.

Record News And Reviews

One of the all-time "greats' in the jazz world, Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong has re-appeared on wax for RCA Victor following an absence of several years. Sounding off last month with "No Variety Blues" and "Whatta Ya Gonna Do," the celebrated trumpeter now has another pair of winners, with his own original "Back O'Town Blues" on the initial side. In a low-down saga telling of that woman who lives "back o'town," Armstrong's husky-voiced vocalizing and crystal-clear trumpet tones are showcased to excellent advantage. The reverse side, "Linger Longer In My Arms," is sung with hearty sincerity by "Satchmo" with some solid jamming from the band boys.

Lonnie Johnson, whose earthy renditions of rugged, down-to-earth tunes have won him a wide following, creates another rough-and ready blues mood with his renditions "My Love Is Down" and "Somebody's Got To Go." The tunes have on infectious sway, accented with his piano, guitar and string accompaniment at a tricky rhythm.

Roosevelt Sykes, singing with his aggregation pounds out the beat of his piano as he provides vocal counterpoint with his own inimitable song-selling on "That's My Gal." The flipover is "Sunny Road."

One of the finest little combos currently appearing on the West Coast is that of Marvin Johnson's Blue Rhythm Boys, who are presently doing a nine-week stint at the popular Ringside Club on West Washington and South Western avenue, here in Los Angeles.

With four weeks remaining it seems reasonable to believe that there'll be a new contract awaiting Johnson's crew after the engagement is terminated. This writer found the Ringside packed Tuesday night and learned that this is the usual thing since the Blue Rhythm Boys have been there.

Excellent talent makes up the four-man aggregation. Marvin, who played a year with Count Basie, blows a mean alto sax and leads the band. He also vocalizes. Joe Lewis is the guitar man and also a fine violinist. Bill Austin, formerly with Louis Jordan, is at the "88s" and Edgar Mason is the guy who pounds the doghouse.

—EDDIE BURBRIDGE.

The all-girl orchestra, "International Sweethearts of Rhythm," are sharing headlinge honors with Joe Liggins and his Honeydrippers on the stage of the Lincoln theater currently. Led by the baton of curvacious Miss Ann Mae Winburn, the seventeen lively musicians race thru a fast rhythm revue. Joe Liggins, whose recording of "The Honeydrippers" put him in the hit parade class, easily holds his own in competition with the Sweethearts in entertaining the Lincoln audiences.

Tuesday, July 30th, will see the debut of the child boogie-woogie pianist, Frank "Sugar Chile" Robinson on the west coast. The career of this 7-year-old phenomenon, who opens on that date at the Lincoln with his own revue, is a tour de force unique in musical history. Ever since his slam bang piano technique was discovered by a flabbergasted master-of-ceremonies in the rehearsal hall of a Detroit Theatre, "Sugar Chile" has leaped from one triumph to another. Newsreel shots, appearances with Paul Whitman and "We The People," astounding grosses at theatre box offices, and a featured role with Van Johnson in "No Leave, No Love" have been mere milestones in his climb into the national spotlight.

PHIL SHOWS 'EM—Phil "Shoo Shoo Baby" Moore has begun placement and recording of a whole series of "psychological" songs, tunes based on the current sociological fad in present day society. As "Spell bound" was a psychological film from Hollywood, so Phil's "She's a Rank Chick" is a psychological song about a neurotic girl who chews "benzedrine bubble-gum."

Phil and his Phil Moore Four have just recorded "She's a Rank Chick" combined with Tiny Grimes' "Romance Without Finance (Is a Nuisance)" with an introduction written by Phil. That one Phil says, is a psychological song, too.

Phil's contribution to Semantics is a tune called "Hokey Mokey Poke, Skee de Wah de Squatch" and he has just disced still another Musicraft record of a romantic psycho-neurotic titled "It's Bigamy."

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

FLYING AS A STIMULATING SPORT

Lately several Negro vets of the air forces have formed flying clubs for the purpose of recreation and the instruction of civilian pilots. If you haven't been up and if you think that the roller coaster provides thrills you should try the air for exhilirating excitement. We think that these young men are much to be commended for entering a field hitherto unexplored by members of our race. They are the pioneers of the coming generation of the Negro in the air. It is possible that pilots they instruct may eventually qualify to fly the big commercial planes. If this is done a great service will have been rendered the race. We hope that these young men will look ahead with this in mind and not devote their time to the more frivilous and dangerous pastime of stunt flying.

ON RACING CARS AND MOTORCYCLES

Strange that in the line of sports very few Negroes induge in or rather take up driving speed cars in races or enter motorcycle races. Since we are more and more becoming integrated into new fields, it would be a splendid thing for sports-minded youngsters to train for this sport. Of course Old Man Discrimination may try to nip the thing in the bud but then we have to fight for whatever we get and we feel sure that ultimately Negro race car drivers will get a chance to do their stuff at Indianapolis yearly and other large track centers. You'll say this is far-fetched. So was the atom bomb until one dropped out of the clouds one day to wreck havoc.

JOHN THOMAS - IKE WILLIAMS BOUT

With West View Hospital on the sidelines insofar as the proposed John Thomas-Ike Williams lightweight title bout is concerned, it has been learned that a couple of other promoters have taken up the reins and the bout is almost a certainty. Principal holdback is the demand for a guarantee and the privilege of percentage demanded by the champion. Meanwhile, John rolls merrily along. He seems to have re-discovered his good right hand, having bowled over his last two opponents. We are very elated over this fact. We do not think there is another boxer that has the class of Thomas in the lightweight ranks. He was great without exhibiting any punching prowess. Now that he has regained his punch it is going to be awfully hard on his foes. Most of the time he can feint any fighter into leaving an opening for a split-second punch. However, in the past two years, due to an injury to the mauler, he hasn't been able to score many knockouts. It gave me a kick to read the report of one sports writer of a local daily last week after Thomas knocked out Arturo Barron. The Mexican boy went down more from exhaustion than the right hand John thew, he said. The poor chap evidently didn't see the punch or he was betting on the black corner and was mad about the whole thing. Barron was hit and hit hard. He had to be assisted to his corner after the fatal count. He was going strong until a barrage of punches thrown by Thomas set him up for the finishing blow. Barron himself would have told this guy the difference between exhaustion and stopping a terrific right-hand punch.

A SPORTS LINE OR TWO

Last Wednesday night Reginald Siki, Sepia grappler, won over Tommy Hartford to score his third straight victory here. . . . At Oakland last Wednesday night, Frankie Moore, 136, of that city, scored a disputed decision over Al Medrano, 133, Los Angeles. The two boys slugged it out and there were seven knockdowns during the hectic match. . . . Two new players have been added to the roster of the Los Angeles Rams pro grid team. They are Fred Davis, 250-pounder, a former Alabama All-American, and Fred Boensch, a member of this year's Stanford University eleven, who will not be ready for the pro team until 1947. Both are tackles. The Rams, who have Kenny Washington and Woody Strode listed in the lineup, play an opening game at Soldiers Field in Chicago on August 23. Their first game in L.A. will be against the Washington Redskins on September 6 at the Los Angeles Coliseum. It will not be a league game but the following game on September 29 will, and the Philadelphia Eagles will furnish the opposition.

MAYBE YOU DIDN'T KNOW

At Chicago last Thursday night Booker Beckwith of Gary, Ind., currently staging a comeback after service in the Army, scored a sixth round technical kayo over Nate Bolden, veteran Chicago heavyweight. The bout was scheduled for 10 rounds. . . . A report that Primo Carnera is returning to the United States as a wristler and guest referee makes one wonder. He will be under the management of Harry Harris of Los Angeles and will make a one-year tour. We wonder if the hidden purpose of Carnera is to grab off another match against Joe Louis. We guess the pleasant news of the purses Joe is now attracting has whetted the appetite of the Italian for some of that moola. Hope that Mike Jacobs doesn't get any ideas in his head about matching Joe and Primo. It definitely won't be any good for the fight game.

ATTACK ON JOHN THOMAS UNWARRANTED

In last Thursday's Daily News, Gordon Macker said plenty of unkind things anent the kayo victory of John Thomas over Arturo Barron last week. He belittled John's performance while exhorting Barron to the skies. We do not know why. Can't figure it out. It seems to us that the local papers should be in the corner of our prospective world champions, as Thomas most certainly is. Regarding the so-called powder ful punches of Thomas we'd like to point to his record. He has had 53 fights since turning pro in November of 1940. Out of this number he has won 49 fights, 18 of them by knockouts, almost 50% of the total. He lost four. These were to Willie Joyce, Henry Armstrong, Slugger White and Aldo Spoldi. In return bouts he beat Armstrong and Joyce and kayoed Spoldi. White was discovered unfit for further fighting by the boxing commissions of the nation so John couldn't get him in the ring again. If he had he would probably have reversed that decision also. Thus in about five years John has compiled a record that calls for praise rather than criticism. We'll forget Macker and his scathing remarks and add the info that Thomas fights Manuel Villa in the ball park at Albuquerque, New Mexico, tonight (Thursday), July 25.

'Happy' Gardena, Joe Hurst Rene Hewlett Display Form

The Los Angeles Autocrat Club chalked up a 4-2 win over a Dorsey Playground team in a classic softball tilt on Sunday.

With most of the club members absent on an outing to Val Verde, the team won with no support, and played the tightest game of the season.

The Dorseyites drove in two runs early in the game but the Autocrats rallied in the fifth inning with a fine display of batting by "Nattie" Dominique, John "Cool" Richards, Rene Hewlett and Harold "Happy" Gardena.

Joe Hurst, Autocrat manager, was the star of Sunday's game, with most of the putouts. His stellar fielding coupled with Harold Gardena's pitching and Rene Hewlett's base-kicking made an airtight infield which netted the team an errorless game.

Champ Joe Louis Cards 81 in All-American Golf Tournament

CHICAGO—Heavyweight Boxing Champion Joe Louis, backed by over three-fourths of Monday's gallery, traveled the course in 9-over-par 81, four strokes over the mark in the qualifying round for the All-American golf tournament. However, Joe will only play "exhibition rounds" during the money tourney, it was announced by Sponsor George S. May.

Young Women Will Form An Eastside Aquatic Club

The east side may soon have a group of "Aqua-belles" all it's own, according to Curley Monroe, recreation director in charge of Central Plunge at 1357 E. 22nd Street. In a statement to the press this week, he announced that an enthusiastic group of young women are forming an aquatic club and are asking other young women to join them. Both non-swimmers as well as swimmers will be accepted. "These girls are not only interested in learning to swim well," said Mr. Monroe, "but they also want to master some of the advanced swimming strokes, and to learn the fundamentals of life saving."

Plans have been made to continue this club's activity during the winter months in an indoor pool. All those who are interested in swimming for health and recreation, should contact Mr. Monroe at once. Call PR. 69039.

NEW YORK—It is with a great deal of pride that W. S. Welch, winning manager for the West the last two years in the East vs. West all-star game, is bringing his new and superb Cincinnati Crescents ball team here to Yankee Stadium, Sunday afternoon, July 28.

Johnny Haynes Chills Hafer

Proving that he is fast becoming a threat for the world's heavyweight title, Johnny Haynes, 223, reversed a kayo victory held over him by Walter Hafer, 206, by knocking that gentleman of fistic art as cold as an Eskimo igloo, in the third round of their scheduled 10-round main event at the Olympic Auditorium Tuesday night.

Hostilities were terminated after 2m. 59s. of the aforesaid round after Haynes lowered a dynamite-carrying right upon the pale jaw of his opponent. Seven thousand fans saw Haynes dump the game ex-Marine into the resin five times before Referee Johnny Indrisano tolled the fatal 10 over his squirming body.

Eddie Burbridge of the California EAGLE picked Billy Mitchell as the winner of the Bulova watch given the best preliminary boy every Tuesday night. Mitchell, showing plenty of class and a terrific punch, scored a t.k.o. over Joe Mack, 172, in the second heat of a four-round prelim. The winner scaled 167.

Acey Hainsworth, 174, defeated Frisco James, 176, in the six-round semi-windup during which both boys hit the canvas.

Results of the other fours: Freddy Bashore, 191, nodded Jack Glover, 204; Hardy Williams, 208, decisioned Nick Moreno, 193; and Roland Spencer, 174, outpointed Bob Taylor, 175.

L. A. Rams Will Try Kenny Washington At Quarterback Post In Start Of Season

Coach Adam Walsh's most newsworthy decision on the eve of taking his world champion Los Angeles Rams to training camp which opens next Monday at Compton College was made this week when he announced that the first position at which Kenny Washington will be given a trial will be quarterback.

The versatile 190-pound Negro All-American from UCLA has always played tailback in the single wing where he could make equal use of his running and passing powers and in a long gridiron career he has been equally devastating at either chore. In the T-formation, which is unfamiliar to him, Washington would be called upon chiefly as a ball carrier if he played either left or right halfback or if he were to be used at fullback. The quarterback's job is to handle the ball on virtually every play from center and to do nearly all the passing but very little running.

Walsh explained that if Kenny's legs hold up he may be shifted to another position after the rugged practice scrimmages. Washington recently underwent an operation to clear up old grid injuries to his legs.

Smith Pops Ump And Gets Fined In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, Mexico—When Mexico City played the Torreon baseball team, Theolic Smith, Negro hurler of the former team, became angry about a decision called against his team at Second Umpires Harry Donovan and Irvin Weimer, knocked the latter down and stalked off the field. He was fined $200 and suspended 15 days.

Bobby Zander Bests Wills

Hudson to Mix With Gonzales

Baby Gonzales and Eddie Hudson, a couple of willing mixers in the lightweight division, collide in the 10-round main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night, July 26.

Matchmaker Charley McDonald has also lined up quite an imposing array of preliminary bouts to round out the card.

Fabela Chavez Whips Escobar

Fabela Chavez, 132, punched out a unanimous 10-round decision over Al Escobar, 129½, at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night to reverse a nod held over him by Escobar, garnered at Las Vegas, Nev., recently. 6000 fans saw the sizzling bout.

In two of the 4-rounders, Jimmy Shans, 143, stopped Gene Loughridge, 149, in one heat, and Eddie Sangster, 133, drew with Barnardo Ramirez, 132.

BALTIMORE—Curtis (Hatchetman) Sheppard scored a technical kayo over Jimmy Bell of Washington, D. C., when Bell was unable to answer the gong Monday night here.

Local Talent On Rams Roster

West Coast gridiron talent is being added to the roster of the world champion Los Angeles Rams as rapidly as possible, a fact borne out by General Manager Charles F. (Chilo) Walsh's recapitulation here today showing that of 18 players acquired by the club since January when the decision was made to move the franchise from Cleveland to Los Angeles, nine played their college football on the Pacific Coast. Two of the players are Kenny Washington and Woody Strode of UCLA.

Swim Program Mapped by Pool

Curley Monroe announced that there will be several fine events at Central and other pools of the city up until August 30. They include a splash party for teenagers on July 29, the Sentinel swim meet under Abie Robinson on August 18, all-city swim meet at the L. A. Swim Auditorium August 23 and the Central Water Follies August 30.

Warren Clemens, for seven years trainer of the Chicago Cardinals, today was named by General Manager Chile Walsh as trainer of the world champion Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League.

Jimmy McDaniel Loses in Meet

Jimmy McDaniel, Sepia racket wielder, who has been stroking excellent tennis during the summer season, paired with Nick Buzolich in the finals of the men's doubles of the Southern California sectional qualifying meet for the Memphis (Tenn.) national public parks net tourney next month, and after three stiffs sets, went down in defeat before Bill Reedy and George Druliner last Sunday afternoon. Scores were 4-6, 6-2 and 9-7.

Pilgrim Baptist Is Host to Meet

The fifth annual session of the California State Baptist Convention, which met at the Pilgrim Baptist church, closed on Sunday evening, July 14, with the preaching of the final sermon by Rev. L. B. Moss of Riverside.

The Convention opened on Tuesday morning, July 8, Dr. A. Wendell Ross presiding. A large delegation was on hand to greet him, and the opening session was an indication of a successful meeting. The introductory sermon was preached by Rev. Theo. Jackson of Oakland, California.

The attendance of the meeting throughout surpassed the most sanguine expectations of the president and most others. Delegates represented evrey section of the state, and it was frequently expressed by many attending this unprecedented convention that it was the fulfillment of a hope long held by the Baptists of California.

Addresses of welcome were given by Rev. L. D. Stevens, president of the Baptist Minister's Union; Rev. E. R. Redd, on behalf of the Interdenominational Minister's Alliance; Rev. L. B. Moss, for the Providence Baptist Association; Rev. H. C. Charity, for the Independent Baptist Association; and Dr. Price Cobbs, for the Medical and Pharmaceutical Association. Response to the welcome addresses was made by Rev. H. J. James of Vallejo, California.

On Wednesday morning the Sunday School and Baptist Training Union Congress went into session with Mrs. Eva L. Luniey of Oakland, the president presiding, and Dean G. W. Reed in charge of classes. The sessions of the Congress were highlighted by the annual address of its president and the classes in Leadership Training and the Seminar for Ministers on which were enrolled more than 100 students. On Sunday afternoon certificates of credit were received by those successfully completing the required courses of study. Dean Reed presided at this service.

On Friday morning, the president, Dr. A. Wendell Ross, delivered his annual message, containing much food for thought. It was warmly and appreciatively received by the audience.

During the session resolutions touching upon the condition of the country and temperance were passed. They deplored the frightful situation and asked action on part of the nation through its president and all civic agencies that it might endeavor to alleviate the apparent chaotic conditions.

Thursday was Woman's Missionary Society day. Mrs. Mary E. Hubbard of Oakland is president of this department. The meetings were fraught with much interest. The annual address of the president was very significant and highly edifying.

Each division of this Convention presented a program tending to enlighten its constituency in reference to the phase of missionary endeavor in which it is engaged.

Mrs. Mozella Booker is president of the Young People's division of the Missionary Convention.

Mrs. Celestine Shambrey delivered a very meaningful and well prepared address on the subject, "Bends of Christian Fellowship Through Race Relations."

Friday and Saturday were given over largely to the business of the Convention and the election of officers. The following were elected to serve for the ensuing year: Dr. A. W. Ross, president; Rev. J. P. Hubbard, vice president at large; Rev. B. W. Wade, first vice president; Rev. H. C. Charity, second vice president; Rev. G. W. Killen, third vice president; Rev. L. B. Moss, general secretary, and Rev. H. C. Charity, treasurer.

Officers of the Sunday School and Baptist Training Union are as follows: Rev. H. L. James, president; Rev. I. Walter Holt, vice president; Mrs. Elsie Hunt, corresponding secretary, and Rev. G. W. Reed, dean.

The officers elected by the Woman's Missionary Convention were: Mrs. Mary E. Hubbard, president; Mrs. V. V. Taylor, vice president at large; Mrs. Lillie A. Brown, recording secretary; Mrs. G. Mims, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. C. Charity, treasurer; Mrs. Eva L. Luniey, president of the Young People's Department.

The Convention raised upward of $3000. The next session will be held in Vallejo, California.

Second A.M.E. Sets Programs

The affairs of Second A.M.E. church are moving along with pleasing and appreciative strides. On Sunday last the Pastor Rev. J. B. Isaacs preached to a full capacity audience and the Choir under the leadership of Luther Carpenter rendered most effective music. There were two accessions to the church. Immediately following the morning service The Women's Day committee served tea to a large group in preparation for Women's Day. The Quarterly Conference report showed the church in splendid condition with a net gain in the membership over the previous quarter and the financial status in very fine shape. The effort now is centered on meeting the Conference Claims. One auxiliary, the usher board, paid its full Conference assessment of $150.00 and others are reporting portions of their assessment.

The E.B.I. Circle under the leadership of Thelma Hall will sponsor A Night Sunday School on August 18. The Annual Tea this year will be sponsored by the men of the church. Women's Day is being led this year by Mrs. Wilma Flemings, who with her very splendid committee, hopes to make this day outstanding in every way.

The pastor, Rev. J. B. Isaacs, will occupy the pulpit on Sunday next speaking from the subject "The Ultimate Discovery" and the choir will render special music. You are invited to worship at Second A.M.E. Church where you will find the atmosphere most worshipful.

LES PETITE MADAMES

Meeting was called to order by the president, and old and new business was discussed.

Following the meeting, the club adjourned and four changes of bridge were played followed by a 5:30 dinner, served in the main dining room of the popular hotel. Mrs. Mack proved a perfect hostess.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Mildred Miles.

Christian Science Lesson Subject 'Truth'

"Truth" will be the Sunday Lesson-Sermon subject in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text is from Psalms: "Into thine hand I commit my spirit: thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth."

In a selection from John's Gospel, Jesus says, "I have many things to say and to judge of you: but he that sent me is true; and I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him." The passage continues, "As he spake these words, many believed on him. Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes, "The best sermon ever preached is Truth practised and demonstrated by the destruction of sin, sickness, and death." "Truth is affirmative, and confers harmony. All metaphysical logic is inspired by this simple rule of Truth, which governs all reality. By the truthful arguments you employ, and especially by the spirit of Truth and Love which you entertain, you will heal the sick."

Rosa Morrow Barefield

Into a humble home on Dec. 23, 1884, in Pineville, N. C., a child was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Morrow, who was given the name of Rosa Morrow. This child, with her parents, lived in Pineville until the age of 9. Greater opportunities were offered the family, and they sent Rosa to a girls' home in Knoxville, Tenn., while the other members of the family paved the way for her in Atlanta, Ga. Rosa remained in Knoxville until the age of 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrow felt there was nothing too good for their child, and they found still greater opportunities in Atlanta. A short time later, Rosa joined her parents in Georgia.

At this time, the formative period was most evident in the life of this most interesting person. She was beginning to realize the deeds, thought, and prayers, which have guided her, and the supreme sacrifice made on the part of her parents. At 16 the thoughts were formulating, and making a deeper impression upon her.

Realizing how much the Golden Rule had been in her life, a final decision was made. The profession of the great Florence Nightingale was only a torch by which Rosa Morrow would see her way. Once again, the family, always thinking of her best interests, moved to the great city of New York. There, as soon as possible, she enrolled in a university to complete a nurses' training course, and later affiliated with the great Lincoln hospital. Now we have come up to the year 1892, where this life was developed and molded into a useful character.

Perhaps, with some, this would have been the ultimate goal. But not so with Rosa. New York was not to be the end of the journey. At this point, the year of 1908, she brought the family to the ever-growing and progressive Los Angeles, Calif. There was so much to be done, so much so in her profession.

They deemed it necessary to be affiliated with one of God's institutions, and help to carry on His great work. The family joined the People's Independent Church of Christ, under the pastorage of the late Rev. N. P. Greggs, whose work is being carried on in such a beautiful fashion by its present minister, Rev. Clayton D. Russell. This family was known to be pillars of this great church.

However, more and more it was becoming evident that the parents had done more than their share. They had almost completed their work. Just before they were to reach the land of perfection, there was a final step they were most anxious for their daughter to take. They must add an additional link in this unbroken chain, a link which could give them much-needed support. So on Oct. 3, 1911, Rosa Morrow was united in holy matrimony to Mr. J. W. Barefield. This has been a beautiful relationship, from the beginning of its earliest existence.

Several years later, realizing that their reward was at hand, one by one the parents merely slipped away, into the land of pure delight, where saints immortal reign. And now the link once again is getting stronger, in that great land, for the members of the family are merely moving home. So at this time, Rosa Morrow Barefield is merely saying to you, devoted husband, cousins, and other relatives:

A charge to keep I have
A God to glorify
A never-dying soul to save
And fit it for the sky.

Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding.—Proverbs 4:7.

If you wish to train up a child in the way he should go, just skirmish ahead on that line yourself.—Josh Billings.

On The Sidewalk

By C. A. B.

FOR the past few weeks I have published in this column many answers to Jennie Wainsworth's contention that the Ku Klux Klan was doing a fine job, keeping Negroes in their place. Mrs. Wainsworth also condoned the Rev. Perkins' statement that Negroes were set apart and branded by God, and that "it is wrong and sinful for us—(meaning white people)—to mix with them."

Now Collier's magazine is one of the nation's most reliable sources of printed information. In its Thursday, Aug. 3 issue, Collier's came out with an expose' that proposes this question to Jennie Wainsworth, and likewise to Rev. Perkins as well as slapping the white supremacy contention smack on the jaw. Who got out of line?

This is what Collier's said in round figures and facts: In the United States today there are between five and eight million people who have Negro blood, but who are classified as white. And from 15,000 to 30,000 Negroes who "pass over" to the white side each year.

WHEN I think of the effect this last statement will have on Rev. Perkins, Mrs. Wainsworth, Bilbo, Talmadge, Rankin and the whole "shebang," some of whom I suspect, have a dark tint, for the moment I am hilarious.

So there is some basis for the theory that the American Negro, like the Negroes of England, will be ultimately absorbed by the whites. At least this is the opinion of Herbert Asbury, associate editor of Collier's.

The article also declares that, contrary to common belief, a man or woman of little Negro blood cannot have a child of obvious Negro blood.

THE article also emphasizes the fact that Negroes do not "pass" as white people because they consider the white man a superior being, but because of the obvious social and economic advantages to be gained. And contrary to general belief, Negroes who attempt to "pass" are seldom exposed by other Negroes.

"Supporters of the theory of ultimate absorption point out that from an anthropoligical point of view, and in the social sense as well," the Negro has already been absorbed in Mexico, and that the process is well under way in Brazil and other countries.

The Collier article's analysis of the Negro question failed to dig deep enough to tell us just when and how the mixture started. There is no reason to believe that the first, forced African immigrants who landed on American soil, or perhaps to be accurate, Indian soil, in the 16th century had been contaminated.

IF there is anyone thing that should cause the American white man to hang his head in remorse, it's the job he accomplished in bringing to fruition by illegitimate means a very mixed race, some fifteen million Americans called Negroes. And he does not now, like his handiwork.

Thirty years ago, here in Los Angeles, I met an ex-slave. She was a mixture of white and Indian with a sprinkling of Negro blood. The latter, of course, classified her as a Negro.

This woman displayed deep whelps on her body, more than a half century old. She told me that it took this sort of brutality to froce her into submission to her white owner's advances.

AFTER describing the beatings administered by this slave owner, she produced pictures of some five or six children; his children and hers. These children became the father's slaves to be sold on the auction block to the highest bidder. And today this mother's progeny are the victims of mob violence, the KKK, restrictive covenant, and all of the persecution techniques prescribed by Hitler's stormtroopers.

Perhaps the traditional question of the racist—Do you want your daughter to marry a Negro?—should now be replaced with—Was your mother a Negro?

But then who could answer this question with any degree of certainty?

Thousands Storm OPA On Rents

Record crowds stormed OPA's downtown rent office during the past three days as tenants and landlords sought to clear up the confusion born during the 25-day lapse of rent control.

Tenants complaining of wholesale eviction proceedings starting during the lapse period outnumbered landlords by three to one, in the queue extending nearly half a block at 1931 S. Broadway.

Yesterday's assemblage, OPA officials said, was "one of the largest ever handled by this rent interviewing office." Approximately 2000 persons were given answers to questions, mostly concerning evictions.

Tenants who received eviction notices and rent increases during the period from July 1 to 25 were assured they could disregard them.

Fanning Names Another Negro As Supervisor

In another precedent-shattering move, Postmaster Michael J. Fanning early this week appointed another Negro to the post of supervisor.

Alva Garrot, formerly assistant supervisor at Station K, is now the supervisor of the Watts Station. The vacancy created by Garrot's promotion was filled by William T. Jones, clerk at Station K.

These latest promotions came on the heels of other liberal actions and policies instituted by Postmaster Fanning since his senate ratification.

When Postmaster Fanning took over there were only three Negro supervisors in the Los Angeles postal department. But now, in less than six months, with the five appointed by Postmaster Fanning, the total is eight.

It was pointed out by observers that the three original Negro supervisors were appointed by postmasters who preceded Fanning and not at one time by any one of them in his term of office.

City Council Bars Protest On M.&M. Vote

Leo Gallagher, prominent labor attorney, last Tuesday accused members of the city council of cultivating a Nazi-Fascist viewpoint when they refused to give him the floor to ask consideration of earlier council actions commending the reactionary Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association for its fiftieth year of "service on behalf of the community."

Councilman Parley Christensen requested the council to give Gallagher five minutes, but Councilman Harby immediately raised the technicality that there was unfinished business on the clerk's desk.

The desk cleared, Christensen again moved that the council hear Gallagher. Councilman Roden seconded the motion. Councilman Cronk objected, asserting that members of the council already had "studied" Gallagher's communication. The motion was lost 7-5.

In his letter to the council, Gallagher had presented documentary evidence from reports of the National Labor Relations Board and the senate committee on education on the reactionary, anti-labor attitude and acts of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association.

Youth Drowns As Guards Ignore Plea For Rescue

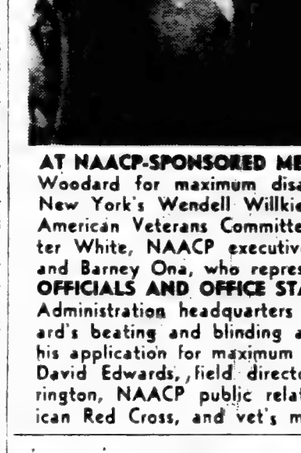
Goode who resided with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, at 2283 W. 25th street, was a member of a swimming party playing on a raft in the lake. Members of the party had been pretending that they were drowning and when Goode called for help, he was laughed at.

But his uncle, Mr. Lewis, noticed that the youth was struggling and tried to rescue him. When Lewis got to Goode, Goode grappled with him and Lewis shook him off. Lewis dived again but failed to locate the youth in the murky waters of Elsinore.



JAMES GOODE

Lewis then sought the help of two white lifeguards who said that it would be useless to try to find Goode. They also asserted it was outside of their jurisdiction, not in their section of the beach. Lewis then frantically sought the aid of the fire department who recovered the body after a 20-minute search.

All efforts to revive Goode failed. He was pronounced dead by a doctor.

Goode had only been in Los Angeles for nine days. He had come here to assist his uncle in the contracting business.

Dixie Solons Resent Demand for Probe of Multiple Ga. Lynching

WASHINGTON—Two southern senators vigorously protested what they termed an attempt to "ridicule" Georgia, when Senator Knowland of California inserted in the Congressional Record a news dispatch on the lynchings of two women and their husbands in Georgia, urged that the Justice Department cooperate fully to arrest and prosecute the murderers.

Gov. Arnall Denounces Massacre of 4, Orders Stern Hunt for Fiends

A wave of shocked anger, culminating in a mass march and delegation to the White House in Washington, D. C., swept the nation this week on the heels of the multiple lynching of two women and their husbands by a white mob in the state of Georgia, scene of racist incitement in the recent Georgia state primaries.

Los Angeles' citizens tomorrow night will demand vigorous federal and state action against the lynchers, at a meeting in the Wesley Methodist church, 8th and San Julian, at 8 o'clock. Called by the John Kinloch chapter of the United Negro & Allied Veterans of America, the meeting will be addressed by Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, publisher-editor of the California EAGLE, Carlton Moss, Lena Horne, Dan Wheeldon, Frank Alexander and Rev. Rakestraw.

The four lynch victims were Roger Malcolm and his wife, George Dorsey and his wife. The details of the grisly massacre were told by Loy Harrison, a white farmer who was taking the two couples to his farm in a car after furnishing bond for Malcolm who was charged with stabbing his employer, a white man.

RIDDLED WITH BULLETS

The five were waylaid by the mob at a bridge, near Macon, Ga. Harrison said the murder band was led by a "tall, dignified-looking white man," who "looked like a retired businessman."

The two couples were taken from the car, lined up four abreast, and then to the count of "one, two, three" by the leader, three volleys were fired into the quartet.

At least 60 bullets were pumped into the bodies of the two lynch victims and their wives. The upper part of the Anti-Poll Tax Bill Doomed by Republicans

WASHINGTON — The Senate yesterday (Wednesday) refused to limit debate on anti-poll tax legislation, virtually billing the measure for this session.

The test came on a petition to invoke closure rule, under which each Senator would have been limited to one hour of debate until the poll tax issue was settled, thus blocking any filibuster against the measure.

The motion to limit debate was defeated, 39 to 38, with many Republicans voting with the Southern Democrats.

Six Mississippi Whites Jailed in 5th Reported Lynching in One Week

LEXINGTON, Miss.—Six white men have been charged with the whipping to death of a Negro whom they accused of stealing a saddle, Holmes County Atty. Pat M. Barrett said yesterday.

The lynching is the fifth in as many days, following hard on the heels of the multiple lynching of two Negro couples near Macon, Ga. Significantly all five lynchings occurred in the two states whose recent primary elections were marked by race hatred incitement on the part of Senator Bilbo in Mississippi and Eugene Talmadge in Georgia.

The body of Leon McTatie was found in a Sunflower county bayou last Wednesday, Barrett said, and the six men were arrested early yesterday.

According to Sheriff W. L. Murtagh, the man had been thrown from a car and was dead at the time.

"At least some of the six men charged have admitted whipping the Negro on Monday (of last week) over the alleged theft of a saddle," Barrett said.

"The whipping allegdly occurred on a farm near West, Miss., when McTatie denied stealing the saddle which belonged to Jeff Dodd."

Barrett said the arrested men "stoutly denied" doing any more than "whipping" McTatie.

The county attorney identified the six men accused as Dodd and his son, Jeff Dodd, Jr., Vernon Hale and Spencer Ellis, all of Holmes county, and Dixie Roberts and his nephew, James E. Roberts of Greenwood, Miss.

Sheriff Murtagh later reported, evidently as an afterthought, that McTatie was killed by "two other Negroes."

Vets' Group Calls Rally for Friday Night to Press for Action on Dixie Outrages

"These lynchings are Hitlerism all over again in our own country."

So states the John Kinloch chapter of the United Negro & Allied Veterans of America in a call for a giant protest rally tomorrow evening, eight o'clock, at the Wesley Methodist church, 8th and San Julian.

The meeting will be addressed by Lena Horne, famous star of stage, screen and radio; Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, fighting editor-publisher of The California EAGLE, Carlton Moss, author of "The Negro Soldier," Don Wheeldon of the UNAVA., Frank Alexander will chair the meeting, Rev. Communist Chief Speaks Aug. 15 At Shrine Aud.

The two women victims were sisters.

TRUMAN REFUSES TO SEE DELEGATION

The delegation to the White House was organized by the National Negro Congress and included representatives of the organziation from Massachusetts, Connecticut, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan, New Jersey and New York.

Backed by a crowd of more than 1000 Washingtonians, the delegation warned the White House that the Monroe, Ga., multiple lynching would touch off race riots "all over the country" unless federal troops are sent into Georgia promptly.

Presidential Assistant David K. Niles conferred with the leaders of the delegation, who came away openly bitter at their inability to obtain an audience with the President.

New York members of the delegation had come direct from a mass meeting in Harlem which called upon President Truman to "speak out in sharp condemnation against all those citizens who condone, encourage or participate in terroristic attacks upon Negro citizens."

Another resolution adopted by the meeting declared the lynching came "as a direct result of the campaign of race hate and 'white supremacy' propaganda deliberately carried on by Sen. Theodore Bilbo of Mississippi and Gov.-elect Eugene Talmadge of Georgia."

ARNALL OFFERS REWARD

In Atlanta, Ga., outgoing Gov. Ellis Arnall denounced the lynchings, offered rewards totalling $10,000 for "a solution of the mob killing," and directed the Georgia Bureau of Investigation "to keep its men in Walton county until the guilty parties have been identified and turned over to law-enforcement officers."

"Civilization is incensed over this outrage," Arnall said.

The governor, whose term expires next Jan. 4, almost injected the recent gubernationorial campaign in which the chief issue was "white supremancy" into a special press conference.

He started to comment that the crime followed on the heels of the nomination of Eugene Talmadge, but quickly changed the subject.

The only comment to come from Talmadge, who has been vacationing in California, was that "such incidents are to be regretted."

'BEST PEOPLE' KEEP MUM

The head of the Georgia state police yesterday told newsmen he has been hampered in his investigation of the multiple lynching because "the best people in town won't talk about it."

"They have an idea who it is," Major William E. Spence said.

The lynchings took place on the eve of the departure of Secretary Byrnes for Paris where he will attend the United Nations peace conference and continue his efforts to impose American notions of democracy upon the peoples of Europe.

A shocked, speactator-packed courtroom head a five-year-old girl haltingly describe how her mother, Mrs. Esther Diggs, murdered her two other children, Wesley, 3½, and Audrey, 2½.

The little girl, Elaine, a Wattes kindergarten student, was placed on the witness stand as the star witness against Mrs. Diggs, who previously had admitted suffocating the two children.

"Mama put her hands over their mouths. Then they lay down, and didn't get up to play with me again." That was Elaine's testimony which laid a basis for admitting Mrs. Diggs' confession into evidence, and resulted in the woman being held on two counts of murder by Municipal Judge Joseph Chambers.

Police witnesses told how Mrs. Diggs said that she had killed her two "darlings" to "rebuke the devil," when the children failed to repeat Biblical verses Mrs. Diggs read them. Elaine repeated the verses, and thus saved her own life.

Mrs. Diggs sobbed throughout the testimony of Elaine and at the close of the hearing made a lunge for the child, clasping the youngster to her bosom as the little girl threw her arms around her mother's neck and asked her:

"When will you come home again, mama?"

Mrs. Diggs was then taken back to the jail by a matron to await her arraignment. It is believed she will be found insane and recommitted to an asylum, from where she was released only a few months ago.

A "Health Workshop," sponsored by the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority's National Health Project, will be one of the big features during the AKA boule, which opens here next Thursday, August 8.

The health meeting, a closed business session, will be presided over by Estelle Riddle, of New York, and will be held Friday morning, August 9, at the Unitarian Center, 2936 West Eighth st., headquarters for the six-day conference.

The far-reaching project was started several years ago with the scope being divided into seven regions. Following are the regions covered and the directors of each:

North Atlantic — Dr. Mary Wright, Cambridge, Mass.

South Atlantic—Dr. Dorothy Ferebee, Washington, D. C.

Great Lakes — Dr. Roberta Wooten, Cincinnati.

Central—Dr. Opratee Smith-Johnson, St. Louis.

Southern—Dr. Margaret Blake, Tampa, Fla.

Mrs. Flora B. Chisholm, of New York, is executive secretary.

The project's chief contribution to date has been an annual "mobile clinic," a unit sent out during the summer months covering areas in Mississippi and designed to bring medicinal aid to needy persons in the Delta area. This unit is composed of a physician, nurses and complete equipment.

NAACP to Close Drive With Rally Sunday, Aug. 11

A mammouth rally in protest of the mob murders in Monroe, Georgia, which will be held Sunday, August 11 at 3:30 p.m. at the Peoples Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma streets, will mark the close of the local NAAPC membership campaign.

Lena Horne and other notable speakers will headline the program, placing special emphasis on "what the people of California can and must do to prevent a rising tide of mob violence and terror."

The current NAAPC membership campaign, which closes on August 11, already has surpassed all previous records with a report to date of nearly 11,500 memberships, amounting to almost $18,000, and strong indications that the final reports will push the drive well over the 13,000 member mark.

Opposes Fare Hike Plea by L. A. Transit Co.

Denial of the Los Angeles Transit Lines' application for higher fares has been urged in a brief filed with the State Railroad commission by the Committee for No Fare Increases.

"When the commission . . . is resolving its doubts, it should remember that it is deciding whether to take an additional $2,000,000 from the shrunken wages of the consumers of this community and place it in the pockets of the corporation," the brief stated.

The company claims that if it doesn't get a fare increase it will have a deficit of $1,436,000, the brief stated that one of the commission's own engineers testified htat "even under present rates, the company will show a net income of $714,192."

THE MILKY WAY

A casual view of the sky shows that the stars are not uniformly distributed; that there are regions with little or no stars and others with quite a few. More careful examination shows that the number of stars in any unit of area in the sky increases as approach is made to a broad hazy belt of misty light.

If this misty light is examined with the telescope, or better, photographed with a portrait lens, it is shown to be made up of myriads of stars. We conceive our sidereal system to be roughly the shape of a grindstone or a thin watch, with the solar system somewhere near the center. If we look toward the edge of the system we see many stars and this produces in the sky the appearance which we call the Milky Way.

H. S.—Dear Prof. Herman: I have been reading your column for sometime. I now have a problem which I wish you to help me solve. Will I ever see this man again? Why hasn't he written?

Ans.—Probing into the matter I find that this man thought it unwise to continue the friendship with you under the existing circumstances, hence his not writing. I suggest you forget about him and concentrate your attention upon someone your own age and equal.

A. H.—Can you give me some information regarding the game of Tennis?

Ans.—Tennis, as the name popularly applied to lawn tennis although it is more correctly used to designate royal or court tennis, which is played on a limited number of expensive indoor courts. In 1874 Major Walter Wingfield patented specifications for lawn tennis, adapted from the ancient game of court tennis and with simplified features that were suitable for an outdoor game. Since that time the game has become quite popular.

Miss J. W.—Will I ever marry?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your question I find that you have been living with this man as his common-law wife and have three children. I would like to help you and suggest your writing in for a private reply at your earliest convenience.

I.B.H.—Dear Sir: I have been reading your various questions and answers in the paper for years, and have written in myself several times for private replies. Would you kindly answer this question in the column. What became of the clipping?

Ans.—A careful analysis of your questions indicates the fact that this clipping was loaned to you to read, hence your being so disturbed about losing it. I am of the opinion that it was thrown out with some other paper by mistake. I suggest you either write or contact the paper from which this clipping was cut, they have other issues and you may replace this without any further worry.

K.F.J. — Will I ever become Pete's one and only?

Ans.—My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals the way you feel about this boy. And is also reveals his indifferent attitude and manner. He is very fond of you, but he hasn't settled down yet, and it would be wise for you to take this into serious condition.

E.M.R.—Will we have the same teachers this fall?

Ans.—A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that most of your teachers are planning on returning in the fall, and you will find them helpful and kind.

Dear Prof. Herman: I have only consulted you twice, but the two letters I have received from you have helped me so much. As soon as I read them, I realized that I had found a friend that would help me solve my problems. I will always be grateful to you, professor, for the wonderful help and guidance you have given me and will tell my friends about you.

M.S.: Will everything work out all right?

Answer: According to your Zodiacal Sign, you and your husband will be together in the future, and through your own efforts, my friend, you can build a happy and successful marriage.

H.W.: What does the future hold fo me?

Answer: I find that your future life will offer you opportunities that will enable you to accomplish your desires. You will also attain the happiness you want and be with the one you love.

T.F.: Shall I marry now?

Answer: After a careful study of your question, I advise you and your boy friend to finish high school and be sure you have completed your studies before you marry. Since you both have the desire to further your educations, and a secret marriage would only be a hindrance to you both, it would be best to wait awhile before carrying out your plans to marry.

Dear Sir: For many months I have enjoyed using your Prayer and Meditation Combination, and I must let you know how much good it has done for me. My friend is more at rest, and life seems to be more peaceful. Enclosed you will find a money order to cover four packages of Prayer and Meditation Combination which my friends are ordering since they have seen the wonderful benefits that haye come to me.

Answer: It is indicated that you have misplaced the picture somewhere around the house.

R.R.: Should I leave?

Answer: I find that your fiancee has promised to marry you on the promise that you leave your home. I suggest that you urge her to marry you now, since you have a good job in this town, and that you remain on this job until you have accumulated something and then consider moving. She wants to leave this small town for a larger city and feels that her only chance of moving is to make you promise to move when you marry. I am sure that you will be able to make her see your point, and consider moving later on.

V.R.: Will I accomplish my desire?

Answer: If you begin now to develop your character and take up the necessary dramatic studies that you will need, you will be equipping yourself to become an actress. It is revealed to me that you will have the opportunity to show your ability and be able to carry out your desire.

San Berdoo Man Held on Drug, Robbery Charge

SAN BERNARDINO — Albert Burdette, of 2217 W. 9th st., San Bernardino, has been arrested by sheriff's deputies on charges of robbery, criminal assault and illegal possession of narcotics.

The charges grew out of a complaint made by Herman Mendoza, a neighbor, who told the sheriff's office that Burdette held him up at the point of a revolver at a lonely spot several miles from town, where he was parked in a car with his girl friend, Miss Priscilla Tyler.

Mendoza claims that Burdette, brandishing a pistol, forced him to hand over his wallet, then slapped Miss Taylor and criminally attacked her.

Sheriff deputies who searched Burdette's home claimed they found a 32-caliber pistol in the house, and a growing crop of marihuana in the back yard.

The accused man denies the charges. His relatives have engaged Atty. Curtis C. Taylor of Los Angeles to handle his defense. Taylor spent last Friday conferring with his client and going over the scene of the alleged crime.

Hearing on the case has been set for August 16. Burdette is an old resident of San Bernardino and is generally regarded as a hard-working and respected citizen.

Citizens Urged to Vote for All Seven Propositions on August 6

How a Science Museum will dramatize the world-renowned scientific assets of Ranch La Brea tar pits at Hancock park with passage at the August 6 election of Proposition No. 5 was revealed Tuesday with release of architectural plans for the projected $400,000 structure.

Included in the plans are a hall of Rancho La Brea fossils, another hall to exhibit the history and geological development of this area, and a diorama depicting an Ice Age environment. Included in the scientific museum will be a lecture hall for the presentation of illustrated lectures on the ages before Man.

"Of cultural interest and advantage to all citizens of Los Angeles County will be proposed replacement of present landscaping with plants of the Pleistocene Period interspersed with life-size reproductions of Pleistocene mammals in characteristic attitudes," John Austin, chairman of the Citizens' Committee for Propositions No. 5 and No. 6, the cultural bond issues, announced.

Austin urged all citizens to vote for all seven propositions vided for community welfare, at the August 6 election. Prohe said, are some 44 million dollars for new courthouse, jail at Castaic, juvenile detention home, two beach parks, new art institute, and incinerators to dispose of rubbish in addition to the Science Museum and additions to the County Museum at Exposition Park.

Parley Friday to Plan Coordinated Fight on Covenants

Foster, national chairman of the Communist party U.S.A., will discuss his party's stand on a number of key questions hammered out at the recently concluded session of its national committee.

The fight he led against the "revisionist" policies of the now expelled former leader of the Communist Party, Earl Browder, lends special interest to Foster's first appearance here in three years.

This will be Foster's only appearance in Los Angeles, as part of his nation-wide tour which will also take him to San Francisco, where he will address a similar meeting before returning to New York.

Campaign for Prosecution of Ga. Lynchers to Be Pressed at Rally Called by NNC Sponsors

In a dramatic meeting which found its participants unanimous in the decision to vigorously protest the recent mass lynching of two Negro men and their wives in Georgia, and to demand that the guilty men be brought to justice, the Los Angeles provisional committee of the National Negro Congress Tuesday voted to call a mammoth day voted to call a mammoth August 11 at Zion Hill Baptist church, McKinley at 52nd street at 3 p.m.

Plans have been made to secure the very best informed speakers and to present a program aimed to make Los Angeles and the nation cognizant of the deep rooted evils underlying this dastardly crime.

Petitions are now being circulated to secure thousands of signatures to be sent the President of the United States and to the United Nations demanding that every means be utilized to see that these murderers be brought to justice and adequately punished for their crimes. Churches, labor groups, newspapers, civic, and social organizations are being asked to acticely support this mass meeting.

This committee also launched a membership drive "to enroll every man and woman in Los Angeles who believes that democracy must become a reality and who is willing to give his support in the fight for justice and freedom for all."

Watts Hotel Operator Loses Bout With OPA

James Hayes, operator of the Hotel Teresa, 610 East Fifty-fourth street, was loser in a court battle with the Office of Price Administration this week, following the action of Municipal Court Judge Ida May Adams awarding the government agency judgment in the sum of $1450.

The suit directed against the landlord alleged overcharges to tenants in 29 separate instances and the judgment represents $50 for each overcharge.

According to Samuel B. Seinbach, rent enforcement attorney, Hayes is also a defendant in a criminal action filed in April by the U. S. Attorney. The government had charged the landlord with exacting over-ceiling rents from tenants at the Southway hotel operated by him at 5119 South Avalon blvd., and failing to maintain proper records. Hayes pleaded guilty to one of nine counts contained in the information. He will appear August 5 for sentence. Named also in the complaint were Agnes Corsey, co-owner, and Hazel Slaughter, manager, of the hotel.

Steinbach said that a third action, an OPA civil suit based on alleged violations at the Southway hotel, is pending in the superior court.

FREED OF DRUNK DRIVING CHARGE

Bert Charles Davis, of 2621 South Gramercy place, this week was found not guilty of driving while intoxicated when his car struck a pedestrian at the intersection of Sixth street and Western avenue, last June 10. Davis was defended by Atty. Charles H. Matthews in Superior Judge Charles W. Friche's court.

Files Suit to Block Sale of HousetoNegro

Another suit to deny black Americans the right to live in so-called "restricted" residential areas of the city was filed in superior court yesterday.

Eugene C. Carrasco and his wife, Mabel, brought the action against their neighbor, Albert Josephson, who lives at 2276 West 23rd street, charging that their neighbor plans to sell his home to ten unnamed Negroes, who are included in the suit. The court is asked to prevent the sale.

The property lies within a "restricted" area bounded on the north by West 23rd st; on the south by West 24th St; on the east by Gramercy and on the west by Cimarron.

The racist suit was filed by Attorney Elizabeth Eberhard, white.

Asks Probe of Army Air Base After Slaying of Negro Private

SPOKANE—Representative Walt Horan R., (Wash.), acting upon request of the Communist party here, has announced he will ask the adjutant general to investigate mounting tension between Negro and white troops at nearby Geiger army air base.

Friction between white and Negro servicemen, fanned by traditional army jimcrow policy, has reached dangerous proportions at the camp, the Communist party charges.

On July 17, following boxing bouts between Negro and white soldiers, a Negro serviceman, Private Samuel Hicks, was found dying of a fractured skull on the shoulder of a road leading through the Negro area. It was along this road the troops returned to their quarters after the show.

A white sergeant told angry Negro GIs he had seen two white soldiers slug the young Negro. The white soldiers ran off in the darkness, he said. Negro troops conducted a fruitless search for the sluggers.

After tension had subsided and the men had returned to their barracks, a force of white military police, armed with guns, clubs and tear gas, invaded the Negro area. A Negro soldier was fired upon and two gas bombs tossed into the Negro quarters.

Finally, Captain Woods, described by Negro soldiers as "the only white officer we trust," induced Col. Eric Dougan to withdraw the MPs.

Edison Workers Enjoy Picnic

One of the best picnics ever held—this was the unanimous opinion of nearly 100 building maintenance and service employees of the Southern California Edison Company and their families, who gathered Sunday afternoon and evening at South Park for fun and a delicious dinner. All the time-honored picnic features were included in the program and prizes were awarded the winners of the various contests.

The picnic was in charge of a committee representing the Edison service employees of the company's general office at 5th street and Grand avenue, Los Angeles. Garnett M. Tymony was chairman of the committee, and the members serving with him were Hugh Lowery, James Pyles, and Stanley Banks.

At the conclusion of the afternoon program of picnic festivity a delicious dinner was served by Loggins Food Products Caterers. The menu included delicious steaming hot fried chicken with mashed potatoes and gravy, tomato salad, milk, coffee, ice cream and cake.

Louis, Welles To Head Human Welfare Drive

NEW YORK—When the Southern Conference for Human Welfare has its much needed drive here in September it will be headed by two Greats—Joe Louis and Orson Welles.

Plans for the drive are well under way in the New York office here where petite and charming Branson Price, who has just returned from a southern tour, is preparing an up to the minute report of conditions in the South. The group, which was organized in 1938 with the purpose "To improve economic, social, spiritual and cultural conditions of the people of the South without regard to race, creed, or color," has a brilliant record of achievements.

Plans for the drive will be discussed at a luncheon for the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance at the Hotel Theresa this week.

The first mint established in the United States was located at Philadelphia, in 1792. The coin produced was the copper cent.

Beautiful 'Get Well' Card Is Sent Columnist

Gertrude (Candid Comment's) Gipson, recently received one of the most novel and beautiful "Get well" cards ever seen anywhere. It was sent from W. Buffalo Mitchell, a Negro inmate of San Quentin prison, who learned to print, paint and draw less than three year ago. The design, a rose, exquisitely drawn in oil is exceedingly delicate in texture. Mitchell, who writes that Mrs. Gipson's column is more than a "tonic" to the fellows there, writes in a beautiful hand-done script on the inside of the huge card in the artist's own lovely printing the following verse:

Gertrude:
Here's a story of good wishes,
More than words can ever tell,
Every line a cherry greeting
Filled with thoughts to make you well;
It's a friendly little booklet
Bound with wishes warm and true
And the ending will be happy,
When good health returns to you.

NAM Boasts Of Crippling Price Controls

NEW YORK—"The public was strongly in favor of extending price controls without restrictions," but the National Association of Manufacturers saw to it "that senators were overwhelmed with requests by industry to appear in opposition."

That's the proud boast of NAM President Robert R. Wason in relating, in a confidential report to the boards of directors of member companies, how the powerful manufacturers lobby stymied the will of the American people had enacted a booby trap price control bill with crippling amendments.

Detailing the popular pro-OPA sentiment and even the reluctance of some businessmen to testify for industry at the house hearing on OPA, Wason told how the full-scale NAM attack on price control turned the congressional tide against OPA.

"By the time of the Senate hearing," he said, "NAM's vigorous campaign had raised such public question about the desirability of OPA that senators were over-whelmed with requests by industry to appear in opposition.

"Thus NAM's willingness to fight industry's battle was the action that really broke the ice and kept OPA from being extended unamended for a year."

THOMAS E. JACKSON

Thomas Jackson Now With Dairy

Mr. Thomas E. Jackson, veteran recently discharged and former supply clerk with the 632nd Port Company, is now employed with the United Independent dairies. His present position is a credit to the principles our boys fought and died for, in that, he is the first to be employed by any milk concern in this area.

With the many products offered, and the basic aim to give personal, courteous, and efficient service to both old and new customers alike, the company, through Mr. Jackson, has already won wide acclaim with the added fact that Negroes would be hired for all districts populated dominantly by them.

The company is planning to operate at least eight trucks in the immediate vicinity, but in order to do this, the people must support this racial minded concern in a manner befitting the efforts and consideration which they are showing.

Mr. Jackson is proving that the Negro can efficiently perform for any firm which considers him as a worker and consumer.

The Company, through Mr. Jackson, is now taking applications for new customers in the following territory for the time being: from Long Beach blvd., west to San Pedro st., and from First st., South to Fiftieth st. The orders may be given by contacting the United Independent Dairies at AN. 4322, or after six p. m. at Mr. Jackson's residence, PR. 3947. (Adv.)

Dr. DuBois Suggests Move to Present UN With Africans' Demands

All groups and persons interested in "freedom and self-rule" for the people of Africa were invited this week to consider sending delegates to a meeting in New York this month to consider ways and means of securing representation for the African people in the first session in this country of the assembly of the United Nations, scheduled for September in New York.

The invitation, issued by Dr. W. E. DuBois, as president of the Pan African Congress, points out that "at least 150,000,000 Africans" will be unrepresented in the assembly except by the "nations owning and governing them or at best by representatives chosen by these master nations."

"This is not only unfair, it is dangerous for the peace and progress of the world," Dr. DuBois warns.

Warns Supervisors Overcrowding Bred by Restrictive Covenants May Lead to Race Riots Here

In what Supervisor John Anson Ford termed a "scholarly presentation," Attorney Vince Monroe Townsend, Jr., president and western director of the Elk's Civil Liberties League, addressed the Los Angeles County board of supervisors on the subject of "Racial Restrictive Covenants," early this week.

With indisputable historical legal facts, Townsend proved to the board that covenants, devised to exclude any person from the use or occupancy of their homes on any grounds, are in violation of federal and state constitutions.

He followed this with statistics showing the rise in population of the so-called "non-caucasian" groups in Los Angeles county. In 1910 these groups totaled approximately 8000 in number, but in 1940 this number had risen to over 130,000. Today it is well over 250,000.

"And yet," Townsend continued, "the land or living area inhabited by this group has changed very little during this period because of restrictive covenants in the county. "In 1920 only 20% of this land was covenanted but in 1946 restrictive covenants blanket 80% of the county he said. "At this rate of increase the entire county will be covered," he continued.

He told the board that congestion and overcrowding of people into slum areas and ghettos will result in a menace to the health of the community, the state and the nation. He pointed out that congestion in the unsanitary slum areas breed dieases which when started are not easily checked.

"Then too," he added, "these congested areas produce crime waves among the adults and juvenile deliquency among the children."

Pointing out that riots could well be expected unless the board of supervisors takes the situation in hand, Townsend called for the outlawing of restrictive covenants in Los Angeles county.

Price Control That Does Not Control

We heartily agree with the sentiment expressed in a recent editorial of The Washington Post regarding the inadequacy of the price control bill passed by Congress, a bill said to control prices but which does not control anything.

"A nation-wide cry went up for prompt action," said The Post, "but Congress did nothing. Its mandate from the people was to restore price control, but it trifled with involved compromises that led nowhere. While Congress bickered and fiddled and maneuvered for position, confidence in the strength of our democracy to solve its problems in an orderly manner ebbed tragically.

Congress had a great opportunity to cut through all the petty controversy that surrounded this issue and to bring forth a simple measure with price ceilings restored. But it refused to do this. It merely plodded in the mud and murk of petty politics, and brought forth a deformed monster that is powerless to do anything at all of what it is supposed to do.

"The spectacle of a great legislative institution so hamstrung by its own lack of statesmanship is almost more frightening than the storm of inflation that is sweeping over the land," concludes The Post.

A Call to Arms

Deep should be our concern for the future—not from the viewpoint of politics, but because of food, jobs, and housing. Most of us who lived through the two World Wars are disappointed and often disillusioned. Especially is this true of the Negro people—those who fought at the front and those who held the line in war industries, producing the weapons used to win the war.

A new battle line right here at home is in formation. This new battle line has many fronts, and it is made of many races and colors—the people who live by the sweat of their brow.

These people are not concerned particularly with which of the political parties will win in the November election. They want jobs that will guarantee to them wages commensurate with living needs. They want decent homes, and protection—not brutal treatment—from law enforcement agencies.

We, the minorities—Negroes, Mexicans, and Jews — must gather together as a group and fight back the Fascist wave that threatens to destroy the things we fought to win—freedom of speech and religion, and freedom from want and from fear.

Clergymen all over the country are answering this call to arms. In Michigan at commencement exercises held recently in Marysville, the Rev. Mr. Safron who addressed the graduating class, declared that "There are 13,000,000 American Negroes who are only enjoying a second-rate citizenship. And we don't have to look to the deep South to find people who believe in the supremacy of the white race." He found some sore spots in his own community, pointed them out candidly, and concluded that if his hearers were really interested in bringing the Kingdom of God upon earth, they would do something about it by being fair and just to the Negroes who live nearby.

Then, too, although we hear so much of the activities of the Ku Klux Klan, we don't hear so much of the movement against those hooded devils. But nevertheless this counter-movement has strong champions among the clergymen of the South.

Clergymen of Atlanta have denounced the Klan in scathing tones, wrote Willard Johnson, assistant President of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. They have done the same in Knoxville, Miami, and in other cities where the Klan has been active. The Southern Baptist convention, largest denomination in the South, recently condemned participation of Christians in any hate movement.

So the call to arms is being answered, in ways that we know not. Let us here in Los Angeles be more active.

Republicans At It Again

Time after time it seems that the members of the Republican Party in Congress line up on the side opposed to the welfare of the people.

The discussion on the question of atomic energy proves this point. A bloc of Republicans in the House, aided by a handful of Democrats, has been attempting to strip all civilian control from the McMahon atomic energy bill and to defeat it entirely, if possible. In one amendment they placed atomic energy under military control and forbade the sharing of any atomic secret with any foreign nation, and almost in the same breath they authorized Congress to grant patents for private inventions in atomic energy!

Representative Clare Boothe Luce, (R. Conn.) tried to be funny, and said she had been told by a physician that atomic energy could be used to "transmute the species."

"When it comes around to transmuting the female species," she said, "I'm sure they will make a lot of Lana Turners." She suggested that the atomic control commission might create a species "with a long head, one ear bent permanently for the telephone, no legs, but a large bottom to fit into a swivel chair. In short—New Deal bureaucrats."

This bit of inept frivolity was answered by Representative Helen Gahagan Douglas, from our own Fourteenth Congressional District, Los Angeles. White with anger Mrs. Douglas said that her version of atomic energy and that for which the people of the world were praying, was that this power of the sun might be used in cancer cures and medical research, of chemical developments to enrich impoverished lands, and in aiding production through research and nuclear power.

These Republicans in the National House of Representatives seem to regard this wonderful discovery which the scientists of the world have given to the people of the world, as nothing but a military weapon. Its uses for the welfare of humanity are ridiculed.

They do not seem to realize that our knowledge of atomic energy places upon us as a nation an immense moral responsibility, and grants to us a magnificent opportunity to use this God-given source to promote the welfare of mankind.

This vital legislation must not be killed. If the House fails to pass a bill that will give these great benefits to mankind, the military authorities of the country will be left in a control that will stultify all research and will drive the men of science from the field.

Our Republican "friends" with their selfishness, short-sightedness, and blind stupidity, are following the usual path of the reactionary politician, hoping no doubt to throw dust in the eyes of the American people, and to confuse them as to the issues.

But the American people are beginning to distinguish between the true and the false. We must remember when election time comes around, what members of Congress voted and worked for so great a cause as that of atomic energy to be used to benefit humanity, and what members chose to treat the subject frivolously, and to cast it lightly aside to be used only to manufacture bombs.

CLEARING THE LAND FOR A BETTER CROP!

By DALJIT SINGH SADHARIA

Ernest Bevin, the British Minister for foreign Affairs, deplores the spirit of unrest which is sweeping over certain sections of the European people. The British Foreign Secretary is worried over the vast influence which Russia has acquired over the eastern part of Austria and the controlling weight which the Kremlin exercises in the settlement of important problems which occupy the attention and energy of the foremost statesmen of Europe.

England, a tiny island on the fringe of Europe, is torn by jealousy over the vast and potential might of the Russian colossus and is frantically trying to stem the advance of Russian influence in Asia and Europe by all the means in the hands of British diplomacy and falsehood.

Certainly if the people of Austria are dissatisfied with the Russian occupation, they are equally maddened with the British occupation. There is nothing in common between Austria and England, while there is a close connection between Russia and Austria. A treaty of mutual friendship and amity subsisted between Czar Nicholaus and Franz Joseph all through the 19th century, and it was the settled policy of Prince Metternich, the Austrian chancellor and the controlling power in European affairs for 40 years, to bind the two countries in the closest ties and mutual affection. He always looked upon the English statesmen with scorn and hatred and excluded England fro mthe discussion of European affairs even at the displeasure of the Austrian emperor.

It is not in the power of England to falsify matters in the sphere of international relations any longer; her treacherous diplomacy is an open book from which all who care to read may draw valuable lessons. There is a spirit of unrest where the Union Jack casts a shadow of British overlordship and exploitation. Ernest Bevin should lift the currse of British domination over distant countries and peoples before he casts aspersions and stones on the Russian occupation in Austria and other parts of Europe.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

A story told by Sam Hays in one of his recent broadcasts illustrates quite aptly the situation in which the landlords of Los Angeles—and in fact of all America—find themselves today.

Sam told about a farmer who owned a large dominique rooster.

"That thar rooster," said the farmer, "was the fightingest rooster you ever did see. He could lick twice his weight in any rooster in the barnyard. Or in any other barnyard. But he had one bad habit. A mighty bad habit. Right in the middle of a fight, when he was pust about to knock that other rooster stiff, he'd allus stop to crow. And then of course, that thar other rooster, he'd jump in and lick my rooster to a frazzle."

Those landlords who had sent out eviction notices, and notices of rental increases to their tenants, the minute they believed the OPA was to be killed, crowed just a little bit too soon. The OPA is still alive, although dangerously wounded and terribly weak. But so far as renters are concerned, they can still sit comfortably tight and ignore the notices for eviction or rent increases that have been handed them.

But—

We'd better be careful that we don't crow too soon, too. That one little victory we won over the landlords of the nation is a mere scuffle compared to the long, hard fight still ahead of us. We dare not stop fighting to crow.

Price increases are threatened all along the line—on meat, butter, eggs, poultry, milk, bread—in fact, virtually all kinds of food and on virtually all kinds of clothing. The very necessities of life, you know. Our private profit system is based on the profits made out of the needs and desires of human beings. We can curb our desires a bit—like getting along with the old jaloppy when we'd like to have a brand new shiny car. Or doing without a new radio, or refrigerator, or washing machine. We need all these, of course. But we can, if necessary, do without them.

But we cannot do without food. The baby must have milk. Our working men must have meat. Our invalids must have eggs. Our growing boys and girls must have plenty of good cereal for breakfast, and other vitamin-containing foods for every meal of the day.

So what can we do about it? Well, we can make up our minds that we're going to force our stomachs and our backs to sacrifice a little while longer. And we can refuse definitely to buy any meat, butter, or any other kind of food at the exhorbitant prices charged by some merchants. We can and must keep on with our buyers' strikes, and with the picketing of grocers and markets where prices have zoomed to the sky.

These buyers' strikes are bearing fruit. Although conservatively-minded Americans felt an urge to throw their hats in the air and to shout for joy when price ceilings were removed, the stock market, the thermometer of American business, felt a decided slump. The stock market is worried about buyers' strikes. The manipulation of the stock market cannot make the profits out of these necessities of human lives they had thought they could.

Representatives of the Department of Agriculture are telling housewives to be careful about buying butter. Some supplies have been kept too long, and are approaching the rancid state!

"That would be something," comments The Daily News in a recent editorial, "if the wise guy big shots who thought to make a killing on butter as soon as ceilings were lifted, were left with big stocks of rancid butter which consumers refused to buy at any price."

Oh, yes, we have something to crow about, if we want to. But we dare not stop fighting in order to crow.

There's the little Mexican boy shot in the back by a Los Angeles deputy sheriff, and the callous comment of a police officer, "Nothing much happened—just a Mexican got killed." And of course the brutal massacre of four citizens of the United States in Georgia, shortly after the virtual election of the Fascist-minded Gene Talmadge as governor.

We have plenty of fighting to do, right in our own back yard, as well as to help our friends in other states in the terrible struggle they are undergoing.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

This is in protest to the apparently organized and obviously successful attempts on the part of manufacturers of this area with the cooperation of professional employment agencies to keep Negro men out of trainee or skilled jobs.

The system is this: the prospective employer informs the agency that he wants so many men to work as sheet metal, machine operator, etc., trainees. Or that he needs so many elerk typists and other office help. But, according to the interviewer of the Arnold Employment agency at 660 S. Broadway, Rm. 407, these employers specifically state that they do not want Negro men on these jobs. "In fact," says the interviewer, "We don't even have requests for janitors for Negroes."

This having to accept common labor jobs even when better jobs are available and he has the skills required for the jobs, is a bitter pill for the Negro veteran to swallow when he gets his discharge and comes home full of optimism and plans for a better future and a greater security.

SERGEANT HARRY B. DAVIS

CHARTER AMENDMENT No. 1

Dear Editor:

The recommendation adopted unanimously by the county grand jury early this week urging a "yes" vote by the electors next Tuesday, Aug. 6 on Charter Amendment Number One, raising the salaries of the county supervisors, warrants careful consideration by all voters.

Action of the jury was voted after careful deliberation and was taken on the grounds that the supervisors are underpaid in comparison with other top executives of the county government. The view also was voiced that an increase in salary for the top administrators is warranted in view of the tremendous growth in the county since the present salary schedule for supervisors was written into the county charter by the voters in 1913, 33 years ago.

Our county has multiplied five times with the present population of 3,500,000 being greater than that of 38 of the states. The county's number of employes, whose work must be directed by the supervisors, has increased from 3000 to 19,000, and the amount of county business has multiplied 35 times—from less than 4 million dollars in 1913 to more than 141 million in 1946.

In short, our county government has become one of the major business projects of the country and it would seem no more than reasonable that we as voters should do as we do as stockholders in large private industries—pay our top administrators adequately.

By voting "yes" on Charter Amendment No. One you will have opportunity to vote to do so at the special election next Tuesday.

W. J. Wheaton Says

Eugene Talmadge will be governor of the state of Georgia for the next four years. Although Talmadge's popular vote was far below that of his leading opponent, Georgia is so gerrymandered under the unit vote system that three small counties with a combined registration of 1683 have a combined unit vote of six, which is the same number permitted Fulton county with a registration of 120,000.

The popular vote had the measure of Talmadge, and although the state will be burdened with four years of Talmadge, Georgia is making progress and there is a bright light on its horizon for the future. But the fact cannot be glossed over that Talmadge has threatened, a la Bilbo, to flout the authority of the U. S. supreme court, challenge congress and, in toto, annul the constitution of the U. S., establish a dictatorial area in which he will reign supreme and have full sway in the exercise of his fascist tendencies.

But what of the federal government? Will it act to enforce our laws, curb the Talmadges and the Bilbos, destroy these termites who otherwise will eventually destroy the foundations of our vaunted democracy, ruin the structure which the fearless signers of the Declaration of Independence built, and Abraham Lincoln preserved.

The Bilbos and Talmadges are a challenge to our standards of life. They have thrown down the gauntlet as a challenge to our form of government. Will the decent elements of our citizens meet the challenge, pick up the gauntlet, determine that the banner of true democracy will float in the breeze unsullied by the Nazi doctrines of hates and intolerance?

We should never forget that it was the racial and religious hatreds of Hitler which plunged the world into a war from which it will take years of toil to recover; that aside from the material loss entailed, thousands of lives were sacrificed. The blood-drenched soil cries out in protest that it shall not happen again.

San Francisco is recovering from its spasm of political jitters. The recall campaign against its mayor ended as predicted with the expression of a limited number of voters. We use the word "limited" because the vote was one of the lightest ever cast in a city election. The apathy of the voters was evident from the opening of the polls to the closing. We noticed that women voters were evident, and that the heaviest votes were in the precincts of the richer elements of the city. The strap-hangers did the talking and the limousines did the voting.

Now that this squabble has been settled we again call the attention of our "City Fathers" to the unsanitary condition of sections of our city. We believe that members of the board of health should make a survey of certain sections of the city and, for the safety of the people and the health of the community, remedy the conditions which are a menace to health and an eyesore to residents of those areas. The only time that there is an official visit to these districts is when some candidate is canvassing for votes and then he frequents only the various haunts of beverage dispensers and it kills his sense of odor. There are any number of able citizens in these areas, some who aspire to racial leadership, and if they were to lay aside some little personal grievances and subordinate a bit of personal selfishness to the good of the community much could be accomplished in remedying conditions.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By Martinez Hewlett

I have to laugh every time I hear someone defend the "good ole" American system of "free enterprise."

It may be old, but it is certainly neither good nor free.

Just pick up your favorite morning paper these days (even the reactionary ones) and you can see for yourself how monopoly "free enterprise" has been picking your pockets during the war.

The big boys who cried out loud when the labor unions asked for wage boosts and who said that they could not possibly meet the added costs are in for a nasty shock. Chairman Mead of the Senate War Profits Investigating Committee has obtained authority to scan the tax files.

He promises that cases will be brought to public attention which will make the Garsson-May scandal look like a penny ante poker game.

First, we had the case of the shipping scandal, where shipowners literally stole enough money from the United States treasury to have built a two-ocean navy. We haven't heard much more, even though the facts brought out in the investigation warranted the prosecution and imprisonment of a few people on a lot of charges, including treason.

But we do hear that familiar hue and cry being raised against the maritime unions now that another strike is threatened. I wonder if the shipowners will have the gall to make a bid for public opinion this time?

And just wait until a few more juicy scandals are unearthed. I'd be willing to bet that a bunch of our anti-labor, red-baiting friends along with the perennial flag wavers, like Rep. May, will be mentioned.

Comptroller General Lindsay Warren said: "From my seat it has looked like everybody and his brother were out to get the government during the lush war years."

Well, there is our much-vaunted free enterprise. Your money, my money — everybody's money gobbled up by greedy war profiteers, who cared no more about the United States than Hitler did.

While the common people of America, the rank and file, worked hard, bought war bonds and fought and died through a bloody war, the industrialists waxed fat by draining the U. S. treasury through double dealing, cost-plus arrangements and bribery of unscrupulous public officials.

But what burns me up most is to see these same honest, hard working people allowing themselves to be led by the noses by these very same officials and industrialists who robbed their government and who is against them at every turn.

It seems that all one had to do to make a million dollars during the war was to know a congressman or a senator and have a plant geared to cocktail parties and tin soldiers.

But unfortunately the only congressmen and senators you and I know are too busy fighting for our rights to attend cocktail parties indirectly sponsored by the United States government and the only plant we possess is a wilted petunia.

CRC CIRCULATES PETITION ASKING TRUMAN TO ORDER COLUMBIA, TENN., PROBE

NEW YORK—A nation-wide petition to President Truman urging a new federal investigation of police raids on the Negro community in Columbia, Tennessee, was put into circulation this week by the Civil Rights Congress.

Calling for prosecution of state and local officials responsible for destruction of property, mass deprivation of constitutional rights and the killing of two Negro citizens during the raid, the petition also urges restitution for the vandalism and looting of the Negro community.

The move by CRC for a new federal investigation came after one federal grand jury refused to issue any indictments, praised the police for "impartial action" and condemned organizations and individuals protesting violence against Negroes in Columbia.

"Restoration of the faith of Americans in justice can be achieved only by wiping off the whitewash given these crimes," the CRC petition to the President states.

The petition, which will be circulated in New York, Los Angeles and other major cities by CRC chapters and affiliates, is accompanied by a detailed story of the raid on the Negro community in Columbia last February in which state and local police machine-gunned and wrecked business establishments, conducted house-to-house raids without warrants and arrested more than 100 men and women. Two of those arrested were shot and killed in the sheriff's office and 31 others are now on trial on charges ranging from attempted murder in the first degree to carrying concealed weapons. Legal defense of the 31 is being conducted by the NAACP.

"Columbia is a deep stain on our national honor and a threat to our democracy," CRC says in urging federal enforcement of civil rights. "This whitewash places in even greater jeopardy the men and women who are being tried on trumped-up charges. It encourages terror against Negroes, particularly in the South. Not only is the Klan riding again—but, time and again, police are fulfilling the role of the Klan in assaults on the rights of Negroes."

Brilliant Work of Negro Scientist Benefits Millions

How Percy L. Julian, grandson of an Alabama slave, fought his way through the handicaps of race prejudice to national eminence in the scientific world, is told by Paul de Kruif in The Reader's Digest for August.

DeKruif's article says of Dr. Julian: "Honored as one of his country's greatest scientists, he has brought the female hormone, progesterone, within reach of all expectant mothers threatened with the loss of their unborn babies; and his research has made possible the large-scale production of the male hormone at a price within reach of the millions who need it. As director of research of one of America's great corporations, he is responsible, also, for the development of important industrial products ranging from a new coating for paper to a new method for snuffing out gasoline and oil fires."

The article traces Dr. Julian's career, from his early dreams of organic chemistry research at DePauw university, through his studies at Harvard, his brief period of teaching at West Virginia State college for Negroes, his appointment as head of the chemistry department at Howard university and his later studies in Vienna under the world-renowned Dr. Ernst Spath.

Dr. Julian carried forward his experiments, adding to his stature as a scientist, despite lack of money and at times inadequate equipment, and always having to face the additional barriers against his race.

Today he guides the Glidden Company's staff of 50 highly trained chemists, and the company is preparing to build him a "magnificent research institute" . . . "But one only needs to know Percy Julian", DeKruif says, "to realize that at 47 he is only at the beginning of his work."

In the works of man as in those of nature it is the intention which is chiefly worth studying. —Goethe.

OPA Hikes Prices on Cotton Goods, Other Items Due for Rise

The battered price control bill which managed to get by the Republican and Southern Democratic hatchetmen in congress has turned out to be no match for the inflationary price spiral as prices continued to soar this week.

Many of the price increases were ordered by an OPA, chastened by the licking it took in congress, hands tied by crippling amendments to the price control bill. Some of the increases were mandatory under the provisions of the new bill.

Prices on men's shirts, shorts and pajamas were jacked up 11 percent, while the textile industry demanded another 20 percent hike under a provison in the new act which provides that textile prices must cover the cost of raw cotton, conversion costs and a "reasonable" profit. Formerly OPA had to use only the lower parity price of cotton in figuring prices.

The present increase, and the price rises soon to come in textiles, gave weight to President Truman's warning that it will be very difficult to hold clothing prices within reasonable limits.

As OPA officials announced that price tags on some commodities would reach "unprecedented heights" by fall, consumer groups across the nation began a renewed assault on rising prices through buyers' strikes.

Labor organizations threatened buyers' strikes at Omaha, Pittsburgh, Minneapolis, Detroit, Philadelphia, Chicago, East St. Louis, Ill., and Marion county, Ind.

Many CIO and AFL unions warned that higher prices would necessarily result in demands for higher wages, but added that they hoped to prevent price increases by effective consumer action.

The army quartermaster corps announced that its price index on 104 representative commodities bought by the army increased 17.02 percent in four years of World War II. The rise was considered representative of the general U. S. price situation, although the army prices generally were much lower than those offered the public.

Landlords in several cities laid plans to bring pressure to get rents raised. The new OPA bill provides for rents to be maintained at the ceilings in effect on June 30 when the original bill expired. That provision was practically the only concession made by the solons to the public demand to hold the line.

Negroes Vote in Primaries in 2 Southern States

Negroes voted yesterday in the Democratic primaries in Alabama and Arkansas. Reports received as The EAGLE went to press indicate there was little, if any, trouble at the polls in Arkansas.

In Alabama, Negro voters appear to have supported Rep. John Sparkman, party whip in the house who, on the basis of incomplete returns, is running far ahead of four opponents for the senate seat of the late John H. Bankhead.

The congressman, endorsed by the CIO-PAC, increased his lead with each new vote tabulation and flirted with a clear majority over the field.

In Arkansas, Gov. Ben Laney won his bid for a second term in the state's Democratic preferential primary, swamping two challengers with an almost 2-1 margin.

Co-Op Federation In North America For 4000 Students

PLYMOUTH, Wis. — (CNS) — The North American Student Cooperative League came into being here recently with formal adoption of a constitution at a special conference of delegates representing 4,000 student co-operators in five regional student co-operative federations in North America.

Art and Crafts Exhibit to Show War Vets Talent

More than 1000 Southern California World War II veterans studying under the G-I Bill will enter their art and crafts in an exhibit at the Los Angeles County Museum, August 3 to Sept. 9.

Sponsored by the California Art club in cooperation with the Veterans Administration and the museum, the exhibition will include portraits, oils, photography, cartoons, sculpturing, ceramics, costume design, industrial design and allied arts and crafts.

Edward Wither, president of the Art club, said judges for the show will be chosen from outstanding leaders in each field entered.

Famed Regiment Approved For Illinois National Guard

WASHINGTON — Federal authority has been granted the state of Illinois to reorganize the celebrated 202d infantry regiment as a Negro national guard unit integrated as part of the 33rd infantry division, the war department announced today.

The present authorized strength is 26 officers, one warrant officer and 236 enlisted men. Full strength for the regiment will be approximately 3000.

The 202d regiment fought as infantry in World War I and in the last war as field artillery and later as combat engineers.

Red Cross Head Urges Brotherhood Promotion

As chairman of the league, O'Connor addressed Red Cross and Red Crescent leaders assembled from more than 50 nations for the first major meeting since 1938, appealing to them to promote the brotherhood of man "while we await the coming of the one world under law that is implicit in the United Nations charter."

Before an enthusiastic sales force and a crowd of well wishers at the Alpha Bowling Club auditorium, Wendell E. Larson, president of the Loyal Automobile Insurance Company, 4421 Avalon blvd., formally announced that the necessary authority had been granted for the sale of securities for the first Negro automobile insurance company to be organized in California.

On July 9, Larson said, the state insurance commissioners, Maynard Garrison, issued the company a permit to sell secutities, terminating a 15-month struggle on the part of the company to get started.

Impetus for the organization of the new company was the wholesale cancellation of the policies of Negro and other minority group members by white companies throughout the nation, beginning two years ago. The Loyal Automobile Company was incorporated under the laws of the state of California on Nov. 19, 1945, to handle all types of insurance excepting life and health.

Larson pointed out that today there are an estimated 90,000 Negro car owners in California unable to obtain automobile insurance, deprived of this necessary protection by flagrant racial discrimination.

Officers, derectors, executive staff and advisers of the new company include: Wendell E. Larson, president, active in the general insurance and real estate brokerage business here for many years; Forrest A. McCoo, Jr., vice-president and secretary, former sales director of the Metropolitan Motorist Ass'n. of Chicago; David R. Crawford, treasure, real estate salesman and insurance solicitor; Prince L. Kennedy, Albert T. Patrick, G. Rex Lee, Mrs. Maude Lewis, Chirlaine J. Dupree, Marguerite Kyles, Florida Wooten, Mrs. K. McCloskey Lee, Paul D. Davis. Advisers are: Harry Park, Jr., former president of the Los Angeles Insurance Exchange, Joseph Lippe, George Neal, and Attorneys Ovila Normandin and Bernard Hiemenz.

Road to Health

By J. H. RUSSELL DYETT, M.D.

There was a great scare at a nearby beach recently. Something happened to a boy in swimming. A friend saw him go down and went after him. The friend could not swim very well and, instead of rescuing the first boy, he was dragged down, too.

Fortunately, an experienced swimmer reached the youths before it was too late and brought them to shore. With his expert handling of the situation, the boys revived and a tragedy was averted.

Incidents of this kind are by no means uncommon in the summer. Too often, they end less happily than did the episode with the two boys. Nearly always they could be avoided if people would be a little more careful when they go sfimming.

We later learned that the boy who almost drowned at the beach had rushed in swimming immediately after lunch. He did not give his food time to digest and had an attack of stomach cramps when he was in water over his head.

Stomach cramps are very dangerous while swimming.. They are more dangerous than cramps in the arms and legs. The swimmer can tread water or float when attacked with a cramp in the arm or leg, but he loses complete control if he has a stomach cramp. Swimming too soon after eating is apt to cause stomach cramps. People should not go into the water for at least two hours after eating.

While the intention of the second boy, who went after his friend, was admirable, the boy was really rather foolish. He could barely swim himself and he had no idea how to bring in another person who was in difficulty. It would have been wiser for him to have called for help than to risk his own life in a vain attempt to save his friend.

Happy vacation days would be marred by fewer accidents if people would use more common sense and refuse to take foolish chances. Neither children nor adults should swim in deep water unless they are experts. Even then, they should not go too far from shore or go out alone. If anything should happen — and things can happen, even to good swimmers—help can be summoned before it is too late.

People who do a great deal of swimming should learn something about life-saving. They may be called upon to help a swimmer in distress. Unless they know how to handle a drowning person, they may be dragged down, too, and two lives will be lost. People who have not been trained in life-saving methods should call for expert help or throw a life line or go after the distressed person in a boat.

If you are spending a good part of the summer near the water, you should also know how to give artificial respiration — how to bring normal breathing back to a person who has lost consciousness in water. Quick action to restore breathing, while medical aid is being summoned, may save a life.

Some other points about swimming which should be kept in mind to avoid accidents or illness are:

- Do not swim in dirty water.
- Do not stay in the water if you become chilled. Children should never be allowed to stay in the water if they are shivering.
- Do not stay in the water if you become tired.
- Do not dive without learning to dive properly. Better ask your doctor, first of all, whether it is apt to be injurious for you to dive. People with sinus or ear trouble may do themselves great injury in diving.

Swimming is excellent exercise and a dip in a pool, lake or the ocean can be fun on hot days. Pleasant summer outings should not end in tragedy—and they won't if people will take the necessary precautions when they go out for a swim.

EUGENE GASH, PIANIST, COMES TO LOS ANGELES

No artist coming to Los Angeles this year could be of greater interest to this column than Eugene Gash, a young pianist whom high critics early acclaimed as one destined to become the long-awaited instrumentalist to match our renowned vocalists.

We have watched this talented young man from his high school days when hard work over the piano was unable to sap his interest in things of normal appeal to boys at his age, despite the fame which that work had already begun to bring him. We have watched him appear as soloist with the Denver (his home town) Civic Symphony in Ravel's Concerto for piano and orchestra, at the age of 17, stealing the show from the orchestra.

We made hotel arrangements for him when he came west to be near his great teacher, Germaine Schmitz, and the eminent pianist, E. Robert Schmitz, and to play concerts at San Francisco, Mills college, Oakland, and in Seattle, Tacoma and Portland.

We were thrilled when, less than a year after his appearance with the Denver Symphony, young Gash won high acclaim in his first concert in Town Hall, New York City, when The New Yorker declared him a "born pianist" and the New York Sun said "Though the race has produced such sterling vocalists as Marion Anderson, Dorothy Maynor, Paul Robeson and Roland Hayes, it does not have an instrumentalist to place beside them, there is more promise today than in recent years. That promise was given last night by Eugene Gash, who demonstrated a substantial piano talent and, what is more, a number of intangibles that are the essentials of artistry . . . excellent fingers, true sense of style and musical discrimination."

Four months later he returned to Town Hall for another very successful concert. We were saddened when a cruel war interrupted his steady progress, sent him to a military camp and released him due to faulty eyes, after demanding that he secure a war job for the rest of the war period. He came back to California, did war work by day and piano work by night. And the northern California press, after his last two concerts have resumed the idea that young Gash bids well to match our famous vocalists with his artistry.

MUSIC IN STRIDE

Eugene Gash was born in Denver, Colo., June 26, 1921. He was one of four sons and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Gash. At nine his love of the family's old time-worn piano attracted his parents' attention and his mother made arrangements with a Mrs. Helen Calogeras, an authorized Schmitz teacher, for whom she sewed for the lads lessons. His response to his teacher was excellent and the young player's story soon got to the newspapers and to the attention of the wealthy Phipps family of Denver, who took over the financing of the new musician from that time.

Eugene and his brothers were active in the YMCA boys' division when we moved to Denver in 1936 and although he gave many hours to his music, his cheerful disposition and regular and normal relationship with his associates rendered him one of the most popular young fellows ever to grow up in that city. His parents, though proud of their son, cared no less for their other children and are themselves today one of the most popular families in Denver. The father sings a bit. Heard him in a quartet of old-timers just before we left there in 1944.

Upon returning to his home town it was the young artist's great pleasure to render a concert at the church, Zion Baptist, in which he grew up and where he was first presented as a small boy. He gave one of these concerts there just about a year ago. Once while visiting some of his younger friends in Denver they were surprised to find him playing some popular and swing numbers for their entertainment. All of this plus the fact that he had enough courage and faith in himself to take his career into his own hands when he thought it to be to his best interest, make his coming to Los Angeles August 15, under the auspices of that splendid group of young men known as the Cosmos Club, as the result of the patient work of Eddie Burbridge of The California EAGLE, who formed his acquaintance in Berkeley—a distinct joy to us. And we promise all who will avail themselves of this opportunity to meet and hear Eugene Gash that they will behold a young artist of rare ability and a young man who takes his music in stride because working at it has never been a burden and therefore has only added to the fullness of his life and personality. The Cosmos will present him at Independent church because they were unable to secure a suitable hall at a suitable date. Let's fill it to overflowing.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

WITH OUR DEAR OLE Angel City as the mecca, hundreds of book wise women, the nation over, are wending their way via air and rail, to take part in the AKA's first boule since the war. The fact that local sorors have gone all out to make this one of the finest boules in the history of the organization is well known around town. Being a secret organization, a goodly number of the meetings and social gatherings will be closed affairs. In looking over the program I find, however, that the public meetings are among the most important.

Jessie Mae Brown

Scheduled for August 11, Royce Hall (UCLA) will be a meeting of the Non Partisan Council on Public Affairs. Aside from the well chosen panel of speakers, the lovely Lois Towles, concert pianist and member of the music faculty of Fisk university, will give her first performance in Los Angeles. The charming school marm is a sister of Miss Dorothy Towles of this city. Gladys Childress, just returning from two years at the Julliard school of music, is scheduled to play, and Madam Katarina Joboro, the sorority's opera diva, will sing in her inimitable manner. Following this meeting, an elaborate reception will be tendered by the local sorors at the home of Dr. Veda Somerville, who heads the Non Partisan Council in this section.

The influx of sorority women has already started. Mrs. Ruth Scott, regional director of the North Atlantic, is the house guest of Mrs. Josephine Cooper. Norma Boyd, the Non Partisans' national head, arrived Wednesday morning and is the house guest of Dr. Veda Somerville. Mrs. Louise McDonald, first supreme anti-basileus, will arrive on the 6th and will also be Dr. Somerville's house guest. The national leader of the whole organization, Beulah T. Whitby, will make her grand arrival on either the 3rd or 4th, and will be the house guest of the Mitchell Miles, life long friends of the Whitby family. So happens that the very charming matron, who presides over the whole of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, is a member of the Wayne university faculty in Detroit, Michigan. Throughout the boule, she will deliver several speeches, one by air, the public meeting and others. Believe me when I say, the AKAs will reign from the 8th through the 13th.

SOCIAL WHIRL

The modern apartment home of Mrs. Leontyne King was the festive setting for a well appointed "Zombie" cocktail party, between the hours of 4 and 6 on Sunday afternoon. More than 85 guests attended the affair. Wearing a black afternoon dress complemented by pearl jewelry and the "last word" in black slippers, Mrs. King introduced her group of honored guests, including Mmes. Precious Davis and Elma Walker (her aunts) of Chicago; Ann Robinson, Houston, Texas; Corine Daizy, New York; Myrtle Hurd, San Antonio, Texas; Attorney Edith Sampson, Chicago; Edith Morris, Chicago; Marie James of Texas and Miss Lethia Cloe of New York.

Because of Leontyne's wide repute, her guests included as many out of towners as local friends. Enjoying tasty bits from the beautifully arranged mirrored banquet table were Mmes. Ruth Towles, Juanita Bell, Louise Beavers, Owen McCord of Philadelphia, Corine Smith of New York, Leslie Scott of Honolulu, Margurite Square of Chicago, Irma Jackson of Shreveport, Jeanette Pronte, May Keller, Curtis Mosby and a host of others. The colorful affair will be long remembered by those attending.

Hitting another high note in the local realm, Dr. C. W. Hill opened the doors of his hill top home to a group of music lovers who thrilled at the piano artistry of Phi Beta Kappa Gladys Childress, mentioned a few paragraphs back in this column. Listed among honored guests were the Zeta Phi Beta grand basileus, Mrs. Lulellia B. Harrison of Houston, Texas; grad and undergrad members of the Zeta sorority, popular artist Malcolm Thurborn, the Allen Woodards, Miss Gertrude Chrisman and many another friend of the popular host. By the way, when Rudolph Dunbar arrives on the local scene in a day or two, Dr. Hill plans to give him a grand soiree with many socially prominent in attendance.

It was a dinner party that Josephine Spearman gave in honor of Melonee Temple and Ike Blocker's betrothal Sunday evening. Fourteen guests were present, including the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Burch (Josephine Marshall), Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boswell (Flora Gladman), the engaged Ballinger Kemp and Corinne Jones, Jane Criner, Ruth Cage, and the Spearman twins, Edward and Ernie. Josephine will be Mel's maid of honor in the beautiful ceremony planned for Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Christian Church on Pico and Arlington.

Mentioning brides-elect, learned that Corine Jones' bridal party will include her sis, Gwen Simmons, as matron of honor; Mabel Renfroe, Jean Watkins, Henriella Kingi and Joyce Stewart, attendants. Corine plans to wear traditional white satin and will be given away by her father, Atty. Clarence Jones, in ceremony at the Episcopal church, Sept. 1.

HERE AND THERE

A "mother daughter" party will be held on Friday night, August 2, at Central playground. Mrs. Eloise Jackson, director at Central for the past three years, is doing an excellent job working with the youngsters of the community. The Friday night party will be the first of its kind to be given at the playground. Over 80 mothers are expected to attend, as well as representatives from the different agencies. A pat on the back should also go to Curley Monroe, who has started a swimming club, that will be active year round, taking part in competitive ventures with swimmers of the other groups.

Took in the "Sugar Chile" Robinson press conference Monday evening at the Rosslyn hotel. The little fellow's piano ability and the manner in which he carries a conversation is definitely something to write home about.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

So, Symanthia Hester and Felix Williams thought they would take the "set" by surprise when they secretly tied the knot on the 27th. Here's a toast to their happiness... Learned that Philippe Jones will vacation in Seattle, Washington, come September. The 'Dena deb was hostess to the Crop 'N' Tail club meeting Sunday afternoon... Hariette Wadley will play hostess at the Rumpus Room Sunday night in honor of her visiting house guest, Margurite Squares of Chi... Terry Brown and the other members of the visiting Alabama Trio are having a grand time in the Angel City. Wini and Marian Allen are acting hostesses... If you should happen to glimpse the latest edition of Script magazine, I'm sure you'll agree that the cover replica of Carlton Moss is very good... Look for highlights of the Kappa Florentine party next issue... making deadline...

Mr. and Mrs. J. Poyner Wright Receive Blessing at Reception

In an elaborate bridal setting of white bells, hanging ivy and a beautiful arch flanked by baskets of gorgeous flowers and palms, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Poyner Wright received blessings from Rev. H. A. Foster, in the absence of the minister, Dr. J. Raymond Henderson, of Second Baptist church, at their wedding reception.

The prominent couple was secretly wed on May 11, 1946. Mrs. Wright is the former Vassie D. Reese, clerk and financial secretary of the Second Baptist church and is acclaimed one of the city's leading club women. Throughout the afternoon more than 300 guests felicitated the newlyweds. Mrs. Wright was beautifully gowned in a white taffeta brocade, her coiffeur was topped by a white feathered "love bird," and she wore a corsage of white roses. Also in the receiving line were Mrs. Eva James, Mr. Price Basham, Miss Doris Julia Young, niece of Mr. Harry Brown, cousin.

OUTSTANDING PROGRAM

Throughout the hours of 3 to 7 p. m. a program was rendered. Mrs. Anna G. Morrow, chorister of Second Baptist, was in charge. Sweet refrains were sung by Roberta Lee, Thomas Horton, Eva Boswell, Leroy Mardis, Drucilla Tolbert, Louise Jackson, and Queen Ester Jackson. Jacqueline Freeze played the steel guitar, and Danellen Mabry gave a piano selection.

In charge of the many gifts received by the couple were some members of the Narcissus Art and Literary club, which was organized by Mrs. Wright. Assisting were Mmes. Hattie Eldridge, Anna Mabry, Bertha Whisenant, Willamae Brackin. Mrs. Arnetta Brown presided at the refreshments, assisted by Mmes. Because of the couple's popularity at Second Baptist church, each one of the auxiliaries assisted in one way or another. The charming usherettes included Mmes. Aline Thomas, Ella Hampton, Melvina Ewing, Kathryn Davis, Erma Washington, Lois Hatcher, Alma Billips and Picolia Mitchell. Mrs. Alma Frances Hurd arranged the beautiful setting, assisted by Mrs. Mamie Naranjo.

Inital Organ Guild Tea of Trinity Is Colorful Affair

Sparkled with the brilliancy which adorns gala festivities, the Art and Organ Guild, embroyo organization of Trinity Baptist church, under the pastorate of Rev. Jonathan L. Caston, was presented to the public in its initial appearance at the palatial home of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Johnson, 2901 South Raymond ave. More than 300 guests, representing a cross-section of the city, wended their way to this temporary mecca on last Sunday afternoon, as reflected by the guest register.

Lacking nothing which debuts generally require to make themselves outstanding, the program presentation was superb. The table which bore the refreshments was adorned with a beautiful imported lace cloth, with one end of the board holding a huge crystal punch bowl, surrounded by assorted confections, and the other an attractive arrangement of sweet peas.

The ladies of the guild alternated in receiving and registering the guests, and pouring punch. In this initial tea each wore a Vanda Jouquin orchid, the guild colors, and flower, flown specially from Honolulu through the courtesy of Mrs. Gilcrest, operator of Nellie's Gift Shop. Each guest was presented a miniature bow further emphasizing this scheme.

Opening the program was Mrs. Ella K. Mays, who presented Rev. Jonathan L. Caston, who gave a brief discussion of the organization, its aims and purposes, and presented the members of the guild. He expressed thanks to the gathering for their response to such a worthy cause. Heard on the program were Miss Mimi Deering, lyric soprano, in a group of numbers; Mr. O. Robinett in a tenor solo; Mr. Weiman Westfield in a bass solo; Mr. G. S. Johnson in a tenor solo aand also a "saw" solo, and Mrs. Fannie Benjamin in a piano number. Mr. Andre Green, versatile pianist of the church, accompanied the artists and entertained the guests throughout the affair from his wide repertoire.

Credit for the organization of the guild goes to Mrs. Inez Caston, energetic wife of the pastor, who also presided at the piano and accompanied the musical numbers. With Mrs. Virgie Small as president the guild bids fair to take its place as a permanent fixture in the church program. The guild personnel included Mmes. Jane Hudson, adviser; Ora Lee Lowry, vice-president; Eulalie Cole, recording secretary; Exie Lee Hampton, financial secretary; Eunice Johnson, assistant secretary; Rosselle Fernandes, program chairman; Eugenia Kennedy, social chairman; Corine Jones, business manager; Mona B. Gordon, chaplain; Victoria Satchell, treasurer; Mary L. Johnson, constitution chairman; E. S. Redd, publicity chairman; Beatrice Cassell, Myrtle Cook, Eloise Davis, Ella Mae Graves, Nellie Gilcrest, C. D. Jolly, Katherine Kelly, Jeraldine Lencie, Ella K. Mays, Lillie Woods and Loretta Jones.

Much credit for the affair must be given the host and hostess, who offered their lovely home for this introductory tea of the Organ Guild. The Johnsons, newcomers to the city from Houston, Texas, fell in line with their usual habitat of opening their doors to church, social and civic affairs.

JOHNETTA ARMSTRONG

One of the most unique afafirs was given by Mr. and Mrs. James Woods at their lovely home, for their friends, Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Jones, of St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Lille Storey, from San Antonio, Texas; and Bonnie Tankersley from Chicago, Ill. Others in the receiving line were Mrs. Catherine Dickerson, wife of Attorney Dickerson, of Chicago, Mrs. Ann Robinson, of Houston, Texas; Minnie Lane, from San Antonio, Texas; Mrs. Murt Herd, of San Antonio, Texas, and Lucille Johnson. A lovely buffet dinner was served and some of those seen enjoying the delicious repast were Mr. and Mrs. Barney Durham, Mrs. Ruth Viser, Dr. and Mrs. English, Dr. Booker, Mrs. McRiley, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Bailey, Dr. E. Griffin, Mrs. Bowlin, Homer Griffin and many, many others.

La Casita Del Arroyo was the scene of the Young Men's Progressive League's inauguration service. The guest speaker, Mr. Leon W. Steward of Los Angeles, who really gave these young men a challenge to live up to by showing them the path they should follow. He told of the many discouraging problems they would meet in their fight for equality and for the future of their children. The program also included a piano solo by Merelene Ballard, and two vocal solos by Anna Bell Worrill. Mr. Steward also installed the new officers who will take on this year's responsibilities. They are Alfred Williams, pres., Percy Williams, vice pres., William Sunday, exec. sec., Preston Clipper, recording sec., Walter Worrill, treas., Paul Pitts, sgt. at arms, Marvin Wright, reporter, and Rayfield Lundy, legal advisor. Some of the others holding offices are Mack Robinson, John Davenport, Barkely Bryant, and Mr. J. Penn.

Mrs. Naomi Wilson, president of the YMPL's sister club, Club Ideal, was there to give out the certificates of membership and those holding offices. Some of those who came out to give these young men support were Mr. and Mrs. Callier, Mrs. Alfred Williams and son, Mrs. Barbara Pitts, Noami Bowins, Mary Louise Collins, Mrs. John Callier, Mr. and Mrs. Skeet Lundy, Bernice Cunningham, Mr. F. W. Smith, Mr. Schmider, exec. sec. of the Y.M.C.A.

Now hold the wire. I was just called to the phone to be told that my life long friend Symanthia Hester and Felix Williams were married Saturday, July 27. Her sister, Audrey Boykins, is having a surprise party for them tonight (July 29) and will I be there with bells on. Congratulations Sy and Felix!!!!!!

It's a boy for the Rayfield Lundys. Congradulations. Was quite surprised to learn of Barbara Reynolds' engagement to Henry Diller... June seems to be busting out all over. Noted Pauline Evans, wife of Gray Evans, in the most charming green straw and pink roses chapeau. I wonder will Delores Carroll and Joe Collins be next??????

The Phalanx's first public affair was quite the thing. The Eddie Martin Quintet, that seems to be in so much demand, jumped and the fellows and girls right with it. Alva Rae Neblett and Harrison Bailey, that twosoming pair, Barbara Durham and Thomas Floyd, also seen quite frequently together, Arthur Duncan who gave out with a couple of solos, Gwendolyn Morrow, who will be leaving us soon for the East, Aster Lee Bowles, without Jerry Carter, Lois Prince Herman Sperlock, Arthur Callier, Doris Prince, Jeffalyn Brown, M. L. Jackson and many others had a wonderful time. George Morrow sat in with the combo and really beat the skins.

Barbara Durham and her mother, Mrs. Ruby Durham, are going on Babs' first trip East this month. I know that they will have a good time. The Crop N Tail met at the home of Phillippe Jones, who may not wait until next year to get married to Ivan Houston. Didn't have a chance to get to Mr. and Mrs. Vergil Maurice Peterson Jr.'s reception given for them by Aline Isadora Peterson's mather, Mrs. Frances L. Peterson. Oh yes, I want to call to your attention the newly formed Interclub Council. This council has been formed so that clubs can get together, thresh out problems, set dates for individual club dances so they won't conflict, and have a more oneness between clubs.

The Business and Professional Women's Club's tea was one of the most fashionable of the summer season. It was given at the home of Mrs. Lillian Lacey and the fashion show was one of the highlights of the afternoon... As I write this column my mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, and about 200 young people are enjoying the cool mountain breeze at "Thousand Pines" in the San Bernardino mountains, the Western Baptist State Camp... This Friday will see members of the Pasadena Youth Council at Friendship Baptist Church to hear Ike Adams, pres. of the Los Angeles Youth Council, and this Sunday they will go to San Diego on a sightseeing tour.

A Mid-Summer Tea was given by the Randolph A.M.E. Zion church at the home of Mrs. Fierson. A Tom Thumb Wedding was presented and those who came out on a very warm Sunday afternoon were well repaid. Noted throughout the afternoon were Mrs. Eva Armstrong, Mrs. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. William House, Mrs. Garcia, Mrs. Ida Jackson, Pearl Washington with George Harrison, Mrs. Ester Mae Davis, Sarah Cole, Rev. and Mrs. Watkins and oodles of others.

The two Angelenos arrived on Friday, July 26, via the Challenger. Mrs. Bilbrew, who is connected with the Spencer Driggs Agency, is toying with the idea of doing a local radio show, or an overseas show with the agency.

The outstanding performance was held in Philadelphia's Academy of Music, and was an overwhelming success. Her daughter, Mrs. Wortham, was a featured soloist. Since Maude's departure from Los Angeles, more than a year ago, she has been singing with the Hall Johnson Choir.

Sewing Is Aid to Every Mother With Dainty, Expensive Girls

Little girls are the daintiest things ,aren't they? Nature intended they should be that way. It is the duty of a little girl's parents to see that the wishes of Mother Nature are carried out to the last detail. The best technique is to begin teaching a girl early how to go about caring for herself; how to comb her hair, file her nails, preserve her teeth, darn torn wearing apparel neatly, and how to wear and prepare her clothes.

One of the most important things to keep in mind is that you cannot crowd all the knowledge of how to care for one's self into a young girl's head overnight. It's a slow continuous process and should begin during the girl's formative years. A good way to teach the very young is to arouse their interest by having them try to imitate you.

For instance, if a mother wants her daughter to be a seamstress or to take a personal interest in preparing her clothes, the mother should begin very early to have her young daughter help mother fix curtains, towels, doilies, table cloths and of course the young lady's own wearing apparel. Having this knowledge at her fingertips early in life gives your daughter the necessary confidence and control that makes it possible for her to conquer in other fields. Even more than that, in the practical sense, the mother will have taught her daughter a lucrative trade at which many make millions of dollars annually.

So far we have said nothing concerning the economy of teaching your daughter to care for herself and particularly to sew for herself. This, however, is a most important item. Yes, girls are dainty and girls are also more expensive than boys. Hats, shoes, dresses, stockings and a thousand and one accessories are what it takes to keep a girl dainty and attractive. These items can literally cost a fortune if you run to the store every time your daughter needs a new and attractive outfit. On the other hand if you have taught her how to sew for herself then you have relieved your pocket-book of a dangerous cancer and yourself of a permanent headache.

21st Anniversary Celebrated By Golden State Employes

Employes, field representatives, and officers of Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company celebrated their firm's 21st anniversary with a dancing party on Friday evening, July 26, at the Villa Arlington. With husbands, wives, and escorts, there were more than 350 on hand to "get acquainted" around the laden supper table and cocktail bar, or while trying out the latest dancing step. The company's staffs from San Diego and Pasadena came to the city to join in the celebration.

In the relaxing atmosphere of music and refreshments, the heavy work of recent months, which has given little time for social contact with the large number of recent additions to the organization, was forgotten. The anniversary celebration is an annual event, taking the form of a beach party, picnic, banquet, or dancing party. It is always planned for a date near July 23, the organization's birthdate.

Beginning in 1926 with a small group of employes taking a day off at the beach with their families, the annual celebration has grown each year in size and spirit, requiring a caravan of automobiles to carry the large group to the place of celebration.

Little Beverly Ann Theophile served as flower girl. The bridegroom, who is the son of Mrs. Cameale Harvey, had Dorman McConnell, his best friend, serve as best man. Ushers were George Jenkins, Beverly Smiles, Clifford Pickett, LeRoy Peterson and Arthur Pickett.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Margaret Pickett, 1449 E. 54th st. The bride's mother received in a gown of lime green, both made by Mrs. Grace Johnson, who had charge of the reception. Among the hostesses was Miss Patricia Pickett, cousin of the bride. AN IMPRESSIVE RECORD

★ Although tuberculosis is one of the oldest known diseases, its cause was first conclusively proved when Robert Koch isolated the tubercle bacillus a little over fifty years ago. The success resulting from vigorous public health measures, particularly in the last quarter century, is impressive. At the beginning of the century, tuberculosis led the list of diseases as the most frequent cause of death. Today it has dropped to seventh place. There is no reason why it should not drop completely from the list of important causes of death.

This splendid record has resulted from the combined efforts of many agencies. An enlightened public opinion with respect to the value of the physician's services has contributed immeasurably. Have that long-delayed physical examination today. We are prescription specialists.

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum, John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

Dear Friends:

While Yvonne is in New York City spending a brief vacation with her parents I humbly submit this scroll with my most sincere effort. I was caught completely on my unawares when I was asked to write Yvonne's column for this week. But being the good friends that you are I hope that you will bear with me for this time.

The phrase "social understanding" has been running through my mind all week and I sorta' thought that it would be interesting to jot down a few ideas. You see, our class in Contemporary Sociological Thought at USC has been tossing that phrase around all week and I found out that teachers and social workers are still having difficulty in ridding themselves of their deep-rooted prejudices. They are honest enough to admit this, however. But we found that by just talking it out and investigating our own shortcomings, we were able to clean up our thinking considerably.

And then I read in C.A.B.'s column about the discriminatory act by the Hollywood Palladium in refusing to serve a young mixed group of Negroes, white, and Orientals, and the usual flimsy excuses offered. My good friends, it seems to me that we should organize and picket the place en masse. Too long have we tolerated these insults upon one portion of our American citizenry. Too long have we waited for an understanding of a segment of a population that does not wish to understand. We are tired of talking and listening about such abstract principles as "justice," "freedom," "democracy," and the like. These highly idealistic terms that work for some and not for all of us. These vague expressions that can be turned and twisted to mean whatever our reactionary fascists want them to mean. We do not want to be considered separate and distinct with special privileges reserved for us to the side but rather a part of the whole.

Yet people continue to discriminate, construe, and misinterpret with their usual fallacious arguments. They argue that if they allow Negroes and other minority groups certain privileges their businesses will suffer; they will be socially ostracized by their friends; or they fear intermarriage (the last argument being the most popular).

Well we know that during the war loads of people with wide disparities between their backgrounds not only worked and lived together but for the first time they went to places, heretofore, they could not afford. Places that kept "undesirables" away by their fancy prices. It was only after their presence became customary to other patrons that discrimination, to a large degree, was broken down. People became conscious of the threat of totalitarianism. Newspapers, the movies, the schoolrooms, publishers and the whole gamut of our informative-communication system took up the fight for "unity" and it sorta looked encouraging to the younger generation. Opportunities appeared to be opening up; many racial restrictions were temporarily lifted; and for some of us we were feeling pretty good about the whole thing. Even the bugaboo, intermarriage, was less frequently heard. It kinda proves that these situations don't have to exist to maintain a "free society," doesn't it?

Now the word "free" is an interesting term. But do we mean by free to be free to starve or eat; to be adequately clothed or unclothed; to be housed or ill-housed. Do we mean by free to be free to be healthy or unhealthy; to be employed or unemployed? Can this be possible in a country that denies opportunities to one-tenth of our population? Or do we mean by free that equal opportunity will be opened to all according to ability, regardless of race, creed, or color?

I have found that if we meet the standards and requirements when entering hostile camps, many of our enemies can be won over. In working with Southern whites in a war plant, I observed how people just naturally get together when left alone. When people aren't heckling them to distrust their fellow workers, their neighbors, and the like. In living in a hostile neighborhood where, in the beginning, our neighbors shunned and avoided us on account of race, they are now gradually becoming friendly. It is the most natural thing in the world and I know of nothing that pleases me more than people, all people, just getting together, being human. John Donne, English poet, expresses it very well in one of his poems when he said that no man is an island, entire of itself—every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main—and whoever destroys himself, destroys me because I am involved in mankind.

So long, 'til next time when we hope to have Yvonne back with us.

Your friend,
Phyllis Scott.

Representatives of various Red Cross services from Los Angeles, Pasadena, Santa Monica, Long Beach and Alhambra chapters will participate in the workshop, it was disclosed.

Veterans Show Opens Sunday at Museum

Some of the nation's most outstanding professional artists have been chosen to judge more than 1000 veteran entries for the Veterans Art and Artcrafts show, August 4 to September 9, at the Los Angeles County Museum, Exposition Park, Edward Withers, president of the California Art Club, sponsors of the show, announced yesterday.

Presented in cooperation with the Veterans Administration and the County Museum, the show is designed to focus public attention on veteran artists studying under provisions of the GI Bill.

A preview showing for members of the trade will be held Saturday evening, August 3. The exhibition will open to the public Sunday, August 4.

Will Sing at Hollywood Bowl

Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo winds up its series of ballets with performances Saturday, Aug. 3, and Leopold Stokowski will conduct a Sunday pep concert the 4th, as the Hollywood Bowl goes into the second half of its silver jubilee season of Symphonies Under the Stars.

Wilberforce Host to Meet

WILBERFORCE, Ohio — The fourteenth national inter-collegiate championship will be held at Wilberforce University during the annual national championships of the American Tennis Association. Despite the severe setback due to the war, tennis is still in the ascendency in our colleges, with the major sectional tournaments staging a real comeback. The Southwestern was won by Edward Bouey of Southern U. Jack Points won the Midweestern at Wilberforce. The SLAC at Tuskegee was the best in years although rain caused the postponement of the finals. These were ecentually completed at Southern.

The CIAA held its 1946 championships at Lincoln University (Pa.) and were also highly successful. One of the finest young players developed in recent years was Francis Powell of Tuskegee, who won the SIAA in 1945, but did not compete during the current season. Delbert Russell, formerly of Smith, and Robert Ryland of Xavier, were the first to enter the white National Inter-Collegiates (1945). Both did well, especially the latter.

• Watts • Youth

The United Christian Youth Leaders, an organization of leaders of youth groups in various churches in Watts, is undertaking an extensive program to send boys and girls to camp this summer. To date two girls have gone to a camp operated by the U.C.L.A. Religious Conference at Seven Oaks, near San Bernardino.

In August 15 more girls will go to the U.C.L.A. Camp and 35 boys will spend several days at Camp Ah-Da-Hi, located just north of Mt. Wilson and operated by the Woodcraft Rangers.

The U.C.Y.L. recently elected new officers: President, Mrs. Jean Rhodes, Pilgrim Church of Christ Holiness; secretary, Mrs. Margaret Duboise, St. Johns Methodist; treasurer, Mrs. Sophie Johnson, Grant Chapel; Program director, Mrs. Myrtle Caldwell, People's United Church of Christ.

"Penthouse Serenade", published by Famous Music Co., has ben set as one of the songs to be sung by Phil Regan in "Sweet-Monogram musical.

BACK AGAIN

Creighton Hale, a matinee idol of yesteryear's silent movies, has a brief role in Warner Bros.' musical classic, "Night and Day."

Rudolph Shepherd Descends Upon L. A, With His Guards

Something like a budding young genius has been discovered in The EAGLE office. Rudolph Shepherd, fondly called Rudy by his friends, recently arrived here by plane from Brooklyn, N. Y. He is the 16-year-old son of Mrs. Gertrude Kahn of Brooklyn, and brother of Yvonne Shepherd, editor of the youth section of the California EAGLE.

Rudy was indulging in one of his favorite pastimes when he flew out here. He possesses model planes of a wide variety, having won two Navy medals for building solid aircraft. At present, he is building a jet-propelled rocket ship of his own design.

One of the most interesting units of his collection are his firearms, old and new. Among them is his prize possession, a gun made before the American Revolutionary War. He says it is almost six feet high and the stock is plated with ivory.

A striking feature about Rudy is that he is always full of surprises. He is currently writing a book which he hopes to have published within a year. The title of this book is "3000 A. D." It seems that he was requfred to write four book reports for his English class last semester. And not particularly fond of indulging in "serious reading," he wrote four original stories for which he received A. So he is now merely continuing these stories.

Added to his many talents, Rudy plays very entertainingly on the drums. When questioned whether he was going to make California his home, he reluctantly answer, "I don't know —I'm looking it over."

A teachers' education workshop course, Junior Red Cross as an educational resource, will open August 5 at USC. This course will be conducted primarily for students already taking summer school work on the campus.

Miss Anne Hospers of San Francisco, who is the education and field representative for Junior Red Cross in the Pacific Coast area, will conduct the workshop course. Two credits will be given for this class.

Closing August 30, the workshop has three-fold purposes, disclosed Miss Hospers. (1). To familiarize teachers, students, and Red Cross workers with the Junior Red Cross program—local, national and international; (2). To discuss and demonstrate the use of Junior Red Cross activities and materials in the motivation of the regular curriculum, and (3). To show how Junior Red Cross implements the educational philosophy and conforms to educational practices. It was disclosed that representatives of the various Red Cross services from Los Angeles, Pasadena, Santa Monica, Long Beach and Alhambra chapters will participate in the workshop.

Peggy Ryan and Jimmie Cross will build a honeymoon apartment on top of the restaurant Peggy's building in the Valley. Plans now are for them to be married next March.

SCORES AGAIN—Judy Spain, 4, Philadelphia wonder girl, scored again, this time in being the special guest artist at the regular Friday night Youth Jubilee at Angelus Temple. She kept a packed auditorium spellbound with "I Had a Little Talk with the Lord," "A Closer Walk with Thee," "My Mother's Eyes" and many others that she did equally well. This little girl is a credit to the race and should be heard by all.

Negro Youth Congress Asks For Martial Law in Georgia

BIRMINGHAM—The Southern Negro Youth Congress made public recently a letter calling upon Attorney General Tom Clark for the establishment of martial law in Walton and surrounding counties in Georgia. They further asked for a house to house search of the white communities in the area, and a full scale operation against the Ku Klux Klan, in response to the "cold-blooded mob murder of four Negroes near Monroe, Georgia, on July 25."

Declaring that "the government which cannot prevent or —failing to prevent—punish such downright bestiality, can only earn the most detremined contempt and organized opposition of freedom-loving Americans," the Youth Congress letter, signed by executive secretary Esther V. Cooper, also called upon Clark to urge President Truman to issue an Executive Order outlawing the Ku Klux Klan.

The letter to the Attorney General follows in full:

Third Session of University Camp Opens Sunday, Aug. 4

The third of six sessions of University Camp, summer project of the University Religious Conference at U.C.L.A., will open Sunday, August 4th, and continue for ten days. This will be an all-boys camp drawing entirely from the East Los Angeles area.

Buses will leave from Belvedere and Rose Hill Sunday afternoon to take the one hundred boys to the eleven-acre camp site, thirty-one miles north-east of Reldands, near Seven Oaks, in San Bernardino mountains. Here the campers will be treated to a full program of outdoor sports and instruction handicraft, swimming, trail blazing, signalling, dramatics, and journalism, including publication of a camp newspaper. Special activities will include a boxing match, a swimming meet, a treasure hunt, an all-day hike, a sports jamboree, and Sunday chapel.

Camp activities will be under the supervision of Virginia Radford, camp director, and Don Marsh, associate secretary of the University Religious Conference. Group activities will be handled by counselors recruited from the UCLA and Los Angeles City College student bodies.

Donations from the UCLA student body and faculty and the Chaplains Service Corps of the University Religious Conference provide the chief financial support of the Camp which is available to all children of the Los Angeles area, aged nine to fourteen, particularly for the underprivileged.

A fine affair was the press cocktail party staged in honor of FRANKIE (Sugar Chile) ROBINSON, child piano genius, Monday evening at the Rosslyn hotel. A representative group from the weekly and daily papers of the city were present and Earle Adams, publicity director for the Lincoln and Million Dollar theatres, was the pleasant host. Present from the California EAGLE were Miss Jessie Mae Brown, society editor, Martin Hewlett, advertising manager, and Yours Truly. "Sugar Chile," who opened at the Lincoln Tuesday, was accompanied from Detroit here by his aunt, Mrs. Glayds Robinson, and a cousin, Mrs. Eddiefee Cargin. The piano wizard has four brothers and two sisters. His aunt through the child's maanger confided that "Sugar Chile" will play the Million Dollar theatre the week of August 13. As for the kid himself, he said that he likes California very much. Joey Preston, child drummer of fame, who appeared in a picture with "Sugar Chile" was also present at the gatherii

BEST SINGER AWARD—Ella Fitzgerald, the first lady of song, has been awarded the title of the best singer in the nation by the Music Critics' Board, an authentic group composed of bandleaders, singers and authors of music publications. The award is made annually.

Eugene Gash Concert Ducats Selling Fast

Don Barksdale, program chairman and spokesman for the Cosmos Club, announced that tickets are already selling fast for the forthcoming concert featuring Eugene Gash, brilliant young American concert pianist, to be held Thursday, August 15, at the Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma streets. The recital will start promptly at 8 p.m.

Mr. Gash has received many rave notices from expert music critics for his artistry. Notable was his last concert appearance in Town Hall, when he was hailed as a Negro Paderewski by the New York dailies.

Members of the concert world here are especially interested in his forthcoming Los Angeles debut and many have already placed orders for tickets. Prices are $1.20, $1.80 and $2.40 and presently may be secured at the California EAGLE office, 4071 So. Central avenue, through Theatrical Editor Eddie Burbridge.

Writes on Poetry In Writer's Mag

Is the popular song crooned endlessly into the American ear by record and radio in reality a form of poetry? Is it art in a relatively pure form when a sultry night club singer warbles the words to "My Baby Said Yes" and similar songs?

Yes, says Everett Carter in the summer issue of the authoritative Hollywood Quarterly. Carter, in an article entitled "An Inquiry Into a Form of Popular Poetry," analyzes modern American song writing and comes to the conclusion that it conforms to the Wordsworthian definition of poetry—"the spontaneous overflow of powerful feelings."

"PIGMEAT" MARKHAM celebrated his 25th anniversary in show business with a party at the Club Baron in New York City last week. Many celebrities attended and paid high tribute to the comedian.

Granz Inserts Anti-Jimcrow Clause in Music Contracts

NEW YORK—A significantly important precedent has been set by the famous Jazz-at-the-Philharmonic concert organization who has inserted an anti-discrimination clause in all contracts for appearances in these concerts by celebrated jazz instrumentalists. The entertainment field, particularly the booking agencies handling Negro bands, are watching the results and reactions to this courageous departure from the laissez faire and challenge to the custom of jim crowing in the south.

Norman Granz, young producer and conductor of the Jazz-at-the-Philharmonic concerts insisted that the anti-jimcrow clause be inserted into all contracts. Here is the precedent shattering clause.

"It is of the essence of this agreement that there is to be no discrimination whatever in the sale of tickets and that there is to be no segregation of Whites from Negroes. In the event of any violation of either of these provisions by you, the management of the hall or anyone else, Mr. Granz has the privilege of refusing to give the concert, in which case you will forfeit one half of the contract price to him."

'Pops' Hampton Headed West

Add the title "Trail Blazer" to the growing list of achievements behind the name of Lionel Hampton, king of "Hey Ba Ba Rebop" from the song of the same name, and leader of one of the nation's top orchestras.

This newest role was won by Lionel Hampton and his "Hey Ba Ba Rebop" revue first at the Aquarium Restaurant in New York and just recently at the Band Box Cafe in Chicago, thereby establishing a precedent as the first Negro band to perform under their roofs.

At present, Lionel Hampton is headed toward the West Coast to fulfill a series of dance dates and appear in an MGM movie, as well as make his first appearance at the world famous "Million Dollar" theater. From all indications, this tour will add the crowning touch to those that have gone before.

Lunceford Will Cut 8 New Sides

Having closed a Lincoln Theatre engagement, Jimmie Lunceford and his bandsmen are slated to wax eight new sides for Majestic records, among which will be several new Lunceford jive classics that have recently been whipped up by Jimmie's arranging staff.

Erskine Hawkins

ST. LOUIS—Erskine Hawkins, often referred to as the "Twentieth Century Gabriel," last week introduced his new rhythm style for the edification of the patrons of the Riviera Club here.

LAVISH MUSICAL!—That's Warner Bros. 20th Anniversary of Talking Pictures technicolor production, "Night and Day," which opens Friday, August 2 at Warners Hollywood, Downtown and Wiltern theatres. Starring Cary Grant and Alexis Smith, the film deals with the life of the famous composer, Cole Porter. The notable cast includes Monty Woolley, Ginny Simms, Jane Wyman, Mary Martin, Eve Arden, Carlos Ramirez and Donald Woods.

'Runaround' At United Artists

The "Runaround," now playing at the United Artists theater, 933 S. Broadway, downtown Los Angeles, is fast moving romantic comedy, using the surefire double bid of sex and laughter for audience interest. The laughter ranges free and easy through the show and the sex is kept within the bounds of good clean fun. The second feature is "She Wrote the Book."

Burt Lancaster has finished his role in "The Killers" and is spending a month's vacation in New York.

BASIE NOT INTERESTED

Columbia Record star COUNT BASIE, who was being talked up as a candidate for Mayor of his native Red Bank, N. J., has turned down the honor due to his inability to serve full-time if elected. THE COUNT, whose father is a prominent Red Bank citizen, put that New Jersey community "on the map" several years ago with his popular Columbia Record of his own "Red Bank Boogie."

Instead of dabbling in politics, BASIE will concentrate on his incomparable rhythms for his 15 coast-to-coast airshots weekly via CBS, Mutual and NBC from New York's Aquarium Cafe, where he opens this week for a four-week engagement.

New Ditty by Duke Ellington

Duke Ellington has just written a new number destined to take its place among the other famous Ellingtonia. It's called "You Don't Love Me No More." From all indications it will soon grace the Hit Parade. The Duke brought his celebrated band into San Francisco's Golden Gate Theatre for a week's engagement which began Wednesday.

KAPPA'S AFFAIR TOPS

An orchid from our garden to the Kappa Alpha Psi on its Summer dance at the Florentine Gardens . . . it just goes to show you what can be done with everybody working together . . . O. K. so you can go any night for the price of $3.00, maybe so, but I betcha you won't ever see as much in one show and have as much fun, beside the satisfaction of knowing, your purchasing a ticket contributed to furthering the education of some wortny student. An estimate of $2500 was received from the affair which will definitely aid in the Scholarship drive of the fraternity.

Recital of Carol Brice Is Eagerly Awaited in Boston

BOSTON—The musicians who climbed on Hitler's bandwagon may be supermen too, but the chances are they are too busy scheming on how not to hang to think about such things as a Mozarteum at Salzburg this year. However, on the other side of the fence at Tanglewood in the Berkshires music goes forward. Dr. Serge Koussevitsky and the Boston Symphony Orchestra are now in the midst of their annual Berkshire music festival and to prove further the vitality of music in America the great young Negro contralto, Carol Brice, who is a native of Sedalia, North Carolina has been invited to give a recital there with the orchestra and Dr. Koussevitsky on August 3.

Carol Brice is 27 years old and lives at 400 Manhattan Avenue, New York City. She graduated from the Julliard Graduate School of Music in 1944. Just now aside from completing her prepartation of the Brahams' Alto Rhapsody and preparing for her fall concert season, her main occupation is caring for her two year-old son, who has been involved in the exciting events of Carol's successful musical career.

Jack's Basket Room Is Unique

Jack Jackson continues in the forefront of joy dispensers in the City of the Angels at Jack's Basket Room, 3219 South Central Avenue, where he has one of the most beautifully decorated spots in the city. La Fairbanks May Appear in Canadian Show

The world's greatest colored ice skater, Mabel Fairbanks, who has been resting in Hollywood for several weeks while her manager, Wally Hunter, considers numerous offers, may decide to appear in a Canadian ice show this fall.

This week she received an offer from A. W. McDonald, secretary of the Trail Rink company, Ltd., in Trial, British Columbia.

McDonald would book the popular ice star in a show beginning November 1, with the show tentatively slated to play three big dates to begin with—in Kimberly, Trail and Nelson, B. C.

Sissle to Direct Smash Hit of '20s

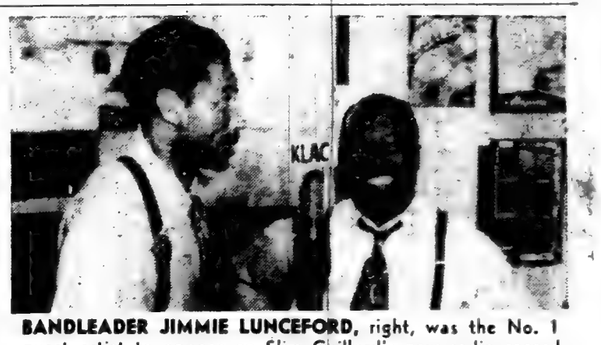
NEW YORK CITY—"Shuffle Along," a smash-hit on Broadway for over two years in the early 1920s, bringing out such talent as Josephine Baker, Florence Mills, Adelaide Hall, and Paul Robeson, will be given a new production early this fall with three of the original contributors and performers participating.

Noble Sissle, who composed the lyrics and appeared in the original will serve the present production in the same way and also act as producer in association with Dale Wasserman and Perry Watkins.

Flournoy Miller, author of the original book which satirizes crooked politics in a Mayoralty contest, has rewritten its topical portions and will appear in the revue in his original role.

Composer Eubie Blake has written a new score and will function again as musical director. Some of the all-time hit songs from the original "Shuffle Along" that will be retained in the new production are "Wild About Harry," "Love Will Find A Way," "Bandana Days," and "Gypsy Blues."

A USO-Camp Show presentation in the ETO early this year provided the authors and composer with the incentive and inspiration for this up-to-date revival of the popular musical.



BANDLEADER JIMMIE LUNCEFORD, right, was the No. 1 guest artist to appear on Slim Gaillard's new radio record program Monday afternoon. Gaillard, destined to become one of the city's most popular disc jockeys, is heard every afternoon (except Sundays) from 3:15 to 3:30 o'clock over station KLAC, broadcasting direct from his brand new record shop on the Westside in the heart of "Voutville."

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

THIS WEEK we turn this column over to John M. Lee who writes SHORT SPORTS for Continental Features. Take it away, John . . .

To Horace Greeley goes the credit for the continuing exodus of young men into the west. It was his blunt, "Go west, young man, go west!" that influenced the destiny of countless migratory souls who poured into the uncharted regions to grow up with the country. Not having been around when the great Greeley uttered the words that started the human stampede, it is difficult for me to know exactly what he meant, or why he was moved to speak the words that were to change the course of history. However, I was very much on the scene when the affable brothers Pasquale extended a cordial invitation to all of the ball-playing gentry to hit the trail for south of the border, and happy I am about it too, for I am privileged to see the American way really working in a part of America that is not the United States.

When the Pasquale brothers really got going on their program to build baseball in their native land, they didn't handicap their efforts by asking the color of a man's skin, but they did show anyone who was interested, the color of their money. They introduced a new angle into the big game by giving the boys who did the work and drew the crowds a fair hunk of the profits instead of utilizing the American system of paying off with glamor and newspaper clippings.

At the moment, the Mexican League is doing very nicely, thank you, and the color line, which seems to be the major distinction of the American game, is nowhere in evidence. A Negro shortstop by the name of Dandridge is the talk of the eight-team circuit, and he is a hero to the Mexican fans who are warmly demonstrative and can outdo Brooklyn fans in enthusiasm when they have something to shout about. Mickey Owen, who has been on the big-time long enough to know what he is talking about, says that are at least a dozen Negro players on Mexican teams who could go into the line-up of any of the American or National League teams and make good without a warm-up.

It must be a source of keen disappointment to some of the sports writers who tried from the beginning to burlesque the Mexican League. They hit at the climate and the customs of the people, trying to show the boys how different things would be down Mexico way. What they didn't realize is that the boys wanted something different from what they had been accustomed to at home.

In the United States, the fans wax rabid and talk a good game, but they are indifferent to the caliber of players they see perform for the millions of dollars they pour into the coffers of the baseball barons each year. They are satisfied that they are seeing the best men in the business in action, but a trip down to see the Mexican League in action will make them dissatisfied with the best they have at home.

When the players don one of the uniforms in the Mexican League, it can be truthfully said that they are playing out of sheer love of the game, because the money end of the deal has been taken care of so that they won't be playing for marbles. There is no limit to the high degree of baseball performance to be seen in Mexico. Because there are no racial barriers, no man's ability is barred. A good Negro player can be as certain of a berth as any other player.

Consequently, it is not surprising to hear reports that the eight teams in the Mexican League will show more class in a season or two than the best we have to offer here in the States. Baseball will have to take on a truly international aspect and include the Mexican League if it wants to maintain its big business standard.

One of the most niceable things about baseball as it is played over the border is the fine spirit that prevails on all of the teams. The boys "talk it up" with real spirit, and team morale is higher than that which presently prevails in gringo land. Maybe it's a bit early to make such a prediction, but I'll go out on a limb and say that unless the Dodgers put him in the league legitimately this season, Jackie Robinson will lend an attentive ear to offers to take his stuff to the land of tamales and enchilladas. The Pasquale brothers are not missing any bets when it comes to getting the best, and they have had their eyes on Jackie for a long time.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

Enjoying the best season since it opened, Hollywood Park will end the summer meeting Saturday. This week is known as charity week and all funds taken in will go for worthy purposes and many organizations will share of the profits. The outgovernments come in for a large benefit. The state and federal standing horse was Fred Astaire's Triplicate, winner of the Hollywood Gold Cup. In winning this race the Astaire bankroll increased over $80,000. Honeymoon added $20,000 more to the vast sum she has already earned by running second, and Historian finished third to grab off $10,000.

The closing event of the season will be the Sunset Handicap at one mile and five furlongs, with an added value of $50,000. Historian is expected to remain here to try for revenge. In that event this writer picks Historian to win, Triplicate second, and Aptocrat third.

U-Time was the queen and champion of the 2-year-olds, having won two $25,000 stakes in record time. Congratulations to all who helped put Hollywood track over this season.

HIPODROMO DE TIJUANA

Another big crowd was on hand to witness the twelve race program offered by General Manager Agustin Silveyra. The feature event was won by that improved sprinter, Dinkum, beating the favorite, Gray Head, by a neck. The daily double paid $272.40 while the quiniela backers received $96.20. The Hipodromo expects to get better horses when the Del Mar meeting opens Tuesday, Aug. 6. Horsemen will start packing up for the next stop, which will be at Del Mar, where the surf meets the turf. Watch my column for Del Mar.

So long, George.

Watson Jones, hero of some of the greatest fights in Olympic history, will face handsome Tommy Garland, waterfront ace, in the ten-round feature at the Olympic Tuesday night.

They say Watson has completely reformed, that he has become a model young man. Previously it is said he hated training.

Tommy Garland has for years been a sell-out attraction at Ocean Park; he lost only two fights in five years in that arena.

Henri Woode in Film Musical

RADIO CITY, N. Y. — Henri Woode and his orchestra, who are set to commence a nation-wide tour of ballrooms and theaters starting in mid-August, have completed filming their first featurette, an all-music novelty short, for Associated Producers of Negro Motion Pictures.

Hudson, Gonzales Bout Ends in Draw

Eddie Hudson, 131½, and Baby Gonzales, 130½, battled to a rather slow 10-round draw at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night. The bout was highlighted by some fan tossing an egg into the ring just as the tenth round started. The hen fruit struck Gonzales on the hip and Referee Benny Whitman took time out to clean up both Gonzales and the ring.

In the 6-round semi-windup, Edgar Robinson, 156, was much too clever for Al Callahan, 161, and drew down a handy decision.

Results of the four-rounders—Gene Loughridge, 149½, t.k.o. (3) Malcolm Smith, 151; Nick Moreno, 196½, dec. Horace Thompson, 180; Henry Rich, 161, dec. Johnny Hunt, 161, and Bobby Molino, 115, dec. Henry Evaro, 115.

Jimmie McDaniels Is Singles Threat

WILBERFORCE, Ohio—Top contenders for National championship honors of the American Tennis Association are making the rounds of major tournaments in order to be in shape for the gruelling matches of the National championships to be held at Wilberforce University, Ohio, August 19-24 inclusive.

Topping the list for men's singles honors is Lloyd Scott, Prairie View, Texas, 1944 and 1946 defending champion. He won the mens' singles championship at the Prairie View Open, June 21-23, and will be blasting his way to the top of other sanctioned ATA tournaments before the "Nationals." Jimmie McDaniels, Los Angeles, Cal., No. 2 ranking player, is making another come back try for the championship he held three consecutive years, 1939, 1940, 1941. Favorites expect to see New York's own Dr. Refinald Wier, ranking No. 3, in the first post-war national championship battle. John Chandler, Fanwood, N. J., ranking No. 4 is certain to make troubled for all opponents met this season.

Maurice "Flip" Jackson, ranking No. 5 and Richard Cohen, who did not play in 1945 were both in action in Raleigh, N. C. last month and will be making the rounds in the East. Louis Graves, New York, ranking No. 6, who became a national threat for singles and doubles honors during the war years, is expected to continue his bid for top honors. Francis Powell, Tuskegee coming star and ranking No. 7 is on the warpath for a higher rating.

Siki Defeats Swedish Angel

Reginald Siki, who is fast becoming known as a formidable wrestler in these parts, scored a startling upset at the Olympic last Wednesday night when he rendered the Swedish Angel hors de combat in the third of a two out of three falls match.

Amid the boos of the crowd the Angel won the first fall but Siki rallied and clamped a hold on his opponent that consisted of a severe twisting of the neck. When the Angel failed to recover Siki was given the match. When the vanquished warrior did arise from the mat he attempted to battle all and sundry, but was subdued after considerable effort on the part of officials and the police.

Frankie Moore Robbery Victim In Local Bout

Frankie Moore, 131½, Oakland lightweight star, earned at least a draw in battling Enrique Bolanos, 133½, to a standstill in the 10-round feature at the Olympic Tuesday night but all Frankie could do was to stand by and watch the Mexican boy's hand raised in token of a unanimous decision at the end of the bout.

Moore put up a magnificent fight and rocked Bolanos several times with his stiff punches. At these times the Mexican would hold on tightly and then start some fast back-pedaling to keep out of danger.

Best bout of a great card was a blistering 4-rounder between Garfield Coleman, 160, and Henry Rich, 160½, with Coleman being declared the winner. Each boy won a Bulova watch and $25 for his efforts.

Ray Brown to Fight Don Lee

Brown will go to the post the favorite in this one. While Lee is a rugged boy and a fair puncher, Brown is known as a clever boxer as well as a stiff hitter.

Trombone Man Forms Own Ork

NEW YORK — Buddy Mitchell, sensational young trombone stylist, formerly featured with several headline "name" bands, has formed his own orchestra comprised of 15 outstanding musicians, all recent members of the Count Basie, Jimmie Lunceford, Billy Eckstine and Cootie Williams' orchestras.

. . . On the Baseball Front

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—The Indianapolis Clowns and W. S. Welch's Cincinnati Crescents, whose series early in July resulted in the most hectic competition of the season for the two teams, will hook up again in a set of thrillers.

The rivals meet here at Indianapolis' Victory Field Saturday night, August 3, engage in a double-header augmented by a huge annual bathing beauty contest the following afternoon at Crosley Field, Cincinnati, and move into Comiskey Park, Chicago, for a big night game Monday, August 5.

The Cincinnati twin bill will be the third and fourth games of a series between the teams for the city championship. They divided the first two games. The combination of the Clowns, Crescents and bathing beauties argues for a huge crowd.

Rams to Stage An Intra-Squad Game on Aug. 14

COMPTON, Calif.—It will be Bob Waterfield and Tom Harmon and all the gridiron might that have lifted these two men high among the immortals of the game against the wizardry of Kenny Washington and Jim Hardy in the Los Angeles Rams' intra-squad game to be played in the Compton College Stadium here the night of August 14.

Buddy Young rejected a Naval Academy offer when he decided to return to Illinois University.

REV. B. C. COOKE, Dean

The department of Christian education of St. Paul Baptist church, 21st and Naomi sts., of which Rev. B. Clarence Cooke is minister of Christian education and Rev. J. L. Branham is pastor, recently presented their Vacation Church school in one of the most unique commencement programs in the history of St. Paul.

The school had an enrollment of 185 students, 15 trained teachers and a very efficient official staff, including a dean, principal, supervisors and registrars.

The theme, "Living Together in God's World," was well interpreted by the faculty. The principal speaker was Beatrice Cassell, member of the Trinity Baptist church, area director for youth and president of the Junior Missionary Society of the L. A. District Ass'n.

Mrs. Minnie Mae Tucker was the recipient of much honor and praise for the fine piece of work produced in the V.C.S. Rev. Cooke, who heads it, stated that the success of the school was entirely due to the selection of the faculty as well as the moral support of the able pastor, Rev. J. L. Branham.

Rev. Cooke received much commendation from the pastor and Board of Christian Education for the tremendous success and accomplishment of the department under his eminent ministry. St. Paul is the center for wholesome youth activities and religious training of our city.

Robt. Williams Will Be Heard Here August 8

The Friendly 12 Charity Club will present Robert S. Williams, basso, in a recital on Thursday, August 8, at 8 p.m., to be held at the Second Baptist church, 24th and Griffith.

This event will be one of the highlights of the season. Williams is a member of the Theatre Guild and a prominent member of the Los Angeles social set.

This newly organized club is doing a wonderful job in putting forth every effort to help the many unfortunates among us. If we look around, in every path of life we find those who are weary and filled with strife. Our aim is to give a helping hand each day to some needy person along life's highway. Please attend and help us make this affair a grand success.

Accompanying Robert Williams will be Bernice Stuart Lawson, well known pianist and directress of the Chapel of Remembrance Singers, of whom Williams is a member. His program will include numbers by Mozart, Wagner, Handel, Beethoven, Schumann, Fischer, as well as modern and contemporary selections. Central ave.; Harris Drug Store, 27th and Central; Jones Beauty Shoppe, 47th and Central; Watts, Calif., 10324 Anzac st.; Pasadena, 105 No. Vernon, and ticket headquarters, 1213 E. 51st st.

Charles Crose Choir Recital

The Senior Usher Board of the Neighborhood Community church presented the Charles Grose Choir in a recital at the church on Sunday, July 21.

The large crowd that was in attendance included some of the "names" of Los Angeles musical circles. The program included works of Bach and other noted composers and arrangers, all of which made the evening one well spent. Director Grose is to be complimented on his work with the group. The selection and presentation of the numbers was excellent and to one that is technically interested in choral groups, here is one choir that strives to affect a blend. The phrasing and dynamics were good. All in all, this is one choir that will be tops if the present rate of advancement is maintained.

The program was highlighted with vocal solos by Minnie Albritton, Toussaint Jennings, Helen Flowers, Marion Davis, Sarah Andrews (the latter three are members of the choir) and piano solos by Elizabeth Garret, who is an artist if there ever was one. Juanita Lemmons deserves high praise for her splendid accompanying of the group. Don't fail to hear the Charles Grose Choir in its next recital, which those that were there hope will be soon.

Christian Science Lesson on 'Love'

The Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Love" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, will be Paul's statement to the Corinthians: "Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you."

A Scriptural passage from Ezekiel reads, "For thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I, even I, will both search my sheep, and seek them out. . . . and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. . . . I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God. I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: . . . And ye my flock, the flock of my pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord God."

"Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need," says Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Again she writes, "Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way." "Love is impartial and universal in its adaptation and bestowals. It is the open fount which cries, 'Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters.'"

It is motive alone that gives character to the actions of men. —Bruyere.

Rev. Rakestraw Must Appear in Court Aug. 21

The Rev. E. W. Rakestraw will trade his pulpit for a witness seat on August 21 when he appears in court to answer an amended complaint filed by Atty. Walter L. Gordon, Jr., charging him with attempting to sell the Wesley Methodist church against the will of the congregation.

The trial is slated for superior court, with members of the flock protesting the proposed $40,000 sale of the church at Eighth and San Julian sts. The minister says that the entire deal is above board, and states the lawsuit is merely a "plot by a few disguided and misled members."

Rev. Chas. Towey Talks on Christ

Rev. Chas. M. Toney, the field secretary of the Los Angeles District Association of the Western Baptist Convention, says it seems that time and place for the Gospel of the crucified, buried and risen Christ have but short seconds to be preached or heard in this rushing, changing, supposed modern times. Programs other than the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Hear Sodom and Gomorrah, Pompeii, confession of ancient times. I was in my own power. But the secretary says please read 2nd Cor. 2; Cor. 3:1-5.

Surely the Gospel of Jesus Christ is sufficient (His grace).

Camp Meeting Choir Has Record Concerts In East

By LOU SEALIE SWARZ

NEW YORK—Camp Meeting Choir which is managed by Edward Hill of Winston-Salem, N. C., has had a record-breaking season while here in the East. Several New York appearances have been sponsored by Bishop Lawson of the Revuge Temple and by Edna Mae Crenshaw, local promoter.

Everywhere the choir appears the singers are heralded for their exquisite blending of tones and their unique arrangements. J. Garland Wilson, the director, can feel himself proud not only because he makes those arrangements, but his direction has been of such calibre that the Camp Meeting Choir really executes just in the right way.

Their Eastern appearances have taken them into the Madison Square Garden, Randall Island, Abyssinia Baptist church, and also the Revuge Temple. The group has also made several recordings with the Diamond Recording Company—and the sales are constantly going up. Hill, the manager, seems very pleased over the success of his Camp Meeting Choir.

The measure of a man's real character is what he would do if he knew he would never be found out.—Macaulay.

Zion Hill's 6th Anniversary Picnic Given

In keeping with its tradition, Zion Temple, 1315 E. Vernon ave., is celebrating its sixth anniversary beginning Saturday, August 3. One of the highlights of the celebration will be the homage paid to Rev. Geraldine O'Connor, minister of Zion Temple. Rev. O'Connor has been re-elected pastor for the ensuing five years. One of her accomplishments has been to reorganize the church, changing it from one of an occult science to that of an inter-denominational and inter-racial one.

Church officers, members, and friends will also be honored for their loyal cooperation. The Board of Directors will acknowledge the efforts expended by Rev. Evy Williams, assistant pastor; Rev. June Harvey, minister of music; Mrs. Francis Pierce, Rev. Luella Johnson, Rev. Pearl C. Walton, Rev. Millie Short and Sister Lulu Staten.

He that does goes for good's sake, seeks neither praise nor reward, but he is sure of both in the end.—William Penn.

'Gene Told Us,' Says Farmer in Walton County, Ga.

The California EAGLE this week reprints from The COURIER-JOURNAL, a white newspaper of Louisville, Ky., the following revealing story of the Georgia multiple lynching because of its detailed description, lacking in previous reports from Walton county, and for the insight it gives into the mentality of the lynchers. We urge our readers to note the evidence furnished by the writer that the lynchers had been directly incited by Gene Talmadge's race-baiting campaign; the statement of a 12-year-old child, "They did a good job," and the incident of the young white couple taking their 4-year-old son on a gloating visit to the scene of the crime.—Editor.

MONROE, Ga., July 27.—The placid stream of Saturday's business, a sauntering, steady shuffle, fills this rural county seat. As black and white mingle in old custom, nothing betrays the depths below. You have to know that Negroes like this in the South have always lived in tension, if you are to see the vague signs of tension now become very brittle.

Eight miles away, in a dim path beside a lonely road, pine needles are stained with the blood, still fresh, of the two Negro men and their young wives who were shot down Thursday in a massacre as cold and calculated as anything in the Nazi record. Peace was shattered by the guns of a well-drilled firing squad which may be hard to restore.

This reporter was talking to E. S. Gordon, sheriff of Walton County, on a sidewalk opposite the Courthouse. Suddenly there was a figure beside us. A large man was talking.

Talmadge Carried County

"This thing's got to be done to keep Mister Nigger in his place," he said. "Since the court said he could vote, there ain't been any holding him. I just come from Atlanta, and 98 per cent of the policemen and 100 per cent of the streetcar men voted for Talmidge, because they come in contact with the nigger and know what he's doing. Gene told us what was happening, and what he was going to do about it. I'm sure proud he was elected."

"They hadn't ought to killed the two women," Sheriff Gordon said mildly, and edged away.

Talmadge carried the county, losing its two towns but carrying every rural district by a heavy margin.

Three days before the primary election came the incident which was the beginning of the tragedy. Barney Hester, a young farmer, was stabbed by Roger Malcolm, his Negro tenant, when he tried to stop a quarrel between Malcolm and the latter's wife.

A Negro's attack on a white man always brings rumblings of trouble. But as one lounger at the Courthouse pu it, "The sight of that long line of niggers waiting to vote put the finishing touches to it."

Hester was seriously hurt, but is recovering. Malcolm was arrested at once and brought here to jail. His wife went home to her mother, a hand on the farm of Loy Harrison, a prosperous farmer just across the Appalachee River in Oconee County.

There lived also a brother-in-law, George Dorsey, and his wife,

Name of Matthews, Noted Attorney, Among Four Sent By Mayor to City Council

The campaign conducted by the California EAGLE to have a Negro appointed to the police commission appeared to have been won this week as Mayor Bowron recommended Attorney Charles Matthews for a post on the new commission. The mayor's recommendations for the new commission are now under consideration by the city council.

Matthews, 39-year-old graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, served as a deputy district attorney for Los Angeles county from 1931-1945. He was appointed to this post to succeed Leon Whittaker, first Negro to hold the post, after the death of the latter. Matthews resigned two years ago on the grounds that the office offered no chance for promotion. He is a registered Republican.

Others suggested by Mayor Bowron to serve on the commission are Bruno Newman, attorney; Mrs. Curtis S. Albo, clubwoman; Irvin (Bob) Snyder, San Fernando valley legisonaire; and N. N. Martin, a member of the old commission, who will serve until the new members become acquainted with the work of the commission, and then resign.

Ironically, Matthews was named to succeed Van M. Griffith, the commissioner who occasioned the entire shuffle by his battles with the mayor.

This meeting is called by the Los Angeles Provisional Committee of the National Negro Congress to demand the arrest and punishment of the perpetrators of these crimes.

Atty. Williams Greets Visiting AKA Sorors

Attorney Martha Malone Williams, Boule general chairman and Basileus of Alpha Gamma Omega, graduate chapter of this city extends to all visiting sorors a warm welcome to Southern California.

Attorney Williams stated that in this momentuous time of history, it is indeed fitting that the Alpha Kappa Alpha body should meet here. For the very spirit of the West, seems an advocate of the progressive ideas and endeavors to which the sorority stands dedicated, and on which many of the people are convinced, a just and peaceful society can only be built.

Here, in this comparatively new country, old traditions are altering, she stated, and while sociologists and historians see a new cultural pattern emerging here, we find in the Southland the harbinger and promise of new freedom, a new tolerance, a new capacity of peoples to live together amicably.

This beginning toward unity is as yet a modest seed; but it is planted well here. In the crisis of man's urgent need today, it would not perhaps be bold to hope that from this seed may flower the bright design on which can be created one world and one mankind under God.

This—one world — challenges Alpha Kappa Alpha. As sorors, we accept the challenge.

FEPC LUNCHEON—Pictured above are a part of the group who this week attended the Business and Professional luncheon at the Crystal Tea Room sponsored by the FEPC Committee of Los Angeles. Speakers were Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins, Miss Lena Horne, Carlton Moss and Albert Dekker. Those present were urged to see that FEPC becomes a law in California.

On The Sidewalk

By C. A. B.

WHEN a minority race becomes sufficiently numerous in organized strength to threaten the established control of a majority race, the minority race may well expect stiffened opposition in the way of a more forceful oppression from the majority race. After all this is merely instinctive self preservation.

But this holds true only in a semi-savage civilization and not in a modern civilization where the coveted goal of freedom and democracy can only be achieved when all of the citizens enjoy equal rights in all of the phases of a civilized society.

Unfortunately some parts of the United States may still be classified as semi-savage, a condition fostered by economic oppression and exploitation. And here, where liberal organizations like the C.I.O. and NCPAC are mustering Negroes into effective organizations to insure democracy to all and to bring about an end to the economic oppression of white citizens, this semi-savage state has rebelled again. Resentment has flared up. Witness the wave of lynchings, the election of Bilbo, Rankin and Talmadge and the rebirth of the Ku Klux Klan.

THERE is sore need for a practical program of action and education among the people of the United States, Negro and White alike. This can only be done through organizations dedicated to this task. These organizations must expand, constantly, until enough people are organized effectively to halt the march of domestic fascism and to stem the rising tide of reaction.

To some persons, the organization of the Los Angeles Chapter of the National Negro Congress, precludes the work carried on by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

But this is entirely a misconception. When the secret of atomic energy was discovered, scientists knew that it had so many uses it would be necessary for a division of work so that every possible use could be successfully expedited.

AND so with these two militant organizations. The NAACP and the NNC have fought side by side in many battles toward the same victory.

Los Angeles is the third largest city in the nation. It is overpopulated and as a result of this overpopulation, minority peoples have been shunted into ghettoes in ever increasing numbers because of restrictive covenants.

With this overcrowding, friction has developed. Acts of discrimination toward minority people have become more flagrant.

BECAUSE this large number of minority people might rise up in unity, the KKK and other groups through terroristic acts are bent upon creating disunity and confusion among these people.

There are many unclassified crimes against humanity perpetrated by individuals and groups who are weaving a fascistic pattern of friction, disunity and the final overthrow of the ideals of government which go to make up a real democracy.

THEN too, there are other individuals and organizations who believe that any attempt to, as they say, compel whites to accept Negroes as equals is sowing tares and planting time bombs.

With such well known agencies working against the union of minorities and a better understanding between the races, a hypothetical question is prompted.

Do we, the people of this community, need more than one defense organization on the firing line, closing the chasm of racial hatred and building bridges that lead to a better understanding and a one-world ideal?

Late News FLASHES

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico—Labor and consumer groups this week were set for a general strike and a protest march on the capital unless the government acts to lower prices.

MOSCOW—Soviet newspapers printed without comment a news dispatch reporting the lynching of four Negroes in Georgia. The Soviet state long since has eliminated the pogroms for which Czarist Russia was notorious. It enforced the death penalty for pogromists.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica — AFL "diversionist tactics" in seeking to split the Latin American Federation of Labor (CTAL) were condemned unanimously by the second congress of the Costa Rican Federation of Labor meeting here. The convention also voted a resolution of friendship and solidarity with the CIO.

Cafes may charge higher prices for menu items the main ingredients of which have been removed from price control but, after figuring their new prices on such items, they must file them with their local price control boards within six days from the time they are offered to customers, OPA announced this week.

Inn Keeper Murders Sharecropper, Freed On 'Self-Defense' Plea

MONROE, Ga. — Another Negro sharecropper has been shot to death not far from Monroe as the multiple lynching of two women and their husbands in this county on July 25, still goes unpunished. Harrison Johnson, the latest victim, was perforated with six revolver bullets and beaten with a gun butt on the highway near Eatonton in Putnam county. The slayer, John Holt, who runs an inn frequented by cotton planters, was given his liberty at once by Sheriff J. L. Paschal.

"Self defense" was the claim. The sheriff accepted Holt's amazing story that Johnson made a completely unprovoked attack on himself, his wife, his son John, Jr., and another sturdy teen-ager named Alvin Collins.

Holt asserts that Johnson charged them with a "knife," and kept coming while the inn-

Cotton Prices Up ; New Increases Due

WASHINGTON — Cotton clothing prices are going up 6 to 8 percent, OPA announced this week, and bed sheets and other household linens soon will cost about 17 percent more.

The reason, the agency said, is an average of 16 percent increase in cotton textile ceilings required under the new price control law.

The higher ceilings on fabrics, ordered into effect immediately, will take about $500,000,000 a year out of consumers' pockets.

3 Young Bandits Rob Loan Office, Shoot Manager

Boldly striding Tuesday afternoon into an automobile loan office at 2020 W. Pico blvd., three young bandits shot the manager in the stomach, cowed 12 other employes, rifled the safe of several thousand dollars and escaped.

Shot by one of the bandits was Al Cloud, 48, white, of 2056 Hermosa ave., Redondo Beach. He was taken to California Lutheran hospital, where he was reported to have a good chance of recovery.

The employes, all white, said the trio walked in and said they wished to apply for a loan. Katherine O'Brien, clerk on duty at the counter, called Manager Cloud, who started to walk out of his office. Just then the men pulled their guns, ordered Cloud to put his hands up, and shot him when he hesitated.

LONDON — British Sudanese troops this week fired on a crowd of 5,000 Eritreans who massed in front of the central prison to demaand the release of Eritrean leaders awaiting trial. Two of the demonstrators were killed.

NAACP Rally Sun. To Stress Fight On Mob Violence

Lena Horne and Cornel Wilde, well-known screen stars, and John R. Williams, newspaper man, will headline the program at the NAACP rally, Sunday, August 11, at 3:30 p.m. at Independent church, 18th and Paloma sts. This rally will mark the close of the 1946 NAACP membership campaign, when final membership reports will be given.

"Los Angeles vs. Mob Violence" will be the theme of the program, with the speakers pointing out a course of positive action to meet the growing threats of danger indicated by the recent mob murders in Georgia and Mississippi.

Other highlights of the meeting will be the district-by-district reports of members added to the NAACP rolls. Already the campaign has surpassed last year's record-breaking drive, and the meeting Sunday promises to push the drive over the 15,000 member mark.

Admission is free. The public is invited.

Father Divine Weds 21-Year-Old Girl

WASHINGTON—Father Divine, famous cult leader of New York, has married a second time, it was disclosed today.

The father was married four months ago in Washington, D. C., to Miss Edna Rose Ritchings, white, 21 of Canada.

Rev. Albert L. Shadd, the minister who united the couple in wedlock, told reporters, "I do not wish to confirm or deny it—but it's a fact."

Hawkins Warns Existence of Local Concerns Depends on FEPC Victory in November

Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins called together a group of business and professional men at a luncheon on Tuesday at the Crystal Business Center to emphasize the economic importance of the FEPC.

He pointed out that since most of their income was derived from Negro clients and customers they would face terrible business reverses if the people of this community lost their purchasing power.

"Employers have taken a Roman Holiday in their hiring policies since FEPC has been discontinued. More than 80% of the job orders received by the

Rep. Douglas Scores Congress' Failure to Pass Anti-Lynching Bill

WASHINGTON—Blasting the recent lynch outrages against the Negro people, Representative Helen Gahagan Douglas (D., Calif.) this week told the House that the nation needs a Federal anti-lynching law, "making that kind of mob violence a Federal offense." She pointed out that present federal investigations were hampered by the theory of state's rights. "Murder," she said, "is a state affair, though it is the shame of the nation."

Commenting on the Georgia multiple lynching, she said:

"Last week within the borders of this democracy—for the preservation of which nearly a quarter of a million young men laid down their lives in the recent world war—four American citizens, two of them women and one a veteran of five years' service in the army, were brutally shot by an armed and apparently disciplined band of unmasked men.

"This week we learned that at almost the same time another American citizen, in another state, was lynched. And the press carried stories about still another, who served 15 months in the Philippines and New Guinea, being dragged off a bus in another state by two policemen, who beat him and gouged out his eyes.

"These people were Negroes. Had any of the crimes against them been committed by our enemies in the war, the perpetrators would have been summarily sought out and punished."

She denounced the failure of congress to pass anti-lynching legislation, pointing out:

"For nearly half a century—46 years—anti-lynching bills have been brought, one after another, before the law-makers of the U. S. Even now, in the 7th congress, seven such bills have been before the judiciary committee of the house of representatives, since January, 1945.

"And now we are about to adjourn and go home, leaving this unfinished business."

Congress, she said, has shirked too long the responsibility "to enact legislation that will stop these murders."

At present, the federal government can interfere only where it is proved there has been negligence on the part of state officials, she pointed out. "That is why we need a federal law, making that kind of mob violence a federal crime."

Russian Backs Ethiopia at Paris Parley

PARIS—(NNPA)—The question of Italy's East African colonies came up at the European peace conference last Friday when K. V. Kisseleve of White Russia sharply protested the Big Four Council's deferment of settlement of the issue for one year because this permitted the continued presence of British troops in the areas involved.

The Ethiopian chief delegate and vice foreign minister, Akilou Abte Wolde, announced Ethiopia's claim for at least parts of Eritrea and Italian Somaliland and requested that Italy never receive any form of sovereignty of position in those regions.

He said his country, which had suffered so long in the battle against fascism, would not permit Italy to have any control over territories from which she had launched the aggression against his homeland—namely Italian Somaliland and Eritrea.

Kisselev, the day's last speaker, said he thought the Council of Foreign Ministers should speed up the solution for the Italian colonies.

Youth Congress Asks Truman to Act on Lynchings

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—In a recent telegram to President Truman the Southern Negro Youth Congress called for the Department of Justice to take over full responsibility for the prosecution of the lynchers of Leon McTatie, the Holmes County, Mississippi farm laborer who was flogged to death by a band of six white men last Monday on suspicion of having stolen a saddle from one of the lynchers.

The appeal to the President also sought federal action against the alleged "theorists and inciters to lynch violence against Negroes," naming Atty. Horace Wilkerson of Birmingham, Alabama and Dr. Samuel Green of Atlanta, Georgia along with Congressman Rankin, Senator Bilbo and Governor-elect Talmadge.

Sees Minority Vote Big Factor This November

"Votes of Los Angeles' minority groups will significantly influence next November's state and national elections."

That declaration was made this week by Edmund G. Brown, candidate on the Democratic ticket for state attorney general, who pointed out that "this state cannot continue its phenomenal developmen without the interest and participation of minority groups in its government."

Brown, during his present tenure of office as district attorney of San Francisco, has pointed the way to such participation by setting up the Group Relations Bureau in San Francisco, which holds regular hearings in an attempt to make minority groups of the city feel "an integral part of its society."

In a further attempt to put into practice his theories on interracial harmony, Brown appointed a Negro deputy district attorney to his staff, and also appointed the first Chinese deputy district attorney in the United States.

FOR DEMOCRACY IN EMPLOYMENT—White and Negro pickets protest the unfair employment policies of the Safeway stores of Northern California. According to the Citizens' Committee for Fair Employment, 1218 Magnolia street, Oakland, the Safeway Stores in the Oakland-Berkeley area have consistently denied Negroes the right to be employed in their stores, arguing that they must "please the majority" of their trade. Picket lines like the one shown above (outside the store at Grove street and Ashby avenue in Berkeley) have virtually stopped all Negro trade at the 12th and Adeline store in Oakland where about 75 percent of the intake has come from Negroes for the past few years. Fascist Group Leader Wants War on Russia

Following her "Let's go to war with Russia" tirade before the city council Monday, Mrs. Adelle Cox, head of the "We the Mothers Mobilize for America" declared the next day she was pleased with the "support given my pro-American stand by Councilman Lloyd Davies and Ed J. Davenport.

Mrs. Cox, of 2887 Leeward avenue, addressed the council unexpectedly Monday and demanded on behalf of her group that four Russian engineers, who are inspecting local water facilities in Southern California, be immediately barred from such "highly strategic military secrets" and sent home.

"We are still at war," shouted Mrs. Cox, and stated that Russia is our enemy, and "has been since the Red communists took control." Councilman Ed Davenport took up Mrs. Cox's cudgel, and also did some speech making to the effect that he was "tired of supporting and apologizing for Russia."

Mrs. Cox later in the day spoke before the Water and Power committee, and continued her anti-Russian and war-mongering appeal. Tuesday she declared that numerous groups had phoned her supporting her stand. She declined to name any, and said that no war veteran groups were included, "probably because most of them don't know enough about what is going on," she said.

The Mobilization for Democracy recently tied the "Mothers" group in with local fascist activities and stated it specialized in seditious and anti-Semitic propaganda.

Mississippi Solons Decline to Talk on July 24 Lynching

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) — Members of the Mississippi congressional delegation declined to comment last Tuesday on the murder of Leon McTatie by six white men in Holmes county, Mississippi, July 24.

They asserted they did not have enough information to make a statement.

Representative William M. Whittington, in whose district the murder was committed, announced his opposition to "mob violence" but said he would await a "factual report" before commenting further.

Frees Tiny Wife In Slaying of 205-lb. Husband

Because fragile, beautiful 19-year-old Mrs. Mildred Jackson weighed only 102 pounds as against her late husband's 205, she was found not guilty of murder although admitting that she fatally stabbed her husband, Ivory, last May 19.

Mrs. Jackson's attorney, Earl Broady, told superior court Judge Walter S. Gates that the woman had plunged a knife into her husband's heart only after he had slapped her, and threatened to kill her. Broady's contention was substantiated by Jackson's brother, Cleo, and the wife's girl friend, Pauline Gardner.

Both testified they heard the victim and his wife quarreling in the next room over the choice of what motion picture to attend. They told the court they heard her say:

"If you slap me once more, I swear to God I'll kill you."

Held for Slaying Of Common Law Mate

Mrs. Eleanor Garbitt, 39, of 1183½ East 49th st., was held to answer in a municipal court preliminary hearing Tuesday for the murder of her common law husband, 52-year-old Jack Sparks.

The defendant has confessed to the slaying, according to police, and has admitted slashing Sparks fatally with a butcher knife Sunday morning, July 28.

Disabled ex-soldier Otis Atkins, only witness to the killing, stated that it resulted from a wild, drunken fight in which Mrs. Garbitt accused Sparks' sister of stealing money.

"A little later," Atkins, who lives at 1282 East 49th st., said, "Mrs. Garbitt said 'I'll kill everybody' and she went into the kitchen and got the butcher knife and stuck it into him."

Mrs. Thomas Simms of St. Louis, Mo., is visiting with Mrs. C. R. Ransom of 239 W. Vernon avenue.

May Invoke U. S. Anti-Jimcrow Law in Fight on Gambling Ship

The "Second Battle of Santa Monica Bay," involving the operation of a gambling ship by "Admiral" Tony Cornero, otherwise known as Tony Stralla, which finds the county and state authorities searching their legal tomes in an attempt to thwart the ship's existance, may take on a racial angle.

After all other methods of stopping operation of the ship had been deemed inadvisable, a deputy district attorney, who asked his name be withheld, stated he suggested to district attorney Fred Howser that Cornero might be "out of line" because it is believed he will not admit Negro or other "non-Caucasian" gamblers aboard his ship.

The D.A. is reported to have promised to look into this legal possibility. Cornero claims he is outside of state jurisdiction, and it is admitted secretly by local political experts that probably only the federal government can touch him.

If the federal officials do have jurisdiction, Cornero might well be subject to the same anti-discrimination laws that have hampered Jim Crow procedures in interstate busses and trains recently.

Millions Die From Constipation

"Constipation is one of the greatest causes of disease, misery, inefficiency and premature senility, and should be most earnestly combated," says Dr. Kellogg of Battle Creek Sanitarium fame.

"Every case of constipation is curable, but not by means of any panacea. Each case must be studied and individual conditions must be dealt with in an intelligent and rational manner.

"A coated tongue, a sallow complexion, dark circles around the eyes, appearance of brown spots upon the hands or other parts (the so-called liver spots), offensive breath and perspiration, the discharge of foul-smelling gases from the bowels, putrid stools, a thin, inelastic, parchment-like skin, dullness of mind, mental irritability or depression without cause, cold hands and feet, chronic headache, arthritis, neuritis, rheumatism, asthma, pains around the heart—these and a score of other symptoms which might be mentioned are certain indications of chronic poisoning.

"A thorough cleansing of the colon, removing the cause, may prevent more serious conditions, such as hardening of the arteries, Bright's disease with albumen and casts in the urine or apoplexy with paralysis. Phenomenal results are obtained when the cause is removed."

Professor Arnold Ehret says, "Every disease, no matter what name it is known by medical science, is constipation—a clogging up of the entire pipe system of the human body. Any special symptom is therefore merely an extraordinary local constipation by more accumulated mucus at this particular place. Special accumulation points are the tongue, the stomach, and particularly the entire digestive tract. This last is the real and deeper cause of bowel constipation. The average person has as much as 10 pounds of unelliminated feces in the bowels continually poisoning the blood stream and the entire system. Think of it!

"Every sick person has a more or less mucus-clogged system, such mucus being derived from undigested and uneliminated, unnatural food substances, accumulated from childhood on.

"Remember," says Ehret, "your constitutional encumbrances throughout the entire system are the source of every disease; the greatest, most harmful source of lowered vitality, imperfect health, lack of strength and endurance and any and all imperfect conditions. All have their source in the colon, never perfectly emptied since birth."

Daniel C. Munro, M. D., Medical Director of exclusive Lake Placid Club, says, "If I were to write the story of all the cases in which colonic irrigations seem to lift the patient from the very jaws of death, it would fill volumes."

Residents of Los Angeles are fortunate in having the New Yorker—a haven for those who suffer, where the cause may be removed. New Yorker specializes in thoroughly cleansing and eliminating from the colon all waste matter causing toxic poisons. Rid yourself of toxic poisons. If suffering, come to our office at once. Get relief from constipation. Go to the New Yorker for a thorough cleansing of the large intestine or colon. Single treatment, $3.00. Treatments at office only. No medicines or drugs. Consultation free—no obligation. 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. New Yorker, 355 S. Broadway, Suite 316. TR. 7681. —Adv.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—Milton Murray, international president of the American Newspaper Guild, has asked James B. Carey, chairman of the National CIO Committee to Abolish Discrimination, to have his committee join the Guild in its fight to open the congressional press galleries to Negro newsmen.

In a letter to Carey, dated July 29, Murray brought to his attention the resolution adopted by the recent Guild convention, urging the Speaker of the house and the senate rules committee to make it possible for Negro correspondents to be admitted to the house and senate press galleries.

"We believe this is a matter which calls for concerted action by the whole Congress of Industrial Organizations to remove an outrageous grievance under which 13 million American citizens have been suffering since the very inception of the United States government," Murray wrote.

In short, these 13 million Americans are denied access to the avenues of information of government through newspaper representatives of their own choosing," he added.

Murray disclosed that he has appointed a committee to work to break down this discrimination. Lowell Lomax, chairman of the Guild unit of the Washington Afro-American, is a member of this committee.

His 2 Trips to Court Add Up To 2 Acquitals

For the second time within a two-week period Jesse Thomas, who lives across the street from Newton police station, was freed of theft charges when he appeared with his attorney, Charles H. Matthews, before Superior Judge William R. McKay this week.

A short while ago officers accused Thomas of stealing a suit but Attorney Matthews proved to the satisfaction of the court that Thomas had nothing to do with the theft. In the meantime, police officers had accused Thomas, together with William Young, Jr., of snatching a purse from Chris Morrison at the intersection of Ninth and San Pedro sts.

Thinking that the evidence in the case was iron-clad, the prosecution took the matter before the grand jury and had Thomas and Young indicted. However, when Thomas appeared in court with Attorney Matthews this week the latter made a motion to quash and succeeded in convincing the court that there was absolutely no evidence to connect Thomas with the purse snatching.

At the conclusion of the hearing Judge McKay dismissed all proceedings against Thomas. Thomas' co-defendant, William Young, Jr., was held for trial. Young was represented by other counsel.

City Terrace Asks Probe of Racist Rackets

City Terrace residents this week had called for extension of public transportation facilities in that area, improvement of street lighting, better police protection for the area and energetic action by city and county authorities to suppress Klan terrorism and other illegal and un-American activities.

The demands were voiced in resolutions adopted at a mass rally attended by 450 persons. The meeting was sponsored by the City Terrace Citizens Committee, which is affiliated with the National Citizens Political Action Committee.

A resolution directed to the Los Angeles Transit Lines requested extension of bus and trolley car service on City Terrace drive "at least to the corner of North Eastern ave."

The anti-Klan resolution called upon the L. A. city council, Mayor Bowron and the county board of supervisors "to instruct all law enforcement agencies under their jurisdiction to take the following affirmative action:

"1. Create special anti-Klan squads for the purpose of investigating Klan incidents, Klan organizations, and all restrictive covenant organizations.

"2. All records and reports of these special squads shall be submitted directly to your honorable bodies for action."

Seeks Increase in Minors' Minimum Pay

Increase of minimum wages for women and minors in professional, technical, clerical and similar occupations from 45 cents per hour to 85 cents is asked of the California Industrial Welfare Commission by the United Office and Professional Workers of America, CIO.

The request was made at a hearing in the State building which took evidence on minimum wages, maximum hours of work and working conditions covered by the sanitary regulations.

"The present minimum wage for women and minors of 45 cents an hour, adopted in 1943, was inadequate even then to insure adequate living standards for white-collar workers in California," Colley Wilby, UCPWA region representative, said. "Today in the face of wartime and postwar price increases, it is a wage which can insure only hunger, privation and hardship."

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Local 314, United Transport Service Employes, this week had won its long fight to have Negro doctors appointed to the medical staff of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad. Appointed were Dr. Arthur Hibbler and Dr. W. W. Andrews.

Man Killed by In-Law in Wild Gun Battle Over Property Left By Dead Wife Who Made No Will

A wild gun battle culminating a bitter quarrel over the division of a relative's estate ended early this week in the slaying of Fred McDuffie, 53, of 984 East 55th street by his brother-in-law, Kelly Herings of the same address, acording to Newton street police.

Sgt. W. E. Toole, homocide detective, declared that McDuffie was killed instantly when four shots from a gun fired by Herings crashed into his body, one penetrating his brain. Herings, who admitted killing the victim, said that McDuffie had fired six shots through a door of the 55th street home at him, one hitting him in the shoulder.

The pair had been feuding under the same roof for several months, since the death of Mrs. McDuffie, who was Hering's sister. The woman left no will, and the parties were dissatisfied with a court settlement which left each of the brother-in-laws half of her estate, consisting of several pieces of Eastside property.

On Sunday afternoon, according to Toole, McDuffie arroused the ire of Hering when he demanded that Mrs. Hering pay for the use of a sewing machine, which the victim claimed "belonged" to him. The argument reached a climax when Hering says McDuffie went into his bedroom and got a revolver, and then locked the door.

Hering told police he approached the door, and McDuffie opened fire, after which the suspect shot McDuffie, killing him.

Court Ruling Seen Aiding Nisei Evacuees

U. S. Judge Pierson M. Hall this week ruled that military authorities cannot use force in carrying out exclusion orders in time of war.

The decision, which may open the way for the filing of similar suits by approximately 70,000 Japanese Americans who were ruthlessly uprooted during the war, was given in a suit brought by Homer Glen Wilcox, once San Diego manager of Mankind United, against Lt. Gen. John L. DeWitt, former head of the western defense command, for his forcible removal from San Diego to Nevada by the army during the war.

Meantime, congress has before it a bill which would authorize President Truman to appoint a three-man commission to hear and settle possible claims from the 110,000 persons ordered evacuated by the war department from Hawaii, Alaska and the western states after Pearl Harbor. The bill already has been approved by the senate, and is now awaiting house action.

Pilgrim House Vacation Schools Ends With Fete

The Vacation Church School at Pilgrim House came to a climax last Friday with Louise Beavers, motion picture star, guest of honor at noon and the closing exercises in the evening at 7.

Miss Beavers brought as her guest Mrs. Morris of the famous Morris Eating House in Chicago. Both brought greetings to the children and listened to our program of song under the direction of Miss Consuelo Pappy.

In the evening each department rendered special numbers and refreshments were served by the teachers, Miss Helen Henry, director; Miss Grace Shinoda, secretary; Miss Consuelo Pappy, music; Mrs. C. F. Goree, Nursery School; John Haynes, Boys; Miss Catherine Steifel, crafts.

Last Tuesday a group of four girls under the leadership of Miss Henry left for a week at the Congregational Pilgrim Pines Camp at Yucaipa.

Program for the remainder of the summer will be under the direction of Miss Steifel, Louisville, Ky., school teacher. She is from the Plymouth Settlement House of that city.

NEW YORK — Clark Howell Foreman, president of the Southern Conference of Human Welfare, told his organization at a luncheon meeting that reactionaries of the South are being backed by northern reactionaries. According to Foreman, Eugene Talmadge, victor in Georgia's primary for governor, was financed by all mill owners in the state plus heavy contributions from wealthy interests in New York and Chicago.

San Diego Man Held On Marijuana Charge

SAN DIEGO — Charged with smuggling marijuana into this country from Mexico, George A. Pugilist Booked as Suspect in Burglary

SAN DIEGO—Identified by two white women as the man who entered their motel apartment at 4432 Pacific highway and stole a purse, Cullen F. (Rusty) Payne, prizefighter, was booked in the city jail this week on suspicion of burglary.

Betty Thompson and Pauline Lee, visitors from Tacoma, Wash., asserted they recognized the suspect as he drove past the rear of the apartment while officers were investigating.

Foster Speaks Here Aug. 15 on Lynch Terror

Denouncing the growth of lynch violence in the south the Communist party has issued a call for a relentless fight against fascist racism.

William Z. Foster, national chairman of the Communist party, who is scheduled to speak at the Shrine auditorium, on Thursday, Aug. 15, will outline the campaign for widespread activity throughout the nation with the one objective "death to Jim Crow" and an insistent demand that the perpetrators of these crimes against the Negro people be brought to swift justice.

Lynching is being made more than ever a political instrument of reaction—a weapon of aggression against democracy, against labor, against the people of all races and religious faiths. Lynching is being tolerated, encouraged and sanctioned by those who wish to crush out the great democratic political upsurge of the American people and the labor movement of recent years.

Declaring the "outrageous lynching of four Negroes in the South is the direct result of the spirit of reaction now being cultivated throughout the nation", Foster, in a recent statement, further warned against the imperialist policies now being pursued by the big trusts and monopolists who find it to their interest to maintain semi-slave race relations in the south.

Leader and Five of Georgia Lynch Gang Known; No Arrests

MONROE, Ga.—Loy Harrison, the white farmer-bootlegger who reported the multiple lynching of two Negro couples on July 25, emerged this week as the big question mark in the atrocity which shocked the world on the eve of the departure for Paris of Secretary of State Byrnes on a mission of selling the rest of the world on the American way of life.

Harrison has been telling some stories that don't seem to check. He claims, for instance, that George Dorsey, one of the victims, "owed" him a lot of money for the expense of putting in a crop that the veteran was never permitted to reap.

Aactually Dorsey had not been getting the usual "furnishings" credit of $18 a month or thereabouts, that keeps sharecroppers alive between crops. Dorsey, the veteran, was paying for his keep out of a government check.

Such credit for fertilizers that he may have received would hardly have amounted to more than $75.

And his share of the $1350 coming from the nine bales of cotton about to be harvested should have given Dorsey about $500 net, though it would have been against all Georgia agricultural custom if he had received anything like that sum.

Reporters dug up a significant fact—that Harrison had ordered Dorsey to get off his land two weeks ago.

Another significant factor is that Harrison who knows practically everybody hereabouts was "unable" to identify any of the lynchers, despite the fact that they wore no masks.

The leader of the mob and at least five of its members have been identified by the Georgia Bureau of Investigation. But the GBI has no evidence against them, either verbal or physical, which would standup in a court, particularly a Southern court.

There are now five GBI men and six FBI men working on the case. They are handicapped, however, by three things:

- The fact that the local authorities destroyed all possible evidence before the GBI and FBI were called in.
- The non-use of any Negro investigators.
- The unwillingness, based on fear, of anybody and everybody, white or Negro, to tell what he knows or has good reason to suspect.

When the GBI came in the day after the mass murders and went to the spot on the bank of the Apalachee river where Roger and Dorothery Malcolm and George and Mae Dorsey were ruthlessly shot down, they could not find a single bullet or shell case. Later they were able to recover only four bullets from the bodies. Local officials, including the coroner, a superannuated, semi-literate farmer named Tom Brown, had extracted the bullets for souvenirs.

Brown, who has been coroner for over 30 years, proudly displayed his "souvenir" of the lynching to newspaper men:

"Was stickin' half way out of his skin like, on one of them niggers' arms, an' I kep' it for a souvenir. Jus' a little bitty .22 rifle bullet."

Big Boys Took Government for 'Untold Billions'

WASHINGTON—"Untold billions" were handed to corporations during the war by the government through loophole-ridden laws, laxity and army lobbying, the senate war investigating committee was told this week.

Testifying before the Meade committee here, U. S. Comptroller General Linsay C. Warren said "everybody and his brother were out to get the government during the war years."

He testified in the investigation o fthe $78,000,000 munitions combine Rep. Andrew J. May, (D., Ky.) the man who stopped the circulation of The Races of Mankind among the armed forces, has been linked with. The 16-firm "paper empire" also has been accused as being one of the firms which manufactured defective 4.2-inch shells for the army.

Silent Protest Parade Sun. In Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO—A silent protest parade will be held here Sunday, August 11, at 1:30 p.m. to protest the Georgia multiple lynching and the current wave of terroristic attacks on the Negro people.

Sponsored by the local branch of the NAACP, the parade will start from Drum st. at Market, proceed up Market to Fulton st., and wind up with a meeting at the Civic Center.

In calling the parade, the NAACP has asked all participants to wear black armbands. The parade will be accompanied by the beat of a muffled drum. It will carry placards with such slogans as "Bring the Murderers to Justice," "Pass Anti-Lynch Legislation Now," "Equal Protection of the Law," "Hitler Is Dead in Europe But Is Running Wild Down the Streets of America."

Praise War Mothers' Aid to Vet Patients

A busy group has been the Friendship Chapter of American War Mothers for the last few months, in an effort to give a little joy and comfort to some of the many veterans in the hospitals, by their many gifts and programs of entertainment.

Some examples of the things they are doing, is acknowledged in the following letters of July 23, 1946.

"We wish to express our thanks for the plants you so generously furnished the Neuropsychiatric Hospital," R. A. Bringham, manager of Veteran's Administration.

"I wish to express the appreciation of the patients and staff of this hospital for your visits and worthwhile service recently. And our thanks for the 26 lap robes. We are indeed grateful for having been included in the schedule of activities of your organization," Mary J. Forstall, Recreational Director of San Fernando Veteran's Hospital.

An invitation is extended to all mothers who had a son in the war to join their forces to help build a lasting peace. Those interested, might contact Mrs. Christeale Owens, RE. 4734.

Court Ruling Opens Way for Ban on KKK

Supreme Court Justice Joseph A. Gavagan of New York county signed a judgment dissolving the state Klan under the Walker act which prohibits operation of outfits such as the KKK unless they file their oath of office, a copy of their constitution and list of members and officers with the secretary of state.

State Atty. Gen. Nathaniel Goldstein disclosed last night that a detective had obtained a list of more than 1,100 Klan members in this state.

Veterans' Group Condemns Army Quota System

WASHINGTON—The American Veterans Committee (AVC) this week condemned the army as following a policy of "unadorned discrimination" in suspending the inlistment of Negroes in the regular army except in certain specialist categories.

Challenging the war department's statement that the suspension was based on the army's policy of limiting the number of Negroes in the army to the proportion of Negroes in the population, Charles G. Bolte, AVC's national chairman, said:

"There was no quota system for Negro draftees during the war and no quota on the origin of the men who were killed during the war."

Bolte said that AVC would ask President Truman to revoke the quota order of the war department to allow qualified Negroes to enlist without regard to quotas.

"The quota system is an ironic commentary on the recent statement of Major General Lewis B. Hershey that we are scraping the bottom of the manpower barrel," Bolte said.

Todd Karns, son of actor Roscoe Karns and one of the first players to be signed by Liberty Films to a seven-year contract, has his first role in Frank Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life" since his return from service.

Anti-Bias Suits Filed Against 2 Local Cafes

A pair of legal complaints, charging local bars with discrimination, were filed this week by Atty. James Reese on behalf of three plaintiffs who declared service was refused them because of race.

William Upshaw of 2155 West 27th place and Rudolph Henderson charged that last July 18 they ordered drinks at the Club Manoco on the Ocean Park pier, and were told by the bartender, "We don't serve Negroes . . . sorry, but it would mean my job.

Alex Jackson of 3502 Cimarron street, complains that Jack's Cafe, located at Crenshaw and Pico boulevards, refused to serve him and a white friend, because of his race. He declared that he had been served before at the bar, when he worked across the street, but when he entered the establishment at 11 p. m. August 1 the bartender said, "I don't think I should serve you. I wasn't supposed to at other places I worked."

Jackson said that he came back to the bar with his friend the next night and the bartender said he wouldn't serve him. "Is that an order?" Jackson asked. The bartender replied in the affirmative, and Jackson instituted the case.

Students Must File Transcripts by Sept. 23

Prospective Los Angeles City College students seeking acceptance for the fall semester must file high school and any college transcripts before close of the registration period on September 23 or forego hope of admittance, according to a new policy announced this week by Dorothy B. Stinson, dean of admissions and records.

This regulation applies to both veteranz and non-veterans planning to enter the college.

The school's official capacity of 7,000 is expected to be reached rapidly, as soon as registration begins on September 16. During the last 2½ months a daily average of 40 veterans have been applying for admission, Dean Stinson said, adding that, despite taxed facilities, the college will attempt to enroll as many students as possible.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

FRANCO MUST GO

Generalissimo Francisco Franco is evidently adopting a new mode of attack in his struggle to prevent the Spanish people from winning the freedom they fought so tenaciously to secure.

With the recent observance of the tenth anniversary of the "National Revolution" —the "revolution" which crushed the Republican government of the Spanish people and brought Franco into power—diplomats began to wonder if the generalissimo was intending to play capital against labor in a more subtle way of approach, rather than the cruder method of browbeating the working class into submission as he had been doing heretofore.

Franco made a very important declaration on the occasion of the tenth anniversary. He said the government was making efforts towards social improvement and for raising the standard of living.

He promised government intervention in control of prices and a campaign for bringing down the cost of living. A report of a meeting of the Council of Ministers, which was addressed by Franco, stated: "The Council of Ministers discussed amply the principal economic problems affecting the country, especially the questions of food and the lowering of the price of living."

Now all this makes one think of that old saying, "The devil was sick, the devil a saint would be. The devil was well, the devil of a saint was he."

Can it be possible that the great pressure that is being brought to bear upon the United Nations to oust Franco, has made that wily gentleman repent of his misdeeds —for a brief moment?

Never before during the ten years of his regime has Franco paid the slightest attention to the needs of the poor of the land — and there are many in Spain. The big industrialists and the banks dominated the country economically. They were the government, and the people had very little to say about it.

This sudden turnabout face is indeed confusing. The industrialists will, of course, have to pay the bill. And this will pit them against the labor unions, which is probably a result much desired by the wily Spanish leader.

Nevertheless neither Franco's sudden death-bed repentance, nor his diplomatic wooing of the working people to the detriment of the capitalists, should deceive the United Nations. They know his record. They should abide by that. Franco must go must still be their decree.

THE MYSTICAL APPROACH!

"Not that they are dead, but how they died is what matters. Not who killed them or how, but out of what brutal heritage of blood the lust to kill them was engendered is the pertinent question."

The above mystical haberdash is from an editorial in the liberal Los Angeles Daily News of Aug. 4 on the Georgia multiple lynching. The California EAGLE does not question the sincerity of The News in condemning the horrible outrage which snuffed out the lives of two young Negro couples.

To talk, however, of some mystical "brutal heritage of blood" savors of the old trick of pinning on human nature the sins of the social system, covering up the responsibility of selfish financial interests for those sins. It is the old and discredited argument again of the immutability of human nature, the alleged impossibility of changing an alleged evil human nature.

Those who bandy this argument prefer not to take into account the overwhelming evidence of improved ethics, increased sensitivity to wrong and suffering which differentiates modern man from the cave man and even the man of the Middle Ages. Nor do they consider it necessary to consider the example of the Soviet Union in wiping out race hatreds, establishing a fraternity of peoples, developing a new and higher Socialist morality.

There is no immutability of human nature, no "immemorial character" of races or of mankind as a whole. The nature of man is constantly changing with the conditions of his existence.

Nor is there any mystery as to why these Negroes and others have been lynched. Nor is there any mystery as to what class seeks to perpetuate itself in power by fostering such outrages. Responsible are the same gentlemen who sponsor and practice discrimination against Negroes in every phase of American life, who deride the fair employment principle as "Communistic" and un-American.

This mystical approach to the cold realities of life leads to confusion and defeatism, as demonstrated in another paragraph from the same editorial:

"Until we can answer this question, until we can know and treat the savage instincts which have possessed all human creatures since time's beginning, we shall never know the science of man and shall, in all probability, merely continue to hug the reefs of disaster."

79TH CONGRESS BLOT ON NATIONAL AGENDA

The 79th Congress ended last week, and its members went home for a much-needed vacation. Congress will not meet again until next January, unless, as President Truman has suggested, the mangled OPA bill which they managed to haul through the winger does not work, and Congress will have to be reconvened to pass new legislation.

This Congress, the first post-war Congress, has been one of the most inept in history. No sooner had V-J Day passed, when the unity among factions which prevailed during the war, began to disintegrate and the much-boosted honeymoon of the President and Congress was headed for a divorce court.

President Truman had asked for much progressive legislation. He got scarcely anything. What little he did get was but a ghost of the stalwart bills he had demanded.

The F.E.P.C. was killed, in spite of all the letters, telegrams, telephone calls, and personal requests that almost overwhelmed our representatives. The few leaders who are really opposed to fair employment for all, regardless of race or creed or color, evidently deal in something which talks louder than we can. Remember the Republicans of the North joined with the Democrats of the South to defeat this measure.

The same is true of the anti-poll tax bill. This passed the House, as it has done each year, but was blocked in the Senate, and died a quiet death in committee last week. It was usually filibustered to death in previous years. Also by the Democrats of the South, aided and abetted by our Republican friends of the North.

About the only worth while piece of legislation that the 79th Congress adopted was the OPA bill. That establishes control over rents, but permits a decontroled board to decide when all controls shall be taken off food, clothing, and other necessities of life. Prices on meat, butter, eggs, and dairy products are already soaring sky high. The bill really does nothing but legalize profiteering. Like the first one which President Truman vetoed.

Great Britain was granted a loan of $3,750,000,000. Not so much because of friendly relations between England and America but because, as more than one senator aptly explained, they were afraid if we didn't help England the people of Europe would turn to Moscow for aid! Nothing like being frank.

The Negro G-I Bill is another blot on the record of the 79th Congress. Our boys who fought for the liberty and freedom to which the members of this Congress gave lip service, our boys who risked their lives in Iwo Jimo, in Guadalcanal, on the beach-heads of Italy and North Africa, who slept in fox holes and sickened with malaria in mosquito infested jungles— these boys will not be allowed to enter the service again and wear the uniform of their country. The service will be mainly limited to men of Caucasian blood, under the Army quota system.

Rank discrimination of this kind makes one wonder for what we fought in World War II. Truly the Negro patriot has been cast aside quickly when the emergency ended, and his services for the moment were no longer needed.

No pennant or excellent work can be granted the 79th Congress. It ends in a fog of frustration, beclouded by the memory of petty bickerings, of personal hatreds and prejudices, and is truly a blot on the national agenda.

ALL GAUL IS DIVIDED

That old phrase which we learned during our first years of Latin, can be applied quite accurately to the condition in Palestine today.

All of Palestine is to be divided. The British government has decided it. One part is to go to the Arabs, and the other part to the Jews. And what's more the United States is to help in the dividing. So England says.

The British government has decided that Uncle Sam shall lend certain amounts of money which will be used in making it easier for the Arabs to grant permission to the Jews to make their homes in Palestine.

Could you call that bribery? It isn't to be used to pay for any land or pieces of property. Just to be handed over to the Arabs, which of course, means the Arab chiefs, and then of course with American money lining their pockets, their thinking can very easily be diverted in favor of Jewish immigration.

"White Supremacy Strikes Again!"

By DALJIT SINGH SADHARIA

RUSSO—BRITISH CONFLICT

The most important problem in the sphere of international relations is undoubtedly the mortal and fierce enmity between the British empire and the Soviet Union. The vicious and persistent crusade which is conducted in the English-speaking world will lead to a third world war, if the wild orgy of falsehood and calumny now let loose in the press and on the platform is not checked by the sanity and wisdom of responsible leaders in England and America.

Never before has the Rssian people and government been subjected to such violent and destructive propaganda as at present. The popular scribblers who will not hestitate to sell their souls for a mess of pottage, and who specialize in the art of falsehood and lies, a pierce the naked body and soul of the Russian people with the fangs of venomous critism and perversion of the facts. They have descended to the lowest depths of degradation and moral turpitude which would even shame the devil.

It is not necessary to go far back into history to show the influence which mere ideas have exercised upon the destinies of the human race; we have seen an illustration of this dangerous fact in our own time. Herr Hitler, an insignificant and unknown corporal in the Teutonic army in the last war, rallied around him the entire Germanic world of thought and action by the myth of the inherent superiority of the "Aryan" race over all other races, perpetrating the greatest calamity upon the German people and the entire races of mankind. A scientifically advanced race reverted to those orgies of bloodshed and murder which prevailed in Europe in the Dark Ages by the perverted philosophy and sociology which the Nazi racial theorists fastened upon the minds and hearts of the German youth. The result is the direst penalty which Germany is now paying for the wicked and criminal distortion of facts and truth.

Certainly the ranters in the press and on the platform against the Soviet Union should ponder twice before they throw into flame and fire the two former allies by the violence of their language and criminal action. If a third world war takes place, they will call upon rocks to cover their heads because no one is safe from the disastrous and universal tragedy which modern wars entails. They, along with the common victims and unfortunates, will find themselves exposed to the enormities and calamities of war.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

When you are climbing a high mountain, it seems as if you'd never reach the top. You think when you reach that little peak just in front of you, that the top surely can't be more than a few hundred feet away. But when you get there, you find instead a valley on the other side of the peak. And the top of the mountain, remote, tantalizing, seems as far away as ever.

The working people of the world, and especially those of us in the United States, have been climbing a very high mountain for many years. And the top, the goal of our desires —that new world in which we shall have freedom from want and freedom from fear—seemed almost within our grasp during the administration of our friend, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, and during the war when unity among all creeds, races, and colors was the password.

But now that we've passed that peak, and the danger of war no longer exists, we find ourselves looking down into a valley. Sometimes it seems almost the Valley of Despair. Our wartime unity is disintegrating. Selfishness, greed, the grabbing for money are taking the place of the sacrifices all of us were making gladly that Fascism—in Europe—might be destroyed.

Fascism has definitely not been destroyed. Instead it is blossoming out anew right in our own America. Hate is rampant. Bitterness and fear and a fierce desire for vengeance surge through the hearts of us all. Especially in the hearts of our brothers in the South. Like hunted things they tremble when a leaf moves, and fear to speak even in whispers.

But in the midst of all this darkness, a light still glows. The country is being aroused as never before. The working people. The labor unions. The churches. The civic organizations, the liberal progressive groups everywhere. In spite of all the Talmadges and Rankins and Bilbos, the murderers of those American citizens in Georgia and Mississippi are not going to get away with it so easily today. The murder of that little Mexican boy here in Los Angeles is not being hushed up so easily either.

So there is some hope. Ten years ago the country would have been just as shocked—or at least we would have said we were—at the Hitler atrocities in Georgia and Mississippi. But that is all it would have amounted to. We would have done little or nothing. Now we are acting. And believe me, just as the Nazi and Japanese murderers have been brought to trial and executed, so these hooded monsters in our own country are going to be hanging high one of these days.

Then there's the OPA, mangled beyond recognition, of course. But still under the OPA our landlords can't put us out into the street, as they could and did ten years ago. So far as prices are concerned, we ourselves must convince our butcher, and baker, and candlestick maker that we won't buy their goods if they refuse to sell at a reasonable price. To date we seem to be doing a fairly good job of it.

Then if you want to look back to the foot of the mountain where we first began to climb about 100 years ago—then you'll really see how far we have come.

A hundred years or so ago workingmen were demanding free public schools for their children. And were being told by their preachers in the pulpits that education was not for such as them. Children, nine and ten yeras of age, were working in factories twelve and fourteen hours per day. Women were working in cotton factories for $2.19 per week. Seamstresses received $1.25 per week, and if they sewed "by the piece," as they so often did in their own homes, they received 4c for a pair of pantaloons, and 7c for a shirt—a Sunday best.

When the working people organized into unions and fought for a twelve-hour day, their leaders were haled into court for "conspiracy" and were fined heavily for "subversive activities." The churches opposed them. Ministers of the gospel preached that God was opposed to too much idle time, for the devil always found work for idle hands to do.

But they finally won the twelve-hour day. Then the ten-hour. And now the eight-hour, with all the other opportunities which seemed to open up the gates to a golden era for labor.

We have climbed a long way, and although the valley into which we seem to be slipping looks dark, the top of the mountain is stil there, above us, beckoning us onward and upward. And if we keep on climbing, instead of wasting time in self-pity and in bemoaning the ground we appear to have lost, we shall reach it. Some day.

'CIO Thinks in Terms Of Equality,' Hillman Said in Last Article

CHICAGO — The late Sidney Hillman, head of the CIO's Political Action Committee until his untimely death in July, has left a last message to all Negroes in his article "Labor Is Fairer Than Business to Negroes" which he wrote for the September issue of Negro Digest.

"The CIO recognizes that the problem of Negro workers is identical with the problem of all workers, of whatever race," states the article which was prepared by Hillman shortly before his sudden passing.

"The CIO does not think on terms of 'fairness,'" the article continues. "Fairness carries with it a patronizing connotation.

"The CIO thinks in terms of 'equality.'"

Hillman's militant message forms part of the roundtable discussion of the subject, "Is Business or Labor Fairer to the Negro," in which Phil Hanna, Chicago business columnist, states the case for business.

Philip Murray, CIO president, is the other labor proponent.

Endorse FEPC, Hit Covenants

The campaign to establish a fair employment practice commission in California, by initiative in the November election, "as a means of combatting racial prejudices and discrimination," was "indorsed in principle" in a resolution adopted by delegates to the Southern California Christian (Disciples of Christ) Church convention at Wilshire Christian church.

Delegates also protested the writing of racially restrictive covenants into the legal records of real estate subdivisions.

W. J. Wheaton Says

The lynching in Georgia of four Negroes — two men and two women—is an after effect of the Talmadge declaration of again subjecting Negroes to the pogroms of his previous administrations. Which was . . . "Keep the n——s in their place. If necessary by force."

Force of course means shotguns and the rope. Emboldened by such demagogy it was but natural that mob violence would again become the ruling factor in the assertion of "White Supremacy." This wanton killing has brought to the nation, to the world, a vivid sense of the cancer that for years has been eating into the vitals of our society and can be traced to the apathy with which these atrocious acts have been treated when brought to the attention of the public. Seldom, if ever, have the perpetrators of such lawlessness been brought to justice. Rather, they have been emboldened to greater violence by the nonchalance of constituted authority.

In this latest orgie of murder the mobsters were not masked, and it should not be too difficult to unearth them. It might be that they depended on the Talmadge promise of immunity from prosecution.

The gaping wounds of those two Negro men are as bloody mouths crying out against the hypocricy of this nation's democratic ideals, the bloodstained garments of the two slain Negro women symbolize the racial and religious hatred which dominates the ignorant followers of political demagogs. The blood-soaked soil of Georgia is living evidence of the seeds of racial hatreds which germinated and matured to besmirch the national honor of these United States of America, and to hamper the advocates for world peace which the United States has delegated to confer with the nations of the world.

When our emissaries talk to a world democracy and crown it with the glorified halo of Freedom, that wanton murder of two Negro men and two Negro women rise up like spectres with bloodstained garments and stark staring eyes—mute evidence of our hypocrisy.

Yes, the world knows and has taken stock. It might be one of the reasons why our suggestions are taken with the proverbial grain of salt. The attrocities perpetrated in these United States are on a parallel with those of the Hitler regime.

This nation, this government, is one of the chief prosecutors against mass murder—murders committed in wartime. Would it not be well in the eyes of the world if this government could prosecute the war criminals with clean hands and demand justice with unclouded conscience? If that were so there would be no question of the sincerity of our promises or the genuineness of our democracy. As it is; the nations of the world stand aghast on beholding the evidence of insincerity. The world wonders why our boasted civilization, condones the racial and religious hatreds so evident in our national life. The world wonders why a government that preaches "World Democracy" is so callous to the treatment of citizens who may differ in complexion or religious belief, or who may be of "foreign" origin. The world wonders why men, who openly proclaim their intention to thwart the laws and constitution of the U. S. are allowed their freedom, even the attainment of high positions in the government. The world stands amazed at the spectacle of a native son of the South essaying to instruct the nations in democracy. Such a representative of democracy can have little weight in the councils of the nations.

The Congress should enact some measure annulling the archaic method which in the state of Georgia permits the popular voice and vote to be subordinated to the county unit rule which gives a county of minor population the same voting strength as the more populous one. It was the unit rule which elected Talmadge. His popular vote was nil. Georgia needs more Arnells and Mississippi less Bilbos, and Rankins.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By Martinez Hewlett

When we say that there are certain forces out to wreck the labor movement and exploit the people of this nation we are not kidding or just talking through our hats.

And what's more, these forces are daily becoming bolder, advocating the worst sort of fascist doctrine and using the same tactics as the once powerful fascist lords of Germany, Japan and Italy.

If proof is required we are prepared to give it. Time and again we have cited various groups and organizations as fascistically inclined. We have tried to expose their vicious plans for the complete destruction of organized labor but never have we seen one so bold and so openly defiant as that proposed by the American Wool & Cotton Reporter, organ of the combined textile industries.

One of its editorials urged textile employers to jointly lay down their law on working conditions, stage a general lockout if these conditions are not accepted and in the event of a strike "fight it out and hire thugs themselves to outpicket the pickets."

Here is clearly strikebreaking at its worst, with an invitation for violence and bloodshed. Here is the terrible practice carried on in Germany where workers were whipped into line by armed hoodlums who later became stormtroopers. And here you see, all too plainly, the fascist slogan of "work my way or starve."

The editorial continued, "In such a contest the mill owners could win out. It might be illegal according to the Wagner act but what of it! Now is the time to do it. The Truman administration, even at the instigation of fellows like Wagner, Rieve, Hillman, Salerno, Murray and all of that ilk, couldn't put the whole industry into state's prison."

Here they advocate complete disregard for the law, saying that the constituted authority would not dare to prosecute such action if it were taken by the mill owners.

Before Hitler and the Nazis could gain complete control of Germany they had first to destroy the labor movement. And their first step to accomplish this end was to organize the employers into anti-labor associations, guaranteeing them that the government would not hinder but aid them in their labor-breaking plans.

The Common Defense

QUESTIONS WE CANNOT ESCAPE

The purpose of American society to make steady progress toward the goal of liberty and justice for all has never been better defined than it was by Abraham Lincoln.

Starting from the principles of the Declaration of Independence, Lincoln said, "Public opinion on any subject always has a 'central idea' from which all its minor thoughts radiate. The 'central idea' in our public opinion at the beginning was . . . 'the equality of men'; and, although it has always submitted patiently to whatever inequality seemed to be a matter of actual necessity, its constant working has been a steady and progressive effort toward the practical equality of all men."

What Lincoln said so truly and so clearly in the middle of the 19th century is still true and must always remain true of America. Democracy in this country is tested and proved in every generation by the degree to which it succeeds in applying the principles of the Declaration of Independence to the lives of all the American people.

Is there more opportunity for more people so that the sons of the lowliest may, by the exercise of virtue and hard work, attain the goal toward which they strive? Are the civil rights of all guaranteed and protected so that, in the wise employment of them, men of talent, however obscure today, may live to bless the common life of us all tomorrow? Is racial and religious prejudice—and its unseemly offspring, discrimination — consigned to the limbo of all foul and unjust things which do not belong in a country like ours?

These are the questions which sincere and conscientious Americans have always asked about America and to which they have sought the right answers. We cannot escape these questions today any more than Americans of the past could. For by them the progress of our American way of life is tested. We cannot escape them because, in Lincoln's words, the constant working of public opinion in America "has been a steady and progressive effort toward the practical equality of all men."

Shall We Permit Enemy To Dictate Our Tactics?

By CYRIL BRIGGS

Shall we permit the Bilbos, Rankins, Hearsts, Gerald Smiths to dictate our methods of struggle against the things they represent? Our tactics? Our alliances?

This is not an academic question. Today there is clearly evident among us a dangerous tendency to (1) accept the ideology of the forces seeking our destruction, (2) bow to their dictum as to how we should meet the growing attacks upon us.

'DIVIDE AND RULE'

Attempts by aggressors to influence the nature of the resistance of their victims is nothing new. Aggressors would, of course, prefer no resistance at all. But if there is resistance, it is manifestly to their benefit to impose upon their victims, if they can, restrictions as to methods and extent of that resistance.

Hitler tried it in World War II when, after ordering the most ruthless aerial bombing of Polish, Dutch, French and English cities, he and his friends in the Allied countries indignantly protested the "inhumanity" of retaliation in kind against German cities.

Long before Hitler, the European despoilers of the African peoples imposed, in violation of international law, a rigid arms embargo on that continent, decreed that African resistance to European encroachments should be limited to pre-machine age weapons against the modern lethal weapons with which the invaders were armed. They thus established the only basic superiority they possess—that of superior methods of slaughter.

In this country during chattel slavery, the same technique prevailed. By vigilantly denying the slaves access to modern arms the slaveholders and thei rallies were able to crush the numerous slave revolts.

Today, our struggle is on a different and higher plane: exercise of the ballot, alliance with organized labor and other progressive forces in the fight to perpetuate and expand democracy, break down jimcrow oppression with its denial of the franchise in several southern states. The effort continues, however, to disarm us, dictate our tactics, restrict our alliances, circumscribe our activities, and thus render our struggle ineffective.

This effort takes violent forms at times, with the aim of demoralizing us, paralyzing our will to fight back. Most often, however, it is characterized by subtle attempts to transplant among us the prejudices of our enemies, their likes and dislikes; to prejudice us against those groups feared and hated by the racists, and thus to split us away from our friends, our natural allies, isolate us through our own (assumed) stupidity.

The technique of division is as old as imperialism. It has been utilized by all empires, past and present. Hitler used it effectively to isolate his prospective victims, split the camp of his potential enemies. Exploiting anti-Soviet hatreds and prejudices in the capitalist democracies, he succeeded in isolating Russia. Deserted by her natural allies, confronted with the threat of an attack by the Axis powers (Germany, Japan, Italy) backed openly or secretly by Britain, France and the United States, Russia signed a non-aggression pact with Germany. And Hitler was ready to launch his attempt at world conquest.

Hitler's divisive tactics came dangerously close, as we know, to achieving his aims. The Allies, however, had learned their lesson and when Hitler launched his surprise attack on Russia on June 21, 1941, beleaguered Britain promptly recognized Russia as an ally, while our country, under the leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt, as promptly included Russia among the victims of Nazi aggression which this country must aid in defense of its own liberties.

Threatened with the specter of Nazi world control, neither Britain nor the United States hesitated to join forces with the great Communist nation against the common enemy. That is a lesson no Negro should forget. When it comes to a question of survival, the enemy of one's enemy is always an ally, potential or actual.

GREATEST DANGER

The greatest danger confronting us today is not the revival of the Ku Klux Klan together with the rise of anti-Negro violence in many parts of the country, the intensified drive for residential covenants and other restrictions upon our liberties. These attacks can be met and beaten back if we exercise common sense, recognize and utilize the fact that out of the late war against fascism has come a changed relationship of forces, a cohesion and strengthening of the progressive forces here and abroad.

The main danger lies in the tendency of some of our people (1) bow to the racists' edicts that (1) we submit passively or (2) voluntarily isolate ourselves from the main stream of the struggle against fascist racism, turn against our actual and potential allies, join the reactionaries in their Red-baiting, their attacks on Russia, their campaign to destroy the organized labor movement in this country, impose reactionary regimes upon the "liberated" countries of Europe and Asia.

Manifestly any such course would lead to frustration and self-destruction. Certainly no self-respecting Negro would consciously concede the right of the racists to dictate our course of action, no intelligent Negro would deliberately project his people into such a trap.

There are few of us who would not indignantly reject, for instance, the arrogant advice of one Jennie Wainsworth, in her letter to The EAGLE (June 9, 1946 issue) that Negro newspapers stop agitating against injustice, "write about things your people want to hear about (sic!) Write about things they understand and that makes them happy or contented." Or her further gratuitous advice that Negroes should concentrate on getting religion, leave politics and material affairs to her hate-besotted kind.

The danger lies rather in an uncritical, unthinking acceptance of reactionary ideas, an unconscious adaptation to the prejudices of our enemies. In this respect, too many of us have the quaint notion that certain conservative or reactionary ideas have no bearing on us, that, for instance, Red-baiting has no kinship with Negro-baiting.

CAN'T BE SEPARATED

But can the two be separated? Was not the late President Roosevelt denounced as a Communist because he advocated social reforms beneficial to all the people? Was not Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt dubbed a "dangerous Red" because, as first lady, she visited Howard university under the escort of two Negro cadets? Is not every advocate of racial equality, every foe of lynching and the poll tax, denounced as a "Red"? Is not every progressive movement attacked as Communist-dominated? Is not even the simple principle of fai remployment attacked as a "Communist device," designed to undermine the American way of life?

And yet in recent months we have seen in Phoenix, Ariz., the shameful spectacle of a great Negro fraternal organization joining the Red-baiters, capitulating to reactionary pressure to close its hall to a mass rally sponsored by local Negro and white Communists for the purpose of forwarding the fight against job discrimination.

And here in Los Angeles, a mother vetoed her daughter's desire to join the American Youth for Democracy on the basis of rumors, deliberately fostered by the fascists it fights, that the AYD was a "Communist front" organization. Other similar examples could be cited.

Assuming that this attitude, this servile acceptance of enemy dicta, adaptation to enemy prejudices, received wide prevalance among us, where would it lead us if not to abject surrender, passive acceptance of jimcrow oppression and the "inevitability" of fascism?

If we were to reject every program labeled "Communist," eschew association in progressive movements, anti-fascist organizations, would we not be rendering ourselves impotent, signing our own death warrant? If we are to run for cover every time we are called Communists or Communist sympathizers, we might as well abandon the struggle for equal rights.

And when we deny our youth the right and the duty to actively participate in the fight against fascism and its racist doctrines, are we not confusing them, paving the way for their entrapment in camouflaged fascist movements such as Youth for Christ?

To permit the enemy to dictate our tactics and alliances, influence our attitudes toward social and economic questions, is tantamount to surrender, to servile acceptance of jimcrow oppression and lynch terror.

Only by energetically combating the penetration of enemy influences among us, firmly allying ourselves with the progressive forces opposing that enemy, can we assure our survival and our victory over fascism.

The Mask

By LOUISE FRANCES SMITH

Pull off the mask! all nations of earth.
'Tis the Creator has given you birth
Accord to Him glory, honor and fame
Be not envious for yourselves a name;
But through love and justice magnify
The name of Him who dwells on high.

They who wear the mask can never rise
To glory's heights, because their eyes
Are blind to ways of truth and right,
And fail to see the guiding light;
The path that's by illumination found
Leads to lasting honor and renown.

Upon the scroll of time and fame
Through ages, is inscribed the name
Of varied masks, research will find,
That have caused nations to decline;
Permanent progress truth has stated,
Lies in the course Divine law created.

The monster Prejudice moves disguised,
With muffled ears and blindfold eyes,
Impedes the progress of men and races,
Because of conditions and hue of faces;
Merit should receive worthy tribute and heed,
Regardless to color, station or creed.

Pride that before destruction goes,
Brings to myriads bitterness and woes,
Mighty kingdoms and rulers met their doom
Because the heart for arrogance found room;
Chaos and confusion banish away
When mortals travel Humility's way.

Injustice with all of its subtle art
With humanity plays a visible part;
Facts are abridged,—all laws defied
And the rights of its victims cruelly denied;
Plutocracy will cease and democracy sway,
When Justice is practiced or given fair play.

Avarice often called greed or lust,
Gives credence to mammon—not Godly trust;
When capitals exploits on labor for gain,
'Twill bring mass poverty and government shame;
If all would observe and Temperance bear,
Each would of life's profit possess their share.

Jealousy and envy, malice and hate,
Strive with the lowly, as with the great;
They have bred wars, ill-will, and strife,
And have affected every nation's life;
These to the world will afflictions give,
'Til men in Good-will and Harmony live.

Pull off the mask! they are Satan's devices,
To conceal the Truth, causing world crises;
Distress among nations as prophecy told
For principles are valued far less than gold;
If Faith, Hope and Love together cling,
The Lord will good from evil bring.

O God! the source of all power and life,
Remove from the nations shackles and strife;
Help them to crucify their mortal selves,
Let them in Peace and Prosperity dwell;
Then will they realize to One Fatherhood!
And the strength of One Brotherhood!

'Terrorism' in Palestine

By JOHAN J. SMERTENKO

Today the press and radio carry reports of events in Palestine that shock us. We hear much about "terrorist activities." And the people who write and speak of these "terrorist activities" are not referring to what goes on in the concentration camps and torture chambers in Palestine. They refer to the bombings and guerilla warfare by which the underground resistance movement in Palestine is conducting the fight for Hebrew freedom.

Let us bear in mind that governments do not need to engage in bombings and guerilla warfare. They utilize the planes and battleships, the tanks and machine-guns of their armed forces for killing people. They have prisons and concentration camps, third-degrees and hangings to beat people into subjection. The uniforms of these armed forces, the black robes of judges and executioners give this kind of murder a specious aspect of legality, but it is murder nonetheless. This form of murder has been part of the political philosophy and practice of British imperialism in Ireland, India and Africa, as well as in Palestine.

Every civilized person deplores recourse to violence and regrets the death of any human being as a result of that violence, but the lives of British soldiers are neither more nor less holy than those of the Hebrews in Palestine and Europe. If the deaths of a few score British soldiers shock us, the deaths of hundreds and even thousands of Hebrews ought to shock us equally.

The entire world must realize that hundreds of Hebrews are dying needlessly every day in concentration camps in Europe, as well as in British-occupied Palestine, as a result of Britain's inhuman policy. The Hebrew casualties in Palestine and Eritrean concentration camps, the Hebrew casualties in the streets of Jerusalem and Haifa, like the British casualties there, are all tragic victims of Britain's usurpation of authority in Palestine and the ruthless and oppressive practices there. The responsibility for the tragic loss of life falls on this policy and not on the heroic young men and women of Palestine who are risking and sacrificing their lives in the desperate struggle that has been thrust upon them.

Recently, the British military headquarters in Jerusalem was blown up with a great loss of life. It is well to remember that this is not an isolated act. It is part of the continuing conflict between British imperialistic policy and the victims of that policy. It is the inevitable result of that conflict.

The White Paper of 1939, the sinking of the SS Struma, with all on board, because the British government would not allow the refugees from Hitler's terror to land in Palestine, the blowing up of the SS Patria for the same reason, the mass arrests and deportations, the executions and quick-trigger shootings of Hebrews by British troops—all these are links of the same chain with the dynamiting of the British military headquarters. It is sheer hyprocisy to condemn one of these acts and to shut one's eyes to the others.

The people of Palestine have no quarrel with the people of Britain. Like the British, the Hebrews desire a free and normal life. The Hebrews in Palestine have no choice but to fight the callous forces of British imperialism which keep them enslaved and are seeking to enslave and destroy the surviving remnants of the Hebrews of Europe.

The people of America must understand that what is going on in Palestine is a national fight for freedom which is as fully justified as any in world's history. Like the Americans, the Boers and the Irish in the past, the Hebrews today are at war with an imperialist government at the same time that they desire friendly relations with the British people.

This has been recognized by the British people themselves. The first call to the Hebrews to resort to arms in their struggle came from a noble Englishman, Lord Wedgwood. Recently, R.H. S. Crossman and Michael Foot, two of the leading Labor members of parliament, found extenuating circumstances even for the assassination of Lord Moyne in the fact that one of the youthful assassins had seen, as a lad of 14, the blowing up of the SS Patria, in which 200 Hebrews were killed for no other offense than that they desired to return to Palestine.

There are today thousands of influential men and women in England who have espoused the cause of Hebrew survival and liberation and are as vigorously opposed to the present British policy as the Hebrews themselves. The British League for a Free Palestine, which is affiliated with the American League, has mobilized many of these people in support of its moderate and practical program of political action. It remains for the British government to determine how much suffering and how many more casualties must be incurred before this program is accepted.

THE WOMEN LEAD

On more than one occasion have we sat amazed at stories told by leaders of the Alpha Kappa Alpha of their National Health Project. This is no pink tea party affair. It takes real intelligence and a woman's will, to start asking young professional women to give up their vacations to carry the message of health to members of their race who have suffered from the neglect of the local, state and national medical people, black and white, for generations upon generations.

The medical doctors and nurses of Alpha Kappa Psi were not satisfied until they had led this noble group of young collegians into this worth while and challenging field of service. We were thrilled when we first heard that Alpha Kappa Alpha had sensed the significance of the field of politics and its vital relationship to their homes and lives and had authorized a National Non Partisan Council on Public Affairs, with funds to employ a qualified young woman as their lobbyist and to set her up in an adequate office in the very heart of political Washington, D. C. These two projects, so well executed, are now beyond the period of experimenting. They are vibrant going activities with deep meaning to anyone with adequate knowledge of the needs of the race. They are also a challenge to the men's organizations of similiar nature, fraternities, lodges, and even professional groups, who for many years have conducted themselves much like private social clubs, with no purpose higher than the social enjoyment of each other.

Yes, the women have taken the lead. May the men not lack the good sense and courage to follow suit.

WHY SORORITIES AND FRATERNITIES?

The question is often asked by thoughtful people outside these Greek letter organizations—sororities and fraternities, Why are these groups? And always the inference expressed in the question is, "Is there any real need or good in these "closed" high brow social clubs?" Although we are at this very time actively engaged in one of them, those very questions occur to us.

Historically the pattern was set many years ago when some early young American college men banded together for their social enjoyment on a college level. Those groups which followed did so largely because they had been left out of the ones already established. It was so with our own fraternities and sororities. If they could have joined the other established group they might have done so. But they could not.

The greatest fault which is usually found with these groups is that they are not democratic. (Nor are the social clubs which abound in the communities of the nation.) Another fault found with those of the race is that they usually tie up the cream of the educated class of the race for no purpose of any value to the community or race. It is constantly pointed out that despite their intelligence and training, young fraternity and sorority people are never seen taking part in such community activities as NAACP campaigns, meetings or struggles. They are not active in community efforts. Well, all of this criticism is worthy of consideration by these organizations. These charges are not without foundation. They put the "Greeks" on the defensive in community life.

Surely we who are struggling with our backs to the wall for a place in the political, economic and social SUN cannot afford to pay the terrible price of putting our children through college only to have them come out so satisfied with and consumed by their Greek letter connections that they desire no part in the real struggles of the people and the things vital to their welfare and advancement. But we are proud to say that the Greek letter organizations are increasingly coming forth in right directions. In evidence of this we point with pride to the foregoing story of ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA, a group of young women who reflect what they are in the things that bother them. They are bothered about (a) The sick Negroes in Southern swamp lands, (b) The Negro's political future, (c) Scholarships for young women of more talent than money.

May the local chapters of all Greek letter societies ponder these things.

Say You Saw It in The Eagle

The Two Georgias

By WILLIAM L. PATTERSON

Four Negroes lynched in Georgia, USA, on the 25th day of July. Murdered in the most vicious, the most bestial, the most criminal and inhuman manner, their death reflects both the level and the direction of capitalist culture here in our country where it has reached its highest peak. Lynchings are not new to our country. This, in fact, is its home. Here the technique of capitalist cannibalism—the burning alive at the stake, carrying the charred bones home for souvenirs, advertising the carnival of horror and depravity through the capitalist newspapers—all these things have been perfected as we perfected our machines and mills and plants. Perfected and exported.

Four Negroes lynched in Georgia, USA. I stress the USA for there is another Georgia. There is Georgia, USSR—Georgia in the Soviet Union. The law of the lynchers has been outlawed there. No lynchings mar the relations of the peoples of the Soviet Union. Human dignity—the respect for the rights of all regardless of race, nationality, creed or color is the highest law of the land.

Friend reader, men who permit lynchings, and there have been thousands in the USA, none of the lynchers have ever been punished—men who permit lynchings will lie about a country where lynchings and the exploitation and oppression of one people by another has been ended.

I stress this point for a very special, a very definite reason. Where are we headed? These lynchings in Georgia in July, another in Mississippi in the same week, the killing of Negro vets in Freeport, New York, and the Columbia, Tennessee murders of Negroes! Do they present America with something new? The answer is 'Yes. How do I reach this conclusion? Measure these murders alongside the murderous drive of Fascism against the Jewish people in Germany in 1933. Link these murders with the castration of the OPA, the attacks upon the trade unions, the cynical neglect of the debt we owe to the returned veterans; link them to our atomic bomb diplomacy.

TOWARD FASCISM

All these things and events form a pattern. It is the rise of Fascism we are witnessing. American Fascism is on the march. Georgia, USSR, marks the rise of a new era of democracy, internal peace, friendly relations with foreign countries, the development of a human dignity and nobility heretofore unknown to man. Georgia, USA, with its Talmadge, its growth of white supremacy terror is the clearest reflection of the turn of American capital into Fascism. Fascism—what is new in the present wave of lynchings—Fascism.

We must not make the mistake of seeing these things as separate one from the other. Taken together they form a distinct picture, an alarming picture. The lynchings after the first World War were different. Don't let anyone deceive you with a comparison that can only be confusing. What takes place today though it may be the same act is different from what occurred yesterday. 1946 is not 1918. Life has changed. The world we live in here in America with its vast wealth and its poverty and misery and hates and vice and ignorance is the product of a system that has reached the end of anything and all things progressive. Do you remember once before I said that our system reached the end of its progressive political action when it betrayed the freed slaves and poor whites of the South into the hands of the landlords in 1876.

...ow it is getting equally clear if we will but face the fact that progressive action in the realm of science, or economics or culture of any form has come to an end for American capitalism. We may perfect the use of atomic energy. But instead of applying it in the fields of transportation, of production, of needed goods, we create a bomb, turn the atomic secrets over to the military men who have become only the protectors of the system of political corruption and hate. Then the pressure on the people with lynchings and murder follows as a matter of course. Fascism is on its way. But it need never arrive in America.

Georgia, USSR, and Georgia, USA—a contrast in systems. Both were extremely backward in 1918. Today Georgia in the Soviet Union is a spot where great experiments in increasing the span of life are going on. Georgia, USA, is the world leading "hate your fellowman" factory. It only, however, leads a nation being driven in that disastrous direction.

Let us face the issue. Germany taught us and so, too, did Franco. The road from Fascism must lead toward Socialism. We can and must destroy Fascism here at home.

Talk of getting Malcolm out of jail began, and Harrison, who needed another hand surely in the harvest season coming on, thought favorably of it, according to his story. He took Malcolm's wife and the Dorseys to Monroe when he went there to see about bailing Malcolm out.

One of the several unusual circumstances of the case occurred then. Sheriff Gordon agreed to release Malcolm on $600 bail, an extraordinarily small sum for the freedom of a Negro who had dangerously wounded a white man. Harrison was a reliable farmer, but Hester still was in a critical condition.

Another unexplained detail was how the word of Malcolm's release got about. Harrison said afterward he hadn't said anything about his plans—"I mind my own business," he allowed. The Negroes, visiting Monroe friends while waiting, talked about it. Anyhow, after several hours, he started off with the four Negroes in his automobile by a winding clay road through field and woodland.

Car Parked on Bridge

Eight miles from Monroe he came to a shaky bridge of loose planks over the muddy Appalachee River, which divides Walton from Oconee County. Over the narrow span only one automobile can move at a time. Harrison says he saw his way blocked by a car parked in the middle of the bridge.

As he stopped, inquiring, men came toward him. A car which had been following him from Monroe stopped close behind him. Men emerged from the ambush of thickets on the river bank. All were armed.

"There's the man we want," one said to Malcolm. They dragged the Negro from the car, and then said to Dorsey, "We want you, Charlie."

"That's not Charlie," Harrison said he told them. "It's George Dorsey." One of the men snarled at him, "Keep out of this. It ain't your show." They deftly tied the two men's hands and started them down a path into the river bottom. The women started screaming, cursing and begging. One of them, Harrison said afterward, called a name, apparently that of one of the ambushers.

Instantly a man who was definitely in charge of operations wheeled toward the automobile. Harrison describes him as a tall, well-dressed, elderly man "who looked like a retired businessman." His leadership was precise and of a military tone. The others obeyed his swift commands automatically from first to last. That the affair had been organized and every movement drilled was evident at all times, Harrison said. The preparation had been studied.

Women Dragged From Car

"You—and you—and you—and you," the leader said, pointing to four of his men, calling no names, "get these two———"

The four men moved to the car and dragged out the screaming women. It was all in good daylight, about 5:30 in the afternoon. The two young wives screamed and fought, but they were dragged out. Later, an examination of their bodies showed their arms to have been broken, at elbows or shoulders, by the butts of guns, pounded to break their hold on the doors.

Harrison was held by a gun in the hands of a young fellow, dressed in G. I. clothes—even to service cap. The four Negroes were led about 100 feet from the road. In this desolate spot, at the valley of the river to which hills drop from high land on both sides, there is no house within more than half a mile. Harrison watched out of the corner of his eye, he said, half a glance fixed on the young man in uniform—until the Negroes were hidden from view by the wall of their captors. He heard a loud count by the leader, "One-two-three."

There was a volley. Another count, and another burst of gunfire. This was repeated, and then there was a lingering burst of scattered firing.

"Good Job," Says 12-Year-Old

A boy about 12 years old, living in the nearest house, told me today that the firing sounded "like a canebrake on fire" and a-popping." He added, "They did a good job."

How good a job was plain to be seen, two days later. The Negroes, apparently huddled together, fell in a clump. Four dark stains on the pine needles were close together. Three pine trees above bore the scars of bullets, all about four feet from the ground. The leaves and branches of sweet gum seedlings were perforated by buckshot. Today, the glazed, dried pools were covered with flies.

The wife of Malcolm was found later with her head all but blown away by a charge of buckshot, fired at close range, that had entered the side of her face. She was 17 years old. All four were found with bullet wounds in the top of their heads, showing that the fire had been poured into their bodies after they fell.

The body of Malcolm, whose knife-wielding had brought on the trouble, was riddled more than the others.

Calls Sheriff Gordon

Harrison's worries had just begun. As he told his story afterward, the band returned to his car, and he heard a suggestion that the best thing would be to remove all witnesses.

"Do you recognize any of us?" the leader demanded. He said no. The leader walked up and down beside the car, pondering. He asked again, "Do you know us?" Harrison gave the same response. They told him to go back the way he had come. They walked across the bridge to the parked car, or wheeled to enter the other cars, in military formation, two by two, in regular stride. Harrison drove back toward Monroe, called Sheriff Gordon at the nearest telephone and was told to go on home.

Another sign of the careful preparation for the murder was seen when Harrison, deciding to go home by an alternative route, came to the river crossing and found his way blocked, the same as before. This time, however, the men merely looked into his automobile, saw that he was alone, and permitted him to pass. The band had been taking no chances of failing to intercept him.

The sheriff and coroner rushed to the scene with a jury for an inquest, which was held on the river bank by flashlight. This spectral function resulted in a verdict: "Death at the hands of persons unknown."

County Is a Violent One

On the surface of life in Monroe and through Walton County, there is a strange unruffled aspect today. But that is not the whole story. Something of what may happen was related to me today by a man who insisted that he be unnamed.

"I work a lot of Negroes," he said. "One of my boys was saying this morning, 'Mister Will, you reckon there's going to be any more of this business?' I told him not if everybody kept his head. Then he said, 'You know, Mister Will, we got a lot of mean niggers around here, and they ain't going to let this thing rest'."

Walton County has a record of violence. Two Negroes were lynched, in broad day, on the fringe of town, in 1911. In 1940, State troopers were sent there to protect a Negro on trial for rape, in the face of threats to do away with the law—"to save the State expense," as the process is described here in explanation of Thursday's murder. This explanation fails to take into account the slaughter of the two young women and George Dorsey, the innocent companion of Malcolm—Dorsey, a four-year serviceman not long discharged.

In still another episode of violence in these parts, just across the river in Watkinsville, seat of Oconee County, four Negroes were taken from jail, hanged, shot and their bodies burned.

Spot Shown to Child

The latter story was recited by a man who squatted, whittling, near the scene of the execution, which has become an attraction of sightseers.

"They were looking for a fellow, and didn't know which one it was," he said. "So they cleaned out the jail." He grinned slightly. "One of them was in there for just plain drunk."

As he spoke a new car drove up. A young man and a pretty girl alighted. Husband and wife, they carefully lifted to the ground a boy of about 4, and led him between them to the spot where the flies and wasps nudged about the four dark, dried pools. He stood there staring wide-eyed as they inspected the scene.

keeper pumped six shots into his body. He finally stopped Johnson with the gun butt, he says.

No official in Eatonton would say what kind of a "knife" was referred to in this seemingly incredible story. Sheriff Paschall himself was conveniently out of town today.

The latest slaying follows a series of threats against Negroes who registered to vote against Eugene Talmadge in Putnam county.

The only Negro to vote in Taylor county, a sharecropper named Macio Snipes, was taken out of his cabin by a mob and shot to death the next day.

USES specifies "white Protestants," Assemblyman Hawkins declared.

"You recall the terrible depression years when people were on relief and when whole families picked cotton for 29 cents an hour. We all made an oath that such a condition would never recur. Yet today with the war industries discontinued, the Negro people are forced to take low paying jobs and many find themselves out of a job. If this situation happens again you will be forced to close your shops and businesses. We need an FEPC to insure this buying power", Hawkins continued.

Carlton Moss, author and producer of the "Negro soldier, urged a yes vote for Proposition No. 11 (the FEPC iniative as it will appear on the November ballot.)

Miss Lena Horne, star of stage and screen, received a hearty response when she told the group that it was their business to see that FEPC became a law. Speaking from the actor's standpoint she felt that PEFC would make a great difference in the attitude of the movie moguls towards minority people.

According to the sponsors the meeting was a great success. Twenty-three contributors donated $1425.00. Dr. C. W. Hill, $150.00, Dr. E. V. Neal, Meyer Bluestein, Edgar Johnson, Dr. H .C. Hudson, B. B. Bratton, Wilburn J. Williams, Dr. P. Proce Cobbs, George Beavers, Jr., and Norman Houston were the $100 donors.

P. R. Smallwood for the Home Owners Defense Council, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Mosby, Jack Pearlman, S. D. Patterson and Clarence Bostic contributed $50.00 each.

C. R. Ransom, Allen Woodard, Dr. Authur M. Mitchell, Dr. Lincoln W. Shumate, Foster Ricardo, William F. Cummings, Mrs. Albert Dekker and Samuel Freeman were the other donors.

A brief look at the records will clearly show that right here in these United States where citizens are supposed to be protected from mob violence and where murder of innocent people is punishable by death, violence against minority groups is approaching that which once flourished in Germany.

The Los Angeles Provisional Committee of the National Negro Congress appeals to you to join in mass protest Sunday. It urges that everyone who wishes to see America remain a democratic nation lend his support to eliminate the greatest threat to democracy and freedom.

Seeks Divorce from City's 'Laziest Man'

Because neighbors have dubbed her husband a "Sleeping Beauty," and his wife, Mrs. Rose V. Evans complains, "He's the laziest man in town," a divorce action was filed early this week (Monday) against Fred C. Evans of 1348½ East 41st st.

Attorney James N. Reese declared Mrs. Evans has been chagrined because her spouse won't work, sleeps all the time, and when he does get out of bed, has threatened to beat her up and told her to get out of their home.

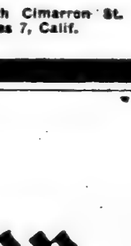
THE FRUIT OF UNCEASING LABOR



★ Between 1911 and 1935, a brief span of twenty-five years, extraordinary progress was made in public health. According to figures released by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the duration of human life during this period was extended by almost fourteen years. It is all the more remarkable in the light of the history of this period, which included the first World War, the worst epidemic in recent history, and America's most severe depression.

Many agencies have contributed to make America a more healthful place in which to live. Not the least of these are scientific medicine and pharmacy, which work unceasingly for better methods of prevention and treatment of disease.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

GAVELED TO ORDER by Supreme Basileus Beulah T. Whitby, the convening body of Alpha Kappa Alpha Women will get under way this morning with their progressive program. The trend of the sessions, geared by the theme "Alpha Kappa Alpha Faces One World," will place emphasis on the political and health situations of our people.

While attending the recent press conference, had the opportunity of talking with Mrs. Estelle Massy Riddle, national head of the sorority's health project. So happens that the very charming and dynamic lady is an instructor at New York university, and is a consultant of the National Nursing Council. She will be in the city until the 17th, and will then fly back to New York to resume her duties. While here she is house guest of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Bailey.

Jessie Mae Brown

Also had an interesting chat with Miss Norma Boyd of Washington, D. C., national head of the Non Partisan Council on Public Affairs. I found the executive secretary of the Health Project, Flora Chisholm, of New York; Sorors L. Pearl Mitchell of Cleveland, Ohio; Leonora C. Lane, professor of education at Wilberforce, and a host of other charming members of the directorate to be very interesting. The significance of this first postwar boule will leave a lasting impression with the people of Los Angeles, who have opened their arms and whole-heartedly welcomed the women of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

THE GAY SIDE

The local social calendar has been flavored with AKA for the past month or so. In looking over current affairs we find that it has passed the flavoring stage... On Wednesday evening between the hours of 4 and 7, Mrs. Bernice Barnum, local school principal, entertained her house guest, Mrs. Rhetta Dunning Beck, wife of Dr. William Beck of Knoxville, Tenn., with a lovely affair in the gardens of her home on South Gramercy pl. Mrs. Beck will remain in the city until the close of the Boule. Attending the affair were local sorors Ursula Pruitt Murrell, Birdie Lee Bright, Drs. Veda Somerville and Alice Garrott. Among the visiting sorors present were: Supreme Basileus Beulah Whitby and Estelle Massy Riddle.

On Saturday night, Mrs. Charles W. DeMan entertained with a dancing cocktail soiree. Honored guests were Mrs. Margurite Square, visiting here from Chicago, and the sorors Fantella Lane and Bertha Smith of Detroit. The gay party got under way with dancing and dining. Atty. Martha Williams, local president of the grand chapter; Audrey Jopes, Christine Allen were among the local sorors in attendance. Misses Frances Latimer of Cleveland, Ohio, and Evelyn Killings, of Akron, Ohio, were the other visiting sorors attending...

The list of social events to be given in honor of the visitors by other Greek letter organizations, will get under way tonight with the Delta Sigma Theta fiesta, at the Riverside Drive Rancho. I know the creations worn by the sorors will be out of this world. By the way, the escort list that Teena Robinson has been working on for the past month is very complete; after looking it over, I wonder just who will be left to take out the local sorors... The AKA formal will be held at Pasadena Civic and following tradition, will be a closed affair... The Alphas, Kappas, Omegas, Sigmas, Zetas and the rest have some very glamourous gatherings planned for the ladies. So from tonight on, the AKAS will be thoroughly entertained...

KAPPAS STAR

The Kappa Alpha Psi Florentine Gardens party was carried out to a point of perfection. Never before have I witnessed a more glamourous affair.

The mid-summer dinner benefit was the spotlight event in Hollywood last Wednesday night. Dining at a perfectly located table, took note of Captain and Mrs. Lowell Stewart. Lowell is a Kappa from 'way back, and is on terminal leave. Caught a glimpse of Joe and Euvolda Morris on the dance floor, the EAGLE's Gertrude Gipson and her sister Lillian seated at the next table; Kappa man Don Walker looking pleased over the success of the whole affair; Nita Hippard escorted by a visiting Kappa, and many another interesting Angeleno.

The beautiful Florentine held a capacity crowd and the many dollars spent will be added to the "Magellan C. Mars Scholarship Fund." The late Lt. Mars, who was a live wire in the local frat group before entering the service, will never be forgotten by his loyal Kappa brothers. Space will not permit a complete listing of the star-studded program, however the Slim Gaillard Trio and Dottie and the Thin Men added local color that made the evening complete.

Speaking of benefit affairs, the popular Cosmos club is scheduled to present Eugene Gash in recital at Independent church on the 15th. The young pianist has been acclaimed as one of the country's finest. The Cosmos gents are certain the affair will be a success. All proceeds from tickets being sold by club members will be used to set up a scholarship fund in the club...

HERE AND THERE

Popular Joyce Steward entertained with a luncheon Saturday afternoon honoring bride-elect Corine Jones. A bevy of local lovelies were among those present, showering the future Mrs. Kemp with dainty gifts. Annette Marshall was there looking very chic; Bessy Renfro Wilson and her sister Mabel added the quips to the "hen" party, as did Ann Clay Johnson, Wini Smith, Loucille Boswell, Gloria Howard, Puffy Hill, Marilyn Hudson, and many another...

Roberta Scott is another local deb who plans to tie the knot in September. On Sunday afternoon Stella Estes and Ernie Mae Maxey will play hostesses in her honor at a shower. Roberta plans to wed on September 15. Her fiance is Harry Pierson Jr. of Oakland, Calif. They plan to be at home to friends in Berkeley, Calif....

The Crop 'N' Tail Riding club members met at Maethilde Kenner's home during the early part of the week. They have some very exciting plans for the near future...

WELL! WELL! WELL!

So Haywood Carter will make an exit from the gay bachelor realm. The lovely girl of his heart is Miss Gail Giles, of Detroit. She will arrive in L. A. on the 14th and they will speak their vows on the 15th of this month... The FEPC play group is looking for talent to take part in a group of interracial skits. The rehearsals will start on Thursday night at the CIO building if you happen to be interested... Received word from Ethelene Gray, former USC student now attending Howard university, Louise Parker, Sammy Austin, Eddie McFarlin and Charles Cheaves also miss the old gang... Abby Jones and Carmen Davis became Mr. and Mrs. last Wednesday night... Congratulations are in order... Roy Loggins is still playing the part of Esquire. A pair of wooden shoes is the latest addition to the ever growing wardrobe... Glamorous Katherine Weiss of Detroit arrived in town hours ago, to take part in the Boule... Making deadline...

Family Reunion Marks 81st Birthday For Mrs A. Osborne

A picture of health, and looking 15 years younger, the well known Mrs. Alice M. Osborne of 315 North Virgil ave., Hollywood, celebrated her 80th birthday with all of her children and grandchildren. It was a gala affair with the dinner party serving as a family reunion and celebration of the return from overseas service of Roy C. Osborne, youngest son, and Leon F. Marsh of Berkeley.

Coming from Berkeley to join in the celebration were Mrs. Emma Jackson, grandmother of Leon F. Marsh, Jr., Miss Bessie Osborne and Mrs. Vivian Osborne Marsh, daughters; Mrs. Dorothy T. Marsh, granddaughter. Other children present were Mr. Estes Osborne, Mrs. John Hood and son Danny Hood, Mrs. Travis Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Henderson, Miss Joyce Taylor and Mr. George E. Jones.

Mrs. Marsh returned to Berkeley on Thursday, others remaining for vacation in Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Marsh, Jr., are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Osborne of 5th ave; Mrs. Jackson and Miss Osborne are the houseguests of the honoree. Cards, tokens and well wishes were received by the honoree in large numbers from friends and foster children all over the country. Mr. Leon F. Marsh, Sr., of Berkeley was unable to attend the reunion.

A REGAL BRIDE is Melonee Burnett Temple who became Mrs. Isaiah Sloan Blocker in one of the most elaborate ceremonies of the season. Her bridal veil is a family heirloom, coming direct from Paris. It featured two tiers of sheer tulle six yards in length, surmounted by a third veil of rose point and duchess lace. Her gown was traditional white satin, and she carried a bouquet of Steffinotis, butterfly orchids and roses. (See story.)

Melonee Temple Wears Heirloom Veil From Paris In Elaborate Marriage to Isaiah Sloan Blocker

A throng of friends and relatives gathered in the beautiful edifice of the Arlington Christian church Sunday, August 4 at 6 p.m. to witness the elaborate twilight wedding ceremony with Miss Melonee Burnett Temple and Mr. Isaiah Sloan Blocker as principal figures.

VEIL FROM PARIS

In a celestial setting of white flowers and tapering candles the regal bride was breath-takingly beautiful in a traditional white satin gown that featured a period hoop skirt, a marquisette yoke, a three yard train, that trailed beneath a two tiered bridal veil of sheer tulle, surmounted by a third veil of Rose Point and Duchess lace, which was held in place by a coronet of Rose Point Lace, thickly studded with pearls. Orange blossoms formed an encircling wreath, as clusters of smaller blossoms trimmed either side of the coronet. The beauty of the veil is enhanced with a history, having come direct from Paris in 1928, when Mrs. Ernestine Temple, aunt of the bride took her vows. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Richard J. Temple, Elder Owen A. Troy officiated.

In delightful contrast to the snow white loveliness of the bride's attire, her five attendants were an array of beauty, in colorful shades of French pastels. The gowns were made of marquisette and featured hooped skirts. The three maids carried baskets of roses and summer flowers. The maid of honor and matron of honor carried a profusion of summer flowers. Mrs. Bernice Scott served as matron of honor wearing a delicate shade of lavendar. Miss Josephine Spearman was maid of honor in a gown of turquoise blue. Attendants were Mrs. Josephine Burch in old rose, Miss Vivian Janette Towns, in chartruese and Mrs. Clyde Hardy in pink. Little Miss Mary Ann Bauman served as candle girl and Adriene Ashford was flower girl while Master Beaul Thomas served as ring bearer.

Mr. Charles Boswell was best man, and ushers included: John Long, Ed Maddox, John McQueen, Arnold Townes and Thad Taft. The bridal hymns were sung by Mrs. Georgetta Wynn "Through the Years" and Mr. James Patton, "Ich Liebe Diche."

RECEPTION HELD

Following the wedding an elaborate reception was held at the home of the bride's family, 1652 W. 36th place. Receiving were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. R. Temple, who was very charming in a stately gray gown, Dr. Ruth J. Temple, her aunt, who wore a blue gown with orchid corsage, Mrs. Ernestine Temple, Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Blocker of Chicago, Ill., parents of the bridegroom. The wide array of handsome gifts was displayed in several rooms throughout the beautiful Spanish type California home. Hundreds of guests enjoyed the delicious refreshments, including champagne and wedding cake. The beautiful floral decorations were by Mrs. Edna Bowdoin.

During the climax of the reception the bride and groom departed on a two weeks honeymoon at an undisclosed place. Voted as one of the ten best dressed women in Los Angeles for the past two years, Mrs. Ike Blocker was very stunning in a going away suit of gold gabardine with brown accessories. The bride and groom are college graduates. Melonee attended UCLA, received her secondary and is a teacher at Carver Jr. High school. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority. Her husband, spent several years in the engineering division of the Army as captain and has been honorably discharged for the past year. He is a graduate of Morehouse college, founded by his great grandfather and is a member of the Omega Psi Phi fraternity. At present he is working on a masters degree at USC.

AKA Exhibit on Public Display

That the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, one of the foremost national Greek letter organizations, is world-minded is borne out in the International Exhibit, now on display at Channing Hall, Unitarian Center, 2936 W. Eighth street.

The display, composed of pictures, charts, pamphlets and other material from various countries throughout the world, is titled: "One World," and is designed to bring about better understanding of other peoples through culture appreciation.

According to Miss Norma E. Boyd, of Washington, D.C., prominent AKA figure and reputed author of the idea, every embassy and legation in Washington with one or two exceptions cooperated fully with the sorority in supplying material for the exhibit.

Daffodils Adjourn With Successful Mid Summer Tea

On Sunday, August 4, the beautiful garden of the East 45th st. home of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Martin was the setting for the Daffodil Girls' midsummer tea. The beauty of the lovely setting was enhanced by the artistic display of flowers, arranged by Mr. Anderson, who also made the lovely corsages worn by members and hostesses.

Approximately 200 guests honored the Daffodil Girls during the hours of 3 to 7 p. m., and enjoyed a very interesting program. The club takes this means of extending its gratitude to each one who supported the affair.

Dan Cupid has once again cast his dart in the Daffodil Girls club. This time it is the business manager, the former Mrs. Gladys Grundy, who now proudly carries the name of Mrs. Thomas Wallace.

The club is on vacation after the August 6 meeting and will resume activities in September. Send all correspondence to Mabel Allston, 1242 E. 40th pl.

Members and friends of the Junior Council of the NAACP were addressed this week by the ex-president of the junior council in Los Angeles, Ike Adams. There has been a lot of interest in the meetings and Mr. Adams brought out points to make the council program more interesting. Some of those present were Ples A. Griffin, Buddy Foster, Don and Sonny Mims, Mable Duncan, Lois Banks, Archie and Barney Durham.

There is a new club in town, which most people haven't heard about. It is the Club Echo. This club is affiliated with the All Nations Hospital Assn., formerly the Grace Hospital Assn. Everything that this club gives will be for the benefit of the All Nation Ass'n. The aim of the association is to raise enough money to build an interracial hospital. The officers of this club are Martha Smith, president; Molly Sears, vice-president; Louise Acres, recording secretary; Ellen Storm, corresponding secretary; Florena Johnson, treasurer; Penny Lundy, financial-secretary; Mathela Bell, parliamentarian, and Paullyn Garner, chaplain. The members are Minnie Terrell, Emma Biggs, Maxine Lundy, Catherine English, Charlette McShan and yours truly. You will be hearing big things from this new club.

Speaking of people going places, Clifford Prince has moved his pharmacy to a new and better location. You will get prompt delivery and courteous service at the Prince's Prescription Pharmacy. His niece, Doris Prince, is helping him and I'm sure that you will support this business.

Well, well. Everyone is getting a bite fro mthat little bug called love and is tieing the knot in a hurry. The latest couples to say "I do" are Barbara Reynolds and Henry Dillard, and hold your hat ... Abbey Jones married Carmen Davis.

Just received an invitation to Imojene Thompson's wedding on August 18 at the Progressive Baptist church to Richard Dawson Broadway. Imojene has chosen some of her bridal party, Doris Prince, Creola Anderson, Nora Mae Beddings and several others... While writing this column my brother-in-law walked in. Grover Armstrong has been stationed in Washington and is home on furlough before going to the South Pacific... Delores Carroll is enjoying a month's vacation in Elsinore. Only wish I were there, but as you know, I don't get around much any more ... Also I wish to apologize to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson, for calling them Mr. and Mrs. Lawson. My error, my error.

Very much surprised were Mr. and Mrs. Felix Williams when the gang that Symanthia works with, very much provoked because she didn't confide in them about her marriage plans, burst in on them the day they came home from Yuma, Arizona, where they got married, and San Diego and Mexico, where they honeymooned after the ceremony. Those in on the surprise were Mary Frances Williams, Sarah and Tom Porterfield, Margaret Goode, Unise Gross, Mary Scott, Delores Carroll, Audrey Boykins and other guests, Josie Mack, Henry and Doris Talbert, Alfonse Gomez, Barbara and Bob Brown, Abbey Jones, James and yours truly Armstrong.

After the shock was over, Alyce Harris got herself together enough to open the presents brought by her friends for her expected visit from Dr. Stork. Mrs. A. Johnson Ruffin gave the shower and she gave Alyce a lovely bassinette. Barbara Johnson, Mary Collins, Peggy Cuoton, Juanita Carruthers; her sister, Audrey Boykins; her mother, Mrs. Carruthers, and several others were on hand to shower her with presents.

That's all for now.

Historical Facts On AKA, The First Negro Sorority

One evening 38 years ago, a group of 11 young women came together in a room on the campus of Howard university in Washington, D. C. Their purpose in meeting was to organize a sorority for young Negro women, with an aim of mental physical, spiritual, and cultural uplifting of all womankind, binding together women possessing ideals of love and service. The 11 women were Ethel Hedgman Lyle, Lucy Slowt, Marjorie Hill, Lillian Burke, Beualah Burke, Margaret Flagg, Marie Woolfolk, Sara Merriweather, Joanna Shields, Lavinia Norman and Ann Brown.

From their small dream, that became a reality in 1908, has grown a national incorporated Greek letter organization claiming 72 undergraduate chapters an d96 graduate chapters, spread across the United States. Growing through the years in numbers, power, prestige, worth, and wisdom, today the sorority is directed democratically by a directorate of ten women headed by Beulah Whitby as national basileus, and publishes a quarterly magazine, The Ivy Leaf, as the official sorority organ.

Although commonly classified as a social sorority, the scope of Alpha Kappa Alpha is far more than social. Realizing that no far-sighted Negro organization can afford to be purely social, the women of Alpha Kappa Alpha began to think in terms of a concrete realization of their aim for the uplifting of humanity. In 1934 the lesser efforts of past years were culminated in a project led by Ida B. Jackson of Oakland, California—the Mississippi Health Project.

Choosing Mississippi for the area of operation because of the crying need of the citizens of this state, the sorority sent mobile clinic units composed of a doctor, trained nurse, and necessary equipments in to the area, to give aid and instruction for the bettering of health conditions and standards. Growing with the sam evigor as the sorority itself, what was once a small one-state project has since become a National Health Project. Today, under the leadership of soror Estelle Massey Riddle, each chapter carries on a dynamic health program.

Meanwhile other wide awake sorors felt the need for another type program for the sorority, this time of a political nature. In 1938 Norma Boyd of Washington, D.C., put into action the second Alpha Kappa Alpha national project, called the Non-Partisan Council on Public Affairs. Faced on all sides by ridicule at the idea of a Negro social sorority attempting to carry weight in the political whirlpool of Washington; Norma Boyd and Jeanetta Welch, and later Thomasina Johnson, have made a praiseworthy record as lobbyists, advisors, committeewomen, delegates, and speakers, always with the political welfare of minority groups foremost in their minds. Now the Non-Partisan Council includes representatives from other leading Negro organizations, receives the approbation of every fairminded political group, acts as advisors in all issues concerning the welfare of the American people, sponsors a corp of well trained speakers to spread accurate information throughout the United States, lobbies in congress far favorable legislation, and maintains a fulltime staff in Washington, D.C.

Locally the sorority was organized in 1922 on the campus of USC. Charter of members of this Sigma chapter were Ursula Pruitt Murrell, Naida McCullough, Corine Stovall, Leola Lewis, Helen Wheeler Riddle, Coty Johnson, and Miriam Garrott Hall. Shortly after a sister chapter was formed on the UCLA campus. Today the city of Los Angeles claims three Alpha Kappa Alpha chapters, Sigma, headed by Dorothy Redd of USC; Alpha Gamma, headed by Winifred Smith of UCLA, and Alpha Gamma Omega, headed by Atty. Martha Williams, graduate. In step with all Alpha Kappa Alpha chapters, these three local chapters engage in an annual Pre-College Conferences to aid high school graduates in a vocational choice, give annual scholarships to worthy high school graduates, and take an active part in all movements, civic, political, or social which are for the bettering of humanity.

AKA Stresses Civic Program, President Says

In the fight against lynch terror and reaction, Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority will continue to march in the front ranks, Mrs. Beulah T. Whitney, of Detroit, national president of the sorority told a press conference this week on the eve of the opening of the 26th annual national AKA boule which gets under way here today (Thursday).

"Several years ago our sorority abolished a program which emphasized mere social and fun-making activities and launched a civic campaign in keeping with the seriousness of world conditions," she said.

With justified pride she pointed to the work of the sorority's National Non-Partisan Council on Public Affairs, "designed to act as a watchdog over legislation and other matters of vital importance to minority groups," and its national health project, another excellent example of the sorority's keen civic-mindedness.

Mrs. Whitby, a member of the faculty of Wayne university and assistant director of the Detroit Interracial Commission, tied in the changing sorority program with the recent lynchings in Georgia and Mississippi and with growing discrimination in employment the country over.

"The pendulum is beginning to swing back toward reaction and bigotry. Our sorority feels its great responsibility in helping in the drive of progressive forces to see to it that this pendulum swings back to the side of truth and progress," she emphasized.

Other national officers who participated in the conference were: Miss Norma Boyd, of Washington, D.C., founder and director of the sorority's Non-Partisan Council; Mrs. Estelle Massey Riddle, of New York, nationally known health consultant and an instructor at New York U.; Miss Flora B. Chisholm, New York, executive secretary of the AKA national health program; Mrs. Leonora Lane, Wilberforce, Ohio, a national AKA director; Mrs. Arnetta Wallace, Knoxville, director of the southeast AKA region; Mrs. Pearl Mitchell, of Cleveland, national parliamentarian; and Mrs. Edna O. Gray, of Baltimore.

1947 TO BE ZETA BOULE YEAR HERE

Mrs. Lullelia Walker Harrison, English teacher in the Jack Yates high school of Houston, Texas, and grand basileus of Zeta Phi Beta sorority, left Los Angeles last Wednesday after a four-day visit with local sorors.

National head of Zeta since 1943, Mrs. Harrison's trip to the coast was her first to the Pacific region and although mainly concerned with the business of setting the stage for the national Zeta Phi Beta boule which will be held here in 1947, she enjoyed numerous social courtesies.

Major social events included a coffee Sunday morning at which she was introduced to all Zetas and affiliates in Los Angeles as well as Zetas from all over the country who are in the city for the summer; and an informal supper Tuesday night at which all Zeta affiliates as well as sorors were guests. Mrs. Harrison received a beautifully-engraved gold compact as a token of appreciation from her sorors and sevelal lovely gifts from individuals.

Besides the sorority functions in her honor, she enjoyed the hospitality of old friends from Houston and Wiley college, members of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity, and individual sorors.

Refutes Talmadge's Claim No Lynchings During His Regimes

ATLANTA—The Southern Regional Council, through its executive director, Guy B. Johnson, this week gave the lie to Eugene Talmadge's recent claim that during his three terms as governor of Georgia "there was not a lynching in the state."

Johnson pointed out that the records show five lynchings during Talmadge's first term, eight during his second term and one during his third term—making a total of 14.

Talmadge later denied flatly that 14 persons were lynched during his three previous administrations as governor. "It's a lie," he said.

When confronted with the names of victims of mob violence during his administration, he wheezed, "It's erroneous; it's based on wrong information."

Ray Brown Displays Class in Decisive Win Over Don Lee

Ray Brown, 145½, showed plenty class in pounding out a decision over Don Lee, 143½, last Friday night before 6000 fans at Hollywood Legion Stadium. The former is said to be managed by crooner Frank Sinatra.

Brown showed a clever left jab and snappy rigth crosses as he outclassed the Nebraska fighter. Lee was still in there slugging at the finish but a barrage of punches from Brown in the final heat knocked Don's mouthpiece out.

Results of the four-rounders—Jimmy Shans, 142½, t.k.o. (3), Visit Door, 141; Darnell Carter, 131½, dec. Ramon Alva, 129. Wallace Batie, 144½, k.o. (2), Ray Louis, 139, and Art Diaz, 136, k.o. (1), Ray Jiminez, 134.

Used Fat Salvage Chief Hope for More Soap and Supplies

WASHINGTON — Hundreds of letters are received every day by the Department of Agriculture and the American Fat Salvage Committee regarding the relation between fat salvage and soap. "It takes a week or even two to save a pound of used cooking grease," these letters say, "and that is a lot of work." "Where," the writers continue in the next line, "is the soap my used fat is making?"

When a housewife turns a pound of used cooking fat over to the meat dealer, she enables industry to make six bars of laundry soap that it otherwise could not make, according to the figures released by Washington experts.

Further, if it had not been for fat salvage, consumers would either have gotten 13 per cent less soap in 1945, or the government would have to divert food fats to the manufacture of soap.

"American women can help themselves get more soap, and help the famine areas of the world get more food fats and oils, turning every drop of used cooking fat over to the meat dealer for four cents a pound," The American Fat Salvage Committee says.

Blames Batesburg Cops For Blinding of Vet

WASHINGTON — The National Negro Publishers Association this week disclosed that the brutal police beating and blinding of Isaac Woodward, world war veteran, occurred in Batesburg, S. C.,—not in Aiken, S. C., as previously reported in the nation's press.

Woodward was blinded when two policemen hit him in the eyes with the butt end of their blackjacks.

Miss Ollie Greene To Leave for East

Miss Ollie V. Greene will travel east soon, to attend the National Negro Musicians' association in Detroit and the Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority Boule in Baltimore. The local school teacher plans to continue her vacation in Washington, D. C., and other points east.

In New York City she will be house guest of Miss Clarice Thompson, music student at Julliards. Miss Green is well known in Los Angeles, having been educated here, active in church work and YWCA. Her trip has been delayed due to interest in the Alpha Kappa Alpha Boule to which a large number of her friends belong.

Jim Crow Is Barred at Wertham's Clinic

Tears rolled down the 16-year-old colored boy's face when he heard the judge pass sentence. Three years was a long, long time. As he stood there crying, he looked like a pitiful waif of ten.

"I don't enjoy sending you away," said the judge of the Harlem court, "but I can't overlook the fact that you have attacked an innocent person with a knife."

The boy's mother sobbed bitterly as he was led away. Later, she waited in the judge's chamber to have a talk with him.

"My Freddie has never been well," she told him. "Always actin' kinda funny. That boy needed a special kind of doctor. What could I do with him?"

The judge shrugged his shoulders. "I'm sorry, Madam. I sympathize with you, but there's nothing I can do about it at this stage."

This boy was only one of a long procession of Harlem young people sentenced for crimes they were doomed, by circumstance and environment, to commit. For years, Dr. Frederic Wertham, an internationally known New York psychiatrist, had watched them.

"What else could one expect?" he asked. Harlem's people were packed—1600 to the acre—into filthy, decaying tenements.

Boys and girls, eager for better homes and decent jobs and unable to attain them, became frustrated. They formed gangs to find excitement and to procure, whenever possible, a few dollars for spending money. All too often, they ended up in the police station. . .

"If these youngsters could consult a psychiatrist while they are unhappy but still not delinquent," thought Dr. Wertham, "they could be kept out of jail, families wouldn't be broken up, and violence would be reduced."

But where could a Negro find a psychiatrist? Most institutions with proper facilities hang up the "Not Wanted" sign when they are approached by a colored man. Recently, seven private agencies refused outright to accept a public grant if they had to treat Negroes.

Negroes who did succeed in gaining access to the clinic of a large public hospital were hurt and frightened by the coolness with which they were received. "You're shiftless, lazy, and you don't want to amount to anything" was an all-too-familiar diagnosis.

If something were seriously wrong, the hospital would sometimes recommend a private psychiatrist. But who could afford one? And even if the occasional Negro did have the price, which white psychiatrist would see him?

"It would discourage my wealthy white clients," was the familiar excuse. Once in a long while, if a white physician were paid a fat fee, he would allow a Negro to come surreptitiously into his office after hours.

Dr. Wertham's deep disgust at this heartless discrimination gave rise to a strong determination. He would establish a clinic in the heart of Harlem, he promised himself, where all troubled people—regardless of color, age, sex, or political opinion—would be treated without fear or favor. Money would be no consideration.

One Friday evening last March, Dr. Wertham made good that promise. In spite of a number of setbacks the Lafargue Clinic opened its doors in the basement of the St. Philip's Episcopal Church parish house, deep in the heart of Harlem.

True, its two rooms are plain, with exposed plumbing overhead. But to the harassed folk who flock there two nights a week, they mean more than all the glittering chrome and white of New York's most opulent hospital.

I visited the Lafargue Clinic recently.

The little waiting room was crowded. A good-looking ex-GI smoked a cigarette nervously. A mother sat holding her 10-year old daughter's hand. Two men sat together, talking quietly.

A young lady in a white smock came in. "Mr. Carson next, please," she announced.

He followed her into a large room and they both sat down at a small table. She poised her pen and asked him numerous questions. When she was through, she led him behind one of four cubicles formed by unpainted wooden screens. Here, a psychiatrist was waiting to hear his troubles and start treatment.

I asked the receptionist about the box of coins on her table. "That's our cash register," she told me smilingly. "The folks who can afford it pay 25 cents. If they can't, they pay nothing. Some of them take money out for carfare. You see, strictly speaking, we can operate without money. We're all volunteers here—nobody is paid a single cent."

From the cubicles came the drone of steady talk as Dr. Wertham's three co-workers consulted with patients. They are Dr. Hilde Mosse, an attractive woman attached to a New York hospital; trim, auburn-haired Dr. Jeanne Smith; and Dr. Andre Tweed, a colored psychiatrist recently discharged from the army. Some patients remain for 15 minutes, others are not through for an hour.

"I got out of the navy three months ago. I can't settle down to my job at the airport. I always worry about my family and about losing my job . . ."

"I don't know how it happened, but when I came to I was lying on the floor. My tongue was bleeding. This is the second time . . ."

"They're out to get me I tell you! I feel sure he put poison in my soup. I'm afraid to eat anything. . ."

"Married? Of course. I want to get married. But if he even shakes hands with me I'm frightened. . ."

"This is Harold, Doctor. He has always been a good boy up until a month ago. Then he started playing hookey . . . yesterday the man at the newsstand caught him stealing . . ."

And so on, far into the night, thousands of words uttered by hopeful lips in search of peace of mind.

When Negro friends would come to Clarence Darrow, the famous liberal lawyer, and complain that they could not get psychiatric treatment, he would tell them: "There's a bright young assistant professor at Johns Hopkins. Go and see him. He'll make you welcome."

It was from these colored patients that Dr. Frederic Wertham first learned about medical discrimination against the Negro. Since those days at Johns Hopkins, Wertham, a tall athletically-built man, has climbed to one of the top positions in his pitals in New York.

A newspaper reporter, searching for background material about Dr. Wertham, recently brought to light several interesting facts. He learned, for instance, that the psychiatrist had invented the Mosaic Test, a novel method of determining an individual's normalcy. He would give the patient a set of colored blocks and ask him to put them together. The finished pattern gave the Doctor tell-tale evidence as to what was going on in the patient's mind.

On one occasion, he gave the Mosaic Test to a Martin Lavin, who was being held by the police. After the test, Wertham stated bluntly: "If this man is set free, he will commit murder." The authorities disagreed and Lavin was given his liberty. Three months later, when Lavin shot a policeman in cold blood and then killed himself, the newspapers recalled Wertham's prediction.

A few years later, Dr. Wertham came back in the news when Gino, a 17-year-old boy who lived in an East Side tenement, stabbed his mother to death as she slept. The sensational crime was soon forgotten—except by Dr. Wertham who headed the institution to which Gino was committed.

For years he sought to understand the boy. "It was my own detective case," he told friends. He finally cracked the mystery of the boy's behavior and, in so doing, found hidden facts that have long puzzled psychiatrists. Gino is now fully recovered, and is holding down a $75-a-week job. The whole experience is recorded in Wertham's exciting book, Dark Legend, which was recently discovered by the Book Find Club.

Always seeking to help others, profession. He is Senior Psychiatrist of the Department of Hospitals. The doctor even exploited to the full a dangerous operation that was performed on the blood vessels of his own legs. As the surgeon's knife cut into his flesh, he dictated to a stenographer his reactions. "His findings have since proven valuable in handling surgical patients," testifies one surgeon.

At no time in his busy career did Dr. Wertham forget his dream of a Harlem clinic. The latest crime statistics spurred him to action; with only 400,000 people out of Manhattan's 1,900,000, Harlem was responsible for 53 per cent of all juvenile delinquency in the borough.

At first he tried to sell his idea to a number of wealthy philanthropists. "But, Doctor," they told him, "there is no real need for such a clinic. We have several already." When he asked them for the names of the agencies that treated people without discrimination, they were unable to answer.

One night, Dr. Wertham was having a cup of tea with two of his colored friends, Richard Wright and Earl Brown, both successful writers. He had just finished reviewing his failures, and there followed a long silence. Then suddenly, he jumped up from his seat.

"Do we really need money?" he asked. "Let's begin without money; we'll do our worrying later. Let those of us who feel the need contribute our services."

Extremely capable psychiatrists, social workers, psychologists, and clerks who had studied and worked with Dr. Wertham offered their talents. The project was stalled temporarily when a thorough search failed to reveal a single empty house, flat, room, or even a garage in all Harlem. Finally, Rev. Bishop of St. Philip's remembered the

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum, John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

Dear Friends:

With the problems of the returned GI's, and especially the Negro, mounting to soaring heights we cannot ignore the gravity of the situation. The veteran riot that broke out in Athens, Tennessee over illegal election prictises and the gouging out of Veteran Isaac Woodard's eyes illustrate some of the problems facing our returning veterans. Because the Negro soldier has encountered more opposition in and out of service, it is particularly him about whom I would like to write.

We like to especially remember with pride that our Negro soldier fought for the preservation of a freedom that he was partially denied. Just as our Negro soldier has made a contribution in every war in the fight for freedom, we can never forget that their achievements were made under serious handicaps. Since this war was the most mechanical of all wars, training had been denied to the majority of our Negro soldiers. Three-fourths of them came from the South where equal educational opportunities, and opportunity to work at skilled jobs just don't exist. The fact that these men entered their country's service, seriously handicapped, through no fault of their own—they met the test, winning the recognition and admiration of all who knew or heard of their accomplishments.

An added burden placed upon them was segregation and discrimination, hindering chances for advancement. Despite this a Negro mess attendant, who was not permitted to train as a gunner due to color, manned a machine gun at Pearl Harbor, fighting bravely against the Japanese. Dorie Miller won the Navy Cross for this act and for assisting his captain to safety.

The first American soldier to die in the war was Robert H. Brooks, a Negro, son of a Tennessee sharecropper.

And our own John Kinloch, who worked on the EAGLE for six years and to whom this column is dedicated, also made an outstanding contribution. Entering the service as a reputable pen pusher, he contributed articles to The YANK and THE STARS AND STRIPES. He served in the Intelligence and was one of the first to volunteer in a mixed infantry unit. It was while serving in this unit as a "walkie-talkie" that he was shot down.

I have mentioned a few. Still, they represent the kind of "stuff" out of which heroes are made—the will and the courage. When General Eisenhower was asked to comment upon the contributions of the Negro soldiers, in reviewing the war, he said that he did not differentiate between white and Negro soldiers; nor between Americans, British, French, nor Russians. He simply looked upon all as just soldiers.

The war is over and the soldiers have now become citizens. A special Bill of Rights was written for the GI's, that, like the 14th, 15th, and 16th Amendments to the Constitution, mean very little to the Negroes. The returning GI was promised priorities on job, educational, and housing opportunities. These promises exist in a vacuum for most of the veterans and especially our Negro veterans.

However, just as they have proven themselves on the battlefield, they are likewise proving themselves on the homefront and by the same technique, in united action. I would like to express the gratitude of the youth for the magnificent task the American Veterans Association has been doing, not only in their fight for the minorities, but also on progressive political issues.

Just as the soldiers of all nationality and racial groups were looked upon as soldiers by Eisenhower, we hope that the American people will soon look upon the citizens as just citizens.

'One World Book Club'

NEW YORK—Announcement was made here last week by Alphonse Heningberg, executive director of the organization of The One World Book Club, for the promotion and distribution of books touching the life and activities of minority groups in this country. The major purpose of the organization is to encourage the reading of fiction and non-fiction which promotes the basic philosophy of one world of friendliness and understanding. The Club is chartered under the laws of the State of New York, and is incorporated at $100,000.00.

The first offering of the Club, which is located at 227 West 13th street, is George Wylie Henderson's new novel Jule, to be published in September. This second novel of Henderson, which tells the story of a deep-country Negro boy who wanted to amount to something in this world, and who never forgets the teachings of "Ollie Miss," his mother, even when facing the temptations of Harlem, has already received enthusiastic advance notices.

Young People Give Recital

OAKLAND, Calif.—Taylor Memorial Methodist church was recently the scene of a unique musical recital, when Miss Maxine Blackburn presented a group of 37 young people, beginners, intermediate and junior piano students to the public. With each pupil announcing his or her own number, it was the first public appearance for many of the young recitalists and most of them shared the experience of not having pianos on which to practice at home.

Outstanding among the students were: Alverna Ackerson, protogee of Miss Blackburn, who played "Moods," a composition written by her teacher; Lawrence DuPree, who was featured in an organ duet with Miss Ackerson.

Sixteen Enjoy Scholarships Provided by Elks Fraternity

NEW YORK—Sixteen young people enjoying scholarships provided by the Elks were attending seven of the private institutions affiliated with the United Negro College Fund, W. J. Trent, Jr., executive director, said this week. In a letter to W. C. Hueston, grand commis-sioner of education for the fraternal organization, Trent congratulated the Elks on its 20 years of work in the field of education, and hoped for a continuance of the kind of aid they are giving the Negro youth.

"Your identity with the Fund as a member of the National advisory committe also has been of inestimable value in the success of our annual campaign," the letter said.

Six of the students were enrolled at Howard university, and three at Bethune-Cookman college. Lincoln university and Spelman colege each had two while Xavier university, Talladega college and Hampton institute had one each.

Champ Makes Bow In Night Club

By Carrie Miller
(Special to "Eagle")

NEW YORK:—While Gotham breathlessly awaits the opening of the swank Joe Louis Restaurant and nitery here, the Champ keyed the headlines with his first club appearance at his famed Rhumboogie Club in Chicago, as a "warm-up" for his eastern opening.

Immediately after his return from the Detroit Golf Tournament, the famed Edwards Sisters also appearing with the champ wired this reporter concerning Joe's contemplated entrance into show-business. It's the first for a night-club stint although it is already known that the champ appeared in a nationally circulated film early in his boxing career, with Edna Mae Harris as leading lady. Louis headed a Theatre Unit on a short tour immediately upon his return from U.S.O. travel in the ETO and Alaska.

Also included the Chicago Show were Pot, Pan & Skillet, Floyd Campbell and his band, and others. Watch the EAGLE for report of the New York opening of Joe Louis' Club on West 125th street in the heart of Harlem!

DURANTE MORTIFIED

Jimmy Durante, who led truant officers a merry chase during his school days, plays the part of a high school janitor in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "It Happened in Brooklyn." The script calls for him to assist a truant officer.

Cosmos Club members through their president, Joe Oliver, and program chairman, Don Barksdale, announced that enthusiasm among the lovers of good music in Los Angeles is growing fast in regards to the forthcoming concert here of Eugene Gash, American concert pianist, on Thursday, August 15, at the Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma streets, at 8 p.m.

Many of these visitors who have heard of Mr. Gash will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear him in concert on Aug. 15.

Eugene Gash as a pianist is often referred to as the "Bronze Padereski" and although in his young twenties has taken his place as an instrumentalist with other greats of the race such as Paul Robeson, Marian Anderson, Rudolph Dunbar and others. He has twice appeared at Town Hall in New York City and won wide acclaim. As guest piano soloist with the Denver Symphony Orchestra he brought praise from the Denver daily papers for his artistry.

Kiddies' Talent Shows Aug. 17

Beginning Saturday, August 17, a kiddies' search-for-talent matinee will be staged every Saturday afternoon on the stage of the beautiful New Lincoln theatre, it was announced this week.

The principal object of this new feature will be to encourage youngsters who have unusual ability in the art of singing, dancing or dramatics, explained the Lincoln management.

Efforts are being made to have Joe Adams, popular young emcee and one of the few Negro radio disc jockeys in the country, act as master of ceremonies for the programs.

Any youngster up to 12 years of age is eligible but only those who register beforehand and are accompanied by grown-ups will be accepted as contestants.

A special booth is being installed in the lobby of the Lincoln where youngsters may register.

Busy Bee-Z in Fine Programs

New officers were elected for the coming six months. They are: Carole Owens, president; Robert McNeely, vice-president; Marsha Owens, secretary; Phillis Pitts, corresponding secretary; Yvonne Ladner, treasurer; Barbara Weaver, critic; Howard McNeely, host, and Loretta Williams, hostess.

Gerald Cumber Feted by Wife On Birthday

Mrs. Lillian Cumber, publisher of the magazine "Sepia Hollywood," gave a delightful surprise party at the Memo Club last Saturday night commemorating the birthday of her husband, Gerald, that was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

Champagne flowed freely at the party and a delicious dinner was served comprised of an unusual salad, fried chicken, green beans, creamed potatoes and hot rolls and butter.

Mr. Cumber received quite a few serviceable gifts and was genuinely surprised, having had no inkling of the party planned in his honor.

Ruby Dandridge In Mystery Pic

—RUBY DANDRIDGE— auLit —

A favorite of stage and screen for 15 years, Ruby Dandridge, well-known sepia comedienne and singer, was signed last week by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to appear in the mystery thriller, "The Arnelo Affair."

Last seen in "In Old Oklahoma," Miss Dandridge has played top roles in many pictures and stage presentations. She is familiar to radio audiences as "Geranium" on the Judy Canova program. Her biggest stage success was in the Ethel Waters role for "Hit the Deck," which she played with the roadshow company. She also was in "Cabin in the Sky" and other well-known Broadway hits.

Now Playing at United Artists

Universal's "Lover Come Back" now playing at the United Artists Theatre, 933 So. Broadway, downtown Los Angeles, is smartly produced comedy with a touch of sophistication and more than a fair share of laughs. The lines are bright and crisp, the farce situations get fresh treatment and subtle handling and the gags stem legitimately from the story. The second feature is "Her Adventurous Night."

Scores in 'Aida' Debut

William Grant Still Pens Songs for Kaufman

For the past two years, Louis Kaufman, eminent violinist of the films, has been asking his friend William Grant Still to compose another song for him to play at his annual Town Hall concerts in March of each year. The last composition written by Mr. Still for Mr. Kaufman was entitled "Suite for Violin and Piano" and was a tribute to three artists, Augusta Savage, Richmond Barthe and Sargant Johnson. The Suite met with New York's honest approval and Mr. Kaufman practically begged for another piece to introduce. But always the composer was so busy that he insisted he'd do it for the next season. He promised twice without results. This year, he'll keep his promise.

The new composition is very beautiful, Mr. Kaufman happily reports, and its name, "Pastorale," reflects its beauty. He will play it for the first time March 14th, 1947. (CNS).

ODD MOVIE CASTING

One of Hollywood's oddest castings was made during the filming of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Green Years." Jessica Tandy, in real life is actor Hume Cronyn's wife. In the screen adaptation of the A. J. Cronin best-seller, Miss Tandy plays the role of Hume Cronyn's daughter!

CAB CALLOWAY recently made an exceptionally fine gesture to his bandsmen. Instead of relieving five sidemen who had replaced several of CAB's men who had entered the service and who now have returned for their old chairs, the King of Hi-de-Ho augmented his band instead to keep the men from losing their pobs. "They did such a fine job," said CAB, "I just couldn't let them go."

Dick Campbell Exits From USO

By JOE BOSTIC

NEW YORK—When Dick Campbell, co-ordinator of Negro talent, completed his three year assignment with USO-Camp Shows here several weeks ago and formally severed connections with the huge agency it marked the end of one of the most ambitious and magnitudinous projects in the history of Negro show business. The spectacular effectiveness and success of the extensive enterprise over the three year period during which the dynamic Campbell held the reins was a tribute to the administrative genius of him and his staff.

Family Quarrel Made Star of Pearl Bailey

Pearl was only fifteen, an article "Lazy Lips" states in the September issue of Negro Digest, when she visited her brother in his dressing room at a Philadelphia theatre. They quarreled and when Pearl left in a huff she got tangled up in a line of hopefuls doing their stuff in the amateur show going on at the time.

When Pearl found herself out on the stage she sang and danced her way to first prize and a week's engagement at the theatre with pay. Since that time Miss Bailey has been vocalist with a number of Negro "name" bands and featured singer at night clubs across the country.

Cheerful Earful ! ! !

COUNT BASIE's broadcast from the Aquarium is really sumpthin' . . . and he's now called "THE RAJAH OF RHYTHM"!

BILL ECKSTINE whom I reported on the coast last week, is considering films, I understand, and I will say the RIGHT MUSICAL could be built around him and LENA HORNE!

ERROL GARDNER, the man who plays "Laura" so greatly, will thrill Pittsburgh when the "night of stars" gets goin'.

LUNCEFORD'S band records four new ones but soon. Friend of mine writes from Australia that she's just cra-a-a-z-y about AMERICAN JAZZ ad believe me her Ellingtons are on the way.

Stars at Midnight ! ! !

Can shine oh-h so-o lovely if you appreciate the sound of the night softly falling in the mountains. But stars glitter here on earth, too, and that includes MILDRED MELVIN getting an offer of a lead in the new play by LOFTON MICHELL . . . and MAXWELL GLANVILLE is a walking encyclopedia of who's who among Sepians on the legit stage!

YVONNE, new singing star from South America, has wowed 'em at the ELKS RENDEZVOUS and wise club owners and promoters including MAJOR ROBINSON will contact her manager, GWEN WARD!! . . . PHIL HARRIS, XAVIER CUGAT, LEOPOLD STOKOWSKI and HARRY JAMES are pooling efforts for a benefit for wounded vets in Los Angeles.

Summer-Ramblings ! ! !

After his coast stint is over, JIMMY LUNCEFORD will bow into the Club Coronet in Philadelphia, come Aug. 30. Then, too, the "Highlanders" at Coney Island weren't bad if you just MUST have had boardwalk entertainment. DUKE ELLINGTON

New film as a biography of the "DORSEY BROS." will depict the lives of Tommy AND Jimmy. When PAULA KELLY autographed records at New York Hearn's Dept. Store the bobby-soxers went wild, recently. . . . Then DINAH SHORES' appearance at the Paramount on Broadway is a reminder of some of the USO stints I saw her do.

Subtle Music ! ! !

MARION COX will be the new vocalist you'll hear on DUKE'S future presentation! EDDIE BEAL, the guy with the guitar and the "Fourtet" is currently putting a slight squeeze play on other small combos. Any reader knowing of a girl bass or guitarist let me know . . . I have an opportunity for both such instrumentalists but they MUST be femmes, I'm told!!! . . . Sorry, fellas!

Late-Sunset ! ! !

Thus the sudden feeling of how quickly time passes and how little each or any of us mean in its passing when news came after this col'm's deadline, concerning the death of one of DUKE ELLINGTON'S original bandmen. Thus a moment of silence and . . .

Known for his unusual "plunger style" of playing the trombone and creating weird effects suitable to Duke's exotic music.

Hear his tram style in "Never No Lament" recorded May 4, 1940 and re-issued under the name of "Don't Get Around Much Any More," Victor.

Exclusively Yours ! ! !

Is the fact that JOE LOUIS had fans lined up five deep during his recent night-club stint at Chicago's RHUMBOOGIE and those boxing-gloves "Souvenirs" are really cute, with the champ's pix and autograph. . . . This was Joe's first night-club stint, and no doubt is a groomer for his M.C. duties he'll try out occasionally when his club opens here! ! . . . The EDWARDS SISTERS shared the spotlight!

SLIM GAILLARD ole SLAM STEWART pard began a career as disc jockey on KLAC, daily on the coast! . . . BILLY ECKSTINE plays Oakland, Calif., on Aug. 17th for the Longshoremen's Ball! . . . Dorothy Maynor, Dunbar in Bowl Appearances August 22

Two world famous Negro artists: Dorothy Maynor, celebrated soprano and the internationally known Rudolph Dunbar, conductor, will be in Hollywood Bowl Thursday night, August 22.

Miss Maynor has made frequent visits to the Bowl in past seasons but the Aug 22 concert which is part of the silver jubilee season of Symphonies under the Stars, marks the American debut of Dunbar who is flying direct from Paris, France for the event.

OUTLINES PLANS—Outlining plans for the 1946-47 season of the Philharmonic orchestra of Los Angeles, Alfred Wallenstein, musical director and permanent conductor, said he would take his orchestra to San Francisco March 20-21, 1947, to perform an exchange pair of concerts.

Born in Norfolk and reared in the parsonage of the Methodist Church where her father was minister. Miss Maynor began singing in the church choir at an early age and at 14 entered Hampton Institute. In 1939 she was heard by Koussevitzky, noted Boston Symphony conductor, who immediately gave her a contract to sing with the orchestra. The rest is musical history.

Dunber was born in British Guiana and received his musical education in this country and in Europe. During World War II he was a War correspondent. He had not abandoned his music, however, and the time came when he was accorded the honor of conducting the London Philharmonic at Royal Albert Hall—the first Negro thus honored.

Said the Liverpool Evening Express "He has established his right to a foremost place among our leading conductors." Since then he has conducted in Paris and elsewhere abroad, always to unstinted praise of exacting critics. He and Miss Maynor will be in the Bowl one night only, Aug. 22.

Actress Swarz Appears With Rosetta Tharpe

ATLANTA, Ga. — Lou Swarz, noted character actress and movie star, appeared as guest artist on a program with Sister Rosetta Tharpe, gospel singer, last week at the City Auditorium. Miss Swarz kept the appointment by plane from New York.

SIGHT OF THE WEEK:

Maestro Lucky Millinder Is Great Hit on Lincoln Stage

One of America's greatest entertainers is now playing on the stage of the Lincoln theatre with his orchestra in the person of Lucky Millinder, dynamic little maestro, who in addition to providing excellent music for the edification of the public, has been steadily gaining fame for his civic work as he tours the nation. Lucky has a tentative finger on all current matters and has offered his help many times in fighting for a permanent FEPC, in the retention of the OPA and other vital matters.

It is to be wondered what the energetic Mr. Millinder will find to do in Los Angeles on his one-man crusade tended to make the world a little better place in which to live for his fellowmen. Whatever it is you can place a bet that it will be constructive.

At any rate if you like fine swing played in an original style by all means make it your business to see and hear Lucky Millinder at the Lincoln theatre this week.

Billy Eckstine Will Play Here

OAKLAND, Calif.—Billy Eckstine, who is currently adding to his tremendous following in his engagement at the Swing Club here, is being set for several important locations in California for the coming fall season. Billy's handlers are trying to book him at the Trianon Ballroom in Los Angeles or Meadowbrook Gardens in Culver City.

Lincoln Books 1st Mixed Act

Introduction of white artists to the New Lincoln theatre stage under the new management will be made beginning with next week's show when Wini Beatty, sultry-voiced young white singer, and her "Lamplighter All Stars" open as a feature attraction.

The unit is mixed. Colored artists are Zutty Singleton, one of the nation's greatest drummers; and Barney Bigard, ace clarinetist, formerly with Duke Ellington.

Ballroom Dancers At Hollywood Bowl

Veloz and Yolanda, celebrated ballroom dancers, return Aug. 10 for their third visit to Hollywood Bowl and during the next week Leopold Stokowski conducts a symphony concert Aug. 13 with Nan Merriman, soloist; Artur Rubinstein, pianist, Aug. 15, and second annual Motion Picture Academy night Aug. 17.

Lionel Hampton Heads for L. A.

CHICAGO — The "Hey Ba Ba Rebop" contest winners and recipients of the coveted $450 in cash prizes will be announced August 14, it was revealed this week by Lionel Hampton, the "Hey Ba Ba Rebop" king as he prepared to depart from Omaha on the first leg of his western tour which will culminate in a six weeks' stand at the Trianon Ballroom in Los Angeles.

Theatrical editors of six of the largest Negro newspapers will act as judges in selecting the winners of the nationally-famous contest which attracted thousands of swing fans who cast their lots in the interesting competition.

WATSON JONES DECISIVELY BEATS GARLAND

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

A LINE OR TWO

Ike Williams, the NBA lightweight champion, is slated to defend his title against Ronnie James, British lightweight titleholder, at Cardiff, Wales, on September 3 . . . This scribe got a big laugh out of an account in the Aug. 3 issue of KNOCKOUT magazine of the recent Johnny Haynes, Walter Hafer bout. It said that Hafer "looked like a sure winner" up until the knockout and when floored got a "fast" count. It is a matter of record that Hafer hit the deck six times during the abbreviated bout which ended in the third. The total count for these six trips to the canvas at least totaled 45, and probably more. Add to that the fact that no fighter can be considered to be winning a bout when he is spending more time dusting his trunks on the resin than throwing punches . . . and you have it . . . Champ Joe Louis made his debut in show biz last week by serving as emcee at the Rhumboogie Cafe in Chicago of which he is owner. Meanwhile New Yorkers are awaiting the opening of the classy Joe Louis restaurant and night club in Gotham, also owned by the heavyweight titleholder . . . Lorenzo Safora, Cuban battler, may fight Speedy Cabanella, the Filipino sensation, at Hollywood late this month.

ALICE COACHMAN TO CANADA

Alice Coachman, Tuskegee student and national 50-meter, 100-meter and high-jump champion, left last Thursday for competition in a series of track events in Canada. She is the only Negro member of a United States team which includes Stella Walsh, Kay Geary, Eleanor Milhouser and Nancy Cowperthwaite. They will meet a picked Canadian team. This is a pretty nice gesture on the part of the Amateur Athletic Union and we are glad to see Miss Coachman receive this recognition. You may say, why not, she's the champ? Quite true, but we've heen other Negro champs in various sports ignored and lesser lights of the Nordic race substituted many times.

MAYBE THIS IS NEWS

Bob Montgomery, who holds the New York version of the world's lightweight title, is training daily for his 12-round non-title bout against Philadelphia's Wesley Mouzon and don't think that the latter isn't getting in his training licks too . . . A victory over the Bobcat would be quite an expensive feather in his cap . . . Tom Montgomery, the champ's brother, is Mouzon's manager . . . The 28th annual New York Open tennis championships are now in progress on the Cosmopolitan courts in New York City, having started Monday. The tourney ends August 11. Our own Jimmie McDaniels will play in the national meet of the American Tennis Association August 19124.

A FEW TARGET STRIKES

Primo Carnera, former world's heavyweight champion, has arrived in L. A. and will wrestle at the Olympic soon. He is now 36-years old and tips the beam at 245 pounds . . . The L. A. Junior Chamber of Commerce has been appointed as sponsors of the 1947 National Badminton Championships which will be held here . . . Kenny Washington, L. A. Rams quarterback, has been having trouble with a knee he twisted early in practice while trying to learn the correct way for a T-formation quarter to pivot. The knee has not gained sufficient strength following an operation three months ago and failed to stand the strain of an unfamiliar maneuver. Kenny is still working out however, with the knee in a brace, and hopes that in due time the pain will vanish. The trouble is below the point of operation, which itself has healed completely. Meanwhile on the same team, Woody Strode, strapping end, has been the fastest at that position on the team . . . Our old friend Elmer (Violen) Ray, who couldn't get many heavyweight fights in local rings, is going strong in the east. Last Friday Elmer scaled 192 pounds when he scored a technical knockout in the fifth round over George Fitch, 204, of New Haven, Conn. The bout was scheduled for 10-rounds. It was Elmer's forty-fifth straight victory with all but two via the kayo route . . . Del Mar race track opened its seventh season Wednesday and a lot of classy bangtails are kicking up the dust where the "turf meets the surf" . . . For the benefit of you hunters the coast deer season opened yesterday (Wednesday) and the bag limit in open districts is two bucks which must have two points to be legal deer. The early season closes Sept. 15 and a later season in the High Sierras runs from Sept. 23 to Oct. 21.

WILLIE JOYCE . . . Won Easily

The pair had previously fought a 10-round draw, but there was nothing even close about their fight this time. Joyce was the aggressor all the way, effectively using a left jab and moving out of range of Kapilow's left hooks. After the first five rounds, Kapilow lost some of his timing and the sting left his punches. After that, Joyce reached him repeatedly with both hands. In the seventh and eighth rounds Joyce had things pretty much his own way.

Kapilow elected to trade punches with Joyce in the ninth and tenth, but Joyce met him more than half way and forced the boy from the Bronx to hold often after the exchanges.

Referee Ruby Goldstein and Judge Frank Forbes gave Joyce five rounds, Kapilow three and saw two even. The other judge, Jack Gordon, gave Joyce five, but gave an added one to Kapilow, scoring only one even.

Kapilow, the favorite at 5 to 6, weighed 143¾, as against 140 for Joyce.

The crowd paid a total of $32,970 to see the fight.

The outcome of the fight will not affect Kapilow's match with Beau Jack at Griffith Stadium in Washington, August 19.

. . . On the Baseball Front

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) — Everything is set for a record-breaking crowd at Griffith Stadium, August 15, when the selected All-Stars of the Negro National and American Leagues clash in the first classic to be played in the East.

WASHINGTON—The Washington Homestead Grays took top honors in a three-team, twilight bargain bill in Griffith Stadium last Thursday night, as the Memphis Red Sox beat the Cleveland Buckeyes in the opener, 5-1, only to fall victims to the 1945 Negro National League champions in the finale, 4-2.

Memphis unveiled perhaps the greatest pitcher now in colored baseball when, in the opener, the 6,000 fans applauded the flashing speed and darting curves of Dan Bankhead, who fanned ten of the 1945 champions from Cleveland.

Rams Leave for Chicago Game On August 19

The Los Angeles Rams professional football team, which lists Sepians Kenny Washington and Woody Strode on its roster, will leave Los Angeles on the Sante Fe Chief at 12 noon on Monday, August 19. The team will arrive in Chicago at 1 p.m. Wednesday, August 21, and work out that afternoon on Soldiers Field, scene of the Friday night clash with the strongest All-Star team ever to face a National League champion in the annual game for Chicago Tribune Charities.

Negroes Baseball's 'Iron Men'

CHICAGO—The truly "iron" men of baseball are the Negro pros declares George C. Morse in a feature article in the September issue of Negro Digest, citing the record to prove his claim.

"The normal physical demands imposed by baseball are notorious," Morse states. "But in the case of Negro pros, to the hectic pace of a normal season must be added the inconvenience of Jim Crow travel, long bus trips before each game, plus the frequent sandwiching in these are normal conditions in Negro professional baseball, they represent hardships no white player is ever expected to endure."

Moreover, the writer asserts, "There are no luxurious hotels available to these bronze men of iron at the end of these long journeys, and meals are irregular and usually unwholesome.

"No wonder Negro pros have a high incidence of stomach ulcers."

Grays Schedule Games

PITTSBURGH—What looms as the biggest crowd puller of the month, will be a regular league game between the Baltimore Elites and the Homestead Grays at Forbes Field on August 8. This game honors the memory of "Cum" Posey, late owner of the Grays, and whose vision and confidence in Negro baseball was responsible for development and popularity of the club. Part of the proceeds from this game will be set aside to underwrite a "Cum" Posey Scholarship.

Cleveland and Chicago play the opening game in Chicago on August 22, with the winner taking on the Grays. The same attraction moves to Cleveland on August 23, with the Grays participating in the same way. Phila Stars and the Grays open the program in Newark on August 25, and the Eagles take on the winner.

ON THE TURF

HIPODROMO DE TIJUANA—It was a bad day for the form players last Sunday at the border course when only 4 on the afternoon's card of 12 races greeted Judge James Murphy's charmed circle. However, the longshot players had a field day. Many overlays were noticed by the sharp boys and the books were stung hard. Cleo Mic, Tricky Marge and My Universe were three of the horses that earned brackets on the overlay line. Cleo Mic paid $43.00, Tricky Marge $20.40, while My Universe backers received $10. The feature attraction was won by Navy Test, who beat the favorite Glencok by 4 lengths.

The daily double paid $182.60 while the quiniela rewarded $48.60. This Sunday General Manager Agustin Silveyra expects to have some of the big name horses that are now racing at Del Mar to compete in the handicap that he has arranged, and during the Del Mar meeting Manager Silveyra will offer some special events with large purses in order to attract the best horses that have crossed the border in many months. This Sunday another card of twelve races will be staged and three outstanding attractions will be offered to the lovers of the sport of kings.

So until next week, so-long and keep smiling.

Eastside Boxer Impressive as He Shows Previous Form

Watson Jones, 173½, once the scourge of local light-heavyweights and the fighter who gave Jimmy Bivins a heck of a fight here, came into his own again Tuesday night at the Olympic when he carved out an unanimous 10-round decision over Tommy Garland, 182, pride of the waterfront.

The 4-rounders ended as follows: Morris Corona, 144½, stopped Virgil Door, 148, in one stanza; Freddie Beshore, 188½, kayoed Horace Thompson, 183, in the second; Emory Jackson, 157½, decisioned Wilson Mackey, 161, and Billy McClure, 190, knocked out Jack Glover, 206, in the fourth.

Carlos Chavez Vs. Leanos Tues.

Carlos Chavez, California state featherweight champion, will meet Juan Leanos of Mexico, who is making his local debut, in the 10-round main event at the Olympic Tuesday night, August 13.

Leanos recently knocked out Sammy Anders in six rounds at San Jose and comes here well recommended while Chavez has boxed a 15-round draw with Manuel Ortiz, the world's bantamweight champ, a 10-round draw with Baby Gonzales, knocked out Bobby Jackson and defeated Petey Virgin.

Joe Louis Now Special Deputy

CHICAGO (NNPA)—Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion, was made a special deputy of Cook county last Wednesday by Sheriff Michael F. Mulcahy.

The honorary title, which permits the holder to wear a star but which entails no duties, was bestowed when Louis visited the county building.

In exchange for the star, Louis extended to the sheriff best wishes in his campaign for county treasurer.

Jackie Robinson Is Big Gun As Royals Top Newark Bears

NEWARK, N. J.—(NNPA)—Jackie Robinson, the Montreal Royals' star second baseman, proved poison to the Newark Bears in the series which ended last week.

He drove in the tying run and scored the winning tally in the first game of Tuesday's twin bill, which was won by Montreal, 3-2. And his expert defense around second accounted for several runs cut off.

He played errorless ball, accepting twenty-five chances in the series, and he had six runs in thirteen trips to the plate, also walking six times and being hit by a pitched ball. Besides that he stole three bases.

Robinson, a former UCLA football, track and basebal star, played baseball in Venezuela professional experience," as he explains. He appears to be of major league caliber and if Branch Rickey, who sat in the stands throughout the series, thinks so, Robinson will be a last winter "in order to get some Brooklyn Dodger in 1947.

At UCLA, Jackie broad jumped 25 feet, 6½ inches, a foot short of Jesse Owens world record.

Kenny Watkins Stops Eaton

Kenny Watkins, 157½, stablemate of John Thomas and Bobby Yeager, held up the prestige of his group by scoring an, eight-round technical knockout over Johnny Eaton, 154½, of Detroit, Monday night at Ocean Park arena. The bout was scheduled for 10-rounds but Eaton was unable to continue after sustaining an injury. As the bout went however, Watkins was ahead on points, and would probably have been awarded the decision anyway.

Birthday for Midget Racing

Night speedway midget automobile racing, the spectacular go-fast game that has taken the country by storm is 13 years old this week and Gilmore Stadium, home base of the "flying midgets" on the Pacific Coast, is going to have a birthday party Thursday night, August 8.

Cabanella Vs. Escobar Friday

"Speedy" Cabanella, Filipino battler, who made his United States debut by beating Pedro Ramirez at Hollywood recently, will enter the ring at the same arena to battle Alfredo Escobar over the 10-round route in the main event Friday night. They will meet at 126 pounds. Francis Ogg and Acey Hainsworth clash in the six-round semi-windup.

Red Sox Lose To Bushwicks

BROOKLYN (NNPA)—Behind the four-hit pitching of Emil Moscowitz, the Bushwicks defeated the Memphis Red Sox of the Negro American League, 4-0, at Dexter Park last Friday night.

BOXING BRIEFS

WORCESTER (Mass.) — Charley Williams, 148, Newark, N. J., scored a 10-round decision over Berry Wright, 149½, Cleveland, here last Friday night.

IKE WILLIAMS, 138, Trenton, N. J., NBA world's lightweight champion, knocked out Ivan Christie, 136, Yonkers, N. Y., Tuesday night in two rounds of the scheduled 10-round main event at Crystal Arena. The bout was non-title. It was Williams' last American appearance before he goes to London to defend his title.

SAN FRANCISCO — Willie Brown, 188, San Francisco, stopped Johnny Ebarb, 183, San Leandro, Cal., in the third round last Friday night.

McDaniels Wins Singles Title

The Angel City Racquet Club ace player, Jimmie McDaniels, ends up as singles champ in the Lockheed annual tennis tournament.

This was McDaniels' fourth consecutive year to win the title.

He defeated Claude Malicay, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.

L. A. to Observe Centennial Week

Program plans have been released by the Citizens' Centennial Committee to commemorate the week of Aug. 7 to 13 as Centennial Week in observance of the initial raising of an American flag over the sleepy pueblo of Los Angeles on Aug. 13, 1846, by Lieut. Col. John C. Fremont and Commodore Robert Stockton.

The week's activities began Wednesday at 11 a. m. when Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill, leader of the famed "Merrill's Marauders," raised an historic American flag over the Los Angeles City Hall.

A gigantic cavalcade of Los Angeles will be presented on the Spring street entrance to the City Hall on the evening of August 13. Leaders from the motion picture business aided by the aviation, petroleum and citrus industries will stage a dramatic picturization of the growth of Los Angeles from a sleepy pueblo of 1,600 inhabitants to its present expanding population of 1,800,000.

Finds Meat Too High; Throws It at Seller

The buyers' strike against high costs of meat had one lapse from the peaceful to the irate stage late this week when Chinese grocery store manager Heum Louie reported to police an irate customer tried to "ruin my store" because meat prices are so high.

Heum stated that John Hunter, 38, of 3426½ McKinley street, entered his store last Friday at 908 East Jefferson street and asked for pork chops. Heum wrapped up the meat and handed it to Hunter, he declared, but when Hunter heard the price, he threw the meat at Heum, picked up a jar of jam, and threw at the liquor counter, damaging $15 worth of wine.

Hunter was not arrested.

Anti-Semitic Order Denounces British

NEW YORK—The American Christian Palestine Committee this week denounced Gen. Sir Evelyn Barker's "nonfraternization" order to British troops in Palestine as 'renewed evidence" of Britain's willingness to stoop even to anti-Semitism to push her policies. Barker is British commander-in-chief in Palestine.

Barker's order, the committee says, "might very well have been drafted by a Nazi gauleiter, for it not only charges that all Jews in Palestine are guitly in the bombing of the King David hotel," but explains the non-fraternization rule in these terms:

"They (the troops) . . . will be punishing the Jews in a way that the race dislikes as much as any—by striking at their pockets and showing our contempt for them."

Warns of Rise in Polio Cases Here

Although Los Angeles has not been hit as hard as some other cities in one of the nation's worst poliomyelitis epidemics, the Health Department has issued a stern warning for residents to take all precautions against the dread disease.

Dr. George M. Uhl, local health officer, says that there has been an increased incidence here, with a total of 86 cases this year, 29 from Jan. 1 to June 30, and 53 cases during July. It is feared, he states, that there will be an increase in August.

The department recommends avoiding swimming in polluted waters and sudden chilling. Children should not be taken into crowds and should not be exposed to unsanitary conditions.

Assails Rejection of Nomination Petitions Of New York Negro

NEW YORK—"The people of New York will not tolerate any Bilbo white-supremacy campaign in their state," Rep. Vito Marcantonio, New York county chairman of the American Labor party, said this week in denouncing the Board of Elections for rejecting the petitions of Charles A. Collins, designating him as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for state senator in the 21st district. The board did not even go through the formality of hearing witnesses for Collins. Its action left Harold I. Panken, white, unopposed for the nomination.

"If Talmadge did not succeed in keeping hundreds of thousands of Negroes away from the polls in the South, the decent people of New York, both Negro and white, will also demand the right to elect representatives of their own choice," Marcantonio said.

Collins has started action in the state supreme court to set aside the ruling and restore his name to the ballot.

Paper Shortage—Pass This Paper

Bias Deprived U.S. Recognition of Star, Says Mrs. Roosevelt

NEW YORK—(CNS)—In a recent syndicated column, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt commented caustically on the fact that Soprano Ella Bille Davis had to travel to Mexico City to make her debut as an operatic star.

"She might have made her debut on the operatic stage of her own country . . . but racial prejudice is hard to overcome," writes Mrs. Roosevelt. "Some day, some opera company in the United States may have courage to let her sing in an operatic performance in her own country. We, of the United States, do let our prejudices spoil our enjoyment of talent. Sometimes it seems a little foolish, but perhaps it gives us more pleasure to let the rest of the world decide whether or not our citizens are great artists before we make the decision ourselves."

Baha'i Lecture

Creators of World Progress is the subject of the talk to be given by Winston Evans on Sunday, August 11, at 3 p.m. at Los Angeles Baha'i Headquarters, 331 South New Hampshire Avenue. The teachings of Baha'u'llah extend beyond the limits possible to divine revelation in the past.

Christian Science Lesson on 'Love'

The Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Love" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, will be Paul's statement to the Corinthians: "Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you."

A Scriptural passage from Ezekiel reads, "For thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I, even I, will both search my sheep, and seek them out. . . . and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. . . . I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God. I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: . . . And ye my flock, the flock of my pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord God."

"Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need," says Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Again she writes, "Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way." "Love is impartial and universal in its adaptation and bestowals. It is the open fount which cries, 'Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters.'"

One of the first steps in the new work of Rev. Seido Ogawa, integrator of Japanese-Americans into the Congregational Churches was his preaching at the Church of Christian Fellowship last Sunday with an inclusive membership of all races.

Rev. Ogawa is associated with Dr. Clarence Gillet who has charge of the veteran missionaries to Japan and has charge of this entire work on the Pacific coast. It is part of the interracial work of Rev. Galen Weaver of the Church of the Crossroads in Honolulu and now the director of interracial activities among the minorities of the entire Congregational Christian fellowship.

Transit Fare Rise Condemned At Youth Meet

The rise in transit fare was condemned as another cut in the consumers' pocketbook by the executive board of the American Youth for Democracy meeting this week. The board demanded that there be no veering from the special rate transit books offered to students.

Coupled with the rise in gasoline prices, this double-barreled blow will be felt most severely by students who get along on meager allowances and by youth who are living on modest incomes.

"Many young people won't be able to stretch their allowances and earnings out to cover the increased costs of transportation and they will have to cancel many of their recreational and educational activities. We can easily see a rise in the dangerous habit of hitch-hiking as well as the resulting increase of youngsters playing in the streets," said Jerry O'Connor, recently returned veteran and intercollegiate secretary of the AYD.

Ask More Funds For Education

Speaking as the only representative of a youth organization present, Vicki Landish, educational secretary of the Los Angeles American Youth for Democracy, told a Board of Education hearing on the proposed $67,000,000 educational budget last Thursday night, that more funds should be appropriated for expansion of public school facilities, youth services recreation program, institution of a four-year course at Los Angeles City college, more education in interracial unity and subsidization of public school cafeterias.

Youth Body in Lynch Protest

Protesting the brutal lynch-murder of four Negro citizens in Georgia last week, American Youth for Democracy this week called upon its members and all other young people and youth organizations in California to join with it in sending telegrams immediately to Attorney General Tom Clark in Washington demanding federal action to capture and punish the criminals responsible.

World Youth Meet Files Protest With Byrnes on U. S. Lynchings

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The governing council of the Wolrd Federation of Democratic Youth meeting in Paris, France, simultaneously with the United Nations Peace Conference, unanimously voted July 30, to call on Secretary of State Byrnes and protest the "lynch atrocities and rising tide of fascist terror which are presently being perpetrated against the Negro people in Georgia, Mississippi and the Southern part of the United States."

The action was taken following an impassioned appeal for "action" on the part of the WFDY against the wholesale violation of the democratic rights of American Negroes in their "native southland" by Mrs. Dorothy Challenor Burnham of Birmingham, Alabama. Mrs. Burnham is the educational director of the Southern Negro Youth Congress and is the representative of that organization at the Paris meeting.

The world Federation of Democratic Youth is a kind of unofficial "Junior United Nations" with the major youth movements and organizations of 53 countries as members. Information of the Governing Council's action was received in the offices of the Southern Negro Youth Congress this evening from Paris via RCA and Western Union cablegram services.

Western State Baptist Body Holds Its Annual Meeting

The Tri-County Baptist Association of the Western Baptist State Convention of California recently held its annual meeting with the Village Baptist church of Watts under the pastorship of Rev. L. M. Curtis. Mrs. Arline S. Newton of Pasadena opened the Sunday School session with the message, "Working Together with Christ."

Mrs. M. B. Muton presided over the B. T. U.'s session in the absence of the president, Mrs. Olivia M. Cobbs. The music and missionary depts. held separate sessions with messages by each of its presiding officers, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith and Mrs. F. M. Celistan. Rev. John Davis of Community Baptist church of Monrovia delivered a sermon.

Among the officers elected for the years 1946-47 were: Rev. W. M. Thomas, moderator; Rev. John A. Davis, executive secretary; Rev. J. W. Coleman, recording secretary; Rev. W. D. Carter, treasurer; Mrs. L. G. Shaw, chairman of finance; Mrs. Sophia Espey, chorister; Mrs. S. L. Amos, pianist.

The next meeting will be held with the Second Baptist church of Las Vegas, Nevada, under the pastorage of Rev. C. H. Hayden on October 10-11, 1947.

Delegation Protests Slaying Of Mexican Youth, Gets Pledge From Biscailuz of New Probe

A new and thorough investigation into the kiling of Eugene Montenegro Jr., 12-year-old Mexican youth who was shot and killed last week by Deputy Sheriff H. H. Hodges, was promised by Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz last Monday.

Biscailuz, in a meeting with representatives of more than a score of organizations, agreed to disclose the results of his investigation on August 9, by which time, he said, proper action would be taken against Hodges if the findings warranted it.

He is asking the district attorney's office to aid in the investigation, he told the delegation.

Request for the meeting with the sheriff was made by representatives of the Civil Rights Congress, the Catholic Interracial Committee, and the Mobilization for Democracy. Other organizations represented included American Veterans Committee, National Citizens Political Action Committee, Federation of Spanish American Voters, Latin American Protective League, Communist party, Progressive AFL, Los Angeles Youth Council, Los Angeles CIO Council, Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee, Conference of Studio Unions Auxiliary, American Youth for Democracy and many neighbors of the Montenegro family. The parents of the victim, Mr. and Mrs. Montenegro, were also present.

"Our purpose in coming here," delegation spokesman Ruth M. Slade of the CRC, said, "is to seek clearance for the name of the young boy who was slain and to make certain that such incidents do not recur."

The youth was slain when he allegedly fled from a ransacked home, ignored Dep. Sheriff Hodges' command to halt. The child had no stolen property on his person.

Russ Writer Says Hitler's Ideas Rule U. S.

Newspaper readers in Russia, where racial discrimination and exclusiveness are banned by law and sternly punished, this week had received a vivid account of the prevalence of jimcrow oppression and anti-Semitism in the United States.

Continuing his accounts in Pravda of what he saw during his recent tour of the United States, Ilya Ehrenburg, famous Soviet journalist and author, pointed to the existence of a hierarchy of race in the United States, with those of British origin at the top, and the Negro at the bottom.

"The aristocracy are the English, Scotch and Irish," Ehrenburg wrote. "Scandinavians and Germans follow, then the French and Slavs; much lower are the Italians and finally at the bottom of the ladder—Negroes."

A white lawyer in Nashville, Tenn., whom Ehrenburg visited, shocked him by repeating the "racial theories of Rosenberg and other ideologists of the Third Reich," while showing him a portrait of his brother killed on the Rhine.

Ehrenburg commented on the contradiction between anti-Negro and anti-Jewish sentiments in many American circles and the freedom with which the sons and brothers of the same people died in the fight against exponents of racial supremacy.

Commenting on the treatment of 13 million Negroes in the U. S., he wrote "it is possible to say that one of every ten Americans is deprived of all human rights."

He sharply assailed the southern plantation owners who, he said, confuse themselves with the late Czar Nicholas and God.

Discussing anti-Semitism, the Russian writer said that it is so customary that "many do not notice it," added, "it seems to them quite natural that in some institutions only Aryans are given work or that Jews are not admitted to some hotels."

Mail Carrier Jailed For Robbing Mails

Dumas A. Watson, Eastside political figure and veteran mail carrier, has been sentenced to 18 months in the federal penitentiary on five charges growing out of theft and forgery of checks he stole from the mails.

Federal Judge Ben Harrison found Watson guilty after a court trial of passing the $124.94 and $53.51 checks. His partner in the crimes, waitress Helen Harding, 25, (white) copped a guilty plea and received a six months' county jail term.

Watson declared that the G-men "tried to get me because I have been an active leader among Negroes," when he first announced that he had been accused.

ENDURANCE

Endurance has been described as the "capacity to bear a strain with conscious power"; or, in other words, endurance makes a contest into a conquest.

It is distinct from the courage that meets the short and sharp tests in life. In these tests, emotion may sometimes mingle with faith in facing a crisis and triumphing; the testing is severe and exacting, but is soon over.

There are parallels today, and times when faith that rises to an emergency must be transmitted into faith that endures the longer test. The burden is not lifted immediately, but the bearer is given strength to endure it. Thus endurance plays an important part in our daily life.

R.T.—Dear Prof. Herman: I have been reading your splendid advice and find it both interesting and helpful. It is my desire to seek your guidance on a very important matter in the near future, and I hope you will be able to help me as much as you are helping others.

M.M.M.: Will my boy friend ever stop dating the other girl?

Answer: It seems to me that this friend of yours is not ready to settle down to one girl friend, hence his acting as he has. I suggest you treat him as you do all of your other friends and not attach any great importance to your friendship.

O.D.: Did I do the right thing to make the change I made?

Answer: Probing into the matter I find that this change in your personal affairs will gradually prove beneficial and worth while. But you must stop thinking of the past and look forward to the future. As long as you keep thinking of that which has already happened, and wondering if you should return, you will never be able to make yourself satisfied or accomplish anything.

Answer: Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet indicate many changes in your life that will bring you more happiness and success in a financial manner. I would be glad to advise you further if you will write in for a private reply at your earliest convenience.

E.J.—Dear Sir: I am sending for another copy of the wonderful book With God All Things Are Possible, for a friend of mine. We both know that through the help of God, many of our sorrows and burdens can be laid down and forgotten, and peace of mind restored. Thanks again for recommending it to me.

W.M.McM.: How long will it be, before I join my husband?

Answer: I am of the opinion that you will see your husband within the next month, and plans will then be made for you to join him permanently.

R.C.: Will I be successful in securing a job in the county or city in which I live?

Answer: My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals your finding the type of employment you so justly deserve in the near future. Your grades on the various examinations have been very good and entitle you to some consideration, which I feel you will get.

M.O.: When was the first American high school established?

Answer: The first American high school was established in Boston in 1821. New York City followed in 1825; but it was the bill passed by the Massachusetts legislature in 1827 that provided the real impetus for the high school movement in the United States.

Dillard U. Prexy Joins Fight for U. S. Health Bill

WASHINGTON — A. W. Dent, head of Dillard university, outstanding Negro college in New Orleans, La., has accepted membership on the board of directors of the Committee for the Nation's Health, it was announced this week by Dr. Channing Frothingham, chairman. The group is supporting the expansion and improvement of medical care for all Americans, regardless of race, creed, color or size of income.

"I am definitely convinced," said President Dent, "that the health needs of the nation cannot be adequately served except through a nationally tax-supported plan."

The Wagner-Murray-Dingell National Health Program bill, now before congress, would provide all Americans with medical care through an extension of the social security program. In all hearings before the senate committee on education and labor, the Committee for the Nation's Health spearheaded the presentation of vigorous testimony favoring the establishment of federally-supported prepaid health insurance.

Dent, as a member of the board of directors, will work with AFL President William Green; CIO President Philip Murray; Bishop Francis McConnell; Gerald Swope, retired head of General Electric; David Sarnoff, head of Radio Corp. of America, and others who advocate a prepaid health program for all.

AMONG THE CASUALTIES OF WAR—1946

January 4:	Four Negro veterans killed in Birmingham, Ala.
February 5:	Two Negro veterans killed in Freeport, L. I.
February 13:	Negro veteran's eyes gouged out by Aiken, South Carolina policeman.
February 25:	Two Negroes, one a veteran, killed in Columbia, Tennessee jail.
July 17:	Macio Snipes, veteran, only Negro to vote in his district, murdered in Taylor County, Georgia.
July 22:	Leon McTatie whipped to death near Lexington, Miss.
July 24:	Four Negroes—two men and two women—lynched by mob in Walton County, Georgia.

STOP THIS SLAUGHTER!

(A) Wire President Harry Truman urging defense of the Constitution and fulfillment of our Atlantic Charter obligations. Ask him, by a personal plea to the nation, to reassure the world that America is determined to preserve her democracy.

(B) Wire Attorney General Tom Clark, Washington, D. C., demanding protection for Negro citizens and restoration of law. Commend him for his seven-state investigation of the KKK.

(C) Wire Senator Sheridan Downey, Senate Office Bldg., Washington, D. C., urging him to move for the immediate creation of a United States Senate Committee to investigate denial of civil liberties and police protection to the Negro people.

(D) Wire all Washington representatives urging passage by Congress of a Federal Anti-Lynch Law which has been pending for the last fifteen years.

(E) Unite with the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions and all other progressive organizations, to undertake a campaign of education and protest.

It's OUR problem

This reign of terror against the Negro people represents a breakdown of the Constitutional process and a serious breach of our pledges to the United Nations. The peoples of the world —three-quarters of whom are colored—will form conclusive opinions based upon the vigor with which we act against this outbreak of racism and mob rule. Each violation of human and civil rights — including the simple right to live — invites a greater violation. No man is truly free so long as his neighbor lives in fear. No man is innocent of crime who does not act against it.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO LEASE PROPERTY

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles has adopted the following resolution of intention to lease the following described property, to-wit:

"RESOLVED, that the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles, in regular and open meeting, by a two-thirds vote of its members, hereby declares its intention to lease to Los Angeles City High School District of Los Angeles County, for the period of five years commencing September 1, 1946, and ending August 31, 1951, the following-described property in the City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California, to-wit:

All of Lots 11 and 12, and those portions of Lots 26 to 30, inclusive, of Tract No. 196, as per map recorded in Book 13, Page 157, of Maps, in the office of the County Recorder of Los Angeles County, described as follows:

The easterly 5 feet of the southerly 60.0 feet of Lot 26; the southerly 60.0 feet of Lot 27; the southerly 93.0 feet of Lot 28; the westerly 10 feet of the southerly 93 feet and the easterly 35 feet of the southerly 120 feet of Lot 29; and the southerly 83 feet of Lot 30; together with all elementary-owned improvements located thereon.

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that said proposed Lease shall contain certain terms and conditions substantially as follows:

"1. Lessor and Lessee shall each have the right to terminate said proposed Lease at any time upon mutual agreement between Lessor and Lessee.

"2. In the event this Lease is terminated or the rental rate is increased by amendment or is reduced, as provided for hereinafter, then the rent payable under this Lease shall be prorated, the proration to be determined as of the date of termination, increase or reduction of rental.

"3. Lessor shall make any alterations, additions, or improvements that may be needed to said demised premises.

"4. Lessee at its own expense shall keep the premises and every part thereof in good order and repair, and the Lessor shall not be called upon or required to make any repairs whatsoever.

"5. Lessor shall pay, indemnify, and save harmless the Lessee against all liens and claims of liens, including liens of contractors, items of contractors, subcontractors, and material men, arising out of or in connection with such contracts as said Lessor may enter into for the construction of buildings, alterations, or additions to said premises.

"6. Lessee shall pay, indemnify, and save harmless the Lessor against all liens and claims of liens, including liens of contractors, items of contractors, subcontractors, and material men arising out of or in connection with such contracts as said Lessee may enter into for repairs to or upkeep of said premises.

"7. Lessor, its agents and representatives, shall have at all times the right to enter upon said demised premises for the purpose of inspecting said premises and of posting, and keeping posted, notices of non-responsibility for material furnished and labor performed and other services rendered or bestowed in connection with the construction, improvement, repair, or maintenance of the demised premises by the Lessee or of any building or buildings that may be erected thereon.

"8. Lessor shall, except as otherwise provided in the proposed Lease, assume and pay all obligations, liens, and other encumbrances against the demised premises, including taxes and other assessments, if any, levied upon the interest of the Lessor; provided, however, that the Lessee shall assume and pay such obligations, liens, and other encumbrances as it shall hereafter specifically undertake and agree to assume and pay under the proposed Lease; and provided further that the Lessee shall pay for all light, heat, water, power, and other public utility services of every kind and sort that may be used by said Lessee in and about the demised premises.

"9. In the event any of the property included in the proposed Lease sustains a loss or damage by fire, earthquake, flood, act of God, or public calamity, the rental payable under this Lease shall be reduced by mutual agreement between the Lessor and the Lessee in a fair and reasonable amount.

"10. In the event of sale, demolition, or removal of a school structure or structures, or other improvements of a substantial nature (exclusive of land), the rent payable under this Lease shall be reduced and said reduction shall be based on the appraised value determined by the Board of Appraisers appointed by this resolution, and multiplied by the rental per cent ratio recommended by said Board of Appraisers.

"11. In the event of the sale of any portion of the property not specifically valued in the proposed Lease, the rent payable under the Lease shall be reduced and said reduction shall be based on the appraised value determined by the Board of Appraisers appointed at the time of the sale to ascertain the value of said property, multiplied by the rental per cent ratio recommended by said Board of Appraisers.

"12. Lessor shall, at its own cost and expense, carry such insurance as it shall deem desirable on each and every structure owned by the Lessor, and the Lessee shall not be liable for any loss or damage by fire, earthquake, flood, act of God, or public calamity; provided, however, that the Lessee shall carry and pay for such fire insurance as it shall deem desirable on the contents owned by said Lessee of each and every one of said structures during the term of this Lease, and shall carry and pay for such insurance as it shall deem best upon such structures and the contents thereof as it may erect on said premises during the term of this Lease.

"13. Upon the expiration of the term hereby proposed, or upon the sooner termination of said proposed Lease, the Lessee shall then and there immediately, peaceably, and quietly surrender and yield up to the Lessor possession of said premises unless said premises or portion thereof are purchased by the Lessee; and when surrendered, the Lessee shall leave the premises in as good order and condition as said premises were at the beginning of the term of the proposed Lease, ordinary wear and tear thereof and damage by the elements, fire, earthquake, flood, act of God, or public calamity excepted.

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this Board appoint, and it does hereby appoint Robert E. Burgan, Assistant Land Agent, and J. E. Byers, Chief Structural Engineer, as two members of a Board of Appraisers, the third member of which shall be selected by the County Superintendent of Schools, which Board of Appraisers shall make a report in duplicate to this Board and the County Superintendent of Schools of its findings and determination of the annual rental value of the above-described property including all improvements located thereon which are owned by Los Angeles City School District; and that said proposed Lease shall be made upon the condition that the annual rental determined upon shall be prorated for any portion of a year, said rental payable at the end of each school year during the term of said Lease; and "That a public meeting of the Board of Education be held at its usual place of meeting in Central Administration Building, 451 North Hill Street, in said City of Los Angeles, on Thursday, August 29, 1946, at 5:00 o'clock p.m., at which time and place said Board of Education shall consider the report of the Board of Appraisers and the rental of the above-refered-to property to Los Angeles City High School District of Los Angeles County by Los Angeles City School District of Los Angeles County."

two unused rooms in the basement of the parish house.

They were dirty rooms, and empty except for the red-topped table and a few discarded church benches. Before the place had been fixed up properly, it was filled with people seeking treatment.

"Never mind the cleaning," said Dr. Wertham, "let's go to work."

No sooner had the clinic hit its stride than trouble developed. The New York State Welfare Department refused to grant a license. "They told me that our staff is fully qualified," said Dr. Wertham, "but that they were not satisfied with our financial backing. I told them that we were balancing our books — the nickels and dimes were going for carfare, postage, and medicines. They won't give us a license, but they send us patients to treat."

New York officials aren't the only ones who are impressed by Dr. Wertham's project. In one day's mail, a message from California said: "You are putting the rest of us to shame by showing how simple it is to make psychiatry the property of the common man . . . Here is a cheque for $10. I'm a young doctor just out of the service."

A scented letter, neatly written, was postmarked Atlanta, Ga. "New York friends have written me about you . . . What you are doing is right, is just, is necessary."

There were two parcels. One contained a gift of books, donated by a publisher to amuse the children who attended the clinic, the other was a 30-pound package of vitamins from a manufacturer.

Many observers see Dr. Wertham's clinic as the forerunner of numerous psychiatric stations throughout the country, manned by qualified personnel, dedicated to helping people before they get into serious trouble.

"This is not philanthropy, not charity, not missionary work," was the way Dr. Wertham explained the Clinic to me. "It is merely the extension of psychiatry to give help to everyone, without discrimination. We have done much without money. Who can tell how much more could be achieved with proper funds?"

Looking down from the wall as we talked was a framed portrait of Dr. Paul Lafargue, after whom the Clinic is named. This half-Negro physician, who died in France only 35 years ago, spent his entire life opposing bigotry and fighting fo rthe right of the underdog to enjoy the benefits of science.

In the little basement Clinic, in the heart of New York's black ghetto, Lafargue must, sometimes, feel very much alive.

Beavers Among Leaders Picked For U. Workshop

George A. Beavers Jr., chairman of the board of Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company, is among the group of selected civic leaders from Los Angeles in attendance at the second workshop on community problems at Stanford university August 8 to 17.

Purpose of the workshop is to exchange ideas, plan together for local community improvement, and to provide training opportunities for lay leaders, professional workers, and community officials in phases of civic work. Problems ranging from community health to employment and economics will be studied by the conferees from all parts of the state.

Because of his continuous work in interracial and intercultural matters, Beavers is regarded as an authority in community improvement. For many years he was a principal and board member of the Family Welfare Association of Los Angeles. At present he is a member of the board of the Metropolitan Welfare Council, and is active in Urban League, YMCA and Community Chest affairs.

Prices Rise Over 5% During Thirty Days

WASHINGTON—Retail prices of items essential to the cost of living for moderate income families increased about 5½ percent between June 15 and July 15, the bureau of labor statistic reported yesterday.

Prices of food advanced about 15 percent; living essentials other than food increased less than one percent. The survey shows the increase in the consumers price at Los Angeles to be 4.3 percent.

NEW YORK—Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. this week took cognizance of resumption of price controls and notified customers it has cancelled the price increase of 22 cents a thousand on its cigarettes, retroactive to July 31, when the new price was to have gone into effect.

On The Sidewalk

By C. A. B.

THESE are bold facts that stare us in the face daily. We cannot let them go by unchallenged. They threaten our safety as human beings, and they threaten our security as American citizens, and as citizens of the world—But most of all they threaten the democratic foundation of our nation.

We live in the shadow of Ku Klux Klan terror. This institution of hellish torture hatched from a brew of racial hate, religious bigotry, and rope and faggot justice by the slave oligarchy after the Civil War now casts its menacing shadow over the progressive forces of the entire nation.

THE KKK cannot be ignored. It is not a Dixie phenomenon. Its fiendish trade mark has been stamped upon the doors of a Jewish fraternal house on the campus of a Southern California university, it has been stamped upon the body of a trade union organizer in Florida, its fiery cross of blood and murder has been burned in a secton of New York City and in that city's suburbs. After the murderous attacks upon Negroes in Columbia, Tennessee, this brand of Cain used by the Klan was found stamped upon a coffin in a Negro undertaker's shop, a Roman holiday of blood lust was recently held by these hooded gangsters at Stone Mountain, Georgia. The police of Denver, of Newport, New York, of a hundred cities and towns in the country, have sworn allegiance to this monstrous white sheeted gang of terrorists. Terror in our country is being given a new content. It is becoming institutionalized and blessed by the powers that be. This is fascism!

Terror in the United States is taking on the monopoly form of all Big Business. The reactionaries of the trusts, plantations, city, state and federal government no longer depend upon the spontaneous organization by vigilantes of hoodlums to terrorize progressives here or there where these American citizens are becoming full voiced in their demands for the expansion of democracy. The Klan is everywhere taking over the responsibilities of flogging, murder, burning at the stake and other forms of lynching. Terror is being stabilized and centrally directed.

TERROR is being organized in the USA as the storm troopers were organized in Nazi Germany. Branches of the government are giving it protection. Attorney General Tom Clark formerly of Texas, a stronghold of the Klan has the names of six of the Klansmen who led the murderers in Monroe, Georgia. The Department of Justice has not acted. J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI, the secret police of American Big Business, knows the Georgia landlord hoodlums. Hoover has not moved to make an arrest.

In Detroit and a dozen other industrial cities the Klan organizes openly. The trade union organizations of Southern industry are openly menaced by the Klan and the New York Wall Street Journal speaks in praise of the preparation of terror to destroy the rights of labor to establish the open shop.

The Klan moves in on all fronts against progressives, white as well as black. Against it there is only the organized might of the people. Here is an example of government support of terror:

GOVERNOR DEWEY of New York called a special commission to look into the Freeport, New York, shooting of Negro vets. The evidence of police murder is clear. The result is a whitewash. The arm of terror is thereby officially strengthened. Dewey's link with the guilty is also clear.

Eugene Talmadge, Democratic nominee for governor of Georgia visited one of the landlord families implicated in the Georgia lynching just before the murder took place. Think of that! For arrogant disregard of public opinion, the act has few equals. Talmadge gives the "line" to the klan in Georgia. Dewey gives the line in New York.

LOOK around you. There looms the shadow of the klan. Who stands behind organized terror in your city and state? Carry the fight against the klan to the city council, to the state legislature, to the White House. Terror against the people must end.

The klan must go. Stamp it out now before it attains the proportions of the Nazi storm troopers. Break the officials who do business with the klan. Expose its contacts with the monopoly interests. The klan can be destroyed despite the strength of its hidden sponsors. Let workers penetrate its ranks and expose its program. Seriously prepare the battle. The struggle against the klan is a major fight against American fascism.

We must not overlook the fact that the pre-klan war that set off the Freeport Long Island shooting of the two Negro war vets, the Monroe Georgia lynchings, the

15,000 in Solemn March in Capital Demand Punishment of Ga. Lynchers

The crowd overflowed to the Reflection Pool in the background and remained until long after dark to cheer speaker after speaker who denounced "mob rule" in the South.

Several speakers demanded that President Truman call a special session of congress to enact anti-lynching legislation. Senator Theodore G. Bilbo, of Mississippi, and Gene Talmadge, gubernatorial nominee in Georgia, who won their nominations on campaigns of race hate, were indicted as the inciters of the lynchings.

A funeral procession preceded the memorial services for the lynching victims. The procession, led by three Negro amputee

'Angels' Praise Father, View Bride at Banquet

TARRYTOWN, N. Y.—Father Divine was host last Sunday at his heavenly mansion here to more than 1000 followers who viewed his Canadian bride and partook of a 74-course banquet.

The appearance of the couple here was the third in a tour of Father Divine's kingdoms.

PEACE, IT'S WONDERFUL—Father Divine with his 21-year-old Canadian bride, whom he describes as "a reincarnation" of the late Mother Divine. Bearing the kingdom name of "Sweet Angel," the new Mrs. Divine was the former Edna Rose Ritchings of Vancouver, British Columbia. The union is "a marriage in name only" and has the approval of Mother Divine, Father Divine tells his faithful followers. The wedding was reported exclusively in last week's EAGLE.

Bilbo's Klan Admission Brings Demand for His Removal From Senate

WASHINGTON—Senator Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi bluntly admitted in a radio interview over the Mutual Radio system that he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan and that a Mississippi klan unit is named after him.

While Bilbo spoke, several hundred pickets organized by the National Negro Congress marched before the Mutual stations in New York and Washington protesting his appearance on the network. Flanked by three personal bodyguards, Bilbo had dodged the picket line in front of the WOL building here by using back entrance to the studio.

The hate peddlar was interviewed by four newspaper correspondents on Mutual's "Meet the Press" program.

Asked how he could take an oath to uphold the constitution and still be a member of the Klan, Bilbo replied, "I am not informed that the Ku Klux Klan, as I know it, is seeking to undermine the government. It is only the Communist party of the U. S. that is seeking to do that by force." He said the 14th and 15th amendments were adopted "through fraud."

When asked about statements

Powell To Seek Federal Civil Rights Law

NEW YORK—(NNPA)—A federal civil rights law to guarantee protection of the civil rights of colored people and other racial minorities in every state of the union is the chief objective of Representative Adam Clayton Powell Jr., Democrat, he declared in an interview last Tuesday at the Hotel Plaza.

He opened his campaign here last Thursday night for re-election in Harlem's 22nd congressional district.

Powell, who faces Democratic and Republican primary contests this month but is unopposed as the American Labor party designee, said introduction of a national civil right bill in congress would be his first act if reelected.

He charged that the attorney general's office in Washington "is not doing its duty with respect to more than 1000 cases of violence against Negro citizens reported to it in recent months."

Powell said Joe Louis, champion heavyweight boxer, would again support his political campaign this year, as he did two years ago.

Wife Fatally Shoots Mate During Quarrel

A coroner's jury late Tuesday decided that beautiful Mrs. Frankie Bohannon, 19, killed her husband to save her own life in a shooting at her home at 1564 East 22nd st.

Her husband, Richard Bohannon, was found dying with a bullet in his abdomen late last week. Mrs. Bohannon, nearly hysterical, wept out a story of an argument that started when her husband came home from work drunk.

She said that he refused to

Foster to Talk On Lynchings, Prices Tonight

A militant call for struggle against the violence loosed on the Negro people in the south and elsewhere in the country will be brought to Los Angeles this week by William Z. Foster, national chairman of the Communist party.

Foster will deliver his all important message at a joint rally sponsored by the Los Angeles Communist party at the Shrine auditorium tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m.

Foster's address will also contain his party's program against high prices, for electing progressive congressmen in the forthcoming elections and for the best methods of securing a durable peace.

The rally will feature a dramatic presentation, music and additional speakers. Admission is $1.20, .90, and .60.

Hundreds Here Join NNC at Big Rally Called to Press Fight on Lynching, Jimcrow

Los Angeles voted an emphatic yes on the question of organizing a branch of the National Negro Congress in this city when last Sunday afternoon a capacity crowd poured into the large auditorium of the Zion Hill Baptist church, 51st st. and McKinley ave. for the first mass meeting here under NNC auspices.

Local approval of the NNC and its fighting program was further emphasized when several hundred persons stood in line to sign up for membership in the organization.

Called to mobilize the Negro people and their allies for a smashing offensive against the current wave of lynchings, the meeting was addressed by Lena Horne, famous star of screen and stage; Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor of the California EAGLE; Averill Berman, noted radio commentator; Assemblyman Gus Hawkins, and Joseph O'Connor, CIO leader. Rev. Grant Harris, pastor of the church, delivered the invocation. Mrs. Gertrude Gibson acted as chairman.

Lena Horne called for an all-out fight against lynching and jimcrow oppression, paid a warm tribute to her white fellow artists who, she said, are more and more coming to realize that our problems are their problems. In this connection she especially stressed the fine work being done by the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions.

We have many allies in the fight against fascism. Miss

Rich White Bay City Man 'Explains' Why He Married Sweetheart of Thirty Years

SAN FRANCISCO—Anglo-Saxon racial ethics this week made it necessary for Gustav Woernew, wealthy white 78-year-old San Francisco business executive, to explain why he had climazed a 30-year romance with a Negro woman by marrying the woman.

Woerner, vice president and treasurer of the Schlage Lock Co. and a stockholder in the Western Cooperage Co., said he married Juanita Simth, 49, in order to obtain a birth certificate for their 15 year old daughter. The marriage wes performed in a simple ceremony at Albuquerque, N. M.

"It is true," Woerner said defensively when asked by reporters to confirm the reported marriage. "In order to get a birth certificate for the child, I married this woman. It was the only thing I could do. It was the honorable thing to do."

The new Mrs. Woerner returned to her former home with her daughter after the ceremony.

Civic Unity Committee Formed in Van Nuys to Aid Defiant Home Owner

A courageous San Fernando Valley resident, defying KKK threats, has thrown a challenge at restrictive racial covenant supporters by refusing to sign their petitions and is being backed by an enraged neighborhood.

The woman is Mrs. Rose Herberg of 5047 Varna St., Van Nuys. Late last week Mrs. Herberg's house was painted with a two foot high "KKK" insignia. This followed closely on the heels of her refusal to sign an anti-Negro petition which is frantically being circulated by real estate interests as the restrictive covenants in the district are elapsing.

Mrs. Herzberg, who is Jewish, recently moved into the tract, and is on the most friendly terms with her neighbors, as are several other Jewish residents. She told police there are no juveniles living near her, sealing off the usual police department whitewash of "juvenile pranksters."

Within the past two weeks a man had come to her door demanding she sign the petition, she told police. Later, after her indignant refusal, a strange man called on her several times for no apparent reason, and a mysterious phone call was received.

To protect democratic rights in the district, a branch of the valley Civic Unity Committee has been formed by Mrs. Iris Noble of 15041 Delgado drive, and has pledged full support to Mrs. Herzberg and her family.

"We are going to get to the bottom of these outrages," Mrs. Noble promises. "A community meeting planned, which we hope is an idea that will spread to other neighborhoods where such un-American activities occur. We are going to show that there is a tie-in between these KKK signs and the actions of the suporters of supporters of racial restrictions."

OPA Appoints Negro Assistant General Counsel

Charles Quick, division counsel of the sugar rationing division of the Office of Price Administration, has been named an assistant general counsel of the agency, OPA announced this week.

This is the first time a Negro has been named to such a position by any government agency. The general counsel is the top legal officer of the agency.

Quick came to OPA in December 1942, from the law school faculty of North Carolina State college for Negroes in Durham, North Carolina. He is a graduate of Talledega college and Harvard Law school.

While assistant general counsel of OPA, he will continue his duties as division chief of the sugar rationing division of the agency, OPA said.

Quick is married and has two children.

Other Negro attorneys holding responsible positions in OPA include former Howard Law school professors Bernard Jefferson and W. Robert Ming. Jefferson is associate division counsel of the food branch of the Price Legal Division and chief counsel of the Meat section.

Late News FLASHES

WASHINGTON — Sen. Pepper (D., Fla.) told a news conference yesterday he would rather see Henry Wallace carry the Democratic banner in 1948, but believed President Truman's chances of renomination are "overwhelming." At the same time he gave notice that the liberal wing of his party would press for progressive policies.

WASHINGTON—President Truman this week signed legislation carrying money to pay some 15,000,000 former and present enlisted men for terminal leave they did not get.

Bares Biased Practices by AFL Painters

How officials of the AFL Painters' District Local, Council No. 36, 1748 Santee st., signed up Negro painters on a job with the promise of equal treatment then proceeded shamelessly to discriminate against them was disclosed this week by Clarence Murray, a Negro member of the union.

The pledge that the local did not practice Jim Crowism was made by union organizer Joe Puhes, to Negro painters employed at the time by the Cal-Rey Industrial Paint Company which conducted an open shop.

Upon the advice of their employer, who was willing to sign a union contract, the men made the first payment on their initia-

Seamen Hold Up Sailing Over Firing of Negro

NEW YORK—(CNS)—The SS Marine Flasher was scheduled to leave August 7 for Italy with 900 passengers. But it did not sail. Its crew held it up because a Negro third mate had been fired.

"I've been fired at least 15 times for various reasons," explained Collin Clarke, the third mate; "but this is the first time I've received support from the crew. My own union has done nothing to help me."

But, if the Marine Cooks and Stewards Association of the Pacific have anything to say about it, the SS Marine Flasher will continue to be held up until the union gets a satisfactory reason for the firing of Clarke.

Clarke says that so far the reason for his firing after two days work has been "lack of sufficient experience." He was asked to check a hatch, then ordered to check another and then finally ordered below deck where the chief mate asked him why he wasn't at the first hatch he was assigned to. He was fired for "lack of experience."

Clarke's experience consists of four ocean crossings in the capacity of licensed mate, and membership in the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union. Officers aboard the SS Marine Flasher felt Collin's dismissal to be definitely a case of discrimination. The 154 members of the MCS are refusing to sign ship's articles until Clarke is reinstated or at least his incompetency proved to their satisfaction.

Reports Record Jump in Prices

WASHINGTON — Minority group members denied employment in many industries had something to ponder on this week as the government reported that retail food prices shot up a record-breaking 13.8 percent between June 15 and July 15, and intimated that the end of the upward spiral is not yet in sight.

The bureau of labor statistics, which measures prices, said the rise was the greatest one-month jump in U. S. history. Its survey was made while price controls were suspended. The OPA, hamstrung by congress, has not been able to roll back prices. In many cases it has had to increase prices under the provisions of the so-called price control bill passed by congress.

Minorities Not Exerting Full Power, Rep. Douglas Tells AKA Public Meet

The only two sessions open to the public during the historic Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority boule held here this week drew hundreds of persons from all walks of life.

An interesting panel, "New Techniques for Building Better Human Relations," was held Saturday afternoon at Channing Hall, Unitarian Center.

G. Raymond Booth, executive secretary of the Council for Civic Unity, spoke on religion and the church; Stanley Bergeman, co-chairman of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, discussed education and how it affects minority groups; Reginald Jones spoke on employment opportunities and organized labor.

Highlight of the afternoon was an address by Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas, who flew here from Washington in order to address the boule.

Taking her observations from the topic, "Politics and Citizenship Rights," Mrs. Douglas stressed that minority groups use only a small proportion of their actual strength in fighting for a better life.

"When minorities use the power that is theirs, the entire power, then you can look for a change overnight," she said. "I disagree with those who say this business of racial adjustment must take a long time to work itself out. It may, but it doesn't have to."

Others who participated on the panel were: Loren Miller, who spoke on restrictive covenants and housing; Miss Ataloa, American Indian lecturer, who spoke on "Relation of Minority Groups to Each Other"; Father George H. Dunne, of Loyola University; Mrs. L. Himerchandler, who read a special paper prepared by Dr. Ruth Benedict, anthropologist, who was unable to be present.

Father Dunne acted as master of ceremonies. The program was sponsored by the AKA National Non-Partisan Council on Public Affairs, Miss Norma Boyd, of Washington, D. C., director.

Sunday's program was a cultural affair staged at Royce Hall on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles.

Highlight was an address by Mrs. Beulah T. Whitby, of Detroit, national basileus, who spoke on the subject: "New Frontiers in Human Relations."

Well received were Caterina Jarboro, internationally famous operatic singer, who was forced to do two encore numbers, and Gladys Childress, concert pianist, whose handling of the difficult "Warsaw Concerto" brought forth waves of applause.

Atty. Martha Malone Williams, general boule chairman, introduced the mistress of ceremonies, Mrs. Anne B. Brown, of Berkeley, far western regional director.

Others who appeared were Miss Benzell Graham, who gave a whistling solo; Miss Lois Towles, concert pianist from Fisk U.; Gloria Roberts, Manila Smith Lee, and Louise McDonald, first anti-basileus.

Greetings were extended to the delegates from other Greek letter organizations of the city.

Propose Amendment To GI Bill to Ban Bias Against Vets

NEW YORK — Veterans and citizens attending the One Day Conference on Job Problems of Negro Veterans at the Madison avenue YWCA went on record for an amendment to the GI Bill of Rights that would require all training agencies desirous of receiving certification by the Veterans Administration to accept all qualified veterans without regard to race, creed, or color.

Other recommendations dealt with the need for emphasizing to the Veterans Administration, United States Employment Cervice, and other agencies dealing with veterans the importance of training and evaluating their interviewing staffs in terms of their ability to respect and protect the rights of all veterans regardless of racial origin and also that the conference communicate with the Federal Emergency Housing Committee emphasizing the importance of making adequate plans for meeting the housing needs of Negro veterans along with those of other returning servicemen and that such plans involve the opportunity to purchase new homes as well as used houses in the older part of the city.

The One-Day Conference represented the efforts of fifty civic, veteran and religious organizations which had joined forces to study these problems at the request of the Baltimore Urban League. Mrs. Viola C. Jackson, president, Cooperative Women's Civic League, was general chairman of the Sponsoring Committee.

STILL AT IT

Paul Panzer, that horrible villain who chased Pearl White to distraction in "The Perils of Pauline," years and years ago, has an important role in Warner Bros.' comedy, "Two Guys from Milwaukee."

MME. A. C. BILBREW

Vibrant, compelling leader of the famous Bilbrew Chorus leaves Philadelphia after four years, to carry on her program in other states. During this time, she has molded her chorus of non-professional voices into a group of nationally known artists.

Annual stars of National Freedom Day Services; representing Negroes of Pennsylvania in 30 minute tribute to the late President Roosevelt over Station WIP; musically dramatizing W. C. Handy's Book, "Unsung Americans Sung"; appearing before Negro Women's Council of which Mrs. Mary M. Belhume is head; producing "An Evening in Hollywood" which played to capacity crowds, the greatest show of its kind to be put on here; and singing on "I Am American" Program at Independence Hall, are just a few of the highlights in the career of Mme. Bilbrew and her Philadelphia Chorus.

Her trip will take her cross-country to return to her home in Los Angeles, California. Upon her return there, she will direct a radio chorus.

She is the daughter of the late Rev. S. L. Harris, founder of the First CME Church, Los Angeles. Philadelphians will always remember her as a constant source of inspiration for today's youth.

'Unsung Heroes' Seek GI Bill Vet Benefits

The "unsung heroes" of World War II, merchant marine veterans, this week acted to attain the same veteran privileges as the army, navy and marine corps now enjoy, namely, full veteran status, including unemployment insurance and medical care.

Calvert S. Wilson, president pro-tem of the newly incorporated Merchant Marine Veterans Association, said last that "although the American merchant marine suffered the highest per capita casualty rate of any branch of the service, our widows and orphans are left to shift for themselves."

"We hope the public won't forget the pre-Pearl Harbor attacks inflicted on merchant ships," said Daniel L. Iadd, secretary. "Merchant seamen have always been 'First in war, Last in peace.' We delivered the goods, don't let us stand holding the bag now."

Aiken Police Ban Welles Film; Burn Posters

AIKEN, S. C.—Because Orson Welles, famous actor, producer and radio commentator, has denounced the blinding of Isaac Woodard, Negro war veteran, by South Carolina police, Aiken police yesterday burned all movie posters advertising a movie in which Welles played a minor part and banned showing of the picture in an Aiken theatre.

ORSON WELLES

The action, police frankly admitted, was in retaliation for the caustic comments made by Welles in his radio broadcasts on the outrageous police treatment of the war veteran.

SAN FRANCISCO — Dr. Simon Alexandrov, Russian observer at the Bikini atomic tests, yesterday predicted that the Soviet Union soon will have its own A-bomb tests.

Proposition 3 to Hike Teachers' Pay Endorsed by Major Parties

State leaders of the Democratic and Republican parties joined this week in approval of Proposition 3, the November ballot proposal which would set a $2400 minimum annual salary for California school teachers.

Colonel James Roosevelt, chairman of the Democratic party in California, and Edward S. Shattuck, vice-chairman of the Republican party in the state, endorsed the measure in statements made public by the California Teachers Association. Said Roosevelt:

"Teachers are alarmingly scarce and disgracefully underpaid. California revenues cannot be extended for any purpose as important as that which provides for adequate schooling of all our children.

"I earnestly recommend approval of this important measure by the people. Proposition 3 is an educational Bill of Rights for the coming generation."

Shattuck declared:

"Forty thousand new teachers must be found to meet mounting enrollments, which in the elementary schools alone are expected to double in the next eight years. Young people, however, are not training for teaching careers, for the practical reason that rewards are far higher in fields requiring far less training, education and experience.

"Proposition 3 was designed to meet this crisis. It will safeguard the future of California's children by assuring sufficient, high caliber teaching personnel, and by enabling local school districts to meet the cost of providing needed classrooms and other facilities."

The Teachers Association said that one of the campaign slogans for the November balloting will be "Both Parties Agree It's YES on 3." Republican and Democratic state committees unanimously gave Proposition 3 their offlical endorsements at conventions in Sacramento in July.

Asks Court to Stop Beatings By Ex-Lover

Asserting that since she terminated their "common-law marriage relationship" a year ago, Tulsa Harper has threatened to keep her "in a state of constant terror," telling her there is nothing she can do about it, Mollie Clay this week petitioned superior court for an injunction restraining Harper from "hounding, chasing, and hunting her down."

The petition, filed by Atty. Curtis C. Taylor, relates two former unsuccessful efforts made by Miss Clay to obtain legal protection against the alleged abuse of her former lover.

Harper, described in the petition as a "married man," has obtained a key to Miss Clay's apartment. There he assertedly often "lies in wait" and beats her up when she returns from her place of employment, the Owl Drug store at Fifth and Main sts.

Miss Clay says her appeal to the city police department for protection was turned down on the grounds that she had "once lived with Harper."

A deputy city attorney is quoted as saying his office was powerless to arrest Harper and suggested Miss Clay make what is known as "a citizen's arrest."

She cannot make a personal arrest, Miss Clay informed the court, because she does not have a revolver or any other weapon and Harper is a "strong, powerfully-built man."

Therefore, the court is asked to place restraining orders forbidding Harper to go near his former sweetheart or molest her in any way.

Likens Showing of A-Bomb Test Film To Hitler's Policy

BELGRADE—An article in Politika, a leading Belgrades newspaper, compares the invitation by an American film company to delegates of the Paris peace conference to a showing of a film of the Bikini atom bomb test with Hitler's showing films of the luftwaffe's power to impress his satellite nations and his prospective victims.

Burns Car of Woman Who Stole Boy Friend

Mrs. Sylvia Moore, who allegedly admitted to police she was so ired over her rival's ability to take away her boy friend that she burned up the successful woman's car, was held to answer on an arson charge in municipal court Friday.

The defendant, 40-year-old, lives at 1048 East 41st st. According to testimony at the hearing ten days ago she set fire to and damaged the automobile of Mrs. Louise Howell, of 913 East 27th st.

The boy friend, named only as John Porter, was not in court.

Scores Beaten by Mob In Athens Riot Started By Two White Drunks

(By Southern Press Ass'n)

ATHENS, Alabama—The 1500 Negro residents of this agricultural center of some 5000 population were the latest victims of the fascist lynch terror currently sweeping the South.

The latest orgy of race hate and violence started when two drunken white veterans without the slightest provocation knocked down a Negro youth last Saturday. The latter got up and engaged his assailants, punished them effectively, then fled. The two veterans were so outdone, according to a white bystander, that they angrily chased the fleeing youth.

Directed by another white man, the two vets entered the Ritz Theatre, attempted to search the jimcrow balcony for the youth. Robert Cannon, manager of the theatre, refused to let them enter the balcony, called Chief of Police J. B. Hargrove, who came to the scene and arrested the two vets, whom he described as being drunk at the time.

Reports of the arrests spread rapidly and a mob of 2000 gathered at the jail, shouted demands for their release, "Let them out and we'll see that the 'niggers' get justice." The mob broke into the jail and released the two vets, then got on trucks and cars, shouting "Let's get all the 'niggers'."

They then invaded local Negro communities, forced Negro businessmen to close their stores. Before the riot was brought under control, local racists reinforced by backward elements from the surrounding countryside, had ganged up on every Negro they found on the streets, injuring scores of persons.

Judge D. L. Rosenau, junior circuit court judge of Limestone, fixed the number of injured at between 50 and 100.

He reported seeing many aged and crippled Negroes ruthlessly knocked down and trampled by the mob.

After chasing several Negroes from adjoining counties out of the city, the mob called on various Negro ministers and ordered them to get out of town.

Ten white persons, nine of them boys in their teens, were arrested. Chief Van Buren Gilbert of the state patrol, described them as "ringleaders," said they will be charged with "inciting to riot."

Circuit Solicitor George C. Johnston yesterday said he would press for an immediate trial of any of the mobsters who might be indicted by the grand jury meeting in a special session next Monday.

A semblance of order was restored about nightfall Saturday, but isolated attacks continued throughout Sunday.

Rogers Sees Election Of Roosevelt as Big Factor in November

"I believe James Roosevelt's election as state chairman of the Democratic party in California will have electrifying results in the coming campaign," declared Will Rogers Jr. this week on his return to Los Angeles from Sacramento where he led the fight for Roosevelt's nomination as party chieftain for the coming year.

"During my quick swing around the state after the convention, I found Democrats everywhere not just favorably inclined toward Mr. Roosevelt, but dynamically enthusiastic about his election as state chairman," Rogers added.

Detectives Beat Up Doctor Who 'Looked Suspicious' in Riding Togs

Because he "looked like a suspicious character" and didn't move fast enough when he was ordered from his car, a World War II veteran, Dr. Joseph H. Hayes, well known young physician here, was subjected to a terrific beating at the hands of two white plainchothesmen early Saturday night at the corner of 101st and Main sts.

Dr. Hayes, who was a member of the army medical corps for three years, told reporters he was driving alone along South Main at the time and attired in riding clothes, when another car containing two men pulled up beside him and one of the men ordered him to the curb.

When he asked the trouble, one of the men, Joseph C. Tucker, allegedly became abusive, told him they were police officers and ordered him from his car. When he was slow in getting out of the machine, Dr. Hayes said Tucker, assisted by his companion, William T. Foreman, half dragged him out and began pummeling him with fists and the butts of their guns.

Howard Johansen, white, 422 E. 102nd st., who operates a garage nearby, ran to Dr. Hayes' assistance and, along with the physician, both were handcuffed and taken to 77th street police station.

When Dr. Hayes identified himself, he was released without being booked. Neither was Johansen booked.

The officers "explained" to Hayes that the reason for the unwerranted attack was because he "was dressed like a suspicious character" and that they "thought" the machine was stolen.

Dr. Hayes is married and lives at 230 W. 43rd place.

Court Acquits Two Alleged Suit Thieves

Arthur Matthews of 1216 East 16th street, was about to take a trip. He left a brand new $75 suit on the seat of his car while he made another trip to the house to get other clothing and luggage. When he returned to his car his suit was gone. Frantically he drove his car around the Eastside until he spied Jessie Thomas, 1369 Newton street, trying on the coat to the suit while an unidentified man looked on. Matthews and his son succeeded in recovering the suit, but the unknown man got away.

Jessie Thomas and one Roscoe Dandy were later charged with stealing the suit. In court, Attorney Charles H. Matthews, who is no relation to the victim, proved to the satisfaction of Municipal Judge Leo D. Freund that Dandy's car had been stolen by the same man who stole Matthews' suit; also, that the unknown thief was attempting to sell the suit to Jessie Thomas when Matthews appeared on the scene. Defense attorney further convinced the court that Thomas, in leaving the scene upon the appearance of the victim, had gone in pursuit of the unidentified thief.

Both Thomas and Dandy were acquitted. Newton detectives are still looking for the unknown thief.

Millions Die From Constipation

"Constipation is one of the greatest causes of disease, misery, inefficiency and premature senility, and should be most earnestly combated," says Dr. Kellogg of Battle Creek Sanitarium fame.

"Every case of constipation is curable, but not by means of any panacea. Each case must be studied and individual conditions must be dealt with in an intelligent and rational manner.

"A coated tongue, a sallow complexion, dark circles around the eyes, appearance of brown spots upon the hands or other parts (the so-called liver spots), offensive breath and perspiration, the discharge of foul-smelling gases from the bowels, putrid stools, a thin, inelastic, parchment-like skin, dullness of mind, mental irritability or depression without cause, cold hands and feet, chronic headache, arthritis, neuritis, rheumatism, asthma, pains around the heart—these and a score of other symptoms which might be mentioned are certain indications of chronic poisoning.

"A thorough cleansing of the colon, removing the cause, may prevent more serious conditions, such as hardening of the arteries, Bright's disease with albumen and casts in the urine or apoplexy with paralysis. Phenomenal results are obtained when the cause is removed."

Professor Arnold Ehret says, "Every disease, no matter what name it is known by medical science, is constipation—a clogging up of the entire pipe system of the human body. Any special symptom is therefore merely an extraordinary local constipation by more accumulated mucus at this particular place. Special accumulation points are the tongue, the stomach, and particularly the entire digestive tract. This last is the real and deeper cause of bowel constipation. The average person has as much as 10 pounds of uneliminated feces in the bowels, continually poisoning the blood stream and the entire system. Think of it!

"Every sick person has a more or less mucus-clogged system, such mucus being derived from undigested and uneliminated, unnatural food substances, accumulated from childhood on.

"Remember," says Ehret, "your constitutional encumbrances throughout the entire system are the source of every disease; the greatest, most harmful source of lowered vitality, imperfect health, lack of strength and endurance and any and all imperfect conditions. All have their source in the colon, never perfectly emptied since birth."

Daniel C. Munro, M. D., Medical Director of exclusive Lake Placid Club, says, "If I were to write the story of all the cases in which colonic irrigations seem to lift the [illegible] from the very jaws of death, it would fill volumes."

Columbia, Tennessee riot, and the latest Georgia mass murder of two men and their wives, is brewing in our own Los Angeles.

THE Pied Pipers of racial hatreds spread over Los Angeles under many and sundry captions, such as Forums, and even pulpits occupied by some of our popular preachers of the Gospel of the Master.

Among the outstanding clergymen of this city who is also outstanding in disguising religious teachings in sugar-coated language, so as to deceive the people, is Dr. James W. Fifield, Jr., pastor of the First Congregational Church. In one of his recent sermons, this good doctor of Divinity made, among other equally vicious misguiding statements—"I was a member of the Mayor's Committee on Home Front Unity from the time it was established until it died. During all that time, we never found a single valid complaint which came to the Mayor's Committee."

THE Ku Klux Klan burned crosses on a university "Frat" house, occupied by Jewish students—in front of the Y. W. C. A. in the Negro section—on the lawns of many Negro homes—ravaged and destroyed the sacred property in a Jewish Synagogue—burned a flaming cross in front of the home of a Chinese G. I. and used the telephone method in trying to frighten certain citizens, especially those speaking out against the atrocites of the Klan. All of these and more were reported to the Mayor and the police. But Dr. Fifield finds nothing valid in any of them.

"As an ultimate goal, I believe in equality of opportunity,—there is no other" is another of Dr. Fifield's statements in his sermon on race relations.

It seems to me that Dr. Fifield is using the same method of stirring up strife as one Rev. Perkins who holds forth weekly at the Embassy Auditorium. The difference however is that Dr. Fifield is learned and Perkins is a Gerald L. K. Smith disciple, bombastic, with plenty of noise but no logic—hence the former of the species is more dangerous.

The kind of fascism that finds expression in the lynch rule in Georgia; police brutality in New York; the burning of a Negro family at Fontana, California; has crossed over the Mason and Dixon line. It threatens the destruction of our nation. It builds a bridge to the divide and conquer way of life that led to the destruction of Germany. Not only must the persecuted cry in loud voices at mass gatherings and protest meetings against the rising tide of fascism in our land and country,—we must join together our white fists with our black fists, as we did on the production line to win the war, and administer a knock-out blow to fascism.

L. A. Negro Population Has Doubled Since 1940

The Negro population of Los Angeles has doubled since 1940, it has been revealed by the city council which has received an official breakdown of the recent census statistics. There are now 133,082 Negro residents here, compared with 63,774 six years ago.

The population as a whole has advanced to 1,805,687, a figure released several months ago. The Negro was the only minority "race" to show an increase, with the diminishment of the Japanese population at the time of the census probably resulting in that phenomenon.

The total of "other races" than white or Negro was from 34,073 to 17,739, but it is believed that the steady repatriation of Japanese Angelenos has more or less erased these figures since the census.

The city council has filed the statistics, but they are expected to be valuable data to progresive elements attempting to smash the Jim Crow ghetto conditions of the non-white population caused by restrictive racial covenants.

With the acute housing condition, the relative trends of population growth, pre-war housing factors and other elements, it is estimated that members of the Negro group are some 300 percent worse off than members of the white race in regard to housing. This is reflected in a growth of crime and illness figures in the crowded Negro districts which has caused a staggering financial loss to the entire community.

CRC Offers $1000 Reward for Lynchers

NEW YORK—The murder of four Negro men and women shot and killed by an un-masked mob near Monroe, Ga., is "one of the first manifestations of what the election of Gene Talmadge as governor means to Georgia and to the nation," the Civil Rights Congress charged today in offering a reward of $1000 for information leading to the punishment of the murderers.

"Talmadge has so encouraged the Klan that the mob even dispensed with Klan robes," CRC pointed out. "These murders are 'white supremacy' in action. What will happen if Talmadge goes through with the appointment of Klan officials to high public offices in the state?" public office in the state?"

Acquitted in Stabbing Case

LONG BEACH—Herman Jackson, ship yard worker of 123 N. San Pedro, was acquitted of a double charge of assault with a deadly weapon and intent to commit murder in Long Beach superior court by Judge Leslie Still, who tried the case without a jury.

Jackson, represented by Atty. Curtis C. Taylor, was in court as the result of a desperate encounter with Manuel Gonzales, a Mexican co-worker, in the darkened hold of a ship in San Pedro harbor last April, in which Gonzales received a stab wound near the heart.

The acquittal came after prosecution witnesses, under cross examination by Defense Attorney Taylor, made conflicting statements, contradicted previous testimony.

Negro Actor's Guild Seeks $10,000 For Welfare Work

NEW YORK—Billy Butler, affable and efficient director of publicity for the Negro Actor's Guild, is working overtime these days telling the world about the Guild's tenth anniversary, and its membership drive which is a feature of the occasion. The membership drive is geared to enroll enough members and contributions to put $10,000 in the treasury, a sum that will be needed to carry on the important welfare and benefit work of the organization.

The drive, which will extend through August is headed by Alberta Prime, international famous night club entertainer, and it netted 100 members during the first week.

Much of the support the Guild received comes from non-professional members who desire to see a strong performers organization and who are anxious to help with the Guild's extensive welfare activities. Contributions made to the Guild are tax-exempt, and can be as little as two dollars which is the price of an annual membership. Patron's memberships cost five dollars, with annual membership set at ten dollars, and a life membership at one hundred. Checks or money orders should be made payable to the Negro Actor's Guild of America, Inc. 1674 Broadway, New York City.

UAW Wins Fight To Reinstate Two Negroes

After a hearing and a conference conducted by Harry C. Malcom, commissioner of conciliation, who acted as umpire in a dispute between the L. A. Gas Appliance Co. and Local 811 UAW, CIO, recommendation was made that Eddie Height and Robert Dixon, Negro workers, be reinstated with pay for all time lost since July 15.

Jack Binder, Carl Sherrard and Joe Villa, representing the union charged the company with violation of Article IV of the contract (anti-discrimination), violation of Article XI (vacation) and the principle of the contract by conducting a secret vote among the employees to determine whether or not the two men who were discharged should be rehired.

Sherrard charged the company representative, D. F. Sisto, with influencing the vote by telling the employes that steel was hard to get and if the two Negroes came back the plant would close.

Binder also stated that Sisto had told him that no Negro was going to work for him.

Sisto denied both of these accusations.

Malcom, in his findings dismissed the union's charge of discrimination asserting it was not substantiated, but he said that the other charges were well founded and recommended that the two employes be reinstated.

Height and Dixon were discharged when they failed to report for work after the plant had closed for one week, giving all employes a vacation at the same time, although the union contract stipulated two weeks, one with pay.

Gordon Wins Acquittal Of Six Mexican Youths Accused by White Girl

Six young Mexican-Americans accused of kidnaping and criminally assaulting a 29-year-old white housewife were freed by Superior Judge Charles Fricke shortly after defense attorney Walter L. Gordon Jr. unexpectedly rested his case.

"There is ample evidence which has been submitted by the defense to create doubt as to the guilt of the defendants," Judge Fricke declared in puncturing a case which had all the earmarks of a second "Sleepy Lagoon" frame-up.

Gordon riddled the story of Mrs. Thelma V. Marvin, alleged victim, that the sextet had slugged her husband and a friend and dragged her into their car.

Three Texas Cops, Beat Rob Seaman

NEW YORK—John W. Terry, a member of the National Maritime Union, CIO, was brutally beaten by three Beaumont, Texas, police officers, jailed, fingerprinted and robbed of $75 of $350 taken from him at the jail, in an attack characterized by Ferdinand Smith, NMU national secretary, as "another incident which fits into the reactionary pattern the Ku Klux Klan and Negro-haters have set."

Terry traveled by bus from Galveston to Beaumont, Texas, with 14 other members of the crew of the S.S. Attleboro, white and Negro. He took a seat beside one of the white crew members, and was told by the driver to move. Recalling the U. S. supreme court decision banning jimcrowism in interstate travel, Terry asked if the bus was an interstate bus. Answered in the negative, he said he would stand up, as he did not wish to break any state law.

Arriving at Beaumont, he found a reception committee of three policemen awaiting him. After searching Terry and his companions, the officers told them they could go. As the others left the bus station, the officers pounced upon Terry, put him in a car and beat him. At the jail, he was again beaten.

Terry was held for two hours, fingerprinted and then released. When his money was returned to him, he found it short $75.

ROONEY SWAPS DADS

Mickey Rooney will get a change of fathers in his newest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "Summer Holiday." Andy Hardy of the films will forsake his "man to man" screen talks with Lewis Stone to appear as Walter Houston's son in the forth-coming Technicolor feature.

Masked Criminal Has City Cops Confused

Local police, who are searching for a "Negro" rapist who has terrorized a dozen petting parties, mostly in the Highland Park district, during the past six weeks, aren't sure he has a plastic nose, aren't sure they wounded him, and aren't sure he is a Negro.

The elusive attacker who operates by giving the boy friend the bum's rush and then forcing his attention on the young lady during amorous moments in the Ascot hills, escaped for the umteenth time early this week amid a hail of police bullets.

Det. Sgt. John Arnett, who is handling the case, said a toy gun believed to have been dropped by the man showed no fingerprints. He said newspaper reports that the alleged rapist was wounded "may be exaggerated."

Although most of the victims believed the man to be a Negro, because of his voice, Arnett declared, no one is sure, as he has always appeared masked.

N. J. Returns Vet to Georgia Chain Gang

TRENTON, N. J.—The New Jersey state supreme court this week ruled that Jay Gould Cotton, 20-year-old veteran, must return to a chain gang in Georgia.

The court's decision backed a lower court ruling in Atlantic City which refused in May to review the extradition proceedings. That court ruled that New Jersey had no right to rule on the legality of Cotton's trial in Georgia.

The state supreme court's decision said, in part: "It is clear that the asylum state of a person fleeing the state of his conviction for a crime has no right to consider the merits of his trial, but only the question as to the obligation of asylum state to surrender the person to the state from which he fled."

Defense counsel said his client was 14 years old when he was sentenced and should have been tried in a juvenile court rather than a criminal court.

The "draft Patterson" movement here received new impetus this week when Rep. Ellis E. Patterson made it known he would have no objections if citizens of the 16th congressional district conduct a write-in campaign for his re-election.

The federal trade commission was established by an act of congress in 1914.

Mystery Surrounds Shooting of Woman Husband Suspected

A Puente woman is in General hospital in a critical condition following a mysterious shooting, with sheriff's deputies probing a note which may prove the lie to an original "unloaded gun" accidental guns ot theory.

The victim is Mrs. Ida B. Clinkscale, 37, of 600 West Valley blvd. Wanted for questioning is her husband, Willie, 43.

Officers rushed to the home Sunday following the report of a single gunshot, and found Mrs. Clinkscale with a bullet in her abdomen, alone in the house. Investigation proved it to be a .22 calibre bullet, and her condition was announced at the hospital as critical.

Mrs. Clinkscale was conscious and said her wound was caused when her husband had been cleaning his gun and it had accidentally discharged. Deputies became suspicious when they found no trace of cleaning materials or instruments in the house, and began a search.

In the husband's closet they found a note inside of a shirt pocket which read:

"August 11. To Harrison Clinkscale. Please, if I should die all at once have my body examined for poison. It has been attempted. Willie Clinkscale."

Defeat of Slaughter Seen Enhancing FEPC Prosepcts In House

By LOUIS LAUTIER
(Released through The Atlanta Daily World for the NNPA)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Truman declined to comment at his press conference Friday on what effect he thought the defeat of Rep. Roger C. Slaughter by Enos A. Axtell in the Democratic primary in the fifth congressional district of Missouri would have on the passage of fair employment practice legislation in the next congress.

Truman had openly opposed the renomination of Slaughter because, as a member of the rules committee of the house, Slaughter had opposed Administration recommendations, but more especially because he hed blocked a special rule which would have brought the FEPC bill to the floor of the house for a vote.

Some political observers here were of the opinion that Truman's chances of getting important Administration measures before the house in the 80th congress, which convenes January 3 next, were considerably brightened by the defeat of Slaughter.

This forecast, of course, was based on the assumption that the Democrats will retain control of the House. Some political observers doubt that they will.

In the Missouri contest fair employment practice legislation was made a direct issue. Slaughter boasted that he was glad his vote bottled up the FEPC bill in the house rules committee. Axtell made it known that he favored such legislation.

The primary election returns in the fifth Missouri congressional district gave Axtell 20,389 votes; Slaughter, 17,606, and Walsh, 5523.

On the basis of these results it may be fairly assumed that a majority of the voters in that district approve of FEPC legislation inasmuch as Walsh is a liberal labor lawyer and also favored such legislation.

Comparative estimates indicated that about 4000 white Republicans voted for Slaughter. These Republican votes, however, were offset in large part by votes of Negro Republicans who were angered by Slaughter's opposition to the FEPC bill.

In two well-populated colored precincts, Slaughter did not receive a single ballot. In some other colored precincts, he received two, three and four votes.

The Negro vote in the fifth Missouri congressional district is concentrated in the second and fourth wards in Kansas City. Axtell carried the second ward by a plurality of 3044 and the second ward by a plurality of 1296. The fourth ward voted: Axtell, 1620; Walsh, 559; and Slaughter, 324.

If colored voters in the remainder of the fifth congressional district of Missouri turned in 1,392 votes for Axtell, they could claim credit for Slaughter's removal from congress.

Elderly Man Held On Girl's Charge

Ben Amos, 69, has been held in a municipal court preliminary hearing and charged with criminal assault on 16-year-old Freddie Jean Drayer, who claims she is pregnant as a result of Amos' act.

Judge Ida Mae Adams refused to allow defense attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr. to probe the girl's background, declaring it was immaterial at the statutory rape preliminary. Gordon had asked the girl whether or not it was true that she had a similar adventure with her stepfather in Texas.

Amos, who lives at 9538 Beach st., will be arraigned in superior court August 26 on the statutory rape count, which carries a possible 1-50 year prison sentence.

The young girl, who lives at 871 East 49th st., described Amos' alleged act of intercourse with her to a crowded courtroom. She said he got in bed with her while she was sleeping at his home, where she and her mother reside.

"I told him to quit, and he says, come on, it won't hurt," she declared. Miss Drayer is now being held in juvenile court. She admitted penning a note to Amos asking for money. Amos is free on $1500 bail.

Florida Constable Held in Death of Tortured Prisoner

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—(NNPA)—Swanee County Constable Tom A. Crews, of Branford, has been ordered by Federal Judge Louis W. Strum to stand trial here October 1 on a charge of violating the civil rights of a Negro prisoner who died while under arrest last September.

The trial date was fixed by the court after a defense motion to dismiss the information had been denied. Crews was directed to appear for arraignment on September 17.

The information filed in Federal District Court charges that Crews arrested Sam Askins McFadde on September 21, 1945, and subsequently took him to a point on the Swanee River, where the prisoner was beaten with a pistol and cow whip until he jumped into the river and was drowned.

Knight Endorses Pay Hike for Teachers

SAN FRANCISCO—Unqualified endorsement of Proposition 3 on the November ballot, providing a minimum salary of $2400 a year for California school teachers, was announced this week by Superior Judge Goodwin Knight, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor.

Knight made his announcement on departure from San Francisco for Los Angeles after addressing meetings at San Jose, Salinas, King City and Monterey.

"The best guarantee of the future of our children is to guarantee the men and women who teach them a decent standard of living. Proposition 3 is a most worthy measure and it has my complete support," Knight said.

Proposition 3 previously had been endorsed by the recent Democratic state convention.

'Freedom Bonds' Put on Sale to Aid FEPC Fight

"Invest in democracy—buy a Freedom Bond."

With this slogan volunteers throughout California today (Aug. 15) began selling "Freedom Bonds" to finance the campaign for passage of a State Fair Employment Practices act—Proposition No. 11 on the November 5 ballot.

Issued by the California Committee for Fair Employment Practices, the bonds, in denominations of $1 and up, certify that the buyer "has invested in his country—and its people of every race, religion and national origin—with the full realization that the Fair Employment Practices act will further the words of our founding fathers that 'all men are created equal.'"

The bond drive, part of a campaign to raise funds for enactment of the bill, is being conducted in Southern California from headquarters at 541 S. Spring st., Rm. 911, Los Angeles. Volunteers for the campaign were urged to apply in person, write, or telephone VA. 5029.

Passage of the act would guarantee the right to employment without discrimination because of race, religion, color, ancestry or national origin; and would create a permanent and independent state agency to enforce this right.

LATE NEWS

WASHINGTON—President Truman has signed the bill to authorize the coinage of 50-cent pieces to commemorate the life of Booker T. Washington. The signing of the bill was witnessed by Dr. Emmet J. Scott and Dr. S. J. Phillips, who were chiefly instrumental in getting congress to enact the measure.

BERLIN—The U. S. army reported yesterday that its agents had smashed a multi-million dollar global black market ring operated by a New York family with sons in Berlin, Paris, New York and Shanghai.

Council Set Up To Coordinate Fight To Wipe Out Covenants

An overall coordinating council to unite the fight against restrictive covenants was launched last week-end by representatives of more than nine community and civic organizations at a preliminary conference called by the Los Angeles Civil Rights Congress.

The new council will attempt to coordinate, on a city-wide bassis, a joint campaign agreed on by all organizations which participated, to bring before the public in all sections of the community the true issues involved in racial restrictive agreements.

Tentative plans put forward at the formation meeting included a petition campaign against restrictive covenants built around Brotherhood Week; picket lines; a pledge not to sign restrictive agreements for mass circulation.

A second meeting of the group expanded to include other committees and organizations in the field, will be held on August 22 at the People's Independent Church of Christ, 1025 East 18th street.

Anti-restrictive covenant committees, and individuals involved in cases, are invited to send delegates.

Among those represented at the initial meeting were the following groups: Home Owners Protective Association, West Hollywood Defense Council, Home Owner's Defense Council, San Fernando Valley Council on Race Relations, Committee for Unity, National Lawyer's Guild, American Veteran's Committee, Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee for Arts, Sciences, and Professions, and the Civil Rights Congress.

Teen-age Killer Sent To Women's Prison

Little Lee Morrow, found guilty of manslaughter in the "Frankie and Johnnie" killing of her lover, Eddie Herring, was taken from the county jail and escorted to Tehachapi state institution for women to serve from one to ten years for her crime.

Her attorney, Martha Malone Williams, appeared before Judge Edward R. Brand to hear that juvenile authorities had refused to handle the teen-aged girl, declaring her to be fit for adult authorities. Miss Morrow was found guilty by Judge Brand last month of killing Herring with an ice pick in a Watts bar last March, and handed down a manslaughter verdict after Mrs. Williams convinced him Herring had attacked the defendant, and she stabbed him in self defense.

USES Head Challenged to Debate Segregation Policy

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—Robert Goodwin, director of the United States Employment Service, has been challenged to publicly debate the USES segregation policy.

In a letter to Goodwin, Henry Beitscher, president of the Washington Industrial Union Council (CIO), labeled the USES chief's stand "indefensible" and called for open discussion of the question. Goodwin has been accused by the IUC of defending "segregation and discrimination."

"I invite you to publicly debate it with me at any time and place you may designate," Beitscher wrote. "Surely, what you have defended in the privacy of your office should be defended publicly in the best American tradition."

Goodwin said late yesterday he had not received Beitscher's letter and thus could not say whether he would be willing to accept the invitation to engage in a debate. He said he had not flatly refused to do away with segregation at the USES but had expressed a desire to "confer with interested community groups" before making a decision.

WASHINGTON—Negro women's organizations in Ohio lead in total assets, Phyllis Wheatley (working girls') homes, and community centers, according to a statistical report made at the convention of the National Association of Colored Women held here recently. The report shows that Ohio's women's clubs have assets totaling $1,045,000, including propertay valued at $1,000,000, five homes for girls, five Phyllis Wheatley homes, and 30 community centers.

Dunjee Speaks— The World Hears

This excerpt from an editorial published in last week's Black Dispatch tells, in plain language, what is happening in the South.

Roscoe Dunjee, editor of the Black Dispatch published in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, deserves high praise for this courage and ability.

Dunjee neither mouths his words nor talks out of both sides of his mouth at one and the same time. Evidently the Oklahoma Kluxers, after many attempts, found that the editor of the Black Dispatch did not "scare" easily.

Standing here on the brink of the Pacific, we look across the Rockies deep in the red hills of Oklahoma and salute you brother Dunjee—may you live long to serve, not only the people of Oklahoma, but all the freedom-loving peoples of the world.

THE EXCERPT

"When the King David hotel was bombed the British immediately launched a "house-to-house" search of Tel Aviv. At the present moment they have suspected terrorists under arrest, and the British are going behind the iron curtain of the Jews to find evidence of guilt.

"Not so down where civilization ends in Georgia. The FBI and the federal government have instituted a pink tea affair, where folk sit around and subdued voices talk about the breaking down of law and order. Apparently they are not aware that these mass murders are but a part of a general pattern of intimidation and horror with which invisible government seeks to throw panic and dread among Negro masses, just at the time organized labor enters the South and launches a campaign for higher wages.

"Stupidity would reign supreme in an atmosphere where no one can see relationship between the numerous murders of Negro people down South during the current year and the activation of a conspiracy controlled by hidden influences seeking to disrupt general trends of the populace.

"In January, four Negro veterans were killed in cold blood in Birmingham.

"Febraury 13, a return Negro veteran, Isaac Woodard, three hours after leaving an army separation center, had his eyes savagely gouged out by a white policeman.

"February 25, Columbia, Tennessee, whites invaded the Negro community and killed two Negros following an altercation between a white storekeeper and a Negro woman, at which time a Negro youth sought to protect his mother.

"July 17, in Taylor County, Georgia, Macio Snipes, Negro veteran, was dragged from his home and killed by four men. Snipes was the only Negro to vote in the county July 17.

"And now comes the mass murder of Negroes near Monroe, Georgia, July 25, three of whom were charged with no crime other than that they were black. In the face of such a record the FBI and other law enforcement agencies seem unwilling to search for a major motive. It sems to the Black Dispatch that just a little sprinkle of common sense would cause simple-minded folk to realize that the frightful murders are the effect of a cause. The innocent blacks who have bitten the dust in the past six months down in Georgia have been blotted out on the altar of "white supremacy." They are victims of wrath that says Negroes shall not vote and participate in decent wage scales.

"The law belatedly says Negroes may vote down in Dixie. There is only one way to prevent Negroes from casting legalized ballots, and that obvious method is through terrifying and spreading panic among the Negro population. This was the vicious technique of the reconstruction Ku Klux, and it is the only efefctive weapon of race prejudice now. The past week America observed the evil consequences of this horrifying practice when Tennessee sought to visit upon white people the same terrorism practiced upon the blacks.

"The white deputies had already shot a Negro, but trouble did not break out in Athens, Tennessee, until white folk decided to club white folk at the polls. That is when civil war commenced, resulting in the complete uprooting of existing county government. There are a lot of folk who perhaps have not accurately charted what happened at Athens, Tennessee. On that miserable, but significant day, the South weighed its archaic system of disfranchisement in the balances and found it wanting. Dixie sees the handwriting on the wall at Athens. It knows now that the half century attempt to deny ballot rights to the blacks has now widened to engulf the whites."

Unity for Peace Keynote Of Congress Rally

While addressing the National Negro Congress last Sunday afternoon at the Zion Hill Baptist Church, Arthur Morrison, of the Los Angeles C.I.O. Industrial Council, called the roll on Los Angeles leaders. "This is not the time or age," said Morrison, "to indulge in petty jealousies and selfish interests. We had a stake in the war, now we must win the peace."

Mr. Morrison's advice is timely for certainly with the ominous rumblings of another war before peace terms have been made, men of stamina and fortitude must come forward to guide the destiny of their particular people.

The Negro people who heeded the voice of their leaders and plighted their faith in Franklin D. Roosevelt, national head during the major part of World War II, expected a new deal at the end of the conflict. Unfortunately President Truman and his advisers have not adhered to the Roosevelt program.

One year after the war instead of enjoying the promised peace, they are still fighting—but not on a well organized battlefield; they are fighting the many-headed monster race prejudice on the political, economic and social fronts of these United States and many other lands. Out of the maze of disappointments that have come to him, the way of the Negro is charted by his hope for a new leadership; a leadership such as suggested by Mr. Morrison, free from petty jealousies. A leadership that will not deceive the people for its own selfish gains. His hope is for leaders who, themselves, will see clearly the role for Negroes in the coming years—which role is a strong tie with the organized labor movement. While the Ku Klux Klan, and other reactionary forces seek to enslave Negroes and all minorities, the C.I.O. has risked its life to go into the South to organize white and Negro workers. There are Negroes in the upper chamber of leadership who point the little people away from labor under all sorts of excuses. "The C. I. O.," they say, "is dominated by the reds or radicals." Some go so far as to advise that the Republican Party is the ship and all else the sea.

The type of leadership we don't need are those six gentlemen of color who went to Sacramento a few weeks past to sit in on a F. E. P. C. Committee but opened not their mouths in favor of the bill. They were members of the two major political parties and were, no doubt, afraid their bosses were in listening distance.

Those who would be free must first strike the blow. To the men and women who toil for their daily bread The California Eagle advises that you protect your labor and your freedom by joining the ranks of labor and help carry on the fight to defeat Hearst, Bilbo and the other political bosses who fatten your own boss leaders, thus keeping you poor and in the drudgery class while they wax fat by selling you to the highest bidder in either the Republican or Democratic party.

Our Peace Picture Is Blighted by War Clouds

Now as we look backward across the year, the peace we thought was won has vanished behind threatening war clouds.

Many years ago we fought a civil war in this country to eradicate the slave plague. Twenty years ago we whipped Germany to make the world safe for democracy. Five years ago we discovered that we had to again deal with Germany in terms of war, with Japan and Italy as added attractions.

A year ago, we celebrated "V" day, proclaiming that we had won the peace. But our noble ally, Great Britain, is subjecting the Jews to the same sort of brutality in Palestine, the ancient home of the Jews, as was used by the Germans. Under the protectorate of British and United States amrines, China is divided and civil war seems inevitable.

At the Paris Conference, Russia's minister, Molotov, accused the United States and Great Britain by implication of seeking a monopolistic position in Italy and the Mediterranean, generally.

From all indications, every effort to whip up a war with Russia is being made by Britain and the United States. The civil war in this country that is supposed to have ended in 1865 is being fought all over again.

Secretary Byrnes has called for a balancing of the budget in European affairs. Well, we suggest that "His Honor" Secretary Byrnes start the balancing in this country—Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

Is America Morally Ready to Lead the World?

From an Indian's Standpoint

By DALJIT SINGH SADHARIA

FRANCE AND THE WORLD

One of the most pressing problems that confronts peace-makers is undoubtedly the restoration of France as a great power in the politics and affairs of Europe and the world. From many points of view France is the most important country in Europe and great is the significance and influence which she has exercised in the development of European thought and civilization.

The great French statesman French nation in the history and politics of Europe. The entire world of scholarship and learning was deeply moved by the wealth of illustrations and literary skill which the foremost man of letters brought to bear upon his theme. His generalizations on history and politics are accepted by Frenchmen as the and historian, Guizot, looked upon his native land as the heart and center of Europe, and in his course of lectures on history demonstrated the role of the gospel of patriotism with all the fervor of religious devotees and looked upon as the last word upon the destiny and mission of France in Europe and the world.

It is this proud and lordly view of France and her glorious role in the affairs of mankind that impels Frenchmen in all their present efforts of national recuperation and rehabilitation. The entire body of the French people are exerting superhuman efforts to regenerate their country on a moral and ethical basis, so that she again regain her lost position in the mighty march of the human race.

The exclusion of France from any important conference or assembly on world settlement is deeply resented by all Frenchmen, and there is not a man in France who will tolerate the secondary role which the victorious allies may, in the flush of victory, throw upon her. France is physically beaten but not morally crippled, and her powers of recuperation are by no means exhausted. She may bring to bear upon her tremendous task of regeneration the powers which she displayed after her defeat in 1870. Her recovery after that disastrous defeat and humiliation at the hands of Germany amazed the foremost military strategists and Prince Bismarck.

It is in the interest of humanity and civilization that France should come into her own and take a lead in the settlement of the weighty questions that trouble Europe at the present time. Without her cooperation and leadership there will be no peace and harmony between various European nations and the boiling cauldron of Europe will continue to burn with the same intensity as it is burning now. England is a tiny island on the fringe of Europe and is entirely cut off from the affairs and complications of European countries. The holding of peace parleys at Paris is a step in the right direction, and there is no doubt that the Big Three recognize the right of France to play a central role in the settlement of European questions.

Filipino Peasants Demand Right to Their Land

Recognizing that this is the opportune moment to make their voice heard in their own land, Filipino peasants in Manila have scored a tremendous victory in round one of their struggle for democracy, and security, for President Roxas has been forced to meet with their leaders and agree to the retention of arms by peaceful peasants, to stop MP atrocities, and also to sign a new rice crop sharing agreement, as well as acknowledge the ultimate rights of the peasants to their own land.

Yes, the system of absentee landlordism which is at the root of much of the unrest in Manila, is being attacked vigorously at this time by the aroused peasant class, who recognize that the solution to their problems lies in the right of individual ownership to their land and the right to enjoy the profits from the same.

At last the peasant knows what he wants—he wants to own a piece of land he can call his own; he wants to be a man in his own right, and not a workman whose labors only benefits his already over-rich, luxury-loving landlord.

It seems that a stop may be put to the kind of thing that has been happening the past two months when MPs have been conducting raids in places where they considered the peasants weak, looting, torturing and murdering in an effort to terrify the people. Hundreds of these MPs have been killed in clashes with the peasants and the "mailed first" policy is becoming too costly for the government at the present time.

This is a healthy sign and again makes it clear to all humble, hard-working, peace-loving people, that the future of the masses everywhere is all bound up in one big problem—and that it will only take the united will and strength of the people to push the battle to the gate and usher in the dawn of a newer, better day.

Talmadge Rules the South

The theme of every mass gathering of Negroes and white liberals should be a challenge to the antiquated, unfair unit voting system by which Eugene Talmadge, red-galloused white supremacy apostle was elected governor of Georgia.

The constitutionality of the outmoded unit system used to elect Talmadge is being investigated in the Federal Court.

The suit, filed at Brunswick, Ga., charged that the unit system is in conflict with the 14th Amendment which stipulates that "no state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States."

It is not only the opinion of all fair-minded citizens but also has their staunch backing, that the matter of Talmadge's election should become the property of the United States Supreme Court.

We are waiting to see what happens on Thursday, August 16, when Talmadge appears before a three judge court at Atlanta, Ga. The judges presiding are Judge Frank M. Scarlett, Judge Samuel H. Sibley of New Orleans, and District Judge Louis W. Strum of Jacksonville, Fla.

Not only the Negro people, at whom Talmadge mainly hurls his prejudices, but all people all over the civilized world who believe in law and order, are watching this case of unfair election tactics.

If Talmadge is seated governor of Georgia, this will set the pace for other such elections in other States of the South. Then Washington must admit that "Talmadge rules the South."

The immediate objective of each and every person in the United States, who is interested in a long-range housing program, should be the passage of the Wagner-Ellender-Taft general housing bill.—Monsignor John O'Grady, vice president National Public Housing Conference.

Verily the course of reasoning of the British mind is devious! It wanders much in the process of dividing Gaul—or Palestine.

W. J. Wheaton Says

What a dainty dish is the present wave of lynchings to set before the Consort of Nations striving to formulate plans for the future Peace of the world. Can the spokesmen of a government whose shield is tarnished with intolerance and stained with the blood of murdered women and men influence the nations of the world with ideals they do not practice?

We have often wondered if some of the objections of other nations to American leadership are not due to the fact that they are cognizant of the atrocious murders which have disgraced this nation and cast a reflection on our concept of civilization. It might be that Mr. Molotov has a certain distrust of promises made by the chief of the U.S. delegation who himself represents a section of the nation that is not free from the guilt of mob violence.

Has the secretary of state made any protest against the rule of racial discriminations, mob violence, disfranchisement, racial murders? We have searched with diligence but to date have discovered none. It would be, not alone a great gesture, but it would erase some doubts of the rest of the world of our sincerity should the salesman of American democracy say to his followers in his own State, "Erase all your discriminatory laws, give to every citizen the equal right of franchise, the same chance to earn a livelihood, the right to an education, and equal justice before the law."

There are decent, patriotic citizens who are alarmed at the Termites boring at the foundation on which our structure of democratic government is erected. They are working with valor to strengtehn the foundation and preserve the structure which was saved from destruction through the shedding of blood and the sacrifice of lives. They are batling the evil forces of the demagogs of racial and religious bias. Theirs is a hard fight, a fight against an intrenched enemy of justice and of right. They are, not discouraged nor dismayed. They have the courage of the founders of this nation and the fortitude to carry on.

The minority groups, for whom they fight, must join their ranks, strengthen their wills and make a common assault on the fortress of ignorant intolerance.

Let's get to some matters in California. It is no longer news that our attorney general, Robert Kenney, is in the front ranks fighting for equal justice for all. It is no plea for political favors which impels him to fight for the right. It is his innate sense of justice and right, his belief that the Declaration of Independence means exactly what it says that "All men are created equal." Kenny is an exponent of American democracy as it was intended, and has never failed to declare his faith in that democracy and fight to bring the true meaning of democrasy to the people. He is an outstanding figure in the struggle for decency in our state and national affairs.

The California minority groups have an abiding faith in him and his followers are legion. Frank Havenner, our representative from the fourth congressional district is one other who believes in true democracy. He, too, believes in the rights of all citizens. His record in congress testifies to his integrity and honesty of purpose. On the whole, California has a representation that contains the element of justice, so dear to every citizen, whatever their racial origin, hue, or religious belief.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By Martinez Hewlett

When it comes to cutting one's own throat, certain AFL leaders here in Los Angeles really take the cake.

Camouflaged as an anti-Communist meeting as most things are these days) the AFL launched an attack on the CIO at the Wilmington Bowl last week, widening the breach in the ranks of Organized Labor and giving the antilabor forces a greater chance to use the old "Red scare" more effectively within the labor movement.

With the blessings of the Bosses, the meeting was held right smack in the middle of a work day, but not a peep was let out concerning the work stoppage.

AFL leaders sent letters to the employers asking them to aid in making the meeting a success. I wonder why they even took the trouble to write those :Dear Boss" letters when each employer would have been more than glad to order his employes to such a meeting.

And what a field day the anti-labor press of this city had. One paper estimated the crowd to be 30,000, while another giving the capacity of the bowl as 3500, explained that most of the people who attended were on the outside.

Another paper known to be quite liberal and quite pro-labor said "A crowd estimated at 10,000 drawn from 90 local AFL unions, heard their leaders denounce Communism and the CIO at yesterday's meeting".

I noted also in reading this article that a few major industries, including the shipyards, were virtually closed down for four hours. Can you imagine what would happen if the UAW or the maritime unions would call a work stoppage to hold a meeting. Oh, brother!!

The cover-up theme of this meeting as announced by Emcee O. T. Satre, president of the San Pedro Central Labor Council was: "Shall Communism Be Permitted to Take Over The Labor Movement In America?"

Daniel Flannigan, western director of the AFL asserted that Communists have worked themselves into high positions in the CIO. He then warned the assemblage that "some AFL groups have been too friendly with the CIO".

We can answer Flannigan with a question. Why hasn't the AFL been as democratic as the CIO? Is doing away with race predjudice, fostering the brotherhood of all men and building a real people's labor union in keeping with the democratic principles of our nation, communistic?

I'd rather go along with the people who say "Whenever you're called a communist, you're doing something worthwhile." Ergo, CIO.

Another speaker, Lundeberg, (ach!) referred to himself as the symbol of the AFL's fight against communism. He even accussed the communists of aiding Hitler in Germany.

Well, if he terms the wholesale Russian annihilation of Nazi armies as aid . . . mighty poor symbol, I'd say.

Then C. J. Haggerty took the stand (I mean the speaker's stand). He charged the CIO with so much, that you begin to wonder if the AFl is deaf, dumb, blind and lame in both legs. It was he, of course, who concluded the rally with the policy committees statement, pledging all AFL resources to a fight against Communism and the CIO.

What has happened? The entire labor movement is about to find itself just where the German labor movement found itself on the eve of Hitler's ascendency to power.

Adolph split the movement with red-baiting and petty differences. Then he had one faction aid him in destroying the other. This left a weakened trade union movement with little or no influence to stand against the fascist evil of Nazism after it was to late. Hitler quickly destroyed this last vestige of the Labor movement in Germany and launched his program unopposed.

This lesson cost the American people too much to learn. The AFL must not be allowed to play into the hands of domestic fascists who would gladly see the American labor movement suffer the same fate which befell the German labor movement. This course is utter folly and leads to quick and sure suicide. Minority groups, particularly, have the duty to see that this does not happen. Negroes in the AFL unions must work with the progressives to halt this dangerous, anti-labor trend.

Poor Leadership Cause of Collapse Of Nat. FEPC Group

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—The collapse of the National Council for a Permanent Fair Employment Practice Commission, which for more than two years has sought enactment of permanent FEPC legislation, was due to failure of leadership, according to reliable sources here.

Financial difficulties were the immediate cause of the resignation of Mrs. Anna Arnold Hedgeman as executive secretary. She had served in that capacity since February 15, 1944.

When the Council became unable to meet its payroll and other pressing obligations here, Mrs. Hedgeman informed A. Philip Randolph, its co-chairman, that there was nothing for her to do but resign and dismiss the staff.

An evasive statement, attributed to Randolph and Dr. Allan Knight Chambers, also co-chairman of the Council, was issued last Friday. It announced "plans for expanding and revitalizing the program" of the Council and incidentally mentioned the resignation of Mrs. Hedgeman, but gave no inkling that the Council has collapsed.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

It was a fairly delightful ride, after all, across the desert from Los Angeles to Phoenix, although that trip is usually dreaded by so many.

To begin with, a very friendly Sister of Mercy, Blessed Virgin of Mary, occupied the seat next to mine. (She said they often abbreviate that to B.V.M.). We shared a can of coffee-ets, and while we crunched the delicious coffee-flavored candy we chatted about various things. Wasn't it foolish for any railroad company to build a line across a desert, when there wasn't a home or a town to serve for miles and miles? The same about the telegraph and telephone lines, whose poles marched in stately procession by the side of the railroad tracks.

The beauty of the desert, of course. The cacti—clumps of greasewood and mesquite. And now and then the giant suahara, lonely and straight and tall, like solemn sentinels studing the landscape. The white clouds forming castles in the sky. The sand dunes, wave-rippled, in the distance, or nearer at hand like prehistoric monsters with wrinkled hides heaving up through the earth.

And then the Salton Sea. We wondered at first if that really was water, or if it might be a mirage. But it was water, stretching for miles and miles, with white caps dancing in the sun, and the sands of the desert reaching down to the very edge of the water. No grass, no trees anywhere.

That sea, we learned, was created in our time. Not millions of years ago—as all orthodox lakes and seas and rivers were. A canal with water supplied by the Colorado river, broke through its banks and before the drainage was repaired the water from the river filled this great depression. And we had an inland sea. It was named the Salton Sea because the water lying under the hot desert sun exaporated, and with no outlet rapidly became salt water.

Then venturing out into the realm of the fairly impossible, we wondered if that water couldn't be used somehow to irrigate the desert. Of course it is salt water, but there is a way of extracting the minerals from salt water and making it fresh.

Naturally that would be expensive, but then our government is spending and has spent billions of dollars devising new and more powerful weapons to kill people. Wouldn't it be possible, some day, when the people really want it badly enough to insist upon it, to irrigate this desert, if not with water from the Salton Sea, then with water brought in from some other source?

Thousands, even millions of acres of good earth gone to waste! and so many people going hungry! Some of this land has been irrigated, of course, and here the desert really blossoms like the rose. Won't it be wonderful, we enthused, when these other millions of acres can and will be brought under cultivation, too.

"Pensive Nun, devout and pure." You know those lines from Milton. Well, they didn't seem to fit this little Sister of Charity at all. She had a very wholesome grasp of life, and was a charming conversationalist. She told me quite readily some of the peculiarities of her order. The headdress or hood of her habit, square across the top and slightly flaring at the sides, was supposed, she said, to represent a coffin.

You'd think anyone boxed up in a thing like that would be exceedingly pensive and melancholy. But she wasn't. She laughed frequently and her eyes danced mischievously as she talked.

The Sister who founded that order, B.V.M. gave up her entire life for her Mission. And as a symbol of her consecration she thought of the coffin, in which her former self was to be buried. Members of this order are teachers.

Yes, we decided we can work wonders if we are willing to bury ourselves completely in our work. Like the mustard seed, willing to bury itself alive in a rock, to go down deeper and deeper, until at last the rock is split in two. This is the faith that removes mountains, can make our waste lands bear fruit and grain to feed hungry people everywhere. An important part if those two freedoms we fought for—freedom from want and freedom from fear—shall prevail.

Personal Responsibility

The current revelations of the Mead Committee investigating war contracts reminds us that public office is a public trust. Some supercilious people — who pride themselves on what they call their sophistication — may sneer at this old-fashioned standard. Nevertheless, true moral standards have a way of persisting and of bringing people who violate them into judgment—even of bringing a whole nation into judgment which permits them to be violated. And it can be said today, with as much forcefulness as it was once said in the early days of our country, that we must raise a staandard to which the honorable will repair. Congressmen, regardless of all other things, must be honorable men.

But good government does not end there. It does not even begin there. It begins with the people themselves whose responsibility to elect honorable men to the national legislature is as great as is the responsibility of the men elected to discharge their duties honorably.

We need in America—in congress and in the body politic—a reaffirmation of personal responsibility. Some people do not like to be told this. It is not a popular them on all hands today. It is easier to find excuses for our failure to take personal responsibility for what we do. Some people, who have undertaken to edueate the public, even encourage us to believe that we cannot be held responsible for anything that we do. They lay the blame on environment, or weakness under temptation, or on the state of our glands, or the influence of other people over us.

In the end, this kind of teaching cannot but result in a general breakdown of public morality. For the cornerstone of all morality is the recognition that our actions are not determined ahead of time by circumstances —but that as free people we can choose our course by taking personsal responsibility for what we do.

There is nothing virtuous in indifference to our country's welfare—to the corruption that marks so much of the political life of our nation—to the racial and religious hate which is fostered by people who cannot stomach the American principle of liberty and justice for all.

Every American has the personal responsibility to uproot these things. We shall fare better and go further toward perfecting our democracy when we embrace again and hold fast to high moral standards by insisting that personal responsibility is inseparable from the preservation of free American society.

Refutes Claim U. S. Treats Negro Fairly

CHICAGO — A. A. Liveright, executive director of the American Council on Race Relations, this week took sharp issue with a recent poll conducted by the National Opinion Research Center which reported that 66 percent of white Americans polled believed that 'most Negroes are being treated fairly."

Liveright pointed out that "the danger of publishing such figures, without due caution and interpretation, lies in the fact that many persons reading the results of the poll would mistake figures published for actual facts."

"Public opinion polls, although a valuable medium for determining the temper of public opinion, are frequently misleading unless carefully framed and reported," declared Liveright.

He categorically denied that Negroes are receiving fair treatment in the U. S., and presented facts and figures proving the contrary.

A LAYMAN'S VIEW

By Leon W. Steward

DO WE WANT RACIAL EQUALITY?

We recently attended a symposium on intercultural relationships sponsored by the National Non-Partisan Council on Public Affairs in connection with the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority boule, which is under way at this writing. We listened attentively to almost too many of the interesting speakers in the hope, among other things, of getting something to write about on this occasion. And lo, we fear that we were given enough material to discuss with you who read this column—for months to come. However, too much passes our view from day to day to render such a plan even possible. Nevertheless we must discuss with Father George Dunne, the chairman of the symposium, that intriguing question which he raised: "Do Negroes want social equality?"

Father Dunne related how some members of the race have insisted they did not want social equality but only desired adequate housing, the right to work at the job for which one is trained, adequate educational opportunity, etc. Well, Father Dunne, we have heard those statements and what is more, we have seen people who appeared educated, healthy and clean, act as though they feared social equality when meeting face to face with situations which gave them the right to be socially equal to those of your so-called race.

And sometimes we have begun to fear that colored Americans actually do not want social equality. We go further to admit that some of these people have been so subjected to Jim Crow practices that they have conformed to that pattern and to the idea of being inferior. Nevertheless we are under the impression that an overwhelming number of us, regardless of our origins, have weathered the damage of a demoralizing system to come out with a pretty good idea that we are human beings, and nobody can be more—in this life.

It would be too much to expect there would not be black people with a racial inferiority complex in a society where many of the dominant complexion have become victims of our economic and social ways. What state of mind produces our gangster fraternity? The millions who fear to drift from their menial work, their backward environments despite their so-called white skins? What of those who drape sheets over their heads to terrorize innocent people? Do they FEEL equal? How could they?

RESIDENTIAL SEGGREGATION

One great social curse to the American way of life is its residential restrictions. Of course, the primary motive of this practice is economic. As a real estate dealer in another city once said to us: "There is more profit on my dollar invested in that (ghetto) neighborhood than there is on the ones ihvested in Capitol Hill apartments." So think all those who insist on restrictive covenants. But the results are even worse than the motive. It makes the "colorless" child get a notion in his head that causes him to burn up every time he imagines a Negro's new car indicates that that "inferior" person is getting ahead of him.

Negroes accepted in neighborhoods without restrictions generally are last to lower the standards of those neighborhoods. Almost invariably they improve the general tone of the new community by the zeal with which they take care of their own homes. We have observed this in the Texas town where we were brought up and in every northern city in which we have lived or visited. Not only is this the case but we dare also to say that you have never heard of a race riot started in a neighborhood where the people mixed freely. No, these American disgraces usually occur where the racial deadline is marked by a certain railroad track or street. Thus it would appear that a city's Real Estate Board is usually its enemy on the social scene.

IN DENVER

Shortly before we left Denver, Colorado, downtown theatres and restaurants opened their doors to whomsoever would come in and treated everybody well. This was accomplished when a young white minister and a Negro dentist organized the Colorado Committee on Racial Equality, which was made up of some of the leading members of a so-called white church and a group of young Negro men and women who went to a lot of trouble and even to jail to break up the smugness of downtown shows and restaurants and did it with a bang.

Of course there were some older Negroes who did not approve this tampering with status quo. They had been in the Jim Crow mold too long, as had been the whites who yelled "Communist."

WHAT AILS US?

So, Father Dunne, when you add to residential restrictions the anti-Negro taboo in about 95% of the jobs of the nation (excepting those that require us to be either humble servants, or buffoons) and see what a perfect job is being done by the radio, press and moving pictures of finishing us off in the minds of the rest of the people—what more could you expect than a bit of confusion on the part of some of us?

However, Father Dunne, that crowd that is "beginning to see the light" are for the most part young and among and many are just back from the war, and if they feel as we did when we returned from another war, they are liable to feel even a bit superior to the racists. However you were right when you advocated that the Negro demand and take the place of equality—full equality NOW. Yes, you were right, WE DO WANT RACIAL EQUALITY — NOTHING LESS AND NOTHING MORE. And the most encouraging thing in the situation is that, to our certain knowledge, there are an increasing number of you who want us to have it or our frustration might become our undoing.

An Open Letter to Dr. J. W. Fifield Jr.

Dear Dr. Fifield:

Thousands of people, like myself, are seriously questioning the motive for your persistent interposition into the race relations of Jews, Mexicans, and Negroes in the Los Angeles area. Periodically, you make vitrolic utterances from your pulpit and in your most recent sermon Sunday, August 4, "Christian Race Relations," you went the limit to show your hand. You even predicted violence if your warnings went unheeded. If such a condition should ever prevail in Los Angeles it will not be because of your prophetic love but rather it would be a sequence to the propaganda emanating from the pulpit of the First Congregational church of Los Angeles.

Gerald L. K. Smith comes to Los Angeles and the Ku Klux Klan is revived; Talmadge speaks in Georgia and four unarmed citizens are shot down in cold blood; Bilbo howls in Mississippi and two more are flogged to death; and Fifield preaches in Los Angeles and predicts race riots and violence.

We must, however, give credit to Smith, Bilbo, and Talmadge for not dissembling their purposes with religious platitudes. With your greater command of rhetoric, you can skillfully sow tares with the wheat. You take your texts from holy writ but your sermons bear the trademark of the House of Mammon.

Quoting from your sermon, "I am deeply concerned about revolutionary procedures, such as FEPC and abrogation of racial covenants on residential properties—efforts of minorities to push in where they are not wanted." With these statements you oppose two of the fundamental principles of our democracy: the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Surely it must include the right to work and live in homes without discrimination.

Again quoting from your sermon, "We do not intend to turn the town over to Jews, Mexicans and Negroes . . ." The doctrine of race-baiting that you uphold has submerged the whole of Central Europe in bloodshed and devastation. The demagogue who preached and practiced this infamy have paid the price but the people suffer. We now have emissaries to the peace conference, men of good will, who are laboring hard to build the ruins left by Fascism.

Sermons like yours coming from the Christian pulpit of America will embarrass them and cause them to blush when they stand out for the rights of subjugated peoples.

You have often pulled the old chestnut about your "Negro Mammy." If, as you say, you were reared by her, we take it for granted that she performed all the duties of a mother. She evidently must have done a poor job because there is no trace of the milk of human kindness flowing in your veins.

It is very nice of you to serve on the committee to raise three million dollars for Negro colleges but I noticed that you found it very convenient to be absent from Los Angeles during the time that the drive was being conducted here last spring. Perhaps it was just as well, because a very successful campaign was launched without your assistance.

You boast of belonging to several committees on race relations. Biblical history tells of a man who served on a committee of 12 for three years. If you have ever read the story you may remember what he did to his master in a garden near Gethesmene. Jews, Mexicans and Negroes will work out their own solution without you running interference.

Morse said, but still not enough. We must find ways to bring into our camp those thousands who do not yet realize the identity of their cause and ours, she declared.

Urging the most intensive organization of the community as a prerequisite of victory, Mrs. Bass told her auditors she did not see how we can win a passport to Heaven before we establish right and justice here on earth. We must organize, she warned, to halt in their tracks those movements which seek to destroy us.

Averill Berman pointed out that the recent lynch outrages reflect the growth of native American fascism, called for unity of all minority peoples and the labor movement. He warned those members of his own (Jewish) group who sign restrictive covenant petitions that they were thereby signing their own death warrants.

Assemblyman Hawkins outlined the history of the National Negro Congress, and analyzed the program and resolutions adopted at its recent Detroit convention. He warmly praised the work being done by the NAACP, but declared that economic and political action, such as envisaged by the NNC, was also essential at this time.

Endorsed by local labor unions, Sunday's meeting was attended by many unionists, white and Negro.

Labor's interest in the new group was also demonstrated in an address by Joseph O'Connor, port agent of the Wilmington branch of the National Union of Marine Cooks and Stewards, who denounced the jimcrow policies of the Seafarers International Union, headed by Harold Lundberg, and urged the NNC to present the facts to the Negro community.

O'Connor pointed out that while the NNMCS and the National Maritime Union, CIO, have been waiving payment of back dues for returning Negro vets, as well as waiving initiation fees for many Negro newcomers in the two unions, the Lundberg union has been shamelessly discriminating against minority group workers, barring them from the union hiring hall, signing up inexperienced white workers and thus keeping experienced Negro seamen and veterans out of work.

"I feel that the church groups, Negro groups, civic groups, both white and colored, veteran groups and American Legion and people like Bartley Crum, Eleanor Roosevelt, Wayne Morse should have this matter brought to their attention and pressure should be put on at this time," said O'Connor, "for I am afraid if something is not done to give employment to this minority group, we may see race riots and chaos, unemployment and depression and possibly World War III."

It was done in the nature of a publicity stunt for Lucky's novelty tune, "Shorty's Got To Go."

Bohannon died 90 minutes later at Georgia st. hospital. Mrs. Bohannon was arrested, and held pending a coroner's inquest. Her attorney, Earl Broady, said he was sure the verdict eliminated any possibility of action by the district attorney.

BRUNSWICK, Ga.—The federal courts were asked this week to nullify the nomination of Gene Talmadge as governor on the grounds Georgia's unique primary system is unconstitutional. The suit was filed by Cullen B. Gosnell, an Emory university political science professor, and Mrs. Robert Lee Truman, a woman's leader in the Democratic party.

HAIFA, Palestine—Three Jews, including an 18-year-old girl, were killed yesterday when British troops fired point blank into a crowd protesting the removal to concentration camps in Cyprus of 1300 "illegal" immigrants, refugees from pogrom-ridden European countries.

WASHINGTON—President Truman yesterday signed a bill authorizing federal financing of one-third of a $1,125,000,000 hospital building program, spread among the states according to their needs.

veterans, whose wheel chairs were draped in mourning wreaths, started at Ninth street and Constitution avenue and ended at the Lincoln Memorial.

The soldier amputees, who came from Walter Reed hospital, were wheeled by uniformed buddies the entire length of the prememorial service parade.

Throughout the march to the Lincoln Memorial, spectators who lined the sidewalk ran out to have bands pinned on their arms as they fell in behind black banners demanding that the lynchers in Georgia be brought to justice.

About one-third of the orderly crowd was white. The procession was about a half mile long.

Scores of policemen in squad cars, on motorcycles and on foot paralleled the route of march down Constitution avenue to the Memorial and remained on the scene until the service ended shortly before 10 p.m.

Sponsored by the Washington Committee of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, speakers from the American Veterans Committee, American Federation of Labor, the Congress o fIndustrial Organizations, the National Negro Congress, the United Negro and Allied Veterans, and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People were on the program.

Dr. Clark Foreman, presiding officer and president of the Southern Conference, called on the Government to protect the people in the South, "as well as abroad." He demanded that lynching be made a federal offense.

"It is fitting that we in the Nation's Capital are meeting at the shrine of a man who has done more for the South than any other Southerner," said Foreman. "Tonight you are expessing the determination we all share to abolish mob violence and lynching," he added.

Participants in the mass memorial service roared approval of a four-point resolution proposed by Dr. Joseph L. Johnson, chairman of the Washington Committee of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare and dean of the Howard University Medical School. It was resolved that:

Governor Ellis Arnall of Georgia be commended for his efforts to punish the lynchers of four persons in Monroe, Georgia, last July 25 and for his efforts to outlaw the Ku Klux Klan; that President Truman call on the full power of the federal government to apprehend and punish the Georgia "murderers;" President Truman be asked to use his executive power to outlaw the Klan and any other organization which seeks to foster racial and religious hatred, and that congress be reconvened to enact anti-lynching legislation at once.

Henry Beitcher, president of the Washington Industrial Union Council (CIO), said the two couples who were lynched in Georgia were "assassinated by the John Wilkes Booths of the 20th Century."

Both Senator Bilbo and Talmadge were booed time and again as the speakers continued to mention their names in connection with rcent lynchings.

Richard Bancroft of the United Negro and Allied Veterans stated that the 'Negro veteran is the most stubborn and militant in the defense of our democratic rights."

One of the loudest shouts of approval greeted a statement by E. S. Grattan, AFL organizer in the South, who said: "There is no Negro problem in the South, it's a white problem. The whites are the ones who violate the law."

Charles H. Houston of the NAACP called lynching "an attempt to drive fear into the hearts of the living."

Other speakers included the Rev. R. W. Brooks of Lincoln Congregational temple and the Rev. Albert T. Molligen, professor of theology, Theological seminary, Alexandria, Virginia.

The Washington Community Chorus led community singing under the direction of Warner Lawson, Representatives of more than 50 civic, fraternal, labor and veterans' organizations participated.

attributed to him during the recent Mississippi primary campaign to the effect the best method or preventing a Negro from voting was to "see him the night before," Bilbo at first challenged the accuracy of reporters. Pressed by the interviewers, he later admitted having made the statements.

He asserted Mississippi had the best educational system in the country, said statistics showing that the state has the worst schools were based on the lumping together of Negro and white schools.

Told that an army test had shown northern Negroes to have a higher intelligence rating than Mississippi whites, Bilbo said "thats a lie."

The appearance of Bilbo on the raido program was vigorously protested yesterday by the National Negro Congress in communications to the Mutual Broadcasting system, the Federal Communications, and the American Mercury magazine, sponsor of the program.

The NNC demanded that Mutual allot an NNC representative equal time to answer Bilbo's slanders against the Negro people; investigation by the Federal Communications Commission of Mutual's 'legal culpability" in "permitting its facilities to be used for the dissemination of race hatred propaganda; that the American Mercury magazine apolizes for presenting Bilbo and Eugene Talmadge the latter on August 2.

The NNC also called on the elections committee of the senate, the department of justice and "other responsible government agencies" to take immediate steps to remove Bilbo as being unfit to be a member of the U. S. senate, and his tenure as mayor of the District of Columbia.

The organization also called on President Truman, as titular head of the Democratic party, to use his influence to purge Bilbo from that party, and proceed under his wartime powers to prosecute Bilbo as an enemy of the United States.

So let it be. In God's own might
We gird us for the coming fight,
And, strong in Him whose cause is ours
In conflict with unholy powers,
We grasp the weapons He has given,—
The Light, and Truth, and Love of Heaven. —Whittier

tion fee, thus joining the union.

About a week later their job with the paint company ran out. The men, most of them World War II veterans, then applied for work at the union hiring hall, ready to make their second payment even if there were no immediate jobs available. They had that much faith in unionism—even AFL unionism.

The dispatcher, however, after sending white painters out on jobs within a short distance of their homes, told this group, "I'll see."

Asked why it was that he had to investigate whether or not he had jobs for them while readily handing out jobs to white painters, the dispatcher replied, "If you really want to know, it's because you're colored. Just wait around and something might come up."

Murray also revealed that the Cal-Rey Industrial Painting Co. is again in need of painters but, although highly satisfied with the work of these men, cannot now hire them except through the union.

Kentucky and Tennessee were admitted to the Union during the administration of George Washington.

Arrest Lynchers, Ban Klan, Prosecute Hate Peddlars, Angry Citizens Urge Truman

Detonated by the multiple lynching of two couples in Georgia, and the whipping murder of a farm laborer in Mississippi during the same week, a wave of angry protests exploded over the nation this week, punctuated by demands for:

- the arrest and punishment of the lynchers;
- passage of federal anti-lynching legislation;
- outlawing of the Ku Klux Klan;
- federal action to protect the voting rights of Negro citizens in the South;
- prosecution of Bilbo, Talmadge and all formentors of race hate.
- exercise by the senate of its right and power to question the legality of the re-election of Sen. Bilbo in Mississippi.

Dramatic highlight of the protest actions which swept the nation from Maine to California was the visit of three delegations to the White House to demand energetic action by the government to put an end to the accumulating fascist-like terror against the Negro people.

The first delegation to visit the White House was organized by the National Negro Congress, and headed by Dr. Max Yergan.

Members of the National Association of Colored Women saw David K. Niles, an administrative assistant to the President, shortly after.

Later some twenty Negro and white youths, representing veteran, student and trade union organizations filed a formal protest with Niles.

Earlier, the mixed delegation, sponsored by the American Youth for Democracy and the United Negro and Allied Veterans, conferred with Assistant Attorney General James P. McGranery, demanded that the Justice department "take on full responsibility for the arrest and punishment" of the Georgia lynch mob, outlaw the Ku Klux Klan and "protect the voting rights of Negro citizens in the South." It also demanded that dept. take action in the case of Isaac Woodward, World War II veteran whose eyes were gouged out by South Carolina police shortly after his discharge from the army at Camp Gordon, Georgia.

The Washington Newspaper Guild released a resolution calling on the President and the attorney general to "track down the perpetrators of these vicious crimes in Georgia and Mississippi and bring them to justice."

"It is idle for the Secretary of State of the United States to attend metings of the United Nations or conferences of the foreign ministers and prate of the American way of life while this sort of thing continues to happen," the Guild resolution states.

$39,000 IN REWARDS OFFERED FOR EVIDENCE

In a telegram to President Truman, the National Maritime Union, CIO, revealed it is offering a $5000 reward for the apprehension and conviction of those responsible for the Georgia lynchings.

The national office of the NAACP, 20 West 40th st., New York City, had previously announced on behalf of the national office and branches rewards totaling $10,000 for "information leading to the arrest and conviction of the lynchers of four Negroes in Walton county, Ga. This reward matches the one offered on behalf of the state of Georgia by Gov. Ellis Arnall.

Rewards offered in the Georgia case this week totalled $39,000 as the Civil Right Congress and other organizations posted offers in addition to those announced by Gov. Arnall and the NAACP.

PROTESTS DELUGE WASHINGTON

A veritable avalanche of protest wires and resolutions swept into Washington from labor, civic and minority group organizations, and mass rallies in various cities, including a huge protest meeting in Madison Square Park, New York City, on July 30.

In Los Angeles a protest rally was held last Sunday at the Independent church, under the auspices of the Peoples Victory Committee. Two other protest meetings are scheduled for this Sunday afternoon.

ILLINOIS SOLONS JOIN PROTESTS

At Springfield, Ill., the Illinois house of representatives went on record as urging the Georgia general asembly to enact anti-lynching laws and other measures directed against the Ku Klux Klan. It also called on Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois to halt Klan organizing activities in Chicago, Springfield, Decatur, East St. Louis and Peoria.

In a letter to President Truman, Ralph Helstein, president of the United Packinghouse Workers of America, CIO, points out that the multiple lynching in Georgia, the Columbia, Tenn., incident and other acts of terrorism against the Negro people "cannot be recorded as unrelated acts of violence. They are, I am convinced, a part of a deliberate

On To Buffalo! Cry of Elkdom

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—The battle cry of Elkdom is "On to Buffalo!" declared J. Finley Wilson, grand exalted ruler of the Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the World yesterday, referring to the annual convention of the order which will be held in Buffalo, New York, August 25-30.

This convention will mark Wilson's 25th year at the head of the order, and reports from all over the country indicate that he will be reelected for another term of two years without any serious opposition.

The only discordant note, which has been heard so far, comes from Imperial and Brooklyn lodges in New York City, which he suspended from the order because of their refusal to comply with the laws of the order requiring that all Elks' property be held in the name of individual lodges and not in any corporate name.

The program for the grand lodge session will begin with a baccalaureate sermon on Sunday morning, Aug. 25, at the Lincoln Memorial Methodist church. That afternoon the Purple-Cross nurses graduation exercises will be held in the Community church, with the annual memorial services that evening at the People's Community church.

Frontier Lodge No. 1024 and Elite Lodge No. 119 will be hosts to the convention. Dr. D. M. Byrd is chairman of the entertainment committee, and Dr. Ormond D. Walker, secretary. The latter also is chairman of the housing committee.

COINCIDENCE

The 20th anniversary of sound in motion pictures, as introduced by the Warner Bros., falls on Aug. 6. Same date will mark the first anniversary of another sound which shook the world to its foundations—the Hiroshima atom-bombing.

plan by those who desire to bring to our nation the methods and system of Hitler's Germany. It is a process of conditioning America for fascism. Persecution of minority groups, murder, lynchings, beatings are all part of the same pattern."

A similar warning was issued by the American Council on Race Relations, which stated:

"The lynching of four Negroes, one a veteran of five years' service in the U. S. army, near Monroe, Ga., marks the climax of a series of terror-attacks on minority groups which threatens the internal peace of the nation.

"These attacks, which have increased in boldness and brutality since V-J Day, have not been confined to any one region of the country or one minority group, The American Council's reports from its correspondents, as well as news accounts, indicate no region is free from these atempts to provoke civil strife. The killing of two Negro servicemen in Freeport, Long Island, the firing of Negro hames in Chicago, and the burning of Japanese American homes on the west coast are but a few of the evidences of the national character of this danger.

". . . The Klan and such hate-mongers as Gerald L. K. Smith are seeking to create a public climate in which violence against minority groups may go unchallenged."

Union Carries Fight on Bias to Commerce Dept.

WASHINGTON — The fight waged by the United Public Workers of America, CIO, against abuses in the personnel setup of the Commerce department has been carried forward to the office of the secretary. A delegation, headed by Thomas Richardson, vice-president of the UPW, has conferred with Bernard L. Gladieux, executive assistant to the secretary.

As a result of the negotiations, is has been agreed by Gladieux that:

1. An absolute ban will be placed on outside hiring until employes who have been laid off by the Office of International Trade have been placed.

2. Swift eradication of discriminatory practices against Negroes which formerly prevailed. Such practices include a system under which Negroes were not referred to agencies which had openings. It was further agreed, in this connection, that the department's personnel officials would raise the question of Negro discrimination in the government service with the Council of Personnel Administrators and propose measures toward elimination of such discrimination.

3. Gladieux stated that he would recommend to the secretary that he take action against the vicious segregated jimcrow system which now prevails in the Washington, D. C., office of the United States Employment Service.

Crime Bulletins

LOS ANGELES (MNS) — En route home last Saturday night, Ethel May Adams, 32-year-old nurse, of 215 East 32nd st., was approached by a bandit near the corner of 32nd st. and Maple ave. and was robbed and raped, according to police reports.

Miss Adams, who said her assailant forced her over to nearby railroad tracks before attacking her, told officers that the man escaped with her purse.

Letting strangers take you home is a dangerous practice. Miss Jean E. Edwards, 215 Aliso st., can testify to this fact.

She let a man known only as "Jimmie" to her take her home on Sunday evening. When the couple reached a vacant lot near Miss Edwards' home, "Jimmie" attempted to rape her. She screamed, however, and frightened him off.

U. S. GROUP RECEIVES THANKS, ENDORSEMENT OF SO. AFRICANS

NEW YORK—At its recent meeting in Cape Town, the African National Congress adopted a resolution expressing "sincerest gratitude for assistance given by Council African Affairs in the recent distress in Ciskei." The cabled resolution also thanked Paul Robeson and Max Yergan, officers of the organization, "for the great stand your Council is taking on behalf of Africans who have implicit trust in your representative of their case in world councils which they themselves are barred from attending. Peace is impossible when millions suffer gross injustice."

The Council on African Affairs, with offices at 23 West 26th St., New York, has an accredited observer to the United Nations meetings and has forwarded several communications to the American delegate and the state department on questions affecting the Union of South Africa and problems of colonial Africa as a whole.

The African National Congress, established in 1912, is the largest and most powerful organization of the African people in the Union of South Africa. It has a long history of militant struggle for African rights, especially in leading the campaign against the much hated pass laws.

Dr. A. B. Xuma has been national president of the African National Congress since 1940. The cabled message from the Congress was signed by Dr. R. T. Bokwe who has had a leading role in the distribution of relief supplies by the African Food Fund to victims of starvation in the Ciskei district of South Africa. The Council on African Affairs has sent several shipments of canned food and financial contributions for the aid of these victims.

Project Aims At Wiping Out Adult Illiteracy

HAMPTON, Va. —(NNPA)—An institute on adult education began at Hampton institute last Monday and will continue through September 12.

The United States Office of Education at Washington described the institute as "an important phase of a comprehensive one-year project." The program, made possible by a grant from the Carnegie Corporation of New York, is sponsored by the Office of Education in cooperation with the American Association for Adult Education and the National Conference on Adult Education and the Negro.

Directed by Ambrose Caliver, a specialist in the higher education of colored people, Office of Education, the adult education project has as its general purpose the lifting of the educational level of the large group of adult Negroes described as "functionally illiterate" by the Selective Service System and the 1940 census. William M. Cooper, executive secretary of the National Conference on Adult Education and the Negro, is associate director.

Frank Faylen, who has one of the top featured roles in Frank Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life," made his stage debut at the age of six months with his family, Ruf & Cusick, veteran variety act.

Mental Patients Victims of Brutality, Neglect, Says Writer

NEW YORK—Albert Doutsch, nationally known writer on sociological problems, exposes American-style concentration camps to which we condemn our mentally ill, in an article entitled "The Shame of the States —America's Bedlams" in the August issue of Reader's Scope.

"I have seen hundreds of naked men and women herded into huge, barnlike, filth-infested ward, in all degrees of deterioration, untended and untreated, stripped o fevery vestige of human decency, many in the stages of semi-starvation. I have heard state hospital doctors frankly admit that the animals of nearby piggeries were better fed, housed and treated than many of the patients in their own wards. I have seen court records and hospital accident lists indicating that brutality against patients, while not as common as some sensationalistic exposes would suggest, is of shocking frequency. Occasional accounts of fatal beatings of mental patients attest to the end results of some of this inhuman treatment," writes Deutsch.

Deutsch points out that every citizen of this country has a direct stake in the reform of our public mental hospitals, as one out of every 20 Americans is destined at some time of his or her life to spend time in a mental hospital. He also urges support of the national mental health act, now before the senate, as vital to the ultimate solution of the mental hospital problem.

Padlock Unlocked for Tadlock; Court Strikes Bookmaking Charge

Possibly because his name is similar to "padlock," police officers felt they had a right to lock up Norman Tadlock, Jr., when they saw him talking over a telephone in a service station at the intersection of Twelfth and Sanford sts.

Tadlock protested his innocense when officers accused him of bookmaking on horses, stated he was merely talking with his wife and writing down a grocery list.

This week when Tadlock appeared in court with Atty. Charles H. Matthews representing him, the latter proved to the satisfaction of Superior Judge McKay that there as insufficient evidence to show that Tadlock was booking horses at the time and place in question.

The padlock was then unlocked for Tadlock and he went free.

THE FRUIT OF UNCEASING LABOR

★ Between 1911 and 1935, a brief span of twenty-five years, extraordinary progress was made in public health. According to figures released by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the duration of human life during this period was extended by almost fourteen years. It is all the more remarkable in the light of the history of this period, which included the first World War, the worst epidemic in recent history, and America's most severe depression.

Many agencies have contributed to make America a more healthful place in which to live. Not the least of these are scientific medicine and pharmacy, which work unceasingly for better methods of prevention and treatment of disease.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

A PROUD FEELING SURGED in every Alpha Kappa Alpha woman's heart when the final round of candles were lit, and a pledge with a new clause, broadening the scope of the sorority, brought the 26th annual Boule to a close. The very impressive closed banquet was held Tuesday night at the "Friday Morning" Breakfast Club, with Supreme Basileus Beulah T. Whitby presiding her final session of the body that voted to open its ranks to all groups in accord with the rededication of the sorority.

Wearing a striking black dinner gown that featured a unique floral pocket, Mrs. Whitby, in her very gracious manner, gave up the chair that she has held since 1941, to Mrs. Edna Over Gray, who will start work in the official capacity of supreme bacileus in September.

Jessie Mae Brown

The hostess chapters of Los Angeles were very proud of the local sorors elected to the directorate. Dorothy Redd, of Sigma chapter, is now the supreme 2nd anti basileus, Zenobia Allen is supreme episteleus and Audrey Bradshaw Jones is Far Western regional director. The elaborate banquet was arranged by the hostess committee headed by Mrs. Patricia McCloud, who acted as toast mistress for the evening.

A natural pearl necklace was presented the outgoing supreme basileus, and the entire body received ceremic pens. I couldn't help noting the beautiful garb worn at the closing affair. Atty. Martha Williams chose a light blue satin formal dinner suit, complimented by rhinestone buttons; Ann Gordon wore sophesticated black, brought out in its fullness by a yellow corsage; lovely Gloria Bunch was outstanding in a lime green and back creation, Millie Bown of Seattle, Washington, looked the perfect debuntante in a bouffant gown of black net, Cleodel Johnson, of Berkeley, wore a vogue creation in white. Believe me when I say the 600 or more sorors were the last word in fashion. The gowns worn at the closed formal ball Monday night were equally as beautiful.

INSIDE NOTES

Am quite sure the general public is wondering just what went on at the different social gatherings planned by other frats and sororities of the city. The Deltas started the social whirl off with a bang when they tendered a Fiesta at the Riverside Rancho. Quite an affair with many Angelinos and visitors in attendance. The overflow crowd found points of interest in the patio, meeting and greeting the AKAs. Dr. John Coleman and the Mrs. were there; Clara Fentress, Gloria Mitchell and the Dr., Walter Daniels, Odessa James and Vance Jones, Adelia Leonard of Texas, Katherine Weis of Detroit with Roy Andrews, Rachell Ulmer of Detroit with James Stacher, Margaret Potter and T. L. Kirk, and many another.

Preceding the Fiesta, Velma Beck had a few friends in for a little before fling that added to the evening. . . . The following night the spirited Kappas took over at Val Verde. Arriving a little late on the scene, missed out on the babecued menu, that I hear was tops. Was impressed with the Kappa Sweetheart song that climaxed the gathering. . . . On Saturday night, the Alpha's Cabrillo beach party stole the limelight. Taking over a section of the beach, some 20 fires were built and the hundreds of Greeks joined the merry making that lasted till the wee wee hours. Herbert Simmons, Harry Jones, Arthur Trent and all the Alpha Phi Alpha gents were perfect hosts.

Sunday morning found the delegates a bit tired; however, they found their way to the Coffee given in the Westchester place home of Dr. and Mrs. Hardiman. Jessie McDaniel, just back from Chicago, is president of the Nurses Sorority who gave the affair and is also a member of AKA sorority. She assisted in greeting the many sorors. . . . Sunday afternoon the spotlight changed to UCLA where the public witnessed a very inspiring program, featuring such artists as Gladys Childress, Madam Catarina Jarboro, Lois Towles, Gloria Roberts and Benzell Graham. Immediately following, a reception was held at Dr. Somervilles with members of the Las Madrinas club serving.

Sunday night the Omega Psi Phi men were hosts at the police range, Sammy Franklin furnished the music, and the place jumped. James Penn, the hard working Omega, greeted guests. Also noted Norma Green and her husband, just back from an Eastern trip, Kate and Gordon Dixon enjoying a dance or two, Lane Cleaves, who had much to talk about, Blanch Groggs, Florence Nukes, Lucy Ewing, LaFrance Brown, Leonard Beavers, George Sturdivant and a host of others. . . . On Monday night, the official closed AKA dance was held at the Pasadena Civic, preceding this main event of the Boule Dr. C. W. Hill's Hollywood home was the scene of a very crowded but happy cocktail party. The Zetas and Phi Beta Sigmas gas the affair. I won't go into who was there, for the beautiful residence, grounds and all, held a capacity group of guests. You can figure, by looking this calendar over, that the AKAs have had a very busy time of it socially, not to mention the sessions held each day at the Unitarian center. The 26th annual boule officially ended Tuesday night; however, a large number of the delegates will attend a post Boule weekend in the Bay area.

LOCAL SCENE

Coming down from the clouds we find the local social scene as interesting as ever. This morning at 10 o'clock, the executive board of Calif. State Asso. of Colored Women will make awards to two outstanding clubs of the year. . . . The Doll League Charity club has resumed activity and is planning to give a "Story Book Ball." . . . Dr. H. H. Towles and niece, Dorothy Towles, entertained over 100 guests last night honoring Miss Lois Towles, niece and sister, who attended the Boule. Miss Towles is an instructor at Fisk university in the music department. Sharing honors with Miss Towles was Mrs. Ivanetta Davis, wife of the president of Tenn. State College in Nashville. Miss Towles will be in the city one more week. Mrs. Davis will fly back in the next day or two.

By the way, went to the airport with Atty. Martha Williams yesterday afternoon. The gay attorney is making her way to New York and other parts East on a much needed rest. With Benny Carter's orchestra playing in that part of the country, Attorney Williams is destined to have a grand time of it. . . . Ruth Douglass is very busy making plans for the National Grad Nurses "Coffee" to be staged during next month.

The Duke Ellington concert was quite the thing last Wednesday night. Made it back stage along with Gloria Bunch, Gloria Howard, Lucy Ewing, and the rest of the gang, to greet the Duke, chat a bit with Louise Beavers, Lena Horne and Herb Jeffries.

Jerry Henderson and Dr. Catoe Robinson will speak their vows Sunday afternoon. . . . Lovely Marian Martel and Frank Strange Jr. have planned their wedding for August 25. Wilma Fox Hill, Virgie Afner, Regina Mingleton, Lois Fox, Doris Colley and Beverly Bauman will take part in the ceremony. . . . Phyllis Williams sends greetings to the gang of Neophytes and Ivy Leaf pledges from Little Ole N.Y. She plans to return to L.A. in time to enter the UCLA September session. . . . Miss Delphine Toppings, prominent New Orleans school teacher was honored with a party last Saturday night by Ruth Douglass. More than 60 guests attended, including several out of towners who shared honors. Delphine is J. C. and Henrietta Whitby's sister.

This afternoon Haywood Carter will depart the bachelor realm. His bride is the popular Miss Giles of Detroit. . . . Rosalie Walker is making ready for the center aisle. On reaching the deadline, I find myself as tired as other AKAs, however I'm quite sure that I will make the Eugene Gash concert at Independent church tonight. Hope to see you there. . . .

School Jimcrow Under Attack

The practice of segregating schools in West Riverside was under attack this week in a Federal court injunction suit filed by parents of five of the children.

Plaintiffs in the suit aimed at Riverside county school authorities contended their children were being segregated in "inadquate vermin - infested schools without recreation facilities" and denied the right to attend standard schools.

Atty. David C. Marcus, representing the plaintiffs, pointed out that the suit was filed not only in behalf of the plaintiffs but parents of 1500 other affected children in the district.

JOHNETTA ARMSTRONG

With the summer in full swing and ole Sol radiating its little sunbeams on us daily, many are taking to the beaches, parks and mountains for refuge. The Junior Council of the NAACP decided that it was a good time for the members to go on a short trip. So Sunday morning early, youngsters and chaperons climbed aboard the bus bound for San Diego. Their objective was the Balboa Park Museum, but it was closed so they spent their time at the zoo and the beach.

Some of those enjoying a cooler day than we experienced in Pasadena, were Barney Durham, Ples Andrew Griffin, Winifrey Eckely, Roberta Hunter, Walter and Anna Bell Worrill, Mary Louise Mims, LeRoy Jackson, Doris Lawson, Geraldin King and many others. Always with trips of this sort there are those persons who would rather drive. Among this group were Mable Duncan, M. L. Jackson, David Scott, Alva Rae Neblett, Willie Banks and several others. They all had a wonderful time and came home tired and happy Sunday night.

While the Junior NAACP took to cool San Diego, the Earls' wives and girl friends took to Brookside Park for a very enjoyable afternoon and evening. Campfire boys and girls Eddie and Barbara Johnson and Mary Collins tramped around; and found some wood to cook the hot dogs. The tennis matches that took place between Aletha Careys, Bump Cunningham on one side, Mary Collins and Bernard Harris on the other, were screams. Bill Edson and James Armstrong attempted to play also.

Come Sunday, Bertha Woodard will be off for San Francisco on a two or three-week vacation. She will see a lot of old Pasadenans, Olivia Clay, Zelma Stocks, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Anderson, and several others. . . . A surprise to every one was the arrival of Clara Lee McAfee Calhune with her eight-month-old son, Leon Sherwood, to visit her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. I. S. McAfee. She has been in Washington, D. C., for the past four years. If you remember, Clara went with a group of other girls to do secretarial work and she was the only one who stayed. We are glad to see you Clara, hope you stay awhile.

Delores Carroll celebrated her birthday August 12. Here's hoping that you have many many others. . . . Well, well, Morris Benson Jr. got married last week to Nancy Baker. . . . Don't forget the Spanish Fiesta tonight. It is for a worthy cause and you will get your money's worth. Paul Williams has designed the plans for the new All Nations Hospital and it is something that we will be proud of . . . Wonder if the Alva Rae Neblett-Harrison Bailey romance is on or off???? Saw Marie Morrow the other day and she is awaiting a visit from the Stork . . . also on the expectancy list are Grace Peters, Herriette Willys McNeil, Ray Kindrick, Bessy Wilson and Cladonia Westbrook.

The Fine's dance jumped as they usually do at the Masonic Hall. The old gang was there and everyone seemed to be having a gay time. Noted Barbara Durham, Tommy Floyd, Jerry "The Artist" Thorton, Bettye Brown, Bill Duncan, Mabel Duncan, Harrison Bailey, Jessie Arnold, Jean Morrow, Gwen Morrow, Alvin and Chester Johnson, David Scott, who got nabbed on his trip to San Diego, David Jones and many others.

One of the lovely affairs of the season was the reception for Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Calmore by the bride's mother, Mrs. B. Hines, at the home of Rev. Calmore's mother, Mrs. Calmore Harris. Ruby Calmore wore a lovely white gown and made a striking picture. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bland and Laura Jones stood with the couple. Their many friends were on hand to shower the couple with gifts.

Glad to see Ruth Banks is out of the hospital. Sorry to hear of Mrs. Babe Harrison being sick. Hurry and get well. Oh yes, Dot Mims' engagement is off.

That's all for now.

—Hasta Luego

With full cooperation from the eligibile bachelors, all visiting sorors were furnished with escorts for the affair that held sway between the hours of 9 and 1.

WISHING WELL

The spacious Constitution Hall of the Pasadena Civic was transformed into a beautiful paradise highlighted by a huge "wishing well" featuring a base of pink flowers and a green grass roof, centered on the dance floor. Throughout the hall, white pillars topped by huge bouquets and surrounded by cages of "love birds," the scene was beautiful. Seated beside the well were two Ivy Leaf pledges, Frances Jones and Rebecca Brown, wearing pink pantalooned period costumes, serving as Well Keepers.

The dance music was played by Sammy Franklyn's orchestra, who played the AKA song in waltz time at different intervals. This closed affair marked one of the most outstanding social events of the Boule week.

By Grace Fisher Atkins

The Alpha Kappa Alpha Boule made history in a number of social categories. Outstanding among these was the fashion parade. It is generally agreed that the array of gorgeous gowns seen at the various meetings and social functions were elaborate in the true sense. In fact, never has the national confab gleamed with such glamour and beauty. Fashions were in California and on parade this six-day series of events.

Monday evening at the Civic auditorium in Pasadena was considered by most of the male observers and admirers as the outstanding function for the Boule. The Alpha girls were never so stunning. Mrs. Bernice Wilson Minisee of Seattle, Washington, who is a costume designer, is said by numerous guests from all parts of the country to have been the most elegantly gowned. We expect that of Bernice.

Mrs. Bernice Minisee is the Bernice Wilson who graduated from the Chicago Art institute as a costume artist some years ago. Mrs. Minisee, though born and reared in Seattle, Washington, has made an outstanding record in the costume art in several major cities in the United States. Bernice is not only very talented but has all the attributes of a true fashion artist. Equally as invigorating as her art is her personality. Vivacious, enveloping, stimulating and just downright thrilling is Bernice.

Believe it or not, Bernice's creation of last Monday evening was a series of drapes and folds made by the twisting of just one piece of material. All you have to do with material is to tack and cut fabric in the right places. Bernice spent the smaller portion of a half day (four hours) on this delicate piece of pure dye green silk fabric.

Los Angeles and all the Greek letter organizations were indeed complimented by the numerous representatives of various fields of art and science through the national Alpha Kappa Alpha meet.

Northern California Greeks Host 'Post Boule' Weekend

Elaborate plans are in the offing for a "Post-Boule Weekend" for Alpha Kappa Alpha sorors and others who visit Northern California during the weekend immediately following the boule in Los Angeles.

Spearheading the "Post-Boule Weekend" planners are members of Alpha Nu Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, headed by Soror Alice Long, basileus. The idea originated with Soror Anna B. Browne, Far West Western regional director, and has been enthusiastically endorse by Alpha Nu Omega chapter, Rho chapter and the AKA Sponsors' club of which Mrs. Audrey Allen is president, as well as by other fraternal and civic organizations that want to do something for the visitors.

While Northern Californians will be opening their beautiful homes to the post-boule visitors, a number of activities will be arranged for their entertainment.

In addition to the usual gay round of garden parties, teas, receptions, luncheons, and the like, the following activities have been announced: Saturday, August 17, a breakfast, hosted by Alpha Upsilon chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity; a 50-car Bay area sight-seeing caravan sponsored by the Panhellenic Council, and a cocktail party given by the Sphinx club of Alpha Phi Alpha; Sunday, August 18, a reception and tea at De Fermery USO, with members of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sponsors' club as hostesses; Monday, August 19, a formal party at the Booker T. Washington Community Center, San Francisco, with members of Alpha Nu Omega and Rho chapters of Alpha Kappa Alpha as hostesses.

Members of Omega Sigma and Kappa chapters of Delta Sigma Theta sorority will provide corsages to be worn by local and visiting Alpha Kappa Alpha sorors at the reception and tea on Sunday. An unannounced affair is being planned by members of Kappa Alpha Psi and Gamma Beta chapter of Zeta Phi Beta sorority.

Those leaving are: Mrs. Louisa Roan, Pres. of GWBA. Mr. Ellis E. Dunn, one of the oldest contract bridge players in the city; holding more match points than any other player, and one of the original organizers of the GWBA. Louis Woods, one of the original contracters, with a bag of bridge knowledge, Louis Clay, a well-versed player and a highly rated ABAer. Mrs. Beatrice Reeves, former national committeewoman of the ABA, and a tough player. Mrs. Mae Denton, former pres. of the Womens Auxiliary of the GWBA, an astute player with the ability to retain her equilibrium under the withering barrage of the best competition. Mrs. Viola Henry, the official scorer of the GWBA, and equally as good with the boards. Mrs. Margaret Hale, secretary of the GWBA, a staunch supporter and player. Miss Anna Daniels, GBWA reporter, a player of note. Mrs. Julia Scott, local business woman and worthy player. Mrs. Elizabeth Harris, a player of no mean ability. Mrs. Manuel, an oldtimer with the boards and a worthy opponent. The above are the entrees of the GWBA and I know they will acquit themselves with honor and bring back their share of trophies. The Mayor of the city sent greetings to the President of the GWBA, extending an invitation with the key to the city for the American Bridge Assn 1947 Tournament to be held here. Heres hoping our bid will be accepted. The Pacific Coast Bridge Assn of which Mr. Clarance Ennis is Pres.-founder, will also be represented. However, I do not have the names of those who are to attend. California will have its largest group present. From this I know many of the awards and honors will return to this city.

L. A. Doctor's Mother Noted In Four Groups

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Somewhere in Atlanta, Ga., there should be a niche in a special hall of fame for Mrs. H. R. Butler, widow of a pioneer Negro physician of that city, and mother of Dr. R. H. Butler, Jr., a heart specialist now practicing in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Butler was in Washington from July 28 to August 2, attending the 50th anniversary convention of the National Federation of Colored Women's Clubs at the 19th st. Baptist church, where she was present at the first meeting of the organization.

Visiting at national headquarters of the American Red Cross, she received the commendation of Mrs. Mason Colt, administrator of Volunteer Special Services, for her work as director of Red Cross Gray Ladies at Fort Huachuca, Ariz., where her son was a physician during World War II.

But that isn't all. Mrs. Butler was founder and first president of the National Congress of Colored Parents and Teachers in Atlanta in 1926, and for 20 years has worked with this organization. She has just returned from Durham, N. C., where she attended the national convention of Negro P.T.A. YWCA work also has been one of her interests.

Nor has Mrs. Butler's activity been confined to this country. In 1937, when her son received a Rosenwald fellowship to work at London hospital, his mother went too, spending her energy in a variety of community affairs, including the Nursery Schools of Great Britain, a national organization for the children of working mothers. Here she met Thelma Harriott, executive director, under whose leadership she worked.

At the outbreak of the war, when Mrs. Butler went to Fort Huachuca with her son, she took the 20 lessons sponsored by the Red Cross for Gray Lady training. The 19 doctors at the fort participated in the training, and Mrs. Butler said that she felt as if she had had a condensed university course. Eight other Negro women took the Gray Lady course with her.

Asked which of her organization contacts she thought most important, she answered, "All."

Mrs. Butler lives at 20 Boulevard, N. E., Atlanta.

Basic Necessities Add Dash and Glamour To the Summer Debutante Wardrobe

Girls, if you budget your money carefully when buying the basic necessities, you might have a little money left over to buy a few extras that add glamour to a wardrobe and help stretch it out.

There are many fine things we would like to have, but after all, Rome wasn't built in a day and neither is a good wardrobe. The freshman will want to remember that it won't be necessary to buy basic necessities every year; therefore, she should be able to accumulate a large assortment of things with each succeeding year.

A pair of pedal-pushers made of good-looking material and accompanied by a good leather belt are a fine "extra" investment. They can be worn for bicycling, skating or just lounging. Slacks and knickers fall in the same category.

Belts are quite the rage this season and a simple, wide, light tan cowhide belt would be wonderful with any skirt or dress. Striped taffeta and printed silk scarfs are good in the scarf line; and the good old woolen standbys too, add chic and warmth to your outfits.

For a bright and fresh look add to your collection of sweaters one or two jacquards whose unique designs make wonderful conversational pieces. Add a pair of the popular ballet slippers to your school and date shoes, or the very new elf bootees made of suede.

Plaid is quite popular, you see; so you will want some Highland plaid gaiters and a long-handled plaid umbrella. For night "bull sessions," slumber parties, or just lounging, a pair of ultra swank pajamas will rate you at the top of the list.

Old Fashioned Hay Ride Highlights Outing

☆ Youth Activities Throughout The Nation ☆

Edited by Yvonne Shepherd

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum, John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

I received this very interesting letter through the mail and I want to offer it as an encouragement to all Negro Youth interested in the writing profession.

My dear Phyllis:

I have noted certain articles about outstanding Negroes, or the Negro in general, appearing in some of the better publications recently. I have wondered if this is merely an accidental literary trend, or the beginning of skillful propaganda to enlighten those of us who do not know that such people exist.

It is unfortunate that very few colored people are publicized except those who run afoul with the law, or some extreme cultists. The "veil" that Dr. DuBois mentions, quite frequently, in his writings is only one of two "veils." The second one being a lack of knowledge which amounts, almost, to ignorance and beclouds the vision of even fair-minded people. In my own personal contacts, I have been amazed to find even Negroes who were unfamiliar with some of the splendid characters of their race. We are taught very little about the Negro race in our white schools, and material available for research in the public libraries is comparatively meager.

I believe it would be a great source of encouragement to their own people, as well as a long needed enlightenment of the white race, if a concerted effort were made to keep hitting the headlines with articles about what the Negro has done and is now contributing to America. I do not know just what the functions of the NAACP are. If they are what the name of the organization connotes, I am sure they are powerful enough to get behind this idea.

It is not enough to have such articles appear only in Negro magazines and newspapers! They must be placed before the white reader to obliterate that second "veil"! I have been able to completely reverse the attitude of many of my friends and business associates, merely by telling them what I have learned about the Negro race because I was sufficiently interested to dig it out for myself. I sincerely believe that by appealing to the intelligence of the public, much can be done to improve racial relations.

No intelligence could ever be a more sterile soil in which to sow the seeds of understanding than mine once was. Born in a southern home, in my childhood I didn't hear the colored race referred to by the dignified name of "NEGRO." They were "niggers," "inkies," "smokes," or "burr-head"! I blush with shame when I recall how filled I was with bigotry, prejudice, even hate! All of this because I had been completely misinformed about the Negro race.

In the talks we have had since I introduced myself to you at the Radio Writers Workshop, I'm sure you realize that I have completely stamped out these unlovely traits. The reversal of my attitude came entirely through an intelligent understanding. I enjoy living more because of it. Now I am intolerant of only one thing. That vicious, unclean thing is "intolerance" itself!

In your groups, Phyllis, I am sure you have capable Negro writers. Tell them my idea of counter-propaganda to offset the adverse publicity the papers seem to enjoy printing about your people. If there is anything I can do to help in such a movement, you may be assured of my cooperation.

With warm personal regards, I am,

Your sincere friend,

ALBERTA WINDER.

Friendship Committee Still Picketing Biased Bath House

The Interracial Friendship committee has been picketing the Bimini Baths, attempting to break down the wall of discrimination that has been built against people not of the Caucasian race.

A picket line formed in front of the place on Sunday at 3 p.m. When the pickets went into action the baths were crowded. As the customers began to leave they questioned the reason for the picket lines, vigorously protesting.

But conspicuous among those protesting was Lester Lind, a teamster of the A. F. of L., who said, "It will be a cold day in h—— before I'll take another bath in Mimini."

The Volunteers, prominent concert quartet and Enterprise recording artists, under the direction of Norman Brooks, will be presented in sacred concert this Sunday night, August 18, at 7:45 at their home church, Trinity Baptist church, West 36th and Normandie.

These men sing a cappella, using original arrangements of Negro spirituals, Gospel and folk songs. Their excellent work has made them much in demand for engagements and concert appearances before leading civic organizations, service clubs and churches.

The Trinity Baptist church especially invites its members and friends to give them an overflow audience this Sunday night.

HARMONY IN A FLAT!—That is the title of the second annual musical revue of the Eastside Youth theatre which deals with the housing shortage. Lena Horne, lovely MGM screen star, is shown discussing the play with the mixed cast of youngsters. It is hoped that parents and children of the community will pack the auditorium for every performance.

On August 23 a group of 120 boys will embark for Camp Little Green Valley, situated high up in the San Bernardino mountains. That leaves only six days to register. Camp dates are August 23 to 30, and the cost is $17.50, including transportation.

This year's program is the finest ever offered by the branch with trained counsellors and program specialists to do the job. Emory L. Cain, Branch Boys' work director, will direct the camp personally along with his assistant directors, Frank Donaldson and Richard Adams.

The camp's physical facilities offer features such as modern cabins, assembly hall, dining lodge, sanitary facilities, heated swimming pool, athletic field, and nature trails. The program has been designed to provide activities different from any that are offered in the city. They include archery, horsebackriding, nature study, nature craft, hiking, boating, swimming, outdoor chapel, campfire and rag ceremonies and many others. The program also includes good food and lots of wholesome rest.

Invite Lincoln Teacher to Professional Society Meet

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—The Alpha Upsilon Chapter of Pi Lambda Theta, Honor and Professional Society for Women in Education, has invited Miss Regina Goff, assistant professor of education at Lincoln university (Mo.) to participate in the sessions of the Biennial Council at Teachers college in Greeley, Colorado, August 18-21 inclusive.

The expense-paid invitation to Miss Goff is somewhat a departure from practice with the organization, although membership of Negroes is welcomed. The action supports the 1946 theme—Better relationship among international groups as well as a more cooperative relationship among international groups as well as a more cooperative relationship among minority groups in our own national life.

The official invitation is extended by Miss Elsie B. Cantwell, President, Teachers College Columbia University. Miss Goff will fly to Greeley.

Condemn USC for Tuition Fee Raise

Condemning the dual action of the University of Southern California in raising its tuition fees while rejecting veteran's housing units made available to it by the Federal Public Housing Authority, the Intercollegiate Council of Los Angeles American Youth for Democracy this week called on all students in California to join in protesting the moves and prepared to help organize student action to force the University to reverse its stands.

Jerry O'Connor, newly elected chairman of the local Intercollegiate AYD, pointed out that although USC has more veterans enrolled than any other school in California, it is the only institution in the state which has turned down all the housing offered to it by the FPHA.

'Twilight Classes' Boon for Veterans

Beginning September 16, City college will be offering "twilight" classes to accommodate veterans. These classes will be conducted from 4 to 10 p.m., duplicating daytime classes. This will enable the veteran to attend school under the GI bill and at the same time supplement his government allowances with daytime jobs.

DR. E. W. JACOBSEN

Dr. Einar W. Jacobson, new president of City college at 855 N. Vermont, made this initial announcement as he took over his duties last week in preparation for the fall term.

An increase of 3000 students is anticipated over City college's closing enrollment in June of 4,200 Non-veterans may also attend the "twilight" classes.

'The Bat' with All-Negro Cast To Play Musart

Jack Present and Harry Zevin who have successfully presented a series of comedy attractions at the Musart theatre are now casting for a revival of "The Bat" with all-colored cast.

"The Bat" is considered one of the most outstanding comedy mysteries ever offered to playgoers. The attendance figure for this play over a number of years runs into the millions. When the old Mason Opera House was in its prime here, "The Bat" was one of the top box office record holders. This revival, scheduled for a mid-September opening at the Musart, will mark the first time "The Bat" has been produced locally in several years. Also it is probably the first time with an all-Negro star cast.

BRIGHT STAR—Carol Brice, who possesses a golden voice, recently appeared with the Boston Symphony orchestra in a program which was broadcast coast to coast.

AMUSEMENT BRIEFS

FOR HER SOUVENIRS

Greer Garson has an antique French buffet with a glass front and top standing in a corner of her bedroom. In it she keeps gifts from fans including everything from a simple crocheted bag made for her by an elderly woman in Scotland to expensive jewelry from famous admirers.

LADY IN RED

JUNE IN SWEATER

For casual wear, June Allyson dons a periwinkle blue sweater that zips up the front. The bodice is shirred into a sunburst effect. June, whose next screen role is in M-G-M's "High Barbaree," wears a navy flannel gored skirt with this sweater. An interesting addition is the knitted turban that matches the sweater.

Susan Hayward and Marsha Hunt are feuding but it's for screen purposes only. In "Smash-Up," their current picture, they're scheduled to stage a face-scratching hair-pulling battle.

Eugene Gash Expected to Pack Independent Tonight

Eugene Gash, brilliant young concert pianist of Denver, Colo., arrived in Los Angeles Tuesday morning by TWA plane, for his recital at the Peoples Independent Church of Christ, East 18th and Paloma streets, tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. This mid-summer musical treat is being sponsored by the Cosmos Club, outstanding organization of the city, which lists some of the most talented young men of the city on its membership roll.

According to Don Barksdale, UCLA basketball star and artist, who is program chairman of the affair, a heavy advance sale of tickets has been noted in the last few days and all indications point to a successful affair. He wishes to point out, however, that tickets will be available at the door for those who failed to purchase theirs in advance. Many AKA boule visitors are expected to attend, as well as music students.

The young pianist, who excited rave notices from every New York daily paper when he played an engagement at Town Hall, will be making his Los Angeles debut. He has selected a varied program favoring the works of Debussy, Chopin and Beethoven. Gash has played with the Denver Symphony orchestra as guest pianist and may get an invitation to serve as guest with the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra during the fall season.

Music lovers of the city are expected to turn out en masse for this affair, which in reality is a Carnegie Hall attraction. Tonight is the night to hear Eugene Gash, the "Bronze Paderewski," and the admission prices are the most reasonable ever offered for an attraction of this magnitude. Make your plans now to attend.

PLAYS HERE TONIGHT—Eugene Gash, brilliant young concert pianist, will be presented in recital by the Cosmos club tonight (Thursday) at the Peoples Independent Church of Christ, East 18th and Paloma street. All indications point to a sell-out affair.

IF IT'S NEWS IT'S HERE

The dinner for the Press in the beautiful Rose Room of the Morris Hotel Monday nite rates an orchid from our bouquet, without a doubt. . . . Jack Cunningham, the new owner and manager of the Grill, hails from the Windy City and is now in complete charge along with the efficient aid of Mr. Anderson. The food is delicious, the atmosphere is perfect, and the entertainment tops, but above all, the personality and smile of Jack Cunningham will "knock you out." . . . The Two Hot Shots "Sneeks and Amield" are doin' great in the Big Apple. . . . Artie (playboy) Graves has his hand all bandaged, uh, huh, your first guess is probably right (she talked when she should have been listening). . . . Just like we predicted Johnny Otis and band are taking the El Grotto over completely. . . . It's sure great seeing Archie Savage back in circulation again, tho Archie is planning to head east (New Yawk) of course. . . . Don't know when I've been so knocked out as I was when watching the versatile and handsome Arthur Duncan entertain at the press dinner the ether even'g. . . . His act is 4-star stuff and he'll hit the top of the theatrical ladder of success, or my name isn't Gertrude Lomax Gipson!! . . . When Taylor Cooper opens his Finale Club Friday, August 0, and you can't find your friends no where, you can bet your last dollar, that with this stellar attraction he is to present, the whole town will be right there. . . . Lois Evans' Cocker Spaniel died last week, it should have been Talmadge, Rankin and Bilbo. . . . Dizzy Gillespie and band have moved into St. Louis' Rivieria Club for a three-week stand. . . . Understand I made "front page headlines" in The Tri-County Bulletin concerning a little statement in our column last week (oh well, any kind of publicity is good publicity) thanks Smitty, ha, ha. . . . Joe Shipp, popular masseur, is back in town again, that's probably the reason I have this unusual pain in my vertebra, ahem!! . . .

FROM A NEWSGIRL'S NOTEBOOK

Enjoyed the column of fellow scribe Paul McGee who now does a bit of scribbling for Hhe Herald Oakland weekly . . . What's to the rumor that connects socially popular Gladys Dent and the son of a prominent minister? . . . Snooks and Allen opened in Seattle last week . . . The prettiness of Geraldine Mann has an editor in a daze or somethin the other even'g (or was it a overdose of spring fever) . . . The delegates of the boule are having the time of their lives out here in the Angel City and you can believe it when I say the Angel City sorors are going all out in their efforts to see that not a stone is left unturned . . . The Berry Bros. have a new craz-dance act that stops the show nitely at the Chi Rhumboogie . . . When she's real angry Libby Clark Williams (Courier staff) will stomp her tootsies and use some unusual words from her large vocabulary . . . What has Bettie Grable got that Dottie Woodson hasn't got? Oh! I mean Harry James . . . Because our wealthy, handsome unc Sid Dones told us to follow our doc's orders completly until dismissed (and we did), he decided it was worth $500 (gee! but we're a lucky little dirl!) . . . All the press agrees that Mr. Evans (he's the manager of the Lincoln Theatre) is tops ! ! . . . When speaking to Jessie Mae (Soc. Ed.) Dorothy Maynor, Dunbar to Appear Here On August 22

One o the most notable concerts in the history of Hollywood Bowl will be given Aug. 22 when Dorothy Maynor, celebrated soprano, and Rudolph Dunbar, internationally known conductor, appear as features of the Silver Jubilee Season of Symphonies under the Stars.

The Los Angeles Urban League is sponsoring the visit of the two celebrated Negro artists and is directing attention to thousands of this outstanding musical event.

Miss Maynor, skyrocketed into fame a few years ago when Serge Koussevitzky, conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra acclaimed her rare artistry and vocal accomplishments. Born in British Guiana, Rudolph Dunbar received his early musical education in the United States.

He was sent abroad to study with the renowned Felix Weingartner and others and later wrote a treatise on music. He became known to thousands of Negroes as War Correspondent for the Negro Press during World War II.

When he conducted last year for the London Philharmonic and the Paris Symphony, he won plaudits of critics and public alike. He made such a profound impression that he was invited to become permanent conductor of the Berlin Philharmonic.

Among other works to be played on his Bowl program Aug. 22 will be the Afro-American Symphony by William Grant Still, well known Negro Composer of Los Angeles.

Sabu, on leave from Universal to make a picture for Alexander Korda in London, writes friends that he won't complete his assignment until late August and doesn't expect to be back in Hollywood until the end of September.

Now Playing at United Artists

Dan Duryea's coming back to town and bringing June Vincent and Peter Lorre with him. The new merchant of menace, who hit a new high for feminine fan mail on the strength of his work in "Woman in the Window" and "Scarlet Street," will be starred for the first time in Universal's "Black Angel," which is now playing at the United Artists Theatre, 933 So. Broadway, downtown Los Angeles. The second feature is "Wild Beauty."

Ginger Rogers, who danced her way to fame and fortune as the Charleston Queen, does a very dignified minuet with David Niven in "Magnificent Doll."

Lionel Hampton Night Slated At Club Alabam

When Lionel (King of the Vibes) Hampton comes to town with his swingsational band next week, all of swingdom will be anxiously awaiting. The mayor of Central avenue, Curtis Mosby, will have a special show honoring the Hamp on Friday night, Aug. 23. Don't forget, for a night of solid entertainment be there at the Club Alabam on Friday night, August 23.

EAST-WEST BASEBALL CLASSIC SUNDAY EVE

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

SPORTS JAMBALAYA

Supervisor Leonard Roach issued the statement from his office last weekend that if a petition had been presented to the Board of Supervisors asking that the Los Angeles Dons pro grid team be barred from the Los Angeles Coliseum because of racial discrimination it was "news to him." However, Roach, when the Dons were granted permission to play in the Coliseum indicated his belief that the team should not discriminate against Negro players. This writer signed the said petition and cannot understand why it hasn't yet reached the Board of Supervisors.

LET'S GET AWAY FROM IT ALL

There are 12 hectic months in every year. A lot of us work the entire 12 without let-up. This is wrong. We work eight hours or more daily and except for those who try to burn the candle at both ends by carousing far, far into the night, the majority of us get about 10 hours or more sleep out of every 24 hours. Just as that is necessary, so is it a "must" that we take at least two weeks off each year to indulge in complete relaxation. The best method is to get away from your immediate environment, in other words, get out of town. Preferably go to a beach resort. In such a place you not only can get to play games like tennis, badminton and other outdoor sports but you can fish, swim and get a good tan with the entire ocean at your beck and call. If you work 12 months yearly you'll probably wind up with butterflies in your belfry when the winter months roll around again, unable to perform your duties as they should be performed, a drawback both to yourself and your employer. By all means take a vacation—you know you want one, so why not take it?

SPORTS TIDBITS

Jack Chase, former state middleweight and light-heavyweight champion, divides his time between training and seconding several fighters he has under his wing and doing a bang-up job at landscaping and renovating. He is just about the most energetic former fighter we've seen. He's probably got quite a few good fights under his belt yet but we think he did the wise thing to quit while he could still walk a straight line. . . . One of the most popular ex-fighters in town is Dynamite Jackson. He has countless friends but he can always take time out to talk to any one of them at any time. Dynamite, as you probably know, is the only Negro referee licensed by the state of California. . . . Charley Riley, out-of-towner who boasts a record of 42 wins in 43 bouts, is on the coast seeking shots at Enrique Bolanos, Carlos Chavez, Fabella Chavez and Speedy Cabanella. This sepia-hued featherweight has only had one loss, according to reports, and this to Jackie Graves, the nation's No. 3 featherweight. . . . Riley must be a heck of a good fighter, considering the competition he's seeking.

ALL HAIL WATSON JONES!

There have been times when this writer has panned Watson Jones because of poor showings made in fights and we are glad to say that he took it like a gentleman. We never have fallen out. Now on the strength of his great fight against Tommy Garland at the Olympic last week we want to say some nice things about Watson. We only panned him because we knew he had the makings of a real fighter and we hated to see him throwing his talent to the winds. He vindicated himself in our eyes last week. He is a great fighter and if he can stick to his declaration that he is through playing around with the game and intends to battle from now on in, we are behind him 100%. He's got the stuff and he can deliver like nobody's business when the spirit moves him and we hope the spirit continues to move him. There have been times when he rose to great heights, principally when he knocked Fitzy Fitzpatrick kicking in one round and again when he shook Jimmy Bivins up considerably in a bout against that top-ranking battler here. With the idea in mind of the world's light-heavyweight championship, a serious training program, and last but far from least, the cooperation of the local matchmakers in securing capable opponents for him, we think Jones will really go places, and it is not far-fetched to say that he may win the title. We think that even now he can stand up and give a good account of himself against any guy in his weight in the nation.

SPORTS IN SHORTS

Joe Waterman, who formerly promoted fights at Portland, Ore., is the new impressario at Ocean Park arena, and judging from all accounts he's a good guy and has been placed in a spot where he will excel.

FINAL ADD

Woody Strode's play at end for the Los Angeles Rams has been positively sensational, according to reports. Strode is showing plenty speed and ability to hang onto spirals in practice sessions and it is fairly certain that when the weeding out process begins Woody will get a permanent berth with the world champions. Meanwhile on the same team Kenny Washington is giving outstanding performances in practice scrimmages. Last Saturday in a practice game Kenny got away on a naked reverse and could have gone 60 yards to score. He also tossed a 40-yard pass to Jim Benton... The State Athletic Commission is holding up the wrestling permit of Primo Carnera until an investgation is made and a telegraphic vote of the commissioners is taken, which should be completed by Aug. 16. The big Italian is in Los Angeles, having arrived from Italy recently... According to Al Wolf in his Times Sportraits column of last Saturday Henry Armstrong went unrecognized as he walked down the aisle at Madison Square Garden recently... The California duck hunting season is Oct. 26 to Dec. 9 in Modoc, Lassen and Siskiyou counties, and Nov. 23 to Jan. 6 in the rest of the State. The bag limit is seven and the possession limit 14... Our old friend Satchel Paige, pitching for the Kansas City Monarchs against the Bushwicks recently, drew the largest crowd of the season at New York's Dexter Park... The fourteenth annual East-West baseball classic will be played at Comiskey Park in Chicago on Sunday afternoon, August 18. The greatest stars of the race baseball world are slated to do their stuff on that date and a tremendous crowd is expected.

American, Nat. League Stars Clash in Washington Tonite

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—Every position will be manned by a topflight player when the Negro National and American Leagues' stars clash at Griffith Stadium in the All-Star baseball classic Thursday night, August 15, before an estimated 25,000 fans.

The NAL representatives, all Western clubs, include the Birmingham Black-Barons, Cincinnati Clowns, Cleveland Buckeyes, Kansas City Monarchs, Memphis Red Sox and Chicago American Giants, while the NNL teams are the Washington Homestead Grays, Philadelphia Stars, Baltimore Elite Giants, Newark Eagles, New York Cubans and New York Black Yankees.

Heading the list of players from the NAL are Pitcher Dan Bankhead, brother of the Grays' shortstop, Sam, and one of the three Bankhead brothers in the league.

TO BRIGHTEN COLISEUM

Brighter lights will be installed in the Los Angeles Coliseum by October. An 1100-foot [illegible]-power system is planned.

Mrs. Van Beuren eliminated Eleese Thornton, also of Los Angeles, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3, in the semi-finals.

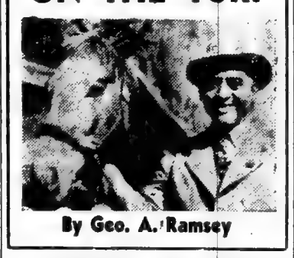
ON THE TURF



By Geo. A. Ramsey

HIPODROMO DE TIJUANA—A crowd of more than 8,000 fans witnessed one of the best programs of 12 races staged at the border course in many months on American Legion day. The legionaires were guests of General Manager Agustin Silveyra, who presented the leaders of American Legion Post No. 6 of San Diego a check for $1000 for their expenses to the convention at San Francisco next month.

The feature event of the day, known as the American Legion Handicap, at one mile was won by that promising 3-year-old Pere Fly, beating the favorite Gray Head. Cadmium was second after showing in front until the eight pole, with Jess Greencock third. The winner paid $8.20 while the place horse paid $21.00 and the show nag, $14.60.

In the secondary feature, the 40 and 8 at 5½ furlongs, the winner was Evenspun, beating the hot favorite Dinkum. The winner paid $6.60 and ran the distance in 1:05 3-5. The daily double backers received $160.60 when Alpine Tizona won the second race and Son o' Betty the third. The quiniela was a popular victory for the fans and rewarded $17.80 with Wise Fox first and Whiteford Own second.

Riding honors of the day went to Jockey Frankie Novello, who was astride four winners. Another card of 12 races has been arranged by presiding stewart and director of racing Judge James J. Murphy for this Sunday. The feature attraction will be "the Lepo" at 7 furlongs for a purse of $2000 added and the supporting feature will be "the Kahaki" at 1 mile and 70 yards. The La Jolla Handicap will be the feature attraction at Del Mar this Saturday. So long, George.

Angel Bowl Association Will Stage Big Grid Game Dec. 28

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

At an informal press luncheon in the Blue Room of the Clark Hotel Monday afternoon the plans of the Angel Bowl Association were outlined by officials of the organization before representatives of the various weekly papers of the city. The Angel Bowl Association was formed with the idea of bringing a big national football game to Wrigley Field here on December 28, featuring two outstanding teams selected from the CIAA Conference, Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, Southwestern or Midwest Conferences.

The various sports writers of this city and the cities or towns in which these teams play will decide which teams are to be brought here.

Comet D. Wynn, who is publicity chairman of the association, acted as master of ceremonies and introduced first, John A. Hardee, president, who spoke briefly, and then other officials of the organization. Edgar S. Browne, vice-president, outlined the plan of the association, and Rev. L. F. Hardee, Southern representative, spoke on the idea. Coach Fred Long of Wiley College, Marshall, Tex., in town with his wife, who is attending the AKA boule, also gave his views. Others present who spoke briefly were: Mrs. Mildred Southall, secretary of the association, Lorea Johnson of the Egyptian Temple; Edward (Abie) Robinson, Leon Washington and Herman Hill, newsmen, Eddie Burbridge and Martinez Hewlett of The California EAGLE and George King of Kansas City, visiting in Los Angeles.

Clyde Woods shot several pictures of the gathering and a delicious repast was enjoyed by all attending this notable affair.

Crescents Play Giants Sunday

CINCINNATI, Ohio—Riding the crest of a strong popularity wave here in Cincinnati off their brilliant showings, W. S. Welch's Cincinnati Crescents return to Crosley Field Sunday afternoon, August 18, for a double-header with the Chicago American Giants.

. . . On the Baseball Front

ST. LOUIS — Plans are going ahead for the sensational Negro American League baseball show scheduled into Sportsman's Park here Friday night, August 30, when Satchel Paige and the Kansas City Monarchs take on the Indianapolis Clowns.

From the vast amount of interest being shown in the gala night, it is highly likely that last year's crowd of 31,000 that saw the Clowns win an extra-inning thriller from the Birmingham Black Barons here will be surpassed.

NEW YORK—The popular Indianapolis Clowns of the Negro American League make their first Yankee Stadium appearance of the season, Sunday, August 18, when they join with the Negro National League's New York Cubans and New York Black Yankees in a huge three-team doubleheader.

The doubleheader is expected to draw one of the largest crowds of the season to the big park. The Clowns made a terrific hit here the last several seasons.

Willis Will Get Pro Grid Tryout

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio—(NNPA)—Bill Willis, former Ohio State All-American tackle, will be given a tryout by the Cleveland Browns of the All-America conference, it was announced last week.

Expect Huge Crowd to Jam Comiskey Park For Contest

CHICAGO—All of the talk is on the fourteenth annual renewal of the East-west baseball classic at Comiskey Park on Sunday afternoon, August 18, at 3 p. m. when the greatest stars of the Race baseball world will do their stuff before a huge crowd.

Will the West make it three in a row?

Can the mighty eastern hitters tie up the series?

Will it be Josh Gibson, Gentry Jessup or a newcomer to East-West competition who will be the particularly outstanding star in this year's renewal.

Those are some of the questions one hears on every side as the day of the classic draws nearer—questions that will be answered only when the mighty squads square off for the big showdown.

From all parts of the country and Canada, fans are coming in for the red-letter day, all eager to be in on the brilliant event.

As is traditional, the big day will be preceded by many outstanding social functions and parties. Many of the Chicago folk are entertaining out-of-towners in for the gala occasion as house guests.

Carlos Chavez Defeats Leanos

Carlos Chavez, the California state featherweight champion, scored an easy 10-round decision over Juan Leanos, 129, of Torreon, Mex., before a crowd of 7000 Tuesday night at the Olympic.

Leanos was a gamester and did not back away from Chavez at any time but the visitor could not match the ring savvy of the champ. Leanos put on a spurt in the final round but the decision was already safely tucked away by Chavez.

Garfield Coleman, 158½, technically kayoed Gunnar Mitchell, 163, in the fourth stanza of the scheduled 6-round semi-windup.

K. C. Monarchs Lose to Newark

NEWARK, N. J.—(NNPA)—Treating Ole Satch Paige harshly, the Newark Eagles early last week defeated the Kansas City Monarchs, 7-4, at Ruppert Field.

Paige was withdrawn from the mound after three innings. But he did not disappoint his admirers while he worked. He scorched the plate with his fast one and drew applause after every pitch.

But the Eagles didn't have the respect for the ole Satch that his reputation deserved. In the second inning Monty Irvin committed the sacrilege of slamming one of Paige's offerings into center field and then scoring when he beat out a rundown between third and home. Again in the third inning Paige was insulted by three clouts to right field by Day, Patterson and Irvin which accounted for another run.

BOXING BRIEFS

IKE WILLIAMS, N.B.A. lightweight champ, will be recognized as the undisputed titleholder if he beats Ronnie James, the British champion, at Cardiff, Wales, early in September.

BEAU JACK is scheduled to fight Tony Janiro at Madison Square Garden in New York City, November 1.

Billy Smith to Battle Zander

Oakland Billy Smith goes to the post Tuesday night, August 20, in the 10-round main event at the Olympic against Bobby Zander and plenty fur is expected to fly, as both boys are classy leather tossers. Though Smith is expected to rule a favorite, Zander will not be lacking for supporters because of his stellar past performances.

Matchmaker Babe McCoy has also arranged an excellent card of preliminary bouts to precede the main event.

Escobar Winner Over Cabanella

Al Escobar, 126, scored a unanimous 10-round decision over Speedy Cabanella, 123, in the main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night.

Cabanella, a Filipino, could not match the speed and boxing cleverness of the Mexican youth, who started pulling away midway during the bout and was never headed.

Results of the four-rounders—Nick Diaz, 128, dec. Charlie Johnson, 126; Emery Jackson, 161, dec. Henry Rich, 159½; Billy Mayfield, 156½, dec. Frankie Calzo, 158½, and Marshall Nance, 162½, dec. Cupid Gordon, 161½.

Holman Williams Loses Tough One to La Motta

DETROIT—Holman Williams, 35-year-old middleweight ace, dropped a 10-round decision to Jake La Motta, 162, of New York, before a sell-out crowd of 16,000 at University of Detroit Stadium last Wednesday night. Williams weighed 160.

The verdict was roundly booed by many of the fans, who saw Williams put on a rousing rally in the late rounds which should have at least earned him a draw.

Havana Nine to Battle Seattle

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—A sensational race show is scheduled here at Nicollet Park, Minneapolis' American Association park, Sunday afternoon, August 18, when the Havana La Palomas take on the Seattle Steelheads in a double-header. The two games will be augmented by a personal appearance of Jess Owens, who is scheduled to race against a horse.

Siki In Draw

Reginald Siki, Sepia wrestler who has created quite a record here recently, battled Sandor Szabo to a draw on the card at the Olympic Auditorium last Wednesday night.

Jackson Beaten

SAN GRANCISCO—Larry Carter, 156, San Francisco, outpointed Ran Jackson, 160, Baton Rouge, La., in a slugging bee last Friday night to take a close six-round decision.

Bobby Jackson Fights Friday

Bobby Jackson, clever lightweight who defeated Roscoe Scally at Hollywood Legion Stadium recently, comes back to the same arena to do battle with Al Merdano in the 10-round main event Friday night. Medrano recently dropped a disputed decision up north to the hard-punching Frankie Moore.

Memphis Sox in Win Over Eagles

NEWARK, N. J. — (NNPA) — The Memphis Red Sox of the Negro American League, overwhelmed the Newark Eagles last Thursday night at Ruppert Stadium, 11-4. The Eagles put on a comedy of errors. This coupled with a sensational bunting attack by Memphis gave the visitors the contest.

Grays Defeat Monarchs, 3-2

PHILADELPHIA — (NNPA) — Minus the services of Josh Gibson, the Homestead Grays took a thrilling 3-2 game from the Kansas City Monarchs at Shibe Park last week before 12,435 fans in the opening half of a four-team twin bill.

In the nightcap the Philly Stars and the Cleveland Buckeyes battled to a 10-10 tie.

So. Youth Congress Holds Atlanta Rally

ATLANTA — A representative audience of Atlanta citizens recently turned out to a rally called by the Southern Negro Youth Congress at Friendship Baptist church of which Dr. Maynard Jackson is pastor. There were more than 20 churches and civic organizations represented to hear James E. Jackson from the national headquarters of the SNYC.

The speaker analyzed the outrageous mas murder of Roger Malcolm, George Dorsey, and their wives by a mob of armed gunmen. He called for a mass campaign on the part of all individuals and organizations of Atlanta to put pressure upon the "indolent" Dept. of Justice to bring the lynchers to justice.

Dr. Jackson declared that, ". . . they want to forestall the growing unity between the oppressed Negroes, progressive whites and the organized labor movement. They want to drown the promising new south in a sea of Negro blood." In a dramatic appeal he asked the people to organize for unity and fruther the alliance between the Negro people, the labor movement, and white progressives.

Church, Press Lag In Fight on Racism, Says Father Dunne

Neither the Church nor the Press has fulfilled its obligations to the community by combatting race hatred, discrimination and restrictive covenants, Father George Dunne, of Loyola university, told a membership meeting of the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild last Sunday morning in the Musart Theatre, Figueroa and Pico. He added that the unions, too, had fallen down on the job, with the exception of some CIO unions.

He was appalled, Father Dunne said, at the extent to which "poisonous philosophy," is abroad in the U. S. today. While the fomentors of race hatred are extremely active in our midst, theer is a great deal of apathy on the part of those of us who should oppose them, he said.

He warned that the pre; conditions for fascism exist in this country, pointed out that there is far more race hatred here than existed in pre-Hitler Germany. And yet, he said, decent people are doing very little about it, yhile those who raise the alarm are assailed as Communists.

The militant priest, who received a standing ovation at the close of his address, called upon the working Press to spearhead the fight against racism.

Western Baptist Women Re-elect Mrs. Blanch Carter President

The women's department of the Western Baptish State convention came to a close Friday evening, following a series of interesting sessions.

The youth movement, chaired by Mrs. Marie Sheffield, an enthusiastic leader of young people, set the pace, followed by a Women's Day program on Thursday. At this session women of various missionary societies turned out in large numbers. Many of them obeying the president's request, that they wear white. St. Paul Baptist church, Los Angeles, received the award for having the largest number present, and San Diego delegation was awarded for having come the greatest distance.

The president, Mrs. Blanch Carter, addressed the body, giving strong advice and gratification to all who worked with her the past year. Other addresses were given by Murial Duncans and Princess Atalos, who spoke at the close of the afternoon session and was the guest at a fellowship dinner. A very fine spirit embraced the entire convention; and was climaxed with the return of the president, Mrs. Blanch Carter to the office for the year of 1947. Under her excellent leadership the convention is growing numerically, as well as financially. Baptist women welcome her back as their leader.

Church Group Endorses New Veterans Body

CHICAGO—Support for the program of the United Negro and Allied Veterans of America was given by the executive board of the Fraternal Council of Negro Churches in America meeting at Du Sable High school, August 6-9.

In a resolution adopted by the board, the work of UNAVA was accorded enthusiastic praise, and its program of "fighting for the rights of veterans throughout America" heartily approved.

The resolution authorized the veterans affairs committee of the Council "to work out a plan with the national officers of UNAVA for the purpose of establishing chapters of UNAVA within the churches throughout the country, including financial support to the publication of a pamphlet on the veteran and the church, to the end that unity between church and veteran may find its expression in a common effort to extend and safeguard the freedom of the Negro people in general and the Negro veteran in particular for the preservation of justice, jobs, security and peace."

The Council represents the combined Negro Protestant Church membership of over six million.

Rev. Taylor plans to stop over in Hot Springs, Ark., for a much needed vacation because his church program has been extremely heavy, due to the fact that he has been working continuously on its building program; as we know he is no iron man and deserves considerable consideration. We hope he will get this much needed rest and return to us all refreshed and ready to carry on the great task before him.

In Memoriam

In memory of a devoted wife and loving mother—Mrs. Eealy Young. Passed August 18, 1945.

Poem—"ANOTHER ROOM"

Darling we looked for you last Sunday,
But we looked for you in vain.
"Why didn't we see you? One who never, never complained."
"Darling we loved you, with your cheeks abloom, you are not dead—only sleeping in another room."

There are strange whispered words that are saying.
No, not cold beneath the grasses, not close-walled in the tomb;
Oh Mother dear! These are the words that bring out tears of gloom' "Yes we know you are only, serving in another room!

Home at last, "Yes at last." We'll understand the heart-tearing words.
Your grand poise, your soft caress, will no longer be with your groom.
Rather in your Father's mansion, you'll be living in another room.

Oh! How we miss you, lovely lady, with your smiles so soft, and sweet.
Your tender voice, your winning ways. The quick step of your feet.
Shall we think of death as your doom? No!
You are praying like the one who loves you. Praying in another room.

We will always miss you, lovely lady, with your cheery sweet hello!
It was love in your warm handshake.
On this lonely road we travel here where the strange land looms, stepping o'er the threshold to a bigger and brighter room!

Yes, in our parting and we must, if just for a little while, keep sweet, and lovely as you were here.
While we live on with our trials dear.
Behold you shall meet the bridegroom. Living in your lonely room.

Then some sweet day, some happy day, we'll all meet together again.
Where we'll sing those lovely hosannas, that will end in one grand Amen!
Out of sight, at sweet rest, with the blessed, like a rose in bloom, living in your heavenly room!

Shall we doubt our Father's mercy, O shall we blame our Father's wisdom?
Shall we set in hopeless gloom? When we know, our darling loved ones are living happy in another room.

Sadly missed by your husband and children.

The session unanimously elected Dr. W. P. Carter, pastor of Cavalry Baptist church, Santa Monica, as president of the convention. His wife, Blanche Carter, was unanimously reelected, over her protest, to head the women's auxiliary.

Other officers elected were: Dr. A. C. Capers, executive secretary; Rev. John A. Davis, recording secretary; Rev. E. A. Anderson, treasurer; Lawrence Feliz, statistician; Rev. W. F. Hutcheson, historian; Rev. D. Robert Gofield, auditor.

Vice presidents elected were, Revs. J. L. Branham, William Thomas, and David Campbell.

Auxiliary conventions: Women's Convention, Mrs. Blanche N. Carter, president; Mrs. Bertha Wade, M. Campbell and D. M. Hughes, vice presidents.

Sunday school convention, S. P. Johnson, president.

B. T. U. convention, Eugene Allen, president.

Pianist for convention, Mrs. I. N. Whitten; directress of music, Mrs. Ethel Martin.

The membership of Zion Hill Baptist church proved ideal hosts. Their genial spirit together with the fine appointments of the recently purchased church gave a spirit of optimism to the meeting.

The meeting was called to order by Dr. H. B. Thomas of Santa Monica, president-emeritus of the convention.

Reports to the meeting showed that foreign and home missions have been served in a liberal manner by the convention. Religious education and training have been under the direction of Rev. Horace N. Mays, director of the department of education, and Rev. F. H. James, missionary evangelist. The Youth Congress conducted in November and the summer camp held this month furnished helpful religious training for the young people, it was stressed.

When you are so devoted to doing what is right that you press straight on to that and disregard what men are saying about you, there is the triumph of moral courage. — Phillips Brooks.

Christian Science Sunday Theme 'Soul'

"My soul doth magnify the Lord, and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour." This quotation from Luke's Gospel will be the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Soul" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

According to Matthew, "Jesus . . . went up into a mountain, . . . And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them." Mark's Gospel relates, "And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him to put his hand upon him. . . . And looking up to heaven, he sighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened. And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes, "Like the great Exemplar, the healer should speak to disease as one having authority over it, leaving Soul to master the false evidences of the corporeal senses and to assert its claims over mortality and disease. The same Principle cures both sin and sickness."

The sapling bends to the breeze, while the sturdy oak, with form and inclination fixed, breasts the tornado.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Huge Rally Closes Successful NAACP Membership Drive Here

"No man is truly free so long as his neighbor lives in fear and no man is innocent of crime who does not act against it." With these words Lena Horne launched a spirited attack against mob violence and Jim Crow to a capacity audience at the mass rally of the NAACP last Sunday afternoon, at Independent church. The meeting marked the close of the 1946 NACP Membership Campaign which netted close to 14,000 members and $20,000.

Miss Horne pointed out that "the Bilbos, the Rankins, and the Talmadges are afraid ,because they see the handwriting on the wall". She urged that we fight against lynch terror and every other indignity with all the power at our command through our national and local organizations, with public mass demonstrations, resolutions, petitions, deelgations, and votes. Said Miss Horne in closing:

"Let us send to congress men who will truly carry out the will of the people. Let us mobilize every Catholic, Jew, Protestant, trade unionist, and every citizen who wants to live in a free world. Together we can make the hesitant leaders of our government fulfil their responsibility."

John R. Williams highlighted the progress of the NAACP in the fight against discrimination, pointing out that 'the work of this organization is no longer carried on by the benevolence of a few philanthropists" but that "we are now generating our own power". Said Williams, "the enthusiasm that Los Angeles shows for NAACP progress is an evidence of how this city fels about mob violence and other kindred pagan evils. Today we are all giving sacrifice and service for what we believe to be a most worthy cause — the NAACP's program to enforce all of the principles embodied in the constitution."

Adam Hat Co. Hikes Gift to Urban League

Jack Dempsey, chairman of the Adam Hat Welfare Committee, announced this week that the Committee has increased to $1500 its contribution to the 1946 appeal of the National Urban League.

In transmitting the gift to Elmo Roper, chairman of the League's fund raising campaign, Dempsey said: "In making this gift, let me take this opportunity to say we thoroughly appreciate the constructive work in which your splendid organization is engaged. In these troubled times, it seems extremely important that men of good will of all races and creeds work harmoniously to build a better society. We heartily endorse your contribution to this effort." The 1946 goal of the Urban League is $231,000.

The Adam Hat Welfare Committee also recently established a two-year fellowship to be administered by the National Urban League. The fellowship provides $2400 for two years graduate study in an accredited school of social work. Competitive examinations for the first award have been held, and the successful candidate will be announced shortly.

TAYLOR TO PARTY

Robert Taylor will celebrate his first birthday since his return from the service with a quiet party at home. Present will be his wife, Barbara Stanwyck, and a few close friends. The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star recently completed his first postwar film, "Undercurrent."

Paper Shortage—Pass This Paper

Film Co.'s Profits More Than Doubled For Past 6 Months

Hollywood's film unions have been given a potent weapon in their fight for higher wages with the release of financial figures by Paramount Pictures, Inc., showing profits for 1946 soaring in an unprecedented manner.

The figures, for the first six months of 1946, show a net income of $21,792,000, as compared with $8,487,000 for a like period in 1945. The tremendous increase resulted in stock dividends more than doubling.

Film unions, asking for higher wages, have repeatedly pointed out that higher wages do not necessarily mean higher prices, and are not inflationary, especially in the film industry. They are expected to use the newly released profit figures to uphold their point. Profits of other Hollywood film companies are expected to closely parallel the Paramount figures.

Luncheon August 24 To Raise Funds for FEPC Campaign Here

A committee of prominent local women this week organized themselves into an FEPC fundraising committee. Their first effort will be a luncheon Saturday, August 24, one o'clock, at the Crystal Center, 4818 S. Avalon blvd.

The price of the luncheon will be $1.25, and those desiring reservations may call VA. 5029.

The committee is composed of Mrs. Ethel Atkinson, Mrs. Pat Alexander, Mrs. Teresa Lindsay, and Mrs. Gus Hawkins.

Willie Shouldn't Have 'Dood' That

When husband Willie rammed a salt shaker down her throat, Mrs. Bertha Clayton, 38, of 1280 East 109th street, called the cops. It wasn't so much that she was hurt—just that Willie "dood it."

The alleged abuse occurred at the breakfast table when Clayton, 39, accused his wife of having in her possession a "strange telephone number." Mrs. Clayton said she had it alright, but that she found it in Willie's pocket — and wanted to know whose it was. At this point, she said, Willie slapped her and let her have it with the salt cellar.

There has been a $131 per capita increase in the national debt since June 30 of last year.

Ben Davis Lauds Foster's Fight For Minorities; Urges Support Of Shrine Mass Meeting Tonight

In a letter to the California EAGLE, Benjamin Davis, Jr., Negro Councilman of New York, thanks the people of Los Angeles for the warm reception accorded him at the January 1, rally he addressed in this city, and urges the widest support for the mass meeting in Shrine auditorium tonight, at which William Z. Foster, national chairman of the Communist party, will be the main speaker.

"I was deeply moved by the progressive fighting unity for democracy and security and peace which the people of Los Angeles have been able to develop, particularly because our people, the Negro people, are an integral and leading part of this movement," Davis writes.

Pointing out that he has been closely associated with Foster for many years, Davis says:

"I can assure you from personal experiences over the years that Foster has been an outstanding leader in all movements which concerned the Negro people. Foster labored unceasingly for the freedom of the Scottsboro boys and Angelo Herndon, and has been outstanding in his leadership of the fight to bring to justice the brutal, fascist murderers and, lynchers of our people.

"As America's foremost labor leader for 45 years, Foster has been a consistent fighter against the lily-white, Jim Crow policies and practices that stifled the American movement, which until the formation of the CIO, prevented the organization of the Negro workers into trade unions."

He closed his letter with the appeal "to afford Foster the reception he deserves by attending the Shrine auditorium mass meeting on August 15."

FEPC Campaign Launched in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO — The Fair Employment Practice Promotion Committee of Greater California, with central offices at 2838 Bush st., San Francisco, and headed by the popular Bay City columnist Edward Vincent Allison, this week announced the inauguration of a "Get Out and Vote Yes" campaign to assure the victory of Proposition No. 11 (the FEPC) on the state ballot this fall.

Allison states there is a dire need for local volunteers to aid in house canvassing and general field work and is urging all interested individuals and organizations to contact him at once.

Some of the activities of volunteers will be the distribution of pledge cards, auto bumper placards and window display signs.

WAR DEPT. MAKES ANOTHER DENIAL

WASHINGTON—Reports that a Negro infantry regiment was housed in Germany in prisoner of war vermin-infected huts and that a Red Cross club was declared off-limits to them because of their color was denied by the war department yesterday.

A complaint concerning the housing, food and alleged race discrimination was lodged with the department by Rep. Adam C. Powell, Democrat, of New York. Replying, Brigadier General Miles Reber, acting chief of the legislative and liaison division, asserted that while the barracks assigned to the 6975th infantry regiment "are not the best, they are habitable." He admitted that the men were served army "B" rations, claimed it was the only practicable ration at the time.

The Red Cross unit was placed off limits "at the direction of the regimental commander," he said, because it was not adequate to serve more than the small unit for which it was intended.

EMBARRASSING MOMENT

Claudette Colbert is still taking a ribbing about her "fashion" interview. After her Irene-designed wardrobe for "The Secret Heart," was ballyhooed to the sky, New York fashion editor came out especially to see the star and her clothes. When said fashion expert arrived on the set, Miss Colbert was arrayed in a ten-year-old sweater and a paint-spattered pair of dungarees!

Home Robbed While She Sought Divorce

Mrs. Francis Faircloth, 33, of 1360 East Washington blvd., took a day off work last week to go down to the city hall to get a divorce from husband Robert.

When she came back she found her flat had been ransacked, and $150 in cash was missing. She called police and told them she believed husband Robert, taking advantage of her trip to the divorce court, had done it.

Robert, who lives at 528 Gladys avenue, has not been arrested.

William Bendix and his wife will be off for New York, as soon as he completes his assignment in "White Tie and Tails."

Youth Luncheon to Aid FEPC Saturday

Youth intends to get behind the FEPC fund-raising committee and help support their activities. Their first effort will be a luncheon to be given at 1 p.m. Saturday, August 17, at the Crystal Center. It's our job to begin to take these responsibilities seriously.

Reduced to its basic elements, the FEPC simply means the right to work regardless of race, creed, or color. We want jobs. We want homes. We want opportunities to expand our culture and become integrated into the whole of society.

This means that we cannot leave the load for the older generation to carry alone; they have shown us the way in which we must go and we must now act upon it.

It was the youth who fought this war and it will be up to the youth to make the world safe to live in. To minimize the importance of this thing is both foolhardy and dangerous. With native Fascism stirring up strife and creating dissension among the people, where will it all end if we do not speak out?

Because some leaflets were passed out to ask the people to protest in a mass meeting against the lynchings in the South, one misinformed woman said that the Communists were going to arouse the "colored people" to riot. It is this erroneous type of thinking that needs to be checked.

How can we, the youth, sit back—idle—while Bilbo brazenly admits membership in the Klan; while the state department, together with the newspapers, etc., cook up another war with Russia; while the pitiful remnants of 8,000,000 Jewry in Europe are being shot down by British machine guns in Palestine?

Long and loud have we cried for an opportunity—an opportunity to do something about it. Well, now is the time. Any of those who believe that "time will take care of everything" are simply dwelling in superstition and are delaying the day. So let us get out and give our full support to this wonderful work the FEPC fund-raising committee have dedicated themselves to fight for.

Driver Dies as Cop Sounds Siren to Halt

One of the city's strangest traffic victims was listed by the coroner's office this week when James C. Prease, 57, of 1423 East 48th st., died of a heart attack when a police motorcycle officer sounded his siren to arrest him.

Patrolman D. S. Blackman said he saw Prease, a janitor, run a red light on Adams blvd. and Ellendale ave., and attempted to get him to pull over to the curb by sounding his siren. Prease pulled his car over, and when the officer investigated, found him dead of a heart attack.

LEO
(July 23-Aug. 22)

Persons born under the zodiacal sign of Leo, have a dignity all their own. Everything about them tends towards bigness. Because of this, they are usually very popular, and are at their best when in positions of authority, for, better than any other group, they know how to administer justly and with the willing service of their subordinates.

We can always be sure of their displaying warmth of heart and their measure of faith—whether displayed in connectian with religion or merely in ordinary human relationship—is enormous.

It is also well to remember that people born under this sign are also a strongly ambitious group, and their entire character will be conditioned by the nature of this ambition, for if it is along wrong lines, then the whole of the character in the Leonian seems to become warped. The keyword of this notable group is commanders.

D.R.—Dear Prof. Herman: I just want to inform you of my good fortune. Recently my uncle wrote me informing me that he was sending me a check for $100, as my share from some property. You told me sometime ago that my luck would change and my financial condition would improve in this manner, and you see it came true. Thanks again for all you have done for me.

C.S.—Which of the two men I have in mind mean me the most good?

Ans.—A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that both of these men are very fond of you and are interested in carrying their friendship further . . . marriage. But I recommend your waiting a while before making any decision, for you are not in love with either of them, but will meet someone in the near future that will mean a lot more to you.

Mrs. M.B.—Why does he treat me so hateful?

Ans.—Probing into the matter I find that your husband isn't well, and needs medical attention, hence his disposition and attitude in general is not what it should be. Try to persuade him to consult a good physician at the earliest opportunity for many things depend upon his doing so at once.

B.G.—Will I be able to attend college this fall? Does the girl I am interested in, love me? Should I enlist in the army?

Ans.—Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet indicate your being able to attend college if that is your desire. But you will have to sacrifice some of the things you have been doing and save that money. As only one question is answered in the column, I suggest you write in for a private reply in regards to the others.

L.S.—Dear Sir: I have been reading your astrology forecast and analysis for quite sometime and would like your opinion on this matter. I am in love with a fellow that has been living in my home for quite sometime. We decided to get married, but upon making this a definite arrangement he backed out. What shall I do?

Ans.—It seems to me that while this fellow is very fond of you, he doesn't wish the responsibility of a wife and family. I suggest you let the matter ride for a while, and in the meantime write in for a private reply, for I feel that I can help you solve this problem.

Miss B.G.H.—Of the two professions I like which would you suggest?

Ans. — My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals your desire to become a dancer and you also being interested in nursing. Of the two, it would be wise to choose nursing as your career, but you could study dancing in your spare time and get a lot of pleasure out of it.

C.S.—I am so worried, what should I do?

Ans.—Your Zodiacal Sign indicates your being the type to worry unnecessarily, hence your being disturbed by this incident that really has no bearing whatsoever on your life. I suggest you try to dismiss it from your mind at once.

Local Firm Will Handle Lincoln Public Relations

Hardwick, Griffin & Foppe, local advertising and publicity firm, has been appointed by the Metropolitan Theatres Corporation to handle public relations and special exploitation for the New Lincoln theatre, Sherrill Corwin, vice-president and general supervisor of the corporation, announced this week.

This move by a major theatrical organization in seeking to further interracial good will by employing Negro representatives in an advisory capacity marks something of a precedent.

A special campaign designed to acquaint the community with the new owners' liberal policy will be conducted for the next several weeks, explained Leon H. Hardwick, spokesman for the publicity agency.

The firm is affiliated with a local press syndicate, located at 1303 West Jefferson Boulevard, one of the country's leading news and newsphoto services.

Eleanor Parker, starring in "Of Human Bondage," once worked as a waitress to pay for dramatic training.

Assail British, U.S. Policies In Palestine

British and American policies on Palestine were denounced last night (Thursday) at an Eastside community rally attended by Jews and non-Jews at the Strauss auditorium, Michigan and Soto sts.

The mass rally, held under the joint auspices of the Michigan-Soto Community Center and the Eastside Win-the-Peace Council, was held to mobilize mass action to press for withdrawal of British troops from Palestine, admission into that land of 100,000 displaced European Jews and a fair settlement of the entire Palestine question.

Presiding at the mass meeting was William Rosenthal, assemblyman for the 40th A. D. and chairman of the Eastside Win-the-Peace Council.

Speakers included: Dr. Sanford Goldner, president of the American Jewish Labor Council; Dr. Morris Feder, of the Southland Jewish Organization; Ike Adams, treasurer of the Los Angeles Youth Council, and Ann Pollock, president of the L. A. women's division, American Jewish Congress.

Participating with the sponsoring organizations were various fraternal, social and labor organizations.

"3. Lessor shall make any alterations, additions, or improvements that may be needed to said demised premises.

"4. Lessee at its own expense shall keep the premises and every part thereof in good order and repair, and the Lessor shall not be called upon or required to make any repairs whatsoever.

"5. Lessor shall pay, indemnify, and save harmless the Lessee against all liens and claims of liens; including liens of contractors, items of contractors, subcontractors, and material men, arising out of or in connection with such contracts as said Lessor may enter into for the construction of buildings, alterations, or additions to said premises.

"6. "10. In the event of sale, demolition, or removal of a school structure or structures, or other improvements of a substantial nature (exclusive of land), the rent payable under this Lease shall be reduced and, said reduction shall be based on the appraised value determined by the Board of Appraisers appointed by this resolution, and multiplied by the rental per cent ratio recommended by said Board of Appraisers.

"13. Upon the expiration of the term hereby proposed, or upon the sooner termination of said proposed Lease, the Lessee shall then and there immediately, peaceably, and quietly surrender and yield up to the Lessor possession of said premises unless said premises or portion thereof are purchased by the Lessee; and when surrendered, the Lessee shall leave the premises in as good order and condition as said premises were at the beginning of the term of the proposed Lease, ordinary wear and tear thereof and damage by the elements, fire, earthquake, flood, act of God, or public calamity excepted.

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this Board appoint, and it does hereby appoint Robert F. Burgan, Assistant Land Agent, and J. E. "That a public meeting of the Board of Education be held at its usual place of meeting in Central Administration Building, 451 North Hill Street, in said City of Los Angeles, on Thursday, August 29, 1946, at 2:00 o'clock p.m., at which time and place said Board of Education shall consider the report of the Board of Appraisers and the rental of the above-referred-to property to Los Angeles City High School District of Los Angeles County by Los Angeles City School District of Los Angeles County."

Citizens Repel First Drive of Racists for Restrictive Covenants

By CYRIL BRIGGS

Democracy took the first round Monday night in what promises to be a tough fight against the invasion of Lynnwood by the apostles of race hatred and restrictive covenants.

Scene of the first skirmish was the Wilson public school, corner of Wilson and Lynnwood road, where a meeting was called by a small group calling themselves the Lynwood Property Owners Assn. and admittedly inspired by similar racist bodies in Huntington Park and other communities.

The meeting, planned to drive a wedge of hatred between Americans of different creeds and degrees of pigmentation, spark a drive to organize credulous property owners who took the floor to denounce the fascist, divisive aims of the organizers of the meeting.

Leading the fight against the covenanters were several World War II veterans who made it clear that they had not fought to destroy fascism abroad only to have it camping on their doorsteps at home. One veteran pointed out that he had served three years, from North Africa all the way into Berlin, fighting fascism and "such tactics as these."

G. H. Kallmeyer compared the restrictive covenants proposal to the tactics used by Hitler to divide the German Marcantonio, Powell Face Fight in Nov.

NEW YORK—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., won the nominations of the Democratic party and the American Labor party in yesterday's New York state primaries, but was squeezed out by a narrow margin in the Republican race by Grant Reynolds, another Negro put up by the GOP with the object of splitting the Negro vote. The contest took place in the 22nd district.

In the 18th district, Rep. Vito Marcantonio won both the ALP and Democratic nominations, but was defeated in his bid for the Republican nomination by Frederic U. P. Bryan.

Knockdown fights between Marcantonio and Bryan, and between Powell and Reynolds, in the November elections were in prospect.

On The Sidewalk

By C.A.B.

DISUNITY in local and national political viewpoints of the citizens, both white and Negro of this country, is one of the curious and significant aspects of our democracy.

Because the lack of agreement among what has been called diplomatic leadership is as desperate as any pessimist may assume, there is a definite and unfortunate antagonism between the United States and Great Britain on the one hand, and Russia on the other.

Differences between these nations are varied and bitter, based on Chinese, Yugoslav and Palestine internal affairs. According to reports, Russia is the root of the evils. "Spy" scares are played up in tremendous headlines. The Hearst chain, which at one time had a deal with the Nazis and which opposed the United States fighting fascism, today is blowing the bugles for a war against Russia.

WAR with Russia was predicted this week at the first business session of the American Legion's State Convention at San Francisco. Russia is blamed when Yugoslavia forced the landing of an American ship flying over its territory without the knowledge and consent of the Yugoslav government.

Despite the fact that the Russian nation sacrificed more men and materials in the last war than any of her allies, she has now become the object of a hate campaign.

It is a matter of fact that Russia is the only country in the world that has gone all out in the defense of weak nations and defenseless minorities.

Secretary Byrnes is spending all of his time at the Paris Peace Conference and directing domestic affairs in the Far East,—even telling some of the little nations that their exercise of the ballot in political campaigns should be conducted without malice or prejudice.

I WONDER if Secretary Byrnes has heard that a Negro veteran in Georgia, who dared to be first at the voting polls, paid with his life for exercising his citizenship right to vote. (See 14th Amendment to the Constitution).

I wonder if Mr. Byrnes is aware that Isaac Woodard, Jr., the Negro veteran whose eyes were gouged out by a South Carolina policeman, went to Europe and fought Hitler to destroy the condition that caused his blindness. It takes many Woodards, white and Negro, to destroy Hitler and Fascism in Germany.

We know that the threat to our national unity and safety is not Russia, but the fascism that takes form in lynchings of Negroes, the Ku Klux Klan, police brutality and restrictive covenants.

Among the most striking examples of the outstanding role played by the fascist agents locally is this attempt to destroy the proposed State F.E.P.C.—

"Dear Madam:

"Communists are snatching at supervisory control of employment in California, governmental and private, through the so-called "Fair Employment Practice Act" to be voted on at November 5 election.

"Hazards of enactment hinges on how many of the State's 4,133,608 registered voters are informed of what it really means. That job has been taken on by Women of the Pacific.

"Havoc to employers, and consumers (this proposal is more vicious than was "ham 'n eggs") is told in enclosed booklet.

WE ARE writing (and sending this analysis) to large numbers of employers throughout California to Hollywood Bowl officials announced on Wednesday morning that the Nash Singers under the direction of Luvenia Nash with William Gillespie as guest soloist have been substituted for Thursday night's bowl attraction. Dorothy Maynor, nationally known soprano, scheduled to appear, had to cancel the engagement when she learned that her mother had died in Chicago. Miss Maynor left immediately for that city. Rudolph Dunbar, Negro guest conductor, will appear as scheduled.

Jewish Group Aids Hiring Of Negroes

NEW YORK—Efforts of the Commission on Law and Social Action (CLSA) of the American Jewish Congress to open job opportunities for Negroes on the selling force of the Gertz Department Store in Jamaica, Queens, met with success recently when the store announced that two Negroes had been hired as sales personnel, Will Maslow, CLSA director, stated yesterday.

As further evidence of its intention to adhere to a non-discrimination policy, the store has placed orders for qualified job applicants with the placement service of the New York Urban Leogue. Since Gertz employs over 1200 persons and does a business of over one million dollars a year, the settlement is expected to have significant repercussions on the hiring practices of other merchants on Jamaica's main street.

"By its active role in this case," Maslow said, "the American Jewish Congress has again demonstrated its conviction that the interests of all minority groups are indivisible and that the Negroes' fight against discrimination in employment, housing and education is part of the struggle of Jews for equality of opportunity in these fields."

Names Noted Doctor's Son Father of Child

Beautiful, 24-year-old Doris Lee Howard of 3819 Paloma st., has named Shelby Louis Robinson, son of prominent Dr. Shelby B. Robinson, as the father of her 18 months old daughter, Kristine.

In a court action filed this week, Miss Howard declared through her attorney, Curtis C. Taylor, that Robinson fathered the child, and now denies it is his, and she demands that he be forced to support the infant.

The complaint to determine parental status followed a court order naming Miss Howard guardian of her baby to facilitate the legal battle.

Robinson, who lives with his mother at 850 East 49th st., refused to comment upon the court action. It is understood that he has retained Attorney Martha Malone Williams, who is expected to file an answer to Miss Howard's charge, in which the fathering of the girl will be denied.

Dr. Robinson, mother of the defendant, is one of the west's best known woman doctors, and a leading gynecologist.

Russell Leads Church Convention Delegates in Capital Protest March

In an historic move, unparalled on the part of any national religious organization in America, the Biennial Council of Peoples' Church of Christ and Community Center of America, led by the militant Rev. Clayton D. Russell of the People's Independent church of Los Angeles, marched down Constitution avenue in Washington, D. C. to the Department of justice and the White House in protest against the wave of lynchings against Negroes.

Chartering a special train from Baltimore, Maryland, where the Council was holding its national conference, the ministers and lay delegates arrived in Washington, Monday where they were met by a squadron of motorcycle police. The delegates and ministers marched down Constitution avenue in silence, carrying banners—"We Mourn the Death of Negroes Lynched in Georgia," "We Mourn the Death of Negroes Lynched in Mississippi."

Arriving at the Department of justice building, the delegates marched around the building while a committee interviewed Special Assistant Atty. General Douglas McGregor, in the absence of Atty. General Thomas Clark.

In the interview with McGregor, the committee presented him with a resolution passed by the church conference, calling upon the Department of justice to apprehend the lynchers and to bring them to justice. McGregor stated that the Department would exert every effort to bring the lynchers to justice. He further stated that the Depart-

NAACP in Race With Lynchers To Aid Witness

NEW YORK — NAACP officials were in a frantic race this week against a Louisiana mob in a desperate attempt to save the life of an eye-witness to the lynching and mutilation of John C. Jones, World War II veteran, whose body was found in a Louisiana swamp on August 14.

The eye-witness, Albert Harris, a 17 year old youth, was shot by the mob which burned Jones with a blow torch and mutilated him. Harris, feigning death until the mod moved on, escaped to Texas. Leaders of the mob discovered this and at noon Monday were on their way to the Texas town to seize the youth, according to an NAACP investigator who phoned the New York offices of the NAACP in a desperate appeal for help.

NEW YORK — NAACP investigator in Texas today reported that arrangements have been completed to fly Albert Harris, Louisiana mob victim, to New Yory immediately. Harris is expected here today (Thursday).

NEW YORK—As at least two lynch mobs swarmed through Mississippi and Louisiana in full cry this week, NAACP investigators revealed facts in the lynching of which for sheer bestial sadism outdoes even the Georgia multiple lynching and Isaac Woodard's blinding.

The investigation revealed that Jones, recently discharged U. S. army corporal, was burned about the face and body with a blow torch after a horrible beating at the hands of the mob. The mutilated veteran's head had also been struck repeatedly while his hands were severed by a cleaver. The excessive heat and beatings caused the victim's eyes to pop from their sockets.

Jones had been arrested charged with entering a garage owned by a Minden, Louisiana, white woman who subsequently refused to press any charges

By JAMES L. HICKS, NNPA Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The local body of the American Federation of Labor has informed the United States Employment Services that if that agency moves to end race segregation in its local offices, the union will take the issue to members of the house appropriations committee, who oppose integration, and will seek to have the agency's offices here abolished, it was learned here last Friday.

The threat by the AFL union to the agency followed an announcement by the CIO that it would picket the local offices of USES in protest against the agency's policy of maintaining separate facilities for white and Negro job applicants.

Rankin Orders 'Probe' of PAC

WASHINGTON, D. C. — First congressional gun in the drive to split the progressive forces in the November elections, assure the election of reactionaries, was fired yesterday by Rep. John Rankin, of Mississippi, who ordered a "thorough investigation" of the CIO's Political Action Committee. Rankin is chairman of the notorious house committee on un-American activities.

Rankin also interpreted rising protests against the current wave of bestial lynchings in the South as "proof that Communist front organizations and "certain elements" in the department of justice are busily getting racial discussion in the South "in an attempt to make popular by getting control of the election machinery in the various states."

Will you help?

Sincerely,

WOMEN OF THE PACIFIC

Mrs. Edwin Selvin, Chairman."

The pamphlet of which this letter is the forerunner is the most vicious attack on the Fair Employment Practice Act which will be voted upon in the November election.

Franklin D. Roosevelt envisioning what might happen after the war, through a Fair Employment Practices committee, destroyed the unwritten law of discrimination in industry by some racially-minded employers.

THIS "Women of the Pacific" organization is easily recognized as the same Fascist type of agency that promotes such meetings as the one staged at Lynwood last Monday evening, at the Wilson School, where an attempt to place restrictions on the property in that area was defeated by the good Americans of the district.

Negroes, in particular, should shy away from the "Red" or "Communistic" scare. If they will only realize that the people who shout "Red" or "Communism" at them are not their friends but their enemies, the better able will they be to understand the reasons behind these appelations. Beware of wolves in sheep's clothing.

Grand Jury to Probe Shooting of Mexican Youth by Deputy Sheriff

An irate group of citizens that crowded the office of Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz to demand justice in the fatal shooting of 13-year-old Eugene Montenegro by a deputy sheriff were doubly rewarded Monday afternoon.

First, Biscailuz revealed to the 50 delegates, headed by Civil Rights Congress spokesman Ruth Slade, that the entire matter would be probed by the grand jury September 3, the day it reconvenes.

Second, the sheriff stated that deputy H. H. Hodges, who admitted at a coroner's inquest that he shot and killed the boy "in the line of duty" will be removed from his present patrol duties which brings him in contact with Mexican-American youths, to a different job, pending the outcome of the grand jury hearing. Hodges was freed by a coroner's jury who called the shooting "justifiable homicide."

The victim's mother burst into tears once during the meeting, and held up a picture of her son. "This is my boy who you and your men killed," she screamed at Biscailuz. "What are you going to do? Nothing?"

Present at the meeting were representatives of several organizations, including Father George Dunn, liberal Loyola priest, and James G. Russell of the Montebello Taxpayer's association.

Mrs. Slade expressed gratitude at the announcement of the grand jury hearing. Biscailuz said the report of the district attorney's office has not been seen by him, and will not be made public until the grand jury hears it.

After the sheriff's announcement, Mrs. Slade asked that her group be allowed to present evidence they had that the coroner's verdict was wrong. The sheriff refused to hear the testimony, saying everything was now in the hands of the grand jury.

Mrs. Slade declared sheriff's deputies had "intimidated witnesses" and tried to get them to forget the entire matter. She said it was a prevalent rumor in the dead boy's neighborhood that Hodges had dismissed the incident with the remark, "Well, he's just another damned Mexican."

World Women's Body Protests U. S. Lynchings

BIRMINGHAM, Alabama—The Southern Negro Youth Congress has learned through its delegate to the Paris Council Meeting of the World Federation of Democratic Youth that the International Democratic Federation of Women with headquarters in Paris has cabled Attorney General Tom C. Clark, protesting the Georgia lynchings. The women's organization cable to Atty. Gen. Clark follows in full:

"In name of 40 nations, Women's International Democratic Federation expresses indignation at the assassination of four Negroes, two of whom were women, committed in state of Georgia, July 25. We believe no democratic state can tolerate similar crimes of racial and fascist inspiration. We ask punishment of murderers and measures protecting the Negro population."

The cable was signed by the secretary general of the women's organization, Marie-Claude Vaillant-Couturier.

Meeting Tonight To Man Fight on Racist Covenants

A call to a meeting of the Los Angeles Coordinating Council Against Restrictive Covenants was issued this week to all organizations interested in the fight to put an end to the practice of placing racial and religious barriers on dwellings or property.

The over-all, city-wide group will meet tonight, August 22, at 8 o'clock at the YMCA, 1006 East 28th st., to map plans for a unified educational and public pressure campaign.

Organizations are urged to elect delegates to the coordinating council, so that they may attend the planning meeting.

An initial meeting, held three weeks ago, and attended by representatives of almost a dozen community organizations, voted unanimously to set up the coordinating group to unify the work against restrictive covenants. Among the organizations represented at that meeting were: Mobilization for Democracy, Homeowners Protective Assn., Homeowners Defense Council, San Fernando Council on Race Relations, National Lawyers Guild, Committee for Unity, HICCASP, and Civil Rights Congress.

Service Sta. Operator Held in Killing of

Ross Lee Washington, 32-year-old mechanic, has been held to answer in a preliminary hearing in West Los Angeles municipal court, for the killing of white gasoline service station operator William Morgan.

Washington's attorney, Crispus Wright, refused to allow him to testify, indicating he is attempting to build up a self-defense theory for a possible manslaughter verdict.

Morgan died of wounds inflicted by a screwdriver, which Washington admitted to police shortly after the killing early this month he had inflicted. The fatal cutting resulted from an argument at the gas station at 3779 West Pico blvd.

Washington, of 4087 Trinity st., will face a superior court arraignment August 30.

'Every Blow Against Negro a Blow Against Labor,' Foster Tells Rally

Passionately denouncing the current wave of lynchings as an attack not only on Negro people but on organized labor as well, William Z. Foster, general secretary of the Communist party of the U. S., told a rally at the Shrine auditorium that "every blow against the Negro people is a blow against Organized Labor."

Foster spoke from a platform decorated with portraits of himself, Frederic Douglas, Debs and Sylvia. Bannered slogans throughout the hall called for "Death to Lynchers!" "Stop Police Brutality Against Negroes and Mexicans!" "Stop U. S. Intervention in China and the Philippines."

Chairman of the meeting was County Communist chairman Nemmy Sparks. Sparks introduced Archie Brown, Communist write-in candidate against Republican Governor Earl Warren as a "fighter on the home front, a premature anti-Fascist who fought in Spain."

Brown wished to know "where is Warren's fight against the lynchers, against discrimination, where he is on the need for an FEPC."

He declared "we expect all candidates to speak out plainly on these issues and that goes for Jack Shelley, Will Rogers and Edmund Brown—we don't appreciate their silence."

The three are Democratic party candidates for lieutenant governor, U. S. senator and state attorney general, respectively.

Foster warned that the great monopolies are pressing an offensive against the American people, preparing to score a Republican victory in 1946, preliminary to a sweep in 1948 when they hope to put congress and the President "completely in the hands of these reactionaries who already have too strong a grip."

Foster sharply assailed the Truman administration which, he said, is "making no fight" in behalf of the late President Roosevelt's program which has been "abandoned both in domestic and foreign policy." The best we get is a feeble protest occasionally, said Foster.

The monopolists, he said, are not only attempting to crush domestic resistance, aiming their blows at Organized Labor and the minority peoples, but "to secure mastery over all the other peoples of the world."

He urged defense of the Negro people whose treatment in the U. S. has "outraged all the world," renewed and effective price control and reopening of union contracts to "insist on wage increases to offset rising prices."

"Labor," he said, "must purge its ranks of Red-baiting. Red-baiting is Hitlerism no matter who it comes from."

He stressed the necessity of a progressive victory in the coming congressional elections, declared "Congress is bad enough now but God help us if the reactionaries score a victory."

He envisaged a third party movement, based on "real support of the masses," and not a small divisive group. It is the policy of the Communist party, he said, "to support progressives on either old tickets, but labor must develop its own independent political action and build a third party of its own."

Resolutions adopted by the meeting demanded the senate "expel Bilbo" and President Truman reconvene congress in emergency action to enact the anti-lynching bill; that all U. S. troops be withdrawn from China, that buyers strike activities be encouraged and unions be supported to reopen wage contracts, and protesting the British policy of terror against the Jews and of partition of Palestine.

Says Girl Did 'Hula Hula' Strip Tease for Him

Bespectacled, 6 foot 7 inch tall Roscoe Steverson was absolved of a charge of criminally assaulting 18-year-old Frankie Davis while his wife was away and she was watching his three young children by a jury in Judge Raymond MacIntosh's court.

Miss Davis, of 2343 Hunter st., claimed that Steverson, 28, had intercourse with her last month at his home at 5215 McKinley st. She said he attacked her and forced himself on her while she was lying on a baby bed.

Steverson admitted that the girl had been intimate with him on the day his wife was away, but denied any intercourse. He said he had adjusted her brassiere while she was on a couch in the front room, and also that she had danced a lurid "hula hula" with part of her clothing unfastened.

The tall naval supply depot worker denied, however, that he had then gone any farther. He said she demanded $50 from him for the dance or "she said she would tell my wife." When he refused she claimed she had been raped, he said.

Former Angeleno Held in Sacramento On Robbery Charge

Gerald (Jerry) Brown, former Angeleno and youthful ex-pug, has been arrested in Sacramento on a charge of robbery, preferred by Joe Mendoza, Mexican ranch hand who complained that on the night of Aug. 4, Brown and Willie Lewins, Sacramento youth, strong-armed him at 3rd and L sts. in Sacramento and robbed him.

Brown was represented at the preliminary hearing last Tuesday by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor of Los Angeles, who flew to Sacramento at the request of Brown's mother, Mrs. Bessie Brown of San Francisco.

Taylor, upon his return to Los Angeles, told reporters the case would never stand up in superior court. At the preliminary hearing, he forced one of the arresting officers to admit that he told Brown if he did not confess it would "go harder" with him.

Brown told his attorney that the officers beat and pummelled him "unmercifully" after his arrest until they forced a "confession" out of him, and refused his pleas for medical attention. He also stated that the victim of the holdup refused to identify him and would not sign a complaint until after he (Mendoza) was held in jail for three days as a "material witness."

Wallace Assails USES Practices

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace charged yesterday that the Office of the U. S. Employment Service for the nation's capital was being "operated on a basis of racial segregation."

In a letter to Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach, under whose department the local USES office operates, Wallace cited specifically "separate lines for interview purposes and separate application files" for whites and Negroes.

Such segregation, he added, "serves to reduce the scope" of Negro "employment opportunities."

Athens Still In Terror Grip, Says Burnham

ATHENS, Alabama — "Athens, Alabama, now being discussed by writers for the daily press as a city returned to normalcy is really an armed camp," said Louis E. Burnham, organization secretary of the Southern Negro Youth Congress, during a tour of Athens this week.

Burnham reported leading Negro citizens told him on arrival that state highway patrolman Van Buren Gilbert had visited them, saying the FBI had reported "Louis Burnham of the Negro Youth Congress is taking the bus in Birmingham at 12:30 for Athens." Gilbert told them to warn Burnham not to try to organize Negro youth, especially Negro veterans and to get the hell out of there." The SNYC leader noticed a highway patrol car picked up and trailed the bus from Decatur to Athtns (about 14 miles) and that he was being shadowed and watched wherever he moved in Athens.

Bunham reported that Danny Danenberg staff writer for Birmingham News whose stories are being picked up bq AP is submitting his copy to Mayor R. H. Richardson for censorship.

Negroes By-Passed In Promotions by Housing Authority

In a surprise move announced last Friday the City Housing Authority reorganized its management division by establishing two new supervisory areas and re-aligning the two previous areas. The two new areas cover projects in the central section of the city and in each instance include several of the "Negro" projects maintained by the Authority.

The reorganization resulted in the promotion or transfer of approximately 20 Authority employes. It is interesting to note that not one Negro employe was given an advancement despite the fact that there are several with considerably more experience than many of the white employes who were advanced.

Symptomatic of the astonishing attitude toward Negroes was its promotion to head one of its projects of Ulysses Griggs who headed the jimcrow auxiliary of the AFL Boilermakers union, and in that capacity acted as a willing tool of the reactionary leaders of the union.

Among the employes bypassed in the reorganization were Mrs. Jessie L. Terry, formerly a member of the Housing Authority Commission and for more than two years the manager of the Pueblo del Rio Project; Lionel Hoffman, housing manager for more than five years, having served in New Orleans as manager of the largest project for Negroes in the south and for the past two years as manager with the local Authority at the Jordan Downs and Imperial Courts projects; and Mrs. Anita Wright, formerly assistant manager at Pueblo del Rio, later manager of the Corregidor Park project and presently manager of the Hacienda Village project.

Millions Die From Constipation

"Constipation is one of the greatest causes of disease, misery, inefficiency and premature senility, and should be most earnestly combated," says Dr. Kellogg of Battle Creek Sanitarium fame.

"Every case of constipation is curable, but not by means of any panacea. Each case must be studied and individual conditions must be dealt with in an intelligent and rational manner.

"A coated tongue, a sallow complexion, dark circles around the eyes, appearance of brown spots upon the hands or other parts (the so-called liver spots), offensive breath and perspiration, the discharge of foul-smelling gases from the bowels, putrid stools, a thin, inelastic, parchment-like skin, dullness of mind, mental irritability or depression without cause, cold hands and feet, chronic headache, arthritis, neuritis, rheumatism, asthma, pains around the heart—these and a score of other symptoms which might be mentioned are certain indications of chronic poisoning.

"A thorough cleansing of the colon, removing the cause, may prevent more serious conditions, such as hardening of the arteries, Bright's disease with albumen and casts in the urine or apoplexy with paralysis. Phenomenal results are obtained when the waste is removed."

Professor Arnold Ehret says, "Every disease, no matter what name it is known by medical science, is constipation—a clogging up of the entire pipe system of the human body. Any special symptom is therefore merely an extraordinary local constipation of more accumulated mucous at a particular place. Special autointoxication points are the tongue, the stomach, and particularly the entire digestive tract. This last is the real and deeper cause of bowel constipation. The average person has as much as 10 pounds of uneliminated feces in the bowels continually poisoning the blood stream and the entire system. Think of it!

"Every sick person has a more or less mucus-clogged system, such mucus being derived from undigested and uneliminated, unnatural food substances, accumulated from childhood on.

"Remember," says Ehret, "your constitutional encumbrances throughout the entire system are the source of every disease; the greatest, most harmful source of lowered vitality, imperfect health, lack of strength and endurance and any and all imperfect conditions. All have their source in the colon, never perfectly emptied since birth."

Daniel C. Munro, M. D., Medical Director of exclusive Lake Placid Club, says, "If I were to write the story of all the cases in which colonic irrigations seem to lift the patient from the very jaws of death, it would fill volumes."

Residents of Los Angeles are fortunate in having the New Yorker—a haven for those who suffer, where the cause may be removed. New Yorker specializes in thoroughly cleansing and eliminating from the colon all waste matter causing toxic poisons. Rid yourself of toxic poisons. If suffering come to our office at once. Get relief from constipation. Go to the New Yorker for a thorough cleansing of the large intestine or colon. Single treatments, $3.00. Treatments at office only. No medicines or drugs. Consultation free—no obligation. 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. New Yorker, 255 S. Broadway, Suite 216. TR. 7051.

Bay City Supervisors, Prodded By Civic Groups, Adopt Resolution Asking End of Vets Housing Bias

SAN FRANCISCO—Climaxing a two month campaign led by the Council for Civic Unity and supported by more than 25 other organizations, the board of supervisors approved by a 9 to 1 vote, and the mayor signed, the CCU-sponsored resolution urging the San Francisco Housing Authority to adopt a policy of non-segregation in its housing for veterans.

The resolution declares that "the discrimination against colored veterans resulting from . . . segregation has reached serious proportions in recent months," calls for immediate adoption of (1) a non-segregation policy, and (2) all procedures necessary to put into effect the "first come, first served" principle in selecting veteran tenants from among the thousands of applicants.

Only opponents of the resolution were officers of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Other veteran groups, including the American Veterans Committee and the Equity Advance Post of the VFW, as well as individual members of the VFW, supported the resolution.

Also testifying for the resolution were leaders of: California CCU, Council of Churches, CIO Council, NAACP, Urban League, Chinese YMCA, Filipino Community, Jewish Survey Committee, International Institute, Planning and Housing Assn., Roundtable of Nat'l. Conference of Christians and Jews, American Council on Race Relations, Portola Heights Neighborhood Committee, YWCA, Chinese American Citizens Alliance, Japanese American Citizens League, Booker T. 20,000 Attend N. Y. Benefit for Police-Blinded Vet; Scores of Noted Artists on Program

By CARRIE MILLER
(Special to EAGLE)

NEW YORK—In tribute to Isaac Woodward, heroic Negro American veteran, who had his eyes brutally gouged out by a Dixie policeman "maintaining white-supremacy," over 20,000 spectators of all nationalities and walks of life, filled Manhattan's giant Lewisohn Stadium Sunday evening, August 18, on his behalf.

Originally planned for August 16, the benefit show, sponsored by the N. Y. Amsterdam News Welfare Fund and headed by Committee Chairholders Joe Louis and Carol Brice, had to be postponed to the later date because of a heavy downpour of rain. This incident only added to the intensity of the program's purpose and its presentation.

TOP TALENT SUPPORTED

This initial effort to do on behalf of the community what could be done in aiding Isaac Woodward to realize the material things in life, was supported by the presence, talent, and sincere support of topnotch entertainers.

On the program were: Orson Welles, Carol Brice, Peter Lind Hayes, Henry Armstrong, The King Cole Trio, Thelma Carpenter, The Brown Dots, Rex Ingram, Slam Stewart Trio, Cab Calloway and Orchestra, Mantan & Carter, Poo Wee Marquette, The Acromaniacs, W. C. Handy, Billie Holliday, Robert Alda (Star of Rhapsody in Blue), Peters Sisters, and scores of others. Each paid tribute to the ideals of democratic living and reproached the abuse of such ideals with regard to the incident involving Isaac Woodward.

Joe Louis, although intensely active as chairman of the sponsoring committee, was reported indisposed due to a contracted cold at another recent benefit in Washington, D. C., and did not appear at the rally on orders by his personal physician.

Among the most stirring contributions in the way of purposeful entertainment of the evening was a dedication of the song, "You'll Never Walk Alone" from the Broadway hit, "Carousel," by Thelma Carpenter. Also an especially composed number for the occasion entitled "Tragedy in Georgia" was presented by Edward Taylor, vocalist, and his accompanist.

MAYOR VOICES PROTEST

Mayor Wm. O'Dwyer was represented by his secretary, who read his personal message on behalf of the residents of New York City. The mayor openly declared that "In our great Democracy, we can not tolerate such brutality, no matter where it takes place," with special reference to the incident concerning Isaac Woodward. With reference to what he thought of the police officer's behavior in the situation, Mayor O'Dwyer said, "America must guard regardless of race, color, or creed, the security of ALL . . . Equal protection by those representing law-enforcement must be clearly demonstrated."

The mayor emphasized the fact that a new directive had been issued by the police commissioner to New York police that the administration would tolerate no brutality to anyone regardless of racial or religious background. The mayor also called on the federal government to fulfill its responsibility of the 14th amendment and stated that support of the Anti-Lynch Bill, FEPC and all bills for the improvement of race relationships be backed to the hilt.

WOODWARD EXPRESSES THANKS

Led to the microphone by Dr. C. B. Powell, editor-in-chief of the N.Y. Amsterdam News, Isaac Woodard expressed his appreciation to all the entertainers and supporters of the benefit given expressly for his personal welfare.

He summed it up well by saying, "I know you all did it because you wanted to see justice."

The spectators, most of whom had been sitting throughout a two-hour show of talent, replied with thunderous applause and cheers that rang into the starlit night like the road of Freedom itself.

Such was the support and performance at this specially planned benefit for Isaac Woodward, that never before in the history of the Stadium's public affairs had such a crowd appeared in response. In the huge lighted arena sat personalities of all professions and social standing, known and unknown, to pay tribute to a hero who fought overseas only to find his enemy at home. All had their hearts full of sympathetic understanding and good fellowship for this American veteran as his cause was supported and he stood silhouetted against the backdrop of the American flag he fought so gallantly to defend. The affair in its own self was a personal message from every spectator to the Bilbos and infamous Southland.

Man Killed in Savage Fight;

Following the brutal beating and killing of Woodrow T. Brown, 40, of 1562 East 33rd st., in what police described as a wild fight at 11th st. and Central ave., officers have arrested Johnny Jones, 23, of 1013½ Central ave., and held him for questioning.

Police said Brown was killed in a fight with Jones on the sidewalk. They said Brown was knocked down by several blows from the fists of his opponent, and then kicked to death while he lay unconscious. He was dead on the arrival of the police ambulance which rushed to the scene of the fight last Friday night.

Price Violators Settle With OPA

Four firms in the area served by the Los Angeles 82.5.40 Price Control Board at 4504 S. Central ave. were among the more than 500 firms in the 11 Southern California counties who made cash settlements last month with OPA price control boards because of asserted over-ceiling sales, according to Mark Keyser.

The sum of $85.95 was paid by asserted violators in this area with total for the Southland being $35,592.67, according to Sam Bayard, Southern California district board enforcement coordinator.

As a result of the price agency's action many cash refunds were made to individuals who were overcharged, Chairman Keyser added.

Those in this area who made refunds and cash settlements to the U. S. treasury were:

Army to Weed Out Negroes

WASHINGTON, D.C. —(NNPA) The Army has moved to rid itself of personnel, mainly colored, who because of denial of educational opportunities, fail to meet the minimum standards for military service.

A circular, issued by General Dwight D. Eisenhowes, chief of staff, by direction of Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, and dated August 10, directs commanders of all echelons and all officers serving on boards of officers considering inaptitude of soldiers apply more generally army regulations providing for the discharge of soldiers for ineptitude.

While the circular makes no mention of roce or color, it is known that the army considers as a problem Negro soldiers who fall in grades 4 and 5 under the army General Classification Test. Sixty-six percent of colored personnel in the regular army is said to be sub-standard.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

79th Congress Did Poor Job

From the dawn of history to the present day, people have been saying "We are living in a serious age."

Heaven knows its bad enough to have hanging over our heads, like the sword of Democles, the realization that the future is fraught with dangers which threaten not only our liberties but our very existence. But to sit idly by and watch the stream of suicidal fascism engulf us, without a murmur of protest, is more than even the historians can fathom.

According to authorities who have studied the rise and methods of fascism in Italy and the Third Reich, the American Negro has been chosen as the lamb of sacrifice by the current fascist groups within our borders.

Since the freedom and liberties of Negro Americans are the chief targets at which this fascistic reign of terror is aimed, the California EAGLE is prompted to advise this minority.

What can be done?

First of all, the Negro people have powerful allies who have made their struggle the struggle of the minorities.

These are to be found in the Labor Movement. Insist that your organization join the C.I.O. or one of the progressive A. F. of L. locals, and when you get in, don't watch jim-crow as it bobs up—join the progressive forces in these organizations that fight such abuses.

Stop being fooled by high ranking Republicans and Democrats who for nigh unto a century have used Negroes as political pawns.

Serve notice on Governor Dewey, of New York, that you do not appreciate his pledge to suppress the Klan in New York State on the eve of a political campaign. When you needed him was in the Freeport, Long Island brutal murder of the Ferguson brothers, against which he took no definite action.

Under present circumstances, Negroes are certainly not indebted to the Republican party for anything except unfulfilled promises, and it is about time the Negro electorate serve notice on the Republican office seekers when they come to press their claims that they must come bringing with them their voting records in the 79th Congress, just closed.

We know that this gentry will be able to continue to fool some of the people—there are those among us who want to be fooled. These fatten on the propaganda that is served with chicken dinners and luncheons which no one pays for.

Is there hope?

Yes! Though discouraged by the fact that every progressive legislative measure introduced in the 79th Congress was defeated by the reactionary Northern Republicans and the Southern Democrats, we have an abiding faith in the people, that in the coming elections they will demand facts and figures.

On August 16, the Gallup Poll stated that the Congress that had now closed shop faced problems during its term of office as numerous and fateful as any in the history of the nation.

Gallup said it was a Congress closely watched by the people. On the basis of a nation-wide survey of voter reaction right after Congress closed its doors, fewer than one-fourth said the 79th Congress had done a "good" job.

Good job	23%
Fair Job	40%
Poor job	37%

Answers to the question, classified by population groups, shows the following reaction:

	Good	Fair	Poor

Poor Fido Is Barred

(From The People's World)

Fido never knew it, but he was a Negro. All the 18 years of his life in this mortal vale he was a Negro, but no one ever told him so.

Now Fido doesn't care. For Fido is dead.

Fido, you see, was a dog. A Negro dog, by the simple reasoning that the couple who reared him and cared for him and loved him are Negroes.

When Fido died, The Daily People's World learned his owners were refused permission to send the body of their pet to the Los Angeles pet cemetery and crematory.

The cemetery, it was explained by an attendant, accepts "no pets belonging to Negroes, Mexicans, Japanese or Chinese."

"The owners of the cemetery won't permit us to handle for burial the pets of any but white people," it was explained.

What might have happened had Fido's ownership been transferred to white citizens a week or a month, say, before his death, could not be outlined in terms of canine anthropology.

Roosevelt's Son Gives the Facts

So many false statements have been made as to what happened and was said in the Churchill-Roosevelt Conference, we count it a privilege to pass on to our readers the very comprehensive first-hand report on these meetings by Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In the estimation of the majority of the people of this nation, Franklin Delano Roosevelt was the greatest humanitarian that ever occupied the President's seat—he laid the foundation for a better world—democracy and freedom for all.

One year after V-J Day, instead of singing "Peace on earth, good will toward men," we see war clouds gathering and hear the tom-toms calling for war.

Read this first installment of what happened behind the scenes:

Why is it that Washington cocktail-party gossip is of war with Russia, "preferably before 1948"?

Why can correspondents write that "Every statesman in Europe has it in the back of his mind that he must act as though there were going to be war between Britain and Russia, which will involve the other nations"?

The job of forging a global peace was begun, and well begun. But somewhere, at some point since Franklin Roosevelt's death, his beginning has been prejudiced.

There are many examples, but the most serious evidence that we are losing the peace is the breakdown of Big Three unity, a unity which is the keystone of the peace. Franklin Roosevelt chiseled that keystone and put it in place; a great many men have since been chipping away at this keystone.

These saboteurs of unity are the men who blink the fact that in a world dominated by the United States, Russia and the United Kingdom, all three must work together if peace is to be maintained. Or the men who contend that no self-respecting power can maintain unity with the Russians.

But the world has seen the fact of Big Three unity, has noted it approvingly for many, many months.

In fact, this unity did not weaken until a great hue and cry was set up that Secretary Byrnes had sold the United States down the river; until—under the leadership of men like Senator Vandenberg and the Hearst-Roy Moward-McCormick press—there was a call to "get tough with Russia."

And what terrible thing had Byrnes done? He had discussed the possibility of placing the atom bomb under UN control.

Well, apparently Byrnes learned his lesson. Two months later, he was ready with his own brand of "get tough with Russia."

By a curious happenstance, one week later Winston Churchill made his speech at Fulton, Missouri. The Churchill who made that speech had fought our military leaders for two years to delay the cross-Channel invasion of Europe; had argued constantly to force a change in Allied strategy, so our troops would have to penetrate the mountain barriers which he called—with a straight face—"the soft under-belly of Europe"; had tried to shift the weight of the offensive to protect British interests against his Russian ally—and to the jeopardy of swift victory.

At Fulton, Missouri, this same Churchill ran up a trial balloon for outright war against his former aly of the dark wartime years.

It should also be noted that after the war we vacated the role as mediator between Great Britain and Russia. Worse than that, we did not simply line up beside Britain, we lined up behind her.

I also am thinking of the career men in the State Department whom Father never trusted; of the reactionaries of both parties in Congress; of the men who have shrunk our foreign policy down to the size of the atom bomb, the Army oficers who are prepared to condemn civilization to a heap of rubble.

I don't want to pursue the Atlantic Charter conferences without a word about the White House correspondents whom Father had left behind. He did it because he had made an agrement with Churchill that there would be no newspaper coverage of their first meeting. He had carried out his part of the bargain. But Churchill arrived complete with press retinue not very well disguised as Ministry of Information officials.

It was the first time that Churchill surprised Father in this way. It was not the last.

By midsummer of 1941, my squadron had located five sites for bases in the Arctic Circle. I was surveying an airport site, when an order came through to return at once to my base in Newfoundland. There I was assigned an OA-10 Grumman and a pilot, and told to pick up the general commanding American forces on Newfoundland and proceed to Argentia.

Our commanding general was sitting silent in the back of the little Grumman, I in the co-pilot seat, when we cleared the mountain spur overlooking the harbor at Argentia. The pilot whistled. The bay was filled with warships. We looked at each other. The only sense we could make of it was that we had happened in on an Atlantic maneuver.

A few minutes later I got the answer. A tender whisked us to a cruiser that turned out to be the U. S. S. Augusta, we were piped over the side and there was Brigadier General "Pa" Watson, Father's military aide. Then "Pa" was grinning and shaking my hand, and murmuring about how "the Commander-in-Chief would like to see you." I started forward and ran into my brother, Franklin, Jr., at that time a lieutenant (jg) in the Navy.

"Hey, you too?" I said.

Franklin and I got in to see Father for a few minutes before lunch.

"You look wonderful, Pop," I said, "But how come all this? You on a fishing trip?"

Father roared with laughter. "That's what the newspapers think. They think I'm fishing somewhere off the Bay of Fundy." He was as delighted as a kid, boasting of how he had thrown newspapermen off the scent. Then he told us what it was all about.

"I'm meeting Churchill here. He's due in tomorrow, on the Prince of Wales. Harry Hopkins is with him." And he leaned back to watch the effect of his announcement on us. I guess it was big, for he enjoyed it.

That day at lunch, and during the cold, gray afternoon, Father and I lazed around his quarters. I asked him what was the purpose of this meeting.

"A meeting like this will do a world of good for British morale," he answered.

"The Nazis are riding high these days—masters of Europe. I don't imagine there are many Americans left by now who don't agree that we've got to lend Britain at least morale aid, or find ourselves facing the guns and bombs."

"For morale then," I prompted.

"For more than that. What about our Lease-Lend schedules, and—what's more important to the British—delivery schedules. They'll be worried about how much of our production we're going to divert to the Russians."

"And?"

"I know already how much faith Churchill has in Russia's ability to stay in the war." He snapped his fingers to indicate zero.

"I take it you have more faith than that."

"Harry Hopkins has more. He's able to convince me."

Of course, at this time American war production was just a trickle. The British were afraid that the vital supplies they got would only be a half-trickle.

Police Bow to Hearst Censorship of Books

By LEW GARRETT

"Senator Smoot is an institute,
Not to be bribed with pelf;
He guards our homes from erotic tomes
By reading them all himself.
Ogden Nash—"Invocation"

Just as poet Ogden Nash described Senator Smoot, Utah Republican, who set about several decades ago to clean up the literature of the nation by branding some of the greatest writings of the English tongue as "obscene," so city officials, prodded by the Hearst Examiner, have embarked on a campaign to drive books considered "lewd" from the bookstores and libraries.

Although assistant chief-of-police Joe Reed declares that the arrest of Harry Weppler, operator of a book store at 732 West Sixth street, and his clerk, Mrs. Anna Eastman, is just "coincidental accidentally" with the Examiner cleanup drive—the facts belie the statement.

The book or which Weppler and Mrs. Eastman found themselves charged with selling, and thus in violation o fthe "anti-obscenity section" of the local municipal code, is Edmund Wilson's Memoirs of Mecate County. This is the same—and only—book named in a week-long blast of Examiner editorials.

"Smite, Smoot,
Be rugged and tuogh.
Smut, when smitten,
—Nash

City attorney Don Redwine also denies that the Hearst campaign and the crackdown on the book have any connection. He says, "This book is very actionable. There have been other actionable books, like 'Call House Madame,' but it didn't go into so much detail. It wasn't so actionable."

He couldn't recall another single case in the city's history where a bookseller had been hauled into court for selling a book recognized as literature and charged with violating the city code. Both Ulysses of James Joyce, and D. H. Lawrence's Lady Chatterly's Lover have been sold.

Grit your mo and do your dut
"Smite Smoot, smite for Ut.,
Grit your molars and do your dut.,
Gird your l--ns,
Smite h-p and t-gh,
We'll all be Kansas,
By and bye."
—Nash

Wepplo would make no comment on his arrest, however he and his clerk were arraigned in municipal court Tuesday morning. They will appear or plea August 27, and are expected to enter a not guilty plea, and a trial date will be set. Attorney Jackson Chance, employed by the publishers of Memoirs of Hecate County, will defend the pair.

At the public library, Mrs. Rhoda Marshall, head librarian of the fiction department, says "Memoirs" is still circulating, "but we don't know for how long." She described the rush for the book as "terrific" and opined that the Examiner just doesn't know how to get people to "not read" a book.

Policemen from Reed's office took hours searching for a dealer to sell them the book, and thus become a "trial case" to test the morality of "Memoirs." This was because bookstores are completely sold out since the Examiner campaign, with the book selling for three and four times its original cost of $2.50 on the "literary black market."

Hearst editorials and features on the "book cleanup campaign" have quoted the usual lists of reactionary leaders always queried in similar campaigns, with stereotyped answers. Prevelent has been an assertion that the spread of dirty books is a "Communistic plot to undermine the morals of the nation."

"Strongest and stearnest
Of your s-x.
Scatter the scoundrels
From Can to Mex."

The stories have also frequently recommended a "book czar" to rule on what literature is "decent" for the American people.

W. J. Wheaton Says

The wanton murder of two Negro couples in Georgia, supplemented by the recent riots in Athens, Alabama, have attracted the attention of the foreign press, and American democracy has received a serious blow. It will take considerable rubbing and scrubbing to erase from the minds of the delegates to the UN that while our theory of democracy may be right, our practice of democracy, as demonstrated, cannot and should not be condoned.

The Russian paper, Pravda, carries the story of the Georgia murders, and the foreign press is aware of every criminal act perpetrated and, apparently, acquiesced in by our government. There has been no time when lynchers have been brought to justice and punished for their crimes. In many cases, as that in Georgia, the murderers have been unmasked and committed their crime in the light of day. It should not be hard to place the finger on the assassins and it needs courage, only, to prosecute, convict and mete out justice.

The world awaits the outcome, and "Believe It or Not" much of the success or failure in this present world conference depends on the attitude taken by the government of these United States in combatting this reign of terror and giving protection to its citizens at home as well as abroad.

What can be expected when the government allows men in high office to flaunt authority and openly advocate sedition? Does the holding of an office give immunity to men who defy openly the constitution and advocate lawlessness? Those are questions which this government will have to answer before it can convince other nations that American democracy is the panacea for the world's ills.

Before we criticize others for alleged acts of insincerity, let us remove the beam that we may more clearly see the mote in the eye of the other.

William Green, AFL president, accuses the CIO as being Communist. It does seem strange that whenever one's toe is being pinched they cry "Communist." The CIO destroyed the barrier of racial discrimination and said, "Every man or woman who toils, for a livelihood is entitled to protection." The CIO did away with discrimination and its numbers increased as its working policy broadened. On the contrary the AFL fostered racial distinctions, and men and women were barred from membership because of race or color.

When the CIO began to outstrip the AFL, the old and familiar cry "Communist" began to permeate the airways. Too bad. That is also the cry of Rankin, Talmadge, Bilbo and the three Ks. It is an old and trite saying, but nevertheless true, that "A man is known by the company he keeps."

We note that President Truman has authorized the minting of five million half dollars with the facial medalion of the late Dr. Booker T. Washington. No more fitting tribute could be given to one of the most unselfish of men, a man who gave his all for the good and betterment of a race in which he had the utmost faith and sought to bolster that faith through accomplishment. His courage never faltered and today he is recognized as one of the greatest educators of his era and institutions over the world have patterned after him. He left a memorial in Tuskegee, a tribute to his greatness.

There is a noticeable slack in the tavern trade, also a noticeable decrease in the population. Not as many Cadillacs and Lincolns as there used to be and the folk are learning to walk a block, so the taxis that used to center on Filmore and Sutter are a bit more accommodating and don't refuse to take one out of that area. They used to tell you they could make more money by the "block haul." It was real funny to see folk that had been used to hiking miles, take a taxi to ride a block.

There are quite a number of Negro men and women employed as operators on the San Francisco Municipal Street Railway. Many are employed as laborers, both in city repair work and in the building industry. The different organizations for Fair Employment have accomplished many things in that direction and in the van have been the girls and young matrons of the Carpe-Deim club. They have left no stone unturned to place young girls in stores as clerks in the Filmore district. Fine.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By Martinez Hewlett

The AFL, in dragging out the "ole red herring" and shaking it at the end of a ten-foot pole in the face of the CIO, forgot to clean house before they started their campaign.

Like the Herrenvolk, they are so busy calling other people Communist, that they can't see themselves heading for complete disaster.

And it wasn't so long ago when these very same German people, who had occupied most of their spare time fighting the Communists, found themselves being referred to as Nazi brutes and savages who ought to be wiped off the face of the earth. The Allies almost achieved this task, too.

The same goes with the AFL. So busy are they in trying to discredit the CIO, under the guise of fighting Communism, the leaders of the AFL are failing to take note of the Hitler-like elements springing up within its ranks.

The NNPA reports that the District of Columbia AFL has informed the United States Employment Service that if that agency moves to end race segregation in its local offices, the AFL will take the issue to the members of the house appropriations committee, who oppose integration, and will seek to have the agency's office in Washington abolished.

This AFL threat followed an announcement by the CIO that it would picket the offices of the USES in protest against the agency's policy of maintaining separate facilities for white and Negro job applicants.

Here you see the AFL foolishly and dangerously fostering racial segregation partly to spite the CIO, no doubt. Here, too, is a close parallel to the Hitler line when the Nazis were taking over the labor unions and opposed unions and agencies that accepted Jews.

The same report stated that a delegation of the local AFL called on USES officials and told them that the local AFL is unalterably opposed to the mixing of the races in the District of Columbia.

The delegation also called attention to the fact that its unions maintain separate facilities for white and Negro workers in the district. The races are kept separate in locker rooms, tool sheds, eating facilities, toilets and offices, the union spokesman said. Even separate water pails are provided for white and Negro laborers, they boasted.

Isn't "equality" wonderful? All of this is pure unadulterated dribble. Think of the trouble, the added expense and the unnecessary effort put out by these District of Columbia AFL unions to keep workers separated. And in Washington, D. C., the supposed citadel of democratic unity! How happy this spectacle must make the anti-union forces.

But in the meantime the CIO threw a picket line around the offices of Robert Goodwin, national director of the USES, with 200 white and Negro pickets marching before his offices in the labor department carrying signs which read "Goodwin Defends Segregation at USES," "JimCrow Is Hitler's Brother," "Smash Jim Crow at USES," and "Veterans Want Equal Job Opportunities for All Americans."

Leave it to the CIO to show the way. They'll do it every time. The AFL should take a few lessons. It seems to me that if they are so afraid of Communism, they would do well to practice democracy and not fascism. Certainly their practices do not convince anyone of the superiority of their brand of democracy over Communism.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

It was good to see the green fields, the trees, the brooks running down to the river, the sleek fat cows feeding contentedly in the pastures, as we rode farther and farther towards Pennsylvania, after leaving Chicago.

Then at last came the Allegheny mountains—green to the very top. Not a rock, not a bare strip of ground was visible anywhere—just soft green foliage that made you feel as if you'd like to roll in it, as you'd like to roll in a soft fleecy cloud.

On the eastern slope of these mountains is the Horseshoe Curve, one of the principal show places of the Pennsylvania railroad. It was built 90 years ago. Three reservoirs that supply the city of Altoona with water lie within the curve—like gems of turquoise in a setting of green. The railroad winds along the narrow gorge, from one side to the other, making an almost perfect replica of a horseshoe.

Well, I've gone around this Horseshoe Curve at least five or six times. But it was always at night, and I never could see the real beauties of it. This time it was early morning, and we watched eagerly as the two engines of our train wound majestically around the curve, bringing the last cars of the train almost within speaking distance of the engineers.

But—can you imagine it—on the other side of the gorge, a long freight train was winding just as majestically around that side of the curve and just as we got to the "toe" of the horseshoe where we should have had a wonderful view down the gorge, with those beautiful blue lakes sparkling in the sun, with a wisp of fog hanging over them and clinging to the sides of the mountains, that freight train chugged directly beside our train and obstructed every bit of the view! We couldn't see a thing, except a few glimpses between the cars! Darn!

Busses have taken the place of streetcars in the cities of Pennsylvania. You can't imagine how nice it is not to be awakened very early in the morning by the rattle and bang of streetcars. Then there are no streetcar tracks to bounce over when you drive through the streets. There is enough bounce without them. For the streets here aren't paved one bit better than those of L.A.

Which reminds me. My 81-year-old aunt and I took a short trip to a nearby town in a bus. The only place we could find a seat was in the extreme rear. If you've ever tried to ride on that rear seat in a bus, you know what I mean.

"O-o-o-o-o!" she exclaimed, as we jounced along. "This rides like a blutz wagon, when I was a little girl."

(A blutz wagon, among Pennsylvania farmers, is a wagon without any springs. It was always one of the very important vehicles on any farm, large or small, some 50 or 60 years ago. It still is, on many farms. And when the horse was in a hurry to get home, you can imagine how that springless wagon bounced over the stony roads.)

"But do you know," my auntie remarked after a minute or two of bouncing, "I believe this is good for you. It'll exercise your insides."

And, believe it or not, a severe threatened headache left entirely after about 15 minutes of inside exercise.

The East is in the midst of confusion worse confounded, so far as time is concerned. Most of the towns and cities have daylight saving time. The railroads and buses, and many of the farmers, refuse to budge from the standard time.

So in families where the man of the house works for the railroad, the daughter works in an office downtown, the son perhaps drives a bus, the little woman who keeps her hand on the throttle in the home must have her wits about her to keep things moving on time.

There's a special sale downtown at a certain hour. Is it by "fast time" or "slow time"? Her club is going to go on a picnic. But the hour they've planned to leave, by bus—is that an hour earlier or an hour later? She must have lunch an hour earlier for Mary, and an hour later for John and Jim.

"This is God's time," said a railroad man extending his watch belligerently for all to see. "I don't care what time you other fellows have, but this is God's time."

The Common Defense

LESSON OF THE GEORGIA LYNCHING

We must be concerned about what happened in Monroe, Georgia, where four Negroes were lynched on July 25. It represents a pattern for suppressing the rights and liberty of minority groups in this country.

The pattern is that of Hitler. For the Nazis, too, used to employ hatchet-men for striking down their victims in cold blood. They, too, employed terroristic methods, saying that in pursuing this line of conduct they were not violating anybody's civil rights.

The Nazis discounted human rights and felt no obligation to recognize and respect them. Knowing what Nazism was we expected that. But knowing what Americanism is, with its emphasis on the sacredness of human personality, we cannot condone the violation of human rights in this county.

In the Georgia lynching situation we are face to face, not with Americanism, but with a type of Nazism in the United States. If the people who are responsible for the use of Nazi methods in lynching four American citizens in Georgia are not brought to justice, if this pattern of terrorism and murder is not disavowed by the American people, then there is no minority group in this country which is secure against the same kind of injustice to which the Negroes of Georgia have been subjected.

If we have learned anything from the experience of mankind under Hitlerism it is that injustice working through terrorism must so stopped when it first appears. Had the people of Germany refused to permit persecution of the Jews they would all have been spared the experience of persecution by the Nazi tyranny at a later time.

What happened in Monroe, Georgia is not only the concern of Negroes. The injustice done to them is an injustice done to us all. The human rights violated in their case is the violation of the rights of us all.

A LAYMAN'S VIEW

By Leon W. Steward

EUGENE GASH COMES TO L.A.

Well, Eugene Gash, brilliant young concert pianist, has appeared in Los Angeles. And, if we are not greatly mistaken, Los Angeles is impatiently awaiting his return. This opinion is gleaned from the repeated remarks of those who heard him and of many who have heard them talk about him. Yes, Eugene Gash must return soon so that a larger number of music lovers might have the pleasure of hearing him before he moves East for his debut in Carnegie Hall in December.

The Cosmos Club is due considerable credit for offering to introduce this young man to their home town. And had not the days preceding the recital made too much demand on their time and energies due to the Alpha Kappa Alpha Boule, they might have gotten the news of the recital around a bit better. Many were surprised and disappointed not to have known about it. Nevertheless an excellent audience was on hand for the recital and judging from the applause and the high praise which was showered upon the artist they thoroughly enjoyed it.

During his stay in Los Angeles Mr. Gash was the guest of Eddie Burbridge, theatrical editor of The California EAGLE, who is primarily responsible for Gash's coming, having known him since his school days in Denver. We were his chauffeur and our home was like home to him when meal time caught us together. He was delighted to be in on a swell party given by Dr. H. H. Towles for his visiting niece, a Fisk music teacher. He enjoyed chatting with William Grant Still, the noted composer and meeting, for the first time, Rudolph Dunbar, the conductor, recently returned from Europe, who will conduct the orchestra tonight (Thursday) when the Nash Singers appear in Hollywood Bowl for our Urban League. The more Gash saw of Los Angeles the more he liked it. And the Cosmos Club saw to it that he saw much of it after the recital Thursday night. Gash also enjoyed meeting and going around with Calvin Jackson, the MGM musician and composer, whom he had known when both were studying in New York. Jackson attended Eugene's first Town Hall recital and the second and third also.

A SERIOUS PROBLEM

Somehow our instrumentalists always stop short of the highest goals in musical attainment. Not so with our vocalists. Ever since Roland Hayes came to fame by way of Europe, we have had several singers to make the grade. Marion Anderson, Paul Robeson, Dorothy Maynor, etc. But the instrumentalists are either satisfied to get jobs teaching music, marry and raise children or divert to swing as per Hazel Scott. This quiet, modest young man has no higher resolve than to not stop until he has either made the grade of great concert artists or demonstrated his inability to do so. We admire this in him and sincerely believe he will succeed. He hurried back by TWA Saturday morning to prepare for the national finals in a Debussy contest (which requires the ability to play every composition written by that composer) which will be held in San Francisco, September 5. After this he will return to L.A. for another and larger concert after which he will probably make a trip south (to play at colleges) and the middle west before reporting to New York to prepare for presentation at Carnegie Hall in December or January. (By the way, the prize for winning the DeBussy contest is $1,000 and a national hookup broadcast.)

Paul Robeson Calls for American Support of So. African Strikers

NEW YORK—The Council on African Affairs this week called upon the American people to give "immediate expressions of support" for the strike of nearly 100,000 native African miners in Johannesburg, which the government of South Africa is trying to suppress. The workers are striking for an increase in their present pay which is 50c a day!

The strike began Tuesday, when most of the 300,000 miners in the gold mines around Johannesburg raised the cry, "We want $2 a day," and walked off the job to enforce their demand. The governmen, headed by Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, replied with repressive measures, also by the arrest of strike leaders whom it calls "agitators."

Declaring that the absentee and South African owners of the South African gold mines are seeking to preserve "a form of industrial tyranny repungent to every decent practice in modern industrial employment," Paul Robeson, chairman of the Council on African Affairs, issued an "appeal to my fellow-Americans, in the name of everything that is decent in human relations, to make known their protest against such conditions to the South African Ministry in Washington, D. C.; to send an expression of support for these grievously oppressed workers of South Africa to the Council on African Affairs — 23 West 26th st., New York City; and to keep the South African situation in mind against the time when General Smuts will come to the United Nations Assembly in September to demand the annexation of South West Africa to the Union of South Africa, which means more Africans for him to exploit."

Latest dispatches from South Africa indicate that the miners' strike is gaining support, notably from the Transvaal Municipal African Workers Union and the Indian passive-resistance movement.

Premier Smuts, who was scheduled to leave for the Paris Peace Conference on Friday, issued a statement calling upon the world to "write the peace in terms of humanity." He was criticized in a telegram from Hyman M. Basner, representative in the senate of the Transvaal and Orange Free State, in a telegram declaring that, "in the face of urgent problems and of unnecessary violence in dealing with industrial disputes, you have no right to leave South Africa at this critical period for which you, as prime minister, must be mainly responsible."

Urban League Cites Gains for Negroes in Dept. Stores, Offices

NEW YORK—In a manual on "Integration of Negroes in Department Stores," the National Urban League revealed this week a substantial gain in the use of Negroes as sales and clerical workers in the retail merchandising field throughout the country. The department store manual, compiled by Leroy Jeffries, assistant director of the league's industrial relations department, from reports of local leagues, indicated that the greatest gains have been made in New York, Nw Jersey, and Massachusetts.

The retail merchandising field, described as late as 1938 as being "barred to Negroes as effectively as if by legislative fiat," is gradually opening new job opportunities to Negroes, Jeffries stated.

Fourteen large merchandise firms in the New York area use Negroes as sales and stock clerks, stenographers, and personnel executievs. In New Jersey, the local league's industrial relations department reported placement of six clerks in two Newark stores. Further east, seven Boston stores, including small exclusive shops in the Cambridge and Back Bay sections, are using a total of 20 Negro sales girls in addition to clerical workers.

Department stores in a number of small western and midwestern towns are hiring Negro clerks. In Milwaukee, Wisconsin, the first Negro department store clerk was placed early this year through the local league.

This lessening of opposition to employing Negroes by the retail merchandising industry, which completed more than 7,000,000,000 dollars worth of sales in 1945 and employs millions of workers around the country, is viewed as an encouraging sign in the total white collar picture for Negroes, Jeffries stated.

In 1938, according to a survey made by the New York State Commission to investigate conditions of the urban Negro population, there was not a single Negro sales clerk in any of the seven major department stores in New York City. The crack was made during the war years when, after assiduous spade work by the New York Urban League, various civic groups presented their requests to department stores, with the result that two of th city's leading firms employed Negroes as sales clerks and clerical workers. New York's example has been studied by cities throughout the country, Jeffries said, and he is of the opinion that the movement will spread throughout the country.

Integration of Negroes in department stores has become one of the major activities of the Urban League movement. In this connection it has worked with other organizations throughout the country in spearheading various movements, particularly in Chicago where the local League's Women's division has formed an interracial committee in launching a special effort to secure employment for Negro women as sales clerks in stores in the "loop."

The Urban League department store manual, subtitled "Practical Applications for the Integration of Negroes in Department Stores," includes the plan that wherever feasible, training courses in merchandising and retailing be established in the schools or in local leagues in cooperation with department store management to insure the availability of trained Negro personnel. It will be used by Urban League personnel at the National Urban League's Annual Conference, to be held in St. Louis, Missouri, September 25-29, as a basis for discussion in developing techniques to attack the problem systematically in local league areas. The conference will also take up at length, the whole problem of "The Negro Worker in the White Collar Fields."

Editor's Wife Named Teacher In San Berdoo

SAN BERNARDINO—Mrs. Mary Lou Smith, wife of J. Robert Smith, editor of the Tri-County Bulletin, here has been appointed to teach at the Mt. Vernon Elementary school, there by becoming the first Negro to teach in the San Bernardino city school system.

While Negro teachers were employed in the county schools, the faculty of the city system up to Mrs. Smith's appointment included only whites and Mexicans.

Mrs. Smith taught in the Los Angeles city schools for the past four years and also in El Centro soon after graduation. She is a graduate of San Bernardino local schools and the University of California at Los Angeles, did post graduate work at Redlands University and Howard University, Washington, D. C. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority.

Two Negroes also were recently named as carriers in the post office and applications for deputy sheriffs and policemen have been filed with those departments.

Local NAACP Enrollment Hits Record High; Eastside Leads

Final reports in the local NAACP 1946 Membership Campaign reveal that the branch membership is now more than 15,000. The current drive netted 13,128 memberships, with receipts of $20,175.93, and together with the more than 2500 1946 memberships which have not yet expired the Los Angeles Branch shows a gain of more than 3000 memberships over last year's record enrollment.

Under the able leadership of Mrs. Emma Spencer and Edward C. Atkinson, co-chairmen, Leon W. Steward, campaign coordinator, and J. L. Oliver Sr., director of personnel, the 600 odd campaign workers did an excellent job. More than 30 workers secured from 100 to 500 memberships each, and one worker reported $1035.

In an exceedingly close race, the Eastside A District, under the leadership of John Hall and Rev. P. D. Lehman, won the first district award with 2553 memberships, amounting to $3676, and the Westside district, led by Lorenzo Bowdoin and Clarence O. English, placed second with 2376 members, amounting to $3515. Wilshire district, headed by Dr. E. Claude Hudson and Mrs. Ethel Atkinson, won the quota award, exceeding its quota of $1500 by more than $375, representing 895 memberships.

First and second individual membership production awards went to Mrs. Adelaide Plumb, with 508 memberships and $623.50, and J. H. Hilaire, with 483 memberships and $554.50. First and second individual cash production awards were won by L. G. Robinson, reporting $1035, representing 270 memberships, and Clarence Armour, with $833, representing 100 memberships.

Memberships continue to pour into the local office and it is safe to predict that Los Angeles branch will move close to the top branch of the nation.

Eastside A, 2553 memberships and $3676; Westside, 2376 memberships and $3515; Eastside B, 1845 memberships and $2206.50; South Los Angeles, 1711 memberships and $1979.28; Housing Units, 1161 memberships and $1472.75; Wilshire, 885 memberships and $1878.50; Special Gifts, 689 memberships and $1838; Bronzeville, 525 memberships and $644; Labor, 415 memberships and $504.50; Temple, 233 memberships and $1096.50; and Hollenbeck, 102 memberships and $108. Hundreds of membership renewals and new memberships came directly to the local campaign office.

S. senate, to the house of representatives, to the posts of lieutenant governor and attorney general as well as to the state legislature," Lawrence and Connelly statd. "An all-out battle must be fought to pass the Fair Employment Practices Initiative, Proposition 11."

"MAD" DOG BITES

Two young boys were brought to my office recently by their mothers. The boys had been bitten by a dog and had nasty wounds—one on the face, the other on the hand. The youngsters and their mothers were badly frightened.

Tom and Harry had been teasing a neighboring dog, which suddenly turned on them. In his fury, the dog leaped and bit Harry on the face. Tom tried to pull the dog off and was bitten on the hand.

The mothers were sure the dog must be "mad" and that their sons would get rabies and die. I lost no time in washing out the wounds carefully and thoroughly with soap and water, meanwhile trying to calm the fears of the parents.

As soon as the wounds had been well cleaned and bandaged, I asked for details about the dog and where it was now. The dog had run away but one mother said she was going to get her husband to find him and shoot him. I told her by all means to try to find the dog immediately but not to kill him and to warn her husband to be very careful lest he be bitten, too. It might be safer, I suggested, to call the dog catcher. The dog, I explained, should be shut up in some enclosed place, where he could not get out and where there would be no danger that he could bit anyone else.

Then I told the mothers there was now way of knowing yet whether their sons would have rabies, a disease which people get from the bit of a mad dog. It is a terrible disease, which leads to death, but it can be prevented if certain inoculations are given immediately after the bite. This is particularly important if the bite is on the face, as Harry's was.

Rabies does not develop immediately after a bite by a mad dog. It does not develop until the germ which causes the disease and which man gets from the bite of a mad dog travels from the place bitten to the spinal cord and brain. This may take several weeks, depending upon where the bit is. If it is on the face or neck, the germs take less time to reach the brain than if the bite is on the body.

However, a serum can be given the patient, by inoculation, which kills the germ before it reaches the brain and prevents rabies from developing. This serum is given in a series of injections.

As long as boys tease dogs, dogs will bite. There is no danger of rabies, however, unless the dog has rabies or is "mad."

Just as it takes time for rabies to develop in a human being, so does it in a dog, but it develops more rapidly in a dog. Therefore, if there is any question at all about whether the dog is mad, he should be kept under observation for at least two weeks. If he is mad, he will show definite signs in this period and will die.

Meanwhile, however, the human being should take no chances. He should go to a doctor at once, have the wound cleaned and have the inoculations which prevent rabies.

I explained all this to the boys and their mothers and they readily agreed the boys should take the serum. So I inoculated them and told them to come back in a few days.

The next day one of the mothers called me and said they had found the dog and, as I advised, had locked him up.

We kept close watch on the dog for two weeks. In that time he showed no signs of being mad and eventually, convinced the dog was not mad, we released him. It was no longer necessary to give the boys the anti-rabies serum. There was no danger they would get the disease, their wounds were healing and all was well.

All dog bites do not have such a happy ending. Sometimes we can never be sure whether the dog was mad because people, in anger or fear, kill the dog. Then the only way to find out if the dog had rabies is for a scientist to examine his brain. It is much better to lock up the dog and watch him. But don't ever let him on the street, where he might bite other people, until it is known he was not mad. And so long as there is any question as to whether the dog was mad, the person bitten should receive treatment to prevent rabies. It is foolish to take chances with such a deadly disease.

The city council has approved a request of the Cole Brothers Circus asking that the "big tent" be pitched at Washington blvd. and Hill st. for ten days, from Sept. 27 to Oct. 6, inclusive.

Mob Hunts Eye Witness Of Crime, as S. C. Gang Murders Another Negro

brother John, and two other white men.

According to the sheriff, Walker had been drinking and entered a filling station owned by John Craig. After an argument and a scuffle, Walker, so the sheriff claims, left in his car, cursing and vowing he would get a gun and "kill you before tomorrow night."

The sheriff said the Craigs followed Walker to his home, found him with a gun, and shot him.

In Columbia, James McCray, editor of the weekly Lighthouse Informer said he had talked to witnesses of the slaying and he asked Governor Ransome J. Williams to investigate. McCray said Walker was sitting on the steps of his home and that the Craigs fired "a stream of bullets" at him.

No charges have been filed against John Craig or the other two whiet men—Barney Givens and Richard McCurley.

in court. Arrested with Jones was 17 year old Albert Harris. No formal charges were made against the two men yet they were held a week.

When finally released the two found a mob waiting outside the jail. Earlier witnesses heard screaming from inside the jail and when the mob took the two men it was noticed that they had been badly beaten in jail. The torture lynching followed.

Harris was shot by the mob and left for dead before the blow torch was applied to Jones, who had recently been involved in a dispute with a white man over an automatic which Jones brought home from Europe as a trophy.

It is alleged the white man demanded that Jones turn the gun over to him. Jones replied, "Only over my dead body would the gun be taken."

It was revealed also that Harris's father had been beaten by the mob when it was discovered that the youth had escaped.

The latest word received by the national offices of the NAACP was that the mob was on its way to a Texas town to seize Harris. Local NAACP officials phoned the New York office they would attempt to reach the youth, and rush him to safety.

The department of justice has promised Walter White, NAACP head, that Harris would be protected on his trip to New York, if NAACP officials succeeded in rescuing him.

The names of five members of the mob which lynched Jones have been supplied to the FBI. Among them is one woman.

Jury Convicts White Who Shot Mexican

Barney Tillman, who lives in the Rose Hill courts on the Eastside, arrested for the shooting of Danny Elizalde last Feb. 25.

The jury of seven women and five men deliberated only 45 minutes to find Tillman guilty. It was alleged during the trial that Tillman had shot the GI with a rifle after he had told neighbors he wouldn't stand any more "trouble from these Mexicans."

Attractive Mrs. Rosemary Haskell told the jury that Tillman stated to her that he thought Mexicans were dishonest and untrustworthy, and she attributed his prejudice to his "nervous trigger-finger" which caused the wounding of Elizalde.

Superior court judge Elmer W. Heald will sentence Tillman August 27. He has applied for probation.

Mrs. Haskell also testified that Tillman attempted to organize a vigilante committee several months prior to the shooting to "take care" of the Mexican youths living in the project.

Man and Youth Held On Matron's Charge

A twin complaint charging kidnaping and rape has been filed by the district attorney's office against James Berry, 34, after Mrs. Esther Gutierrez told officers Berry and a 16-year-old accomplice had forced her into their car and criminally assaulted her.

Williams declares he was waiting for a bus at the Greyhound station at 1:30 Tuesday morning when a white officer in plain clothes approached him and asked, "What the hell are you doing here?" Williams said that when he refused to answer the man without his first showing identification, the plain clothes officer grabbed him and a scuffle ensued.

During the altercation Williams said the policeman cut himself when he backed into a window. Another plain clothes officer, also without identification, then joined in, and held Williams while the first officer beat him, he charged.

Williams declares he was then taken by police car to several different stations, and was constantly beaten, kicked and mauled by the two white officers, who called him names, and stated, "I'd like to have you in Texas, you black bastard."

Charges against the veteran were dropped by superior court Judge William R. McKay when the district attorney's office admitted it did not have sufficient evidence to prove any charge against him. Attorney Reese declares that he will file the brutality charges pending an investigation by his office into the identity of the metropolitan squad officers.

Judge Jefferson to Speak Sunday, Sept. 1

Judge Edwin Jefferson will speak on "Juvenile Delinquency" Sunday, September 1, at 5 p. m. at the First A.M.E. church, 801 Towne Ave. The meeting is arranged jointly by the Progressive Club of the church and the O.E.S. committee of Electa Chapter No. 3.

The sponsors of the meeting have issued a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

Citizens Repel First Drive of Racists for Restrictive Covenants

people, impose fascism upon them. A round of applause greeted Ballmeyer's statement and from that point on the racists were in retreat.

Other progressives followed up the attack, branding the restrictive covenant movement as a "smelly racket," pointing to clauses in a leaflet, "Property Restriction Campaign Under Way" demanding that even persons whose property already was restricted should pay the two dollars per head asked as the first contribution and, in addition, pay a fee on each lot they own. This, the leaflet "explained" was to cover "the cost of printing the agreement, stationery, postage to you and return, and recording fee."

In the same leaflet, the sponsors of the meeting admitted that the federal constitution provided that no state shall "deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws." They insisted, however, that what the state cannot do, without violating the constitution, the individual property owner can do with impunity.

Having disposed of the constitution with typical fascist casuistry, it was not surprising that the meeting was conducted without the salute to the American flag, which is a stipulation for all meetings conducted in a public school.

Leaders in the restrictive covenant movement were a Mr. Casey, a Mr. Mason and one Jack Willard. Guest speaker was a Mr. Black of the Huntington Park Home Owners Assn.

After the school meeting, Lynwood progressives held another meeting at the home of one of their number, where they organized a branch of the NCPAC and mapped plans aimed at further discomfiting the covenanters. This meeting heard a short and pointed talk by Mrs. Charlotta Bass, editor-publisher of The California EAGLE, who, with several members of The EAGLE staff and representatives of the Homeowners Protective Assn. attended both meetings.

Attacked by Escort, Housewife Charges

A 23-year-old Watts housewife told police this week that she had been beaten and criminally assaulted in her car several days before the complaint, and named one of her "boy-friends" as the man who ravished her.

The alleged victim was Mrs. Joyce McClamy of 1473 East 103rd st. She said her friend, Wade Hughes, 31, went for a ride with her and another couple in her car last week. After a fight between Hughes and James Robinson of 432 East 31st st., in which Robinson left the car, and while Robinson's girl friend, Grace Vanderspool, who lives with the victim, was gone to make a phone call, the man raped, her, Mrs. McClamy said.

called on USES officials and told them that the local AFL is unalterably opposed to the mixing of the races in the District of Columbia.

In taking its stand against integration, the local AFL directed attention to the fact that its unions maintain separate facilities for white and colored workers in the District of Columbia. The races are kept separate in locker rooms, tool sheds, eating facilities, toilets and offices, the union representatives said. Even separate water pails are provided for white and colored laborers, they pointed out.

The delegation warned USES officials that it would charge the agency with attempting to bring about social reforms, if integration were attempted, and stated that such an atttempt might be the forerunner of racial disturbances.

Before the conclusion of the conference they drew from local officials a pledge that no attempts at integration would be made without authority from the director of the fourth regional district of USES.

Meanwhile the CIO last Wednesday threw a picket line around the offices of Robert Goodwin, national director of USES, with 200 white and colored pickets marching before his offices in the Labor Department carrying signs which read "Goodwin Defends Segregation at USES.," "Jim Crow is Hitler's Brother," "Smash Jim Crow at USES," and "Veterans Want Equal Job Opportunities for All Americans."

Following the one-day demonstration, Miss Gertrude Evans secretary of the Washington Industrial Union Council (CIO), said that the CIO would continue its fights against discrimination and segregation in the agency and the petitions are now being circulated obtaining names of prominent people in business and government who endorse the fight.

The fight against segregation in the USES dates back to hearings before the house appriations committee in 1941 when reactionary members of the committee, who opposed integration, made an alleged off the record "deal" with USES heads in which it was agreed that segregation would be maintained in the agency's District of Columbia offices.

Since that time the United Public Workers of America has twice protested to the United States Civil Services Commission that the agency was using discriminatory practices in its referrals of white and colored applicants to government jobs.

An investigation by the Civil Service Commission substantiated the charges of the UPWA and the Commission ordered USES to desist from such practices.

Two months later after a follow-up check by the UPWA simiar charges were again leveled at the agency. At that time Civil Service promised another investigation and C. C. Hathaway, public relations officer for the Commission, said if the charges were again found true, the only course of action left to the Commission would be to refer the matter to President Truman.

Thus far the Commission has not made public its findings in the second investigation.

Goodwin, USES head, had "no comment" to make when asked about the picket line thrown around his office.

Labor Department officials were equally silent when confronted with the fact that the AFL charges had come to the attention of NNPA.

Shot Friend He Says Stole His Woman and Dope

Charles Jones, 26 year old pressery was shot dead in a gun battle at the Samba Theatre cafe near Fifth st. and Central ave. late last week, and police have held his "best friend," George W. Jones, 23, on suspicion of the killing.

The suspect, captured after a running gun fight down Central ave., immediately confessed the fatal shooting of his friend, according to the police, first stating he was "mad" because the victim stole his "woman and his dope," and later saying it was an argument over stolen clothes. Both men live in hotels near the scene of the shooting.

Also slightly wounded in the fray was waitress Shirley Green, 20, who was hit by a bullet from the suspect's gun.

George Jones was captured by Newton and Central division officers after he had emptied his gun at them during the chase. Officers quoted him as saying when caught, "Charlie threatened me with a knife. That's when I shot him." He said he had "found" the gun near some railroad tracks three months ago.

Ernest Porter of 613 East 6th st., a friend of the victim, told police that Charles and George had fought over a girl named "Tillie" and he had heard George say he had $600 worth of marihuana in his room.

ment was going to prosecute the Klan to the fullest extent.

From the Department of justice the protest parade marched to the White House and there met with the special assistant of the President, Charles Niles. There the committee left resolutions for the President, calling for re-establishment of FEPC and urging pasage by congress of anti-lynch and anti-poll tax legislation. Also a petition signed by the minister and delegates of the National Conference to the 80th congress urging it not to seat Senator Bilbo and Representative Rankin because of violations of the constitutions and misconduct in their elections.

The Committee of Ministers was composed of Rev. Clayton D. Russell, Rev. H. Mansfield Collins, Rev. Paul Marshall, all of Los Angeles, and Joseph H. Winters of Chicago, Rev. C. A. Lewis of Chicago, Rev. F. A. Lewis of Gary, Indiana, Rev. H. Clark of Astoria Park, New York, and Rev. Paul Turner of Chicago.

Rev. Clayton D. Russell declared later, "The Negro People are united more than ever in face of the fascist danger overshadowing their lives. Church people, ministers and laymen are united and I urge all citizens to join the movement of the Negro People for liberation, to unite with progressive forces for the extension of democracy for all people.

Especially should we be organized to have our congressmen take action against Bilbo and Rankin at the 80th congress. Then when the atty. general present laws protecting citizens and civil rights we must be ready with support to see that proper legislation is enacted for the protection of all people."

Henry Travers, the "little man who wasn't there" in the Frank Capra production, "It's a Wonderful Life," was an established architect in London, England, before he became an actor.

Mrs. K. Nelson, Dunbar Hotel Owner, Passes

Death came to Mrs. Katheryn Nelson here Tuesday at 3:20 p.m. as a result of two paralytic strokes and numerous sieges of comas over a period of six years. Up to her first paralysis attack in 1940 Mrs. Nelson had been the active general manager of the Dunbar hotel, 42nd place and Central avenue, which she and her husband, James C. Nelson, purchased in 1936.

Prior to coming to California, Mrs. Nelson, born Katheryn Brooks in 1879, had been active in business and club work. She was an officer and charter member of Heliotrope Temple, Daughter Elks, of I.B.P.O. Elks of the World in Chicago, Ill.

Upon taking charge of the west's largest hostelry built by Dr. J. A. Sommerville, Mrs. Nelson had the name retained as the Dunbar hotel. Knowing the hotel situation over the United States as it pertained to Negroes, Mrs. Nelson set immediately about the task of carrying out the high class pattern that was set by the builders.

Under her astute management many important improvements were made. When she suffered the first attack that was to prove her fatal illness, the task of managing the hotel fell upon her husband and constant companion, James C. Nelson.

The late Mrs. Nelson was born at Braidwood, Ill., Nov. 6, 1879. She moved to Chicago in 1896 and remained there until coming to Los Angeles in 1936. Throughout her illness she had been comforted by members of her immediate afmily who survive her and the spiritual aid of the Christian Science church.

Mrs. Nelson leaves to mourn her passing a devoted husband, James C. Nelson; a sister, Mme. Rita Jubien, and a niece, Mrs. Vivian Terrell. Funeral arrangements are being made by the Fisher and Sons Mortuary, with interment in Rosedale cemetery, under auspices of the Christian Science church.

UOPWA to Hold Sub-Regional Confab Sunday

The first Southern California Sub-Regional Conference of the United Office and Professional Workers of America, CIO, has been called for Sunday, August 25, Berhard Lusher, UOPWA regional representative, announced yesterday.

The keynote speaker will be UOPWA West Coast Regional Director Richard Lewis.

The four OUPWA locals in Southern California, Los Angeles Locals 9 and 178, San Pedro Local 88, and San Diego Local 194, will send delegates to the Conference. Officers, stewards and interested members of the four locals are invited to attend as observers.

"We plan an aggressive, far-reaching, organizing drive among office, professional and technical workers, the so-called white collar workers, as our part of the CIO Southern California organizing drive recently announced by Irwin de Shetler, new Southern California CIO Regional Director," Lusher said. "Unified, collective effort with all workers through union organization is the only effective answer to the increasingly serious plight of the low paid white collar workers," Lusher continued, "and we pledge our utmost effort to bring this message to these workers."

Anti-Lynch Law Needed, Warns Atty. Gen. Clark

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio—Asserting that present federal laws are inadequate to deal with lynchers, U. S. Atty. Gen. Tom C. Clark this week said he would point out to congress when it reconvenes the need for federal anti-lynching legislation. Clark spoke at the "Homecoming Picnic" of the Guernsey county and the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce here.

Referring to the present wave of lynchings in the South, he said "The time has come when congress may have to pass legislation to insure to all citizens the guarantees under the constitution.

"When the congress returns, I shall file a report pointing out the facts and outlining our experiences in these cases and, in addition, pointing out the weaknesses of the present federal statues in the light of these incidents and the need for legislation to protect every citizen in his civil rights."

The attorney general took cognizance of the effect on American foreign relations of lynchings and other acts of terrorism against the Negro people, stating:

"At a time when our great mental task of working out a formula for guaranteeing life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness for minority groups throughout the world; when our nation shines undimmed as an example of democracy at its best, a land where members of all races, creed and color can live together in harmony, these sporadic outbursts of intemperance and mob violence can only result in the loss of prestige and give rise to the suggestion that we put our own house in order before we tell others how to run theirs."

Sen. Bilbo Termed 'Senile Debaucher'

BOSTON—Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo was described this week as "the Klansman, the bigot, the senile debaucher of democracy."

The colorful description was given by Hodding Carter, Pulitzer Prize-winning publisher of Greenville, Miss.

Carter said he thought the re-election of Bilbo to the senate was a good thing because "he sits there as a horrifying warning of what the forces of bigotry and anger and fear can produce in a democracy."

Mrs. Mildred Hester Sues for Divorce

Mrs. Mildred Hester, wife of Clarence Hester, wealthy South Los Angeles poultry dealer, has filed suit for divorce charging extreme cruelty.

The complaint, which was filed through the office of Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, lists the couple's palatial home at 1654 E. 101st st., an expensive automobile, and valuable leaseholds on prominent locations on 103rd st., as community property. Her attorney secured a blanket restraining order on all the community property because of allegations that unless the order was granted the husband might dispose of some of their valuable holdings, before the matter comes up for trial.

The couple is well known in South Los Angeles business circles, having for a long time operated a lucrative poultry establishment at 1801 E. 103rd st.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

LOOKING FORWARD to a busy fall season, a great number of the city's civic and philanthropic minded clubs are in the throes of making tentative plans to take active part in youth conservation and community welfare. We find the Westview Hospital drive taking precedence over the annual Christmas parties for underprivileged, that in some instances have started and ended philanthropic efforts for the year in several clubs organized for charity. This postwar club season will find the organizations giving their all in alleviating the suffering of people in war devastated countries; continuing to help the disabled veterans now flooding military hospitals; assisting those who are again facing civilian life with the problem of earning their own livelihood; and placing special emphasis on child care centers of the community.

Jessie Mae Brown

The Jefferson PTA recently ratified a strong group of leaders who are prepared to make the ensuing semester a worthy one. The political study clubs are forging ahead with staunch civic programs, the Women's Federated Clubs are continuing their work on a larger scale, and we find that several of the younger social clubs plan to mix work with pleasure. The Crop 'N' Tail Riding club recently met with the board of Westview hospital, and set up plans for a mammoth benefit to be staged in October. Other active bodies giving serious thought to aid in this respect are numerous. As Society Editor, I am glad to note the continued interest in the trend of club activities toward tangible and worth while efforts. Here's hoping that the many plans for the fall club season will leave a true mark of success with the groups that are giving their all to aid.

THE GAY SIDE

Informal entertaining, the order of the day during war years, remains in high fashion. So elaborate was the affair given by Dr. H. H. Towles last Wednesday evening that we delight in placing it with outstanding events of the summer season. The affair honored his visiting niece, Miss Lois Towles, charming young member of the Fisk faculty, who recently displayed her talents as a concert pianist to L. A. audiences at the open meeting of the AKA Boule. Throughout the evening her sis, Dorothy Towles(looking very gorgeous in a pencil slim black dress with fascinating lace insets) made intros to the 100 or so guests who, on a whole, represented a good cross section of the city's leading professionals and socialites. By the way, the setting was strictly Californian, with a unique dance floor centering the lawn. A combo played the latest hits throughout, and dancing held sway.

At the height of the evening, guests enjoyed the buffet supper topped by toasts over bubbling glasses of champagne. Chatted with Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Bailey, along with house guest, Estell Massey Riddle, who was preparing for her return to N. Y.; the J. R. Portwigs, who have had a very busy summer; Bernice Barnum, all aglow over recent Boule; the man about town, Chuck Williams, being the life of the party along with new arrival to the city, Dr. Jerome (Jeeters) Johnson; Attys. Walter Gordon and David Williams, Louise Beavers, Charles Lisburgh, out of service at last, and his sisters, Camille Cannedy and Hilda Allen; talented Eugene Gash, talking over concert that took place the following evening with Cosmos member LeRoy Beavers, Lester and Wanda Freeman, the Norman O. Houstons, S. C. Bottler and the bride; James Harris, Blanche Groggs, the Dewey Davidsons and many many anothers. Believe me, it was quite an affair.

The Bunch sisters, Gloria and Jackie (prides of the Crown City), entertained with a dinner party Sunday evening honoring Miss Delia Leonard, school chum from Sam Houston college. Delia plans to leave L. A. during the early part of September in time to enter Fisk U. So happens that the Bunches plan to continue their studies at UCLA. Guests at the affair included Lester Leonard, Delia's brother; Jackie Oliver, Detroit visitor; Harrison Bailey, Leonard and LeRoy Beavers, R. B. Porter, Thelma Jackson, Bill Duncan and John Ballinger.

Three other charming visitors to the city inspiring many a social gathering are the Misses Catherine Weiss, Rachell Ulmer and Irma Keys of Detroit. Motor cityans now living in L. A. are seeing to it that the girls have a grand time. Johnnie and Betty Alston, who recently returned from a Detroit trip, had a few friends over Saturday night to a dancing party that turned into old home week, with those in attendance having met the honorees while either vacationing or doing army duty in Detroit. Among those present were: Milton Hays, Jean Watson and Willie Patterson, Alma LaVall, Corine Jones and Ballenger Kemp, Mel and Ike Blocker, Helen and Lowell Steward, Bobby and Flora Boswell, Chuck Boswell, Edwin Sneed and Bob Edwards.

Bert Kenner and his wife Ruth, who attended Wayne university with the visitors, entertained with a gay beach party Monday night. Over 20 guests attending, making the best of a perfect evening... On Wednesday night, Phyllis Scott, another Detroiter who now graces the EAGLE staff, entertained with an informal gathering. The three road buddies will leave sunny Cal Saturday afternoon with a few lasting memories...

IN PASSING

Was among the lucky few to attend the showing of Dr. Ruth Benedict's "Races of Mankind" movie along with Editor C.A.B. and Phyllis Scott last Thursday evening. Sociologists, anthropologists and writers were much in evidence at the gathering that was held in the ultra modern hill side home of Dr. and Mrs. R. Lovall. UCLA's Dr. Hojier spoke and several other personalities added to the program... Received an interesting note from Toussaint Jennings, vice president of the 28th st. YWCA. He is attending an international convention of the association of Y clubs. Writes that he is very proud to represent the local branch, for it is listed as the first Negro "Y" chartered in the world... Noted conductor, Rudolph Dunbar, is reason for much hubbub in the social realm. The international figure was honored at a reception Sunday given at the home of Mrs. Frieda Shaw Johnson. Dr. C. W. Hill was host to a dinner party that followed the reception. While here, Mr. Duncan will conduct the Philharmonic Orchestra...

Sad news of the passing of Dorothy Maynor's mother in N. Y. brought an abrupt change in the scheduled Bowl program for this evening. The noted singer flew black to N. Y. immediately on hearing the shocking news... Speaking of artists, Miss Gladys Childress was honored with a luncheon Saturday afternoon at the Crystal Center. Charming Blanch Williams was hostess...

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Coming as a big surprise to the local social set is the announcement of Ouida Pruitt's marriage to John Lehman. It's true we were all wondering just when the big date would be set but never did we dream that the popular deb and one of the city's most eligible bachelors would quietly be joined in holy wedlock in the picturesque setting of Mexico. Well, that's the way it happened several weeks back and Mr. and Mrs. John McDavid Lehman are now at home to friends in their lovely apartment. Congratulations are in order...

Sarah Lumpkin and her mother are living the life in Little ole N. Y.... Gloria Roberts and Elizabeth are both ready to make the trip to Julliard... Rosalia Saffold Smith will entertain with a dancing party honoring her brother, Bill Saffold Jr., who is back in town, and Miss Laura Nobles, on August 30, at Alpha Bowling Club... The Royal Dragons are back in action following a wartime vacation. The gents will hold their 10th annual sport prom on Aug. 31, at the Elks... Received word from Haroldine Browning enjoying a vacation that she will never forget in Ohio... Ethel and Ed Atkinson are giving a pantry shower for Corine Jones and Sal Kemp on Sunday from 4 to 6. Making deadline...

DR. CATOE ROBINSON and bride, the former Miss Jerry Henderson, enjoy a free second from the receiving line long enough to make a toast over a glass of punch taken from the unique iced bowl. The reception was held at Casa Rafael following the wedding ceremony at St. Philips Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. (See story).

Geraldine Henderson and Dr. Catoe Robinson Recite Vows in Elabrate Episcopal Rites

A celestial simplicity reigned at the formal wedding ceremony of Miss Geraldine Henderson to Dr. Catoe Robinson. The setting of the beautiful St. Philips Episcopal church went unchanged save for the baskets of white gladioli that enhanced the altar. The beauty of the ceremony was centered on the rare loveliness of the bride, who wore a gown of shimmering white slipper satin made on the Juliette style, featuring leg-o-Mutton sleeves, a low neckline, a smooth fitting bodice and flowing train. She wore a finger tip illusion veil that was held in place by a dainty Juliette cap that featured strands of silver lame woven in the crown. She carried an ivory prayer book showered in orchid and white baby orchids. She was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Joseph Henderson, promptly at 3 o'clock. Father Moore of the church presided.

The bride's maids wore embroidered marquisette gowns with matching Juliette caps and carried arm bouquets of Pilgrim roses and gardenias. The color scheme was a delicate coral and blue with the matron of honor wearing yellow. Maid of honor was Miss Gloria Romine of Oakland, Calif. Matron of honor was Mrs. Celia McNealy. Maids were Misses Mildred Cantrell, Myrtle Kenzie, Mildred Gauthier, Betty Hall and Vernel Gauthier. Flower girls were Phyllis Pitts and Jackie Gardena.

Dr. Robinson's brother, Fred Robinson, served as best man. Ushers were: Dr. Walter Davis, Carey Jenkins, Arthur McNealy, Atty. Harold Sinclair, Osie Walton and Joseph Henderson.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony, the bridal party enjoyed an elaborate champagne cocktail party at the Casa Rafael. Promptly at 5 o'clock the wedding reception was held with the bride's maids acting as hostesses in the gardens of Casa Rafael. Throughout the house and the gardens a profusion of white dahlias and briarcliffe roses were used as decorations.

The hundreds of guests were served fruit punch or champagne from huge iced bridal figures that were decorated with American beauty roses and clusters of wedding bells. The bridal cake was decorated in gardenias and orange blossoms. The bride's mother, Mrs. Joseph Henderson, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Edwin Robinson, looked very charming in afternoon dress and received throughout the affair.

BRIDAL DINNER

Immediately following the reception that lasted until 7 p. m. the wedding party attended the bridal dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kenzie.

The bride attended UC of Berkeley for 2 years and attended UCLA 2 years receiving a degree in physical therapy. She was a member of the Ivy Leaf pledge club to AKA sorority. Dr. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Robinson, received his B. S. and DDS at the University of Southern California before entering the armed forces where he served as a captain in Italy and Arfica. He is a member of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity. He was recently elected president of the Westside Chamber of Commerce.

The couple is now on honeymoon.

Mrs. Helen Watkins, of Lomita, California, completed one of Herman's most exciting creations. Mr. Herman Crouch, one of California's most promising designers, draped this printed Harem creation himself as Mrs. Watkins patiently stood as his model. Large chrysanthemums of fusia shade posed upon a background of blue and gray. The usual bloomer affect was faced in fusia satin, thus framing the shapely ankles and feet of Mrs. Watkins.

It has been rumored that this East Mediterranean model was the highlight at the Delta formal August 8, 1946. Many spectators observed this performance of draping in the Costume Design class at Jefferson Adult Evening school. It was the first time Herman had drapped one of his own creations, in the classroom.

Fabrics have been discoevred in a little shop at 1511 Sunset boulevard. This evening at 6:30 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Moss, owners of the store are going to show the entire line to the Costume Design class. The class and the Moss couple invite the public to join the group. Come and bring your friends to this treat. Mr. Moss has been kind enough to allow members of the class to achieve a small discount. Mrs. Helen Watkins, discovered this little store when she was on her all city search for fusia colored satin to complete Herman's creation.

Mr. Moss has in his stock some starched chiffon, romaine, satins and many of the pre-war fabrics that we have wanted and begged for. Also, they carry shark skin and pure linen. Remember to come on the dot of 6:30 p.m. because the demonstration begins at that time and you don't want to miss any of it.

Among the many new California fashion publications is The Californian. On all news counters one may pruchase it. Full of strictly Californian designs and models you may find various stunning designs.

Pasadena was really put on the map last week with the opening of the Midget auto races at the famed Rose Bowl. The largest crowd to attend a midget auto race was present last Tuesday night. Movie stars and other celebrites were on hand to present the prizes. The races were rather fascinating and I imagine that the forthcoming ones will be quite a drawing card in this too quiet hamlet. Noted in the crowd, Betty Benson, Bill Brown, Bump Cunningham, Lula Bunch, Almer Jamerson, Mary McReynolds and many others.

The Spanish Fiesta was very successful even though the city didn't furnish any extra lighting facilities. It was rather dark, but everyone seemed to join in with the festive mood and had a good time. The Club Echo's booth, went over with a bang. I don't know whether Penny Lundy's barkering had anything to do with it or not, but it helped. Saw Clara Lee Calhune with Bernice Gordon and Herriette Willyes MacNeil. Alva Rae Neblett was there with M. L. Jackson, also Barbara Durham, Tommy Floyd, Ollie Guillory, Jerrie Coe, Lexie Anthony, Mack Robinson, Reddy Bartlett, and Snookie McAfee. Barbara Collins and Howard Jordon won the dance contest. Mrs. Booker, Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. Calmore Harris, Mrs. Crooms, Mrs. Sullivan Marshall and hundreds of others had a wonderful time; eating and seeing the people. Saw Gradie Hickambottom for the first time in ages. Willye Anderson is home after several years in the service. His wife Esther was all smiles.

Very much astonished was Barbara Durham when a group of her friends arrived at her house to surpirse her with a Going Away Party and gifts. Pearl McAfee, Thelma Jackson and Barbara James gave the party. Jackie Bunch was there. She is home for a month before gonig back to Sam Houston for her last semester. She plans to get married next year. Her sister Gloria Bunch was there looking as charming as ever and she isn't returning to Sam Houston. Got to talk to Barbara James for the first time since she's been home. She said that she really likes it back at Wilberforce and can't wait for school to open. She especially enjoyed it when it snowed. Lorraine Cuoton, now in her senior year at the General hospital, David Scott, Willye Banks, Lora Jacques, Peggy Cuoton, Harold Williams, Alvin Johnson, Jessie Arnold whi is engaged to Bob Johnson, Robert Morgan, M. L. Jackson and oodles of others were there. Barbara and her mother, Mrs. Ruby Durham, left for Kansas and Chicago, Tuesday. Our best wishes go with them on their trip. Oh, yes, Mrs. Durham presented the girls that gave the party, darling party aprons, and Gwendolyn Munford.

It seems as though practically everyone is going on a vacation. Mary Collins and her sister Barbara, left Sunday for Denver, Levenworth and Pittsburgh. They will be gone six weeks. Maybe in this time Mary and Bill Edson will find out whether or not that old adage, "Absences makes the heart grow fonder." You see they have broken their engagement. Clarice Thompson who has been visiting her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, has also left our fair city to go back to school in New York to continue her voice and piano study.

Sunday, after the morning service at Friendship Baptist church, Carrie Mae Humdy and Edward J. Arnold were married by Rev. W. D. Carter. The attendants were Leslie Arnold and Mrs. Frankie Arnold Burnette, brother and sister of the groom. The bride wore a white suit and white accessories, while Frankie wore a gray suit with blue accessories. Some of the persons present were Mr. and Mrs. Stanely, Miles, John Anderson, Mrs. Minnie Terrell, Baby Doll Grooner, Sweets Smocks and many others. Lexie Walker sang, "Because." At the reception that followed later in the afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arnold, Carrie Mae Arnold wore a lovely white lace and chiffon formal and Frankie wore pink, satin and net. The wedding cake was beautiful, punch and ice cream were also served. Their friends showered them with many lovely gifts. The couple is honeymooning at Murray's Dude ranch.

Sorry I didn't get to Donny Martin's Willowbrook home house-warming . . . Glad to know that Catherine English, wife of Dr. English, is much better and out of the hospital.

Saw Paullyn Garner at Imojene Thompson-Richard Broadway's wedding. She is really looking fine. Also chatted with Clara Stewart, Barbara Craig and Buga Worrill. Talked to Charles and Nora Mae Redding and if anyone knows of a vacant house, they would like to know, because they want to move back to good ole Pasadena.

Mr. William B. Bush, of the "Bush, Bush and Bush law firm of Cincinnati, Ohio, is visiting his sister, our own Mrs. Corrine Bush Hicks . . . A new club has been formed, it is called Las Mujeritas. They are giving an introductory tea Sept. 1, at Lucille Sibert's. The officers and members are: Aster Lee Bowles, pres.; Ernestine Prattler, vice-pres.; Barbara Dear, secty.; Catherine Sheppard, treas.; Pearl McAfee, bus. mgr.; members, Alva Rae Neblett, Evelyn Williams.

That's all for this week, except that your ole columnist has a birthday coming Friday, August 23. (Getting old.)

A GARDEN SETTING completes the perfect background for the very lovely bride, the former Miss Willa Mae Huntley and her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Clark took vows recently at Casa Rafael with Rev. J. L. In a ceremony performed in the garden of Casa Rafael, Miss Willa Mae Huntley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Huntley, was married to Mr. Clarke, son of Mrs. Hazel Clarke. Rev. John L. Caston officiated.

The formal ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. A. H. Huntley. Attendants were: Miss Ruth Ella West, maid of honor, and Mrs. Corine Steward, matron of honor, and little Bernice Jenkins was flower girl.

Mr. Maurice Jones served as best man and Mr. Ralph Steward was usher. A reception followed the ceremony, with the bride's mother, Mrs. Elline Huntley, assisted by Mrs. Hazel Clarke, the groom's mother, receiving.

The bride is a recent graduate of the nursing class of Los Angeles General hospital. Prior to her entrance into the General hospital, she attended LACC. A charter member of the Philathian Honorary Society and member of the student council of associated student body, she plans to continue her work at a later date. The couple enjoyed a brief honeymoon.
